THE FIRST PARLIAMENT OF RELIGION.
The world's first parliament of religion will be held at the World's Fair next summer. It is one of the most hopeful signs of the times that members of every religion in the world including not only every sect of Christians but all pagan sects have consented to come together for the express purpose of finding as many points of agreement as possible. The Rev. Dr. Barrows in an article in the April Review of Reviews says:

Over sixteen hundred men, eminent in the religious life and work of the world, and representing nearly all the great Christian churches and all the leading historic faiths, have accepted places on the Advisory Council of the Parliament. Multitudes of the more progressive and broader-minded men in Christianity have championed the Parliament from the feeling that they, as Christians, may rightly and wisely show a more brotherly spirit toward the representatives of other faiths. Furthermore the Parliament has received the assistance of many because they are assured that this conference will draw Christians more closely together.

NOW IS THE TIME.
THE JOURNAL does not wish to get in the position of opposing street paving. We are in favor of it, but we believe the public demands a sanitary survey first in order that when paving is done it may be part of the plan, carefully studied out to fit the needs of Crawfordsville. It might happen that if Main street were paved from one end to the other that it would fit in with a plan made as a result of a complete sanitary survey but most likely not. Perhaps the grade when considered in connection with the grades of other streets might not be the most desirable. Most likely it would develop that the street would have to be torn up for sewers because before a sanitary survey is made we don't know where the sewers will be. One thing is certain we will one day have a sanitary survey. The experience of eastern cities and towns, both larger and smaller than Crawfordsville, tends to make this plan. Why not have it now?

The Worst.
We have read of men whose fame will never decay.
Who for daring broke all records of the day,
Whose audacity so grand
Was of Himalayan brand
And would efforts of all others decay.
But we're read now, now, now, to say
That they were not so bold,
Who is told to that degree
That he owns himself to be
The man who wrote "Ta-ra-ra Boom-de-ay."
—Boston Courier.

With or Without.
"Stamps, please," cried the young lady.
"With or without?" queried the facetious drug clerk.
"With or without? Without what?" was the indignant inquiry.
"Whiskers, ma'am. One-centers has no whiskers on Columbus. The 2-centers has." —Philadelphia Call.

Presence of Mind.
"Jennie, did I not hear Mr. Porkchops kissing you last evening in the parlor?"
"No, mother."
"Are you sure? It sounded very much like it."
"Quite sure. There was a box of candy on the table, and the noise you heard was caused by his eating a piece." —Pittsburg Dispatch.

A Question of Price.
"So the painting which you showed me last week has been sold to the baron for $3,000?"
"Yes, sir."
"Well, give me one for $4,000. I want folks to see that I am a better art connoisseur than the baron." —Pittsburg Blatter.

Remission of Tramps.
Out on the dumping grounds of time,
Far from abodes of taste,
Two ghastly relics met and frowned
As each the other faced.

"And who are you?" each groaned aloud.
In dismal voice and damp.
"I'm the sovereign steam," one coldly said,
"And I the sovereign stamp."
—New York World.

Explained.
Fogg, seeing a fly on a lady's face, remarked that the insect was indulging in a desecration.
And this is how Fenderson repeated it to his innamorata when he saw a fly on her face: "That fly is desecrating the plain. Isn't he?" —Boston Transcript.

An Illustration.
"Papa," said Jack, "what is extravagance?"
"Well, my son," returned the wise parent, "if you have a 5-cent straw hat blown off into the sea, it would be extravagant to hire a boat for a dollar to go out and get it." —Harper's Young People.

A Matter of Doubt.
How oft do we undertake
To interest or teach
On things which wisdom most profound
Can never hope to reach.

See how remarks on gentle spring
Appear in rhyme or prose.
Though when and how this spring will come
Is what nobody knows.
—Washington Star.

Didn't Agree With Him.
Clara—I see the fellow you rejected last year has gone out to the Cannibal Islands as a missionary. I wonder if he has succeeded with any of the inhabitants?
Maud—I understand by the last accounts that he was making the King very uneasy.
—Detroit Free Press.

Not Responsible.
Jess—Stallate threatens Miss Sears with a breach of promise suit.
Bess—What is her defense?
Jess—That on the night he proposed she was too sleepy to be responsible.—Brownings, King & Co's Monthly.

HOOSIER HAPPENINGS.

Information of Especial Interest to Hoosiers.

The Wheat Crop.
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 1.—In northern Indiana a great deal of rain has fallen and wheat shows little increased growth. Little progress is made with spring work. In central Indiana wheat seems thin on the ground and has made but little growth. Most of the spring plowing is yet to be done. Warm weather has improved the condition of wheat in southern Indiana. It looks healthy. The late sown wheat is much poorer and will require good weather to make a crop. Spring work is generally backward. Farmers are selling wheat more freely, as they are obliged to raise money to pay taxes.

He Forced Her to Elope.
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 1.—Mrs. Edith Hammelbright, claiming to be the wife of a wealthy Philadelphia citizen and the mother of three children, called at the police headquarters and poured out a tale of woe to Superintendent Colbert. She said that Charles Markers, who she claims forced her to elope with him and come here, had murdered her and she was in danger. Mrs. Hammelbright is a woman of evident culture and while she is under police protection Markers is being hunted.

Landlady Goes Collecting.
PERU, Ind., April 1.—Mrs. Cartwright, of this city, entered the Indiana Manufacturing company's works, went to the third floor of the building, and demanded immediate settlement of a board bill of Mr. Thomas, one of the employees, which she claimed he owed. After some talk she knocked Thomas down, it is claimed, and severely pounded him with a cane. She then dragged him toward the elevator hole and was prevented from throwing him down only by the other employees, who came to Thomas' assistance and forcibly ejected her from the shop.

Sued for the Stake Money.
BRAZIL, Ind., April 1.—A peculiar case was tried in the circuit court Friday. Sam Spaulding, a colored professional sprinter, sued Samuel Seigel for $250 stake money held by Seigel as the pursa in a race between Spaulding and Harry McCloskey, a professional sprinter of Illinois. McCloskey claimed the race on a technicality and was awarded the money by the judges. Spaulding warned Seigel not to turn over the money. The court gave judgment to plaintiff for amount claimed.

New Indiana Railroad.
PERU, Ind., April 1.—There is every reason to believe that with the opening of spring active work will begin on the new Chicago, Indiana & Eastern railway from Muncie to Peru, and ultimately to be extended into Chicago and Cincinnati. For thirty years this road has been built on paper and never before now reached a point when it was considered practicable to build it. The line will pass through the very cream of the Indiana gas and oil territory, which heretofore has been without railway facilities.

Methodist Conference.
SOUTH BEND, Ind., April 1.—Bishop Joyce called the third day's session of the north Indiana conference of the Methodist Episcopal church to order Friday morning at 10 o'clock. Dr. Cranston, of Cincinnati, spoke in behalf of the Methodist book concern, after which Dr. Payne, of New York, spoke in the interest of the Educational society and Dr. Leonard, of Valparaiso, for the foreign missions.

Tried to Open the Bank with an Ax.
HUNTINGTON, Ind., April 1.—Albert Shearer, well-known young business man and formerly deputy postmaster, was found on the streets insane Thursday night. His hallucination was that he had a large sum of money in the First national bank and when found he was trying to open the bank door with an ax. Poor health caused his trouble.

Spotted Fever in Indiana.
ELWOOD, Ind., April 1.—The appearance of several cases of genuine spotted fever in this city has given great alarm lest it should become epidemic. The city is in awful sanitary condition arising from the fact that with 9,000 inhabitants there is no garbage furnace where the accumulated filth can be destroyed.

Prize Fight at Shelbyville.
SHELBYVILLE, Ind., April 1.—Ed Skotski won the fight against Hix Kiley in the fourth round without receiving a scratch. The officers kept the fight from coming off for some time and the 200 spectators had to run all over the country to get away from them.

Sam Jones to Talk at Winamac.
WINAMAC, Ind., April 1.—A contract has been made with Rev. Sam Jones, the evangelist, to be here July 15 and 16 and deliver a two days' oration at Nye's park. Arrangements are being made already for one of the largest crowds this city has ever known.

J. M. Renfro, of Gladstone, Ia., is charged by his wife with having four other wives when he married her one year ago. Renfro's whereabouts are unknown.

Buried Under Tons of Snow.
DUBUQUE, Col., April 1.—The Denver & Rio Grande railroad has been impeded by snow between here and Silverton. Friday while a gang of section men were shoveling it away a snowslide was started which buried two of the men under thousands of tons of snow in the gulch below.

Recovery of the Drowned.
HIGHLAND LIGHT, Mass., April 1.—Three more bodies from the dories of the fishing schooner Ada K. Damon, which went adrift, were picked up on the beach at Nauset Thursday night.

1573—William Harvey, who discovered the circulation of the blood, born at Folkestone, died 1637.
1814—The allies, being in Paris, the French senate, led by Talleyrand, established a provisional government.

1892—Judge George N. Lester, attorney general of Georgia, died.

Uncle Sam as Others See Him.
The Mexican editors are evidently becoming tired of being satirized by their American brethren, and they have begun to retaliate. One of the most vicious cartoons was published in the Mexico City newspaper with the extensive name of El Heraldo de America. This journal is opposed to the policy of President Diaz. Its cartoon covers two pages and represents Uncle Sam as an octopus.

Uncle Sam as an Octopus.
The picture shows him kneeling down and with one large right hand throttling the revolutionist Garza, represented by a goose, and with one large left hand seizing the federal district railroad. The English of Garza is crane, and there is some deep appropriateness in representing him as a goose. Uncle Sam has 10 other hands, which are diving into pots filled with Mexican gold. His eyes are bulging with greed.

Possibly.
"I must have been hunting for a match when I got home last night." —Life.

Be Merciful.
Though justice be thy plea, consider this—That in the course of justice none of us should see salvation; we pray for mercy. And that same prayer both teach us all to render.

Snap Shots.
In the making of bromide prints the camerist would do well to adhere to one kind of light, and if possible have it always of the same intensity.
The old, tried developers—ferrous oxalate and pyro—are every day producing results just as good as if not better than some of the latest triumphs of chemical science.
For the month of December, 1892, there were nine patents issued for new ideas, or improvements upon old ones, in photographic apparatus. The more important were a simple flashlight apparatus, a rigid and compact tripod and a hand camera.
The simplest developer the best, and the less number of bottles to be handled, the less chance of error and disappointment. Concentrated solutions are dangerous, for when a developer is so powerful that drops must be counted, accidents are necessary, and there are few cases where they may be used with satisfaction.
