THE MAIMED BRIGADE.

Go where you will in all this land, you will find the members of the Maimed Brigade. The blue has faded from their dress and the brass letters have dropped from their caps, but there is no mistaking that they have been soldiers. They have no need to refer to muster rolls or to exhibit parchments to prove they were in the army. One hundred thousand strong is the Maimed Brigade! They march in our streets, not with the precision as of yore, but as undaunted still. Brave men! Their limbs are scattered over a dozen States. They moulder and whiten on the same fields with the bodies of the patriot slain—and the hands of the dead may grasp the dead hands of the living, though the latter be a thousand miles from the throbbing hearts that once warmed them with their blood. A hundred thousand men who have laid some one of their limbs upon their country's altar as sacrifices to Liberty still are numbered among the living. Were they to pass through this city in regiments, for a whole day from any given point could our eyes rest upon the Maimed Brigade. A thousand tattered battle-flags would wave above them, held by one-armed heroes, and many thousand footless legs would be keeping step to the music of the Union. Let us not forget the one-armed and one-legged soldiers, who form an army eight times as large as the old standing army of the United States, and four times as large as the present. They need not be gathered together and passed in sorrow before the people in whose behalf they have suffered and suffer still, to assert the fact of their being. The government has recognized them, and given them, as far as they have made application, pensions and artificial limbs. But let the people be careful that they do not forget them. The battle these poor fellows are now fighting is harder to win and fraught with more danger than many battles of the rebellion. Let us recall the words of the immortal Lincoln: "With malice toward none, with charity for all, with firmness in the right as God gives us to see the right, let us finish the work we are in, to care for him who shall have borne the battle, and for his widow and orphans."

THE BLUE AND THE GRAY.

It is largely the custom, all over the country, to decorate with flowers alike the graves of the Blue and the Gray. We may not understand this offering in its fullest meaning. It is not alone to perpetuate the memory of the gallant dead, for by their heroic deeds and lives they are imperishably embalmed in our memory. The star in their crown of glory will never set. When they went forth, we bade them God-speed. When they died we were consoled that they died as patriots. We visit their graves and strew flowers as offerings to the memory of patriots, not as mourning for our friends. It is to keep alive the patriotism among the living, also, for they, the dead, "rest from their labors." If they died as patriots, their foes died as traitors, or as their plant tools. These fell for freedom; they to perpetuate oppression. We honor these: how can we honor them? We did not fight them in the spirit of hate, but in the love of country. Deceived they may have been, but traitors, nevertheless. Forgive them as erring brothers, but act not lie by building floral monuments to their ignominy. Pass their graves in silence, speak no bitter words, leave them to their Maker; but mock not the patriot dead, lest they might have died in vain. 'Twas a fraternal strife; we bid it all begone; bury it in the shadow of the but too recent years. Yet, as we visit with bleeding hearts the green mounds built "In the storm of the years that are fading," We cannot give more than the charity of silence for those who made them bleed.

MADISON township had to build a school house and got her money at 6 per cent, receiving a premium. Coal Creek, her next door neighbor, had to build a school house, too, but got her money at 12 per cent. Coal Creek's bonds are for $8,000, and one of them for $1,000 is payable every year. For the last one of these $1,000 bonds which falls due Coal Creek pays in interest just $960.

WEIGHING A LIVE TROUT.

Deceptive Appearance, in Size, of the Fish at Large in the Water.

A few days ago a party of anglers visited the hatchery house of the state fish commission at Cold Spring Harbor, Long Island, and were estimating the weight of the larger trout which were swimming at their feet, says the New York Sun. One very large specimen attracted their attention, and a veteran angler said: "That fellow will weigh six pounds."

"Let you a cigar that it won't go over four," said another.

"I'll split the difference with each of you and take both figures that the fish will weigh over and under six pounds," said a third.

Just then the superintendent, Mr. Fred Mather, came out of the building, and at once they appealed to him in chorus: "Major, how much will that fish weigh?"

"About eight pounds," was the reply. "But I see you look incredulous. We'll find his weight precisely. Peter," said the superintendent to one of his men, "get all hands, the deep seine, a wash-tub and the scales. Get out the big trout and weigh it."

Within ten minutes the net brought up a mess of great trout, which were allowed to escape, all except the big one. The wash-tub, two feet in diameter, was sunk under it, then lifted, and the party saw within it a magnificent brown trout that could not extend its tail within the limits of its confinement, whose breadth and depth were surprising. The angler who had bet on six pounds wanted to make it twelve, and the four-pound man became interested in the flock of wood ducks and teal near by, which are one of the sights of the place. "A fish in the water," said Maj. Mather, "never looks as large as when out of it. The depth is greatly foreshortened, and even the length and breadth do not seem to show their full extent. Boys, weigh the tub."

A pole over the shoulders of two men held the scales, and when they straightened up and the tub with its contents cleared the ground, the scale indicated ninety-two pounds. The fish was then carefully lifted out and sent swimming away, and the tub and water pulled the scales at eighty-three pounds, leaving nine pounds as the weight of the trout.

"That fish," said the major, "is the common brook trout of Europe. I imported the first eggs after taking the fish with the fly in the 'Black Forest' in Germany, and it is destined to be a favorite when better known."

THIRTY MILLIONS.

Speculation Regarding the Population of London Half a Century Hence.

The London county council has been studying into the growth of that city, whose population seems to be decreasing, because the people are moving into the suburbs. The investigation has brought out some remarkable figures, says the Westminster Budget. If we do not add any more to the population than the amount per decade that has been added since 1881 it seems that we should have a population in 1941 of close upon 10,000,000. If we allow for a growth at the rate of the natural increase of births over deaths there will be nearly 11,000,000 in London in that year. If we reckon that London will grow at the average rate of the last three decades we shall be over 14,000,000, but if inner London and outer London go on together growing at the rate they have been growing for the last three tens of years we are to expect a London population in 1941 of a trifle over 15,000,000. If we look at the matter in another way and ask what population greater London will contain when it has attained throughout the mean density of well-known areas, we get the following appalling calculation:

If greater London were only peopled as densely as Hampstead, it would contain a population of 13,000,000.

If it were peopled on an average as densely as Fulham is now, the population would be 20,000,000.

If it were peopled at the rate of St. George's, Hanover square, the total would rise to 30,000,000.

Whitechapel is three times as densely peopled as St. George's itself. The moral is obvious.

A Dairyman's Opinion.

There is nothing I have ever used for muscular rheumatism that gives me as much relief as Chamberlain's Pain Balm does. I have been using it for about two years—four bottles in all—as occasion required, and always keep a bottle of it in my home. I believe I know a good thing when I get hold of it, and Pain Balm is the best liniment I have ever met with. W. B. Denny, dairyman, New Lexington, Ohio. 50 cent bottles for sale by Nye & Booe, 111 Washington street, opposite court house.

The Superiority.

Of Hood's Sarsaparilla is due to the tremendous amount of brain work and constant care used in its preparation. Try one bottle and you will be convinced of its superiority. ### A WOMAN'S LIFE.

SOME THINGS MEN DON'T CONSIDER

Thousands of Women Suffer Daily for Years without Complaining.

(SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.)

Men cannot know the sensibilities hidden in the delicate organisms of women. Thousands suffer without knowing why, and die the death daily for want of knowledge that relief is so close at hand.

Lydia E. Pinkham will forever stand highest in the love of suffering women. Because she discovered the cause of woman's weakness and suffering, and found the means to remove it.

Diseases of the Uterus and ovarian troubles are most universal; you can see their ravages in pale faces; it is indicated by halting steps, dizziness, faintness, irritability, melancholy, extreme lassitude, nervousness, sleeplessness, and disturbances of the stomach.

You will hear your friends speak of the dreadful "backache," the crushing sense of "bearing down."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for twenty years has saved women from all this. Hear this woman speak:—

"No man ever suffered a single pang like unto woman."

"Women, therefore, gladly turn to a woman for sympathy, counsel, and help in their peculiar troubles."

Lydia E. Pinkham deserves the confidences shown upon her thousands. Her Vegetable Compound has done more for women than any other remedy.

"The great cause of woman's misery is in her womb. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound goes direct to the source of trouble, drives out disease, and cures backache, fainting, despondency, bloating, ovarian troubles, and leucorrhoea."

"I would have been in my grave if I had not taken Mrs. Pinkham's medicines."

—MRS. HANNAH HYDE, Bethel, Ind.

A STRANGE CASE.

How an Enemy was Foiled.

The following graphic statement will be read with intense interest: "I cannot describe the numb, creepy sensations that existed in my arms, hands and legs. I had to rub and beat those parts until they were sore, to overcome in a measure the dead feeling that had taken possession of them. In addition, I had a strange weakness in my back and around my waist, together with an indescribable 'gone' feeling in my stomach. Physicians said it was creeping paralysis, from which, according to their anxious conclusions, there is no relief. Once it fastens upon a person, they say, it continues its insidious progress until it reaches a vital point and the sufferer dies. Such was my prospect. I had been doctoring a year and a half steadily, but with no particular benefit, when I saw an advertisement for Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, procured a bottle and began using it. Marvelous as may seem, but a few days had passed before every bit of that creepy feeling had left me, and there has not been even the slightest indication of its return. I now feel as well as I ever did, and have gained ten pounds in weight, though I had run down from 170 to 135. Four others have used Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine on my recommendation, and it has been as satisfactory in their cases as in mine. James Kane, La. sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent back by Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid. It is free from opiates or dangerous drugs."

Sold by all druggists.

A Pointer for Travelers.

While Mr. T. J. Richey, of Altona, Mo., was traveling in Kansas he was taken violently ill with cholera morbus. He called at a drug store to get some medicine and the druggist recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy so highly he concluded to try it. The result was immediate relief, and a few doses cured him completely. It is made for bowel complaint and nothing else. It never fails. For sale by Nye & Booe, 111 Washington street, opposite court house.

Relief in Six Hours.

Distressing Kidney and Bladder diseases relieved in six hours by the "New Great South American Kidney Cure." This new remedy is a great surprise on account of its exceeding rapidity in relieving pain in the bladder, kidneys, back and every part of the urinary passages in male or female. It relieves retention of water and pain in passing it almost immediately. If you want quick relief and cure this is your remedy. Sold by Cotton & Rife and Moffett & Morgan.

What Will Do It?

Medical writers claim that the successful remedy for nasal catarrh must be non-irritating, easy of application, and one that will reach the remote sores and ulcerated surfaces. The history of efforts to treat catarrh is proof positive that only one remedy has completely met these conditions, and that is Ely's Cream Balm. This safe and pleasant remedy has mastered catarrh as nothing else has ever done, and both physicians and patients freely concede this fact. Our druggists keep it.

It May Do As Much For You.

Mr. Fred Miller, of Irving, Ill., writes that he had a severe Kidney trouble for many years, with severe pains in his back and also that his bladder was affected. He tried many so-called Kidney cures but without any good result. About a year ago he began the use of Electric Bitters and found relief at once. Electric Bitters is especially adapted to cure all Kidney and Liver troubles, and often gives almost instant relief. One trial will prove our statement. Price only 50c. for large bottle. At Cotton & Rife's Progress Pharmacy.

Subjects For Investigation

You can't afford to take any one's word for it. We don't ask you to take ours. We invite you to come and verify every statement we make. We have repeatedly asserted that we had the best selected stock of desirable seasonable stuffs in this city and we again say the same thing, only we make it stronger, because we have more faith in it ourselves. You have given us the faith. The readiness you have shown in carrying away our offerings have convinced us that we have the right stuffs at the right prices and that is what we and you all desire. We don't claim to sell the lowest priced goods in the city, but we do claim to sell the best goods for the lowest prices.
