THE WAR OF THEORIES.

When men disregard facts and rely altogether on mere theories, there is but little concord of opinion among them.
Hence we find that every Democrat has a theory of his own, and that the various arguments submitted by Democratic leaders against protection, are as inharmonious as a barnyard full of game roosters. We have all heard so much in this campaign about the Robber Barons —meaning the manufacturers—that a great many people will be surprised at an idea inculcated by Mr. Cleveland's Secretary of the Treasury, Hon. Daniel Manning, in his official report of 1886.
He says of the tariff this:

"Defeating our manufacturers in their endeavor to compete abroad with the manufacturers of untaxed raw material, it has set them on a ferocious competition, at cut-throat prices, in our own home market, to which they are shut up," etc., etc.

It will thus be seen that, according to Secretary Manning's "theory," our manufacturers instead of being Robber Barons, are reduced to distress by a "ferocious competition at cut-throat prices," and that they, and not the consumers of their goods, are the great sufferers from the tariff. The theory that our manufacturers are selling goods at cut-throat prices, under a ferocious competition among themselves, because of the tariff, is very ferociously at war with that other favorite Democratic theory that the tariff compels the consumer to pay exorbitant prices for goods.
No consumer of manufactures has ever yet been badly injured by high prices where there was a "ferocious warfare, at cut-throat prices," among those from whom he bought his supplies. But this theory of Mr. Manning's is an eastern theory. It was intended for use among the manufacturers of the eastern States.
The tariff on goods like the tariff on wool, has an eastern and a western aspect. In the east, among the manufacturers of wool, the tariff makes wool high; but out west among farmers, the tariff has greatly reduced the price of wool. (See Brookshire's speech.) The tariff on wool, according to Brookshire, has set the western farmers "on a ferocious competition at cut-throat prices," and this has made wool very low, and yet in the east it is necessary the tariff on wool should be wiped out in order that our manufacturers may have "cheap raw material." In 1844 we had no telegraph and few newspapers, and this kind of thing could be worked to advantage; but now our Democratic friends will find some serious difficulties in their way when they attempt to repeat the Polk policy of that year. Polk was run as a free trader in South Carolina, and as a protectionist in Pennsylvania; and the trick was not known to many till the election was over. But it is hardly possible that such tactics can win in 1892, when almost every voter reads a morning paper before he goes to bed at night.

THE EIGHTY-SIXTH REGIMENT.

its Annual Reunion at Frankfort Yesterday—A Pleasant Time.

The Eighty-sixth Regiment, Indiana Volunteers, held its annual reunion at Frankfort yesterday. It was a perfect October day and the occasion was one of the most pleasant meetings the regiment has held since its muster out twenty seven years ago. A warm welcome greeted the boys by the resident comrades of Frankfort. Everything that would in any way contribute to the comfort of the visitors had been done by the local committee as the arrangements in every detail were perfect. At 10:30 the business meeting convened presided over by Col. George F. Dick. Capt. H.
M. Billings was made temporary Secretary. The committee on the regimental history reported that the manuscript was nearly ready for the printer, and that by the next annual meeting it would be completed. Col. George F.
Dick was elected permanent President; Col. J. M. Dresser, Vice-President; Perry W. Pence, Secretary, and Gen. J. R.
Carnahan, permanent Treasurer. It was decided to hold the next annual reunion at Indianapolis on the first day of the National Encampment. J. R. Carnahan, F. J. VanVoris, W. B. Hixon and D. H.
Olive were appointed as the local committee of arrangements. The death roll was called for by companies, and among the list Capt. W. H. Laymon.
Co. F, was reported as having crossed the river since the last meeting. The question of marring the State Soldiers' monument was brought up for some action to be taken by the association.
After a discussion participated in by J.
R. Carnahan, J. M. Dresser, F. J. Van-Voris and others a committee was appointed to draft resolutions expressing the sense of the comrades. The committee consisted of J. M. Dresser, H. M.
Billings and T. H. B. McCain, which committed reported the following:

WHEREAS, the Indiana Soldiers' and Sailors' Monument of Indiana, which was intended by its originators to commemorate the valor and loyalty of the Indiana Soldiers in the War of the Rebellion; and WHEREAS, the monument has been marred by inscriptions foreign to the purposes intended, therefore be it

Resolved, that it is the sense of the survivors of the 86th Regiment, in reunion assembled, that the objectionable and offensive inscriptions should be removed, and the monument dedicated alone to the memories of the soldiers of 1861-65.

The resolutions were unanimously adopted. A procession was then formed, and headed by the Frankfort band, marched around the public square, and back to the dinner hall where ample justice was done to a most elegant and substantial collation. After dinner the following toasts were responded to by the members named: "Buell Campaign,"—Capt. H. M. Billings, of Waynetown; "Stone River"—Col. J. M.
Dresser, of LaFayette; "Chicamauga"— Gen. J. R. Carnahan, of Indianapolis; "Mission Ridge,"—Dr. Flavius J. Van-Voris, of Indianapolis; "Atlanta"—T. H.
B. McCain, of Crawfordsville; "Nashville"—Ben Carpenter, of Perryville; "Eighty-sixth"—Col. G. F. Dick, of Boonington, Ill.; "The Wives, Daughters and Sisters"—Judge S. H. Doyal, of Frankfort. The following resolution was then adopted with enthusiastic unanimity:

Resolved, that the thanks of the 86th Regimental Association are hereby tendered to the citizens and comrades of Frankfort, for the heartily welcome and the handsome and hospitable entertainment received at their hands, and shall cherish this day and its associations in grateful remembrance.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable.
For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly falling to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by J. E. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address,

HOOSIER HAPPENINGS.

Electric Flashes from Various Portions of Indiana.

Trapped on Their Victim.
BRAZIL, Ind., Oct. 12.—A most atrocious assault and probable murder occurred just east of here Monday night.
Pete and Pat Burns had a quarrel with their uncle, William Burns, a citizen of Knightsville, a little village 14 miles east of here, several months ago, and at the time declared they would have revenge on him. However, matters ran on quietly until Monday night, when the three Burns men met at Knightsville and renewed the quarrel.
Pete and Pat attempted to assault their aged uncle, but were prevented from doing so by bystanders. The elder Burns, fearing he would be waylaid on his return home, induced John Bain to accompany him. They reached Mr. Burnes' home in safety and Mr. Bain immediately started for his own home, but he had gone only a short distance when Pete and Pat Burns jumped out of a dark alley and knocked him down with a heavy club and stamped him unmercifully, injuring him in the stomach and bowels so badly that he will die. He was found by a pedestrian about an hour after the assault, lying unconscious in a pool of blood.

Collision on the Vandalia.
BRAZIL, Ind., Oct. 12.—A disastrous collision occurred on the Vandalia just west of this city Tuesday evening. At 8 o'clock an engine and several cars running at full speed collided with a number of flat cars that were being pushed from a side track to the main line. The engineer and fireman jumped from their engine and barely escaped being killed. The engine was demolished and several cars were badly damaged. The loss will be very heavy. The track was blocked by debris and all trains were delayed for several hours.

Attempt to Wreck Trains.
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 12.—Officials of the Louisville, New Albany & Chicago Railroad Company have received information of two daring attempts to wreck trains on that road at an early hour Tuesday morning. As train No. 4, going north, neared Salem, Washington county, the engineer discovered a rail lying across the track. The train was stopped just in time to prevent an accident. The attempts are attributed to tramps who were seeking revenge because driven from the trains at some other point on the road.

Wagon Works at Muncie Burned.
MUNCIE, Ind., Oct. 12.—The seventh of Muncie's new industries were destroyed by fire Tuesday night at 6 o'clock. The Ohio wagon works, owned principally by George Edgerly, was discovered on fire and in thirty minutes the building was in ashes, together with a large amount of stock, consisting of funeral cars and fine delivery wagons. The loss is estimated at $18,000 or $20,000, with $10,300 insurance.

Monument to Leonard Washburne.
CHICAGO, Oct. 12.—A monument upon the grave of Leonard Washburne in Clinton, Ind., will be unveiled next Sunday. Washburne was the Inter-Ocean baseball reporter who was killed in a railroad accident at Crete, Ill., in October, 1891, in company with two other newspaper men. The monument is of dark blue granite, quarried at Barre, Vt. The two bases are hammer dressed and the die has been given a high polish.

Ran Into a Barbed Wire Fence.
JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., Oct. 12.— Elijah Wisdom, a farmer, was driving a mule attached to a cart when the animal became frightened and ran off. Wisdom endeavored to check the mule by running into a barbed wire fence, but he was hurled from the cart and is now suffering from the loss of his left eye, a part of his nose, and his face is so disfigured as to make him unrecognizable.

A Mysterious Death.
KOKOMO, Ind., Oct. 12.—C. E. Wright was found dead in his bed in a boarding house in the northern part of this city Tuesday morning. He had occupied the room for a few days with a woman, Mrs. Eliza Stevens, who, he claimed, was his wife. He was a confirmed opium eater, and his death may have been caused by an overdose of morphine. The case is peculiar, however, as the woman hastily disappeared.

Holscher, an old resident, died at her home from injuries sustained during the burning of her residence. In her efforts to secure valuable papers she was severely burned about the head and face.
