Why did you sign that petition, anyhow?

Instead of jumping onto the City Council with both feet for passing the protection ordinance, the editor of the Star should go out and kick himself for asking that it be done.

Governor Chase has decided to appoint Judge Henry G. Fox, of Wayne county, to the position on the Appellate court bench made vacant by the death of Judge Milton S. Robinson, of Anderson.
Fox was a candidate against the deceased Judge before the Pt. Wayne convention and came within twenty votes of being nominated.

JOHN M. PYLE, a prominent farmer of Wayne county, was pulled up the other day before a Justice of the Peace, charged with the offense of permitting the Canada thistle to grow on his farm, not only to his own damage but that of the entire neighborhood. Pyle pleaded guilty and was fined $5 and costs, which aggregated $30.75. Montgomery county farmers should take warning.

The protection ordinance has thrown the Star into convulsions. Discussing a sample case, that of Dr. Huntsinger, that paper says:

Now comes along a Council and enacts an ordinance that drives him out of every coming here again.

Well, didn't you ask the Council to pass such an ordinance? That same section concerning doctors was in the Columbus ordinance and attached to the petition which you signed.

The House ought to make the appropriation for the World's Fair. The fair is not a local, but a national institution, and as such it should be made worthy of the country. We think those Indiana congressmen who are opposing the bill are hardly in touch with their constituents, for we believe a vast majority of the people of Indiana favor the appropriation.—Indianapolis Sentinel.

Yes; but they are all—including our Elijah Voorhees Brookshire—under command of the Southern Brigadiers, and like good soldiers must obey orders.
Everything in this government, so far as the House is concerned, is subject to the will of a score of Southern Congressmen elected by fraud and intimidation.

CONGRESSMAN BROOKSHIRE is one of the filibusters in the House to defeat the proposed appropriation of $5,000-000 to the World's Fair. It is proposed to utilize $5,000,000 worth of the worn and unused silver coin in the treasury to assist the greatest industrial exhibition that the world has ever seen, yet at an expense of $28,000 a day Mr. Brookshire throws himself into the breach to prevent the final passage of the sundry civil appropriation bill. The voters of the District should set the seal of condemnation of their mossback Congressman.

The editor of the Star did sign such a petition but the ordinance he petitioned for don't look any more like the ordinance the council finally passed than the editor of The Journal looks like Grover Cleveland.—Star.

The ordinance as passed, with some minor amendments, was clipped from a Columbus paper and attached to a petition. And this petition the editor of the Star signed asking the council to pass the ordinance making it apply to Crawfordsville. Yes; tell the truth.

If Mother Would Listen.

If mother would listen to me, dears, She would freshen that faded gown,
She would sometimes take an hour's rest,
And sometimes a trip to town.

And it shouldn't be all for the children.
The fun and the cheer and the play;
With the patient drop on the tired mouth,
And the "Mother has had her day."

True, mother has had her day, dears, When you were her babies three,
And she stooped about the farm and the house.

As busy as a bee,
When she rocked you all to sleep, dears,
And sent you all to school,
And were herself out and did without,
And lived by the Golden Rule.

And so your turn has come, dears, Her hair is growing white;
And her eyes are gazing the faraway look That peers beyond the night.

One of these days, in the morning, Mother will not be here.
She will fade away into silence—
The mother so true and dear.

Then what will you do in the day light,
And what in the gloaming dim?
And father, tired and lonesome then, Pray, what will you do for him?

If you want to keep your mother, You must make her rest today;
Must give her a share in the frolic, And draw her into the play.

And if mother would listen to me, dears, She'd lay her gown of silk,
With buttons of royal velvet,
And ruffles as white as snow.

And she'd let you do the trotting, While she sat still in her chair, That mother should have it hard all through,
It strikes me isn't fair.

—Margaret E. Sangster.

A Forgotten Statesman.

GALESHIA A. GROW.

Among the old time Republicans recently brought anew to public notice none had a more brilliant career before the war than the Hon. Galeshia A.
Grow. At the age of twenty-seven he was elected to succeed the famous David Wilmot, of "proviso" fame, and from the start took a leading part in the house. In 1860 he was universally regarded as first among the coming men, but his election to the speakership in 1861 seemed to end his progress.
He was born in Connecticut in 1834, but was reared in Pennsylvania. He is wealthy, unmarried and enjoys robust health.

MOTHERS OUGHT TO KNOW.

That sameness of food, not variety, is required by a young baby.

That a chill or a fever is a serious symptom and requires the immediate attention of a physician.

That he is not hungry every time he cries; often he is thirsty, and a few drops of water will quiet him.

That a little vaseline rubbed on his nose and chest is a simple but efficacious remedy for slight colds and coughs.

That it is an excellent plan to lay baby on his back on the bed, upon his diaper, and let him kick awhile every day for exercise.

The aperients are poor expedients for the regulation of a child's bowels, as they encourage a costive habit and render him liable to take cold.

That until he cuts his first teeth starchy food is apt to cause flatulence and even convulsions, and that cookies and cake of all kinds are rank poison to him.

The skirts should hang from the shoulders, and fasten with small flat buttons up the back. It is much easier to dress a very young baby in garments that fasten behind.

That an excellent way to keep an infant's hands warm in cold nights is to make him a flannel nightgown without sleeves or armholes, open all the way down the front and closed with buttons and buttonholes. His little hands can have plenty of freedom beneath the gown without possibility of getting from under cover—Babyhood.

A carpenter by the name of M.S. Powers fell from the roof of a house in East Des Moines, Iowa, sustained a painful and serious sprain of the wrist, which he cured with one bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. He says it is worth $5 a bottle it cost him only 50 cents for sale by Nye & Booe, druggists.

EUROPEAN VISITORS.

They Will Come as Prospectors to the New World.

Hon. Walter E. Gardner, the United States consul at Rotterdam, forwards an interesting letter upon the subject of the minimum cost per person for transportation and subsistence of Europeans who may wish to visit the world's fair. He says that there has been a great deal of comment lately in European newspapers, and also a great deal of inquiry at his consulate and other United States consulates in Europe. He says:

"The European, unlike the American, does not decide and act quickly; he must deliberate. His deliberation concerning a personal visit to Chicago will not begin until he has been authoritatively informed of the cost, and will not culminate in a decision until long thereafter. The European is unlike the American, too, in that a voyage across the ocean is to him an event, not an incident grown commonplace; his resolution to make the voyage must have time.

"What is here written relates, of course, to the European in moderate circumstances, to whom the offer of cheap fare would be an inducement.
The wealthy few will go irrespective of low circular rates; but the wealthy few, whose interest and whose future are irrevocably European, will seek recreation only. The men of whom I write, and with some of whom I have talked, young business men, tradesmen and clerks, well educated, well trained and of good physical and mental and moral health, will go as prospectors alert to discover whether the new world holds for them better opportunities than the old.

"Rightly utilized, the event of the world's exposition may be made the incentive of an ultimate immigration into the United States of a class of men and women whose coming into any community would be welcome."

The Great Central Arch.

The mammoth central arch of the manufactures building at the world's fair grounds has been completed. This immense span, which has a height of 312 feet and a width at its base of 375 feet, is the largest arch ever constructed for any building in the world. It can be plainly seen from the center of the city, over seven miles away. "To form some idea of its size," said the chief engineer of the world's fair, "if you could put the Rookery building, which is one of the largest of Chicago's large buildings, on a wheelbarrow and wheel it through the arch it would not touch the sides by several feet and would go under the arch without scraping the tops of its chimneys."

A Kansas Project.

The world's fair board for Kansas is promoting a plan whereby it is expected that the expense of erecting the exposition building for that state will be borne by school pupils. The proposition is to have all of the schools in the state observe a "world's fair day," by holding an entertainment with music, recitations, tableaux, etc., to which a small entrance fee will be charged. The proceeds are expected to be sufficient to pay for the state building. Over the entrance of the structure it is proposed to have the words "Erected by the School Children of Kansas."

Huntsinger's Treatment.

Dr. Huntsinger, of Frankfort, was in the city to-day to make arrangements with Dr. J. R. Duncan to take charge of his institute for the cure of inebriety.
The doctor is confident that his discovery and treatment for the cure of drunkenness is superior to all others, as it leaves none of the bad effects of the chloride of gold. Those afflicted with the disease of drunkenness should call on Dr. Duncan.

Strong witnesses.

Among the thousands of testimonials of cures by Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, is that of Nathan Allison, a well known citizen at Glen Rock, Pa., who for years had shortness of breath, sleeplessness, pain in left side, shoulders, smothering spells, etc.; one bottle of Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure and one box of Nerve and Liver Pills cured him. Peter Jaquet, Salem, N. J., is another witness. For twenty years suffered with Hea. Disease, was turned away by physician, as incurable, death stared him in the face, could not lay down for fear of smothering to death. Immediately after using New Cure he felt better and could lay down and sleep all night, and is now a well man. The New Cure is sold, also free book, by Nye & Booe.
