Wedding Near Waynetown.

There was a brilliant wedding near Waynetown last night, it being the occasion of the marriage of Guy V. Livingston and Miss Minnie M. Wilkinson. The house was tastefully decorated with flowers and plants, and everything was done that was possible to make the event a commendable one. Rev. Porter was the officiating clergyman, and Miss Cora McCormick furnished the instrumental music, and a choir favored the company with songs. The bride and groom will occupy a new cottage that is to be erected upon the farm of the groom's father, near Ingalls Chapel. Those in attendance from this city were: Jake, Abe, Walter and Miss Kate Livingston, Noah Wilkinson, John Hunter and wife, Mrs. Henry Brown and Miss Sidener. The supper was elegant and consisted of the fat of the land.

Nothing Strange.

Intelligent people who realize the important part the blood holds in keeping the body in a normal condition, find nothing strange in the number of bloods. Sarsaparilla is able to cure. Many troubles result from impure blood, the best way to treat them is through the blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla vitalizes the blood.

Hood's Pills are the best after-dinner pills. assist digestion, prevent constipation.

It was only ten minutes," said the offender, apologetically.

"How many people had you in church?" asked Mr. Allen.

"About three hundred."

"Three hundred? Well, then, you wasted three thousand minutes!"

DISASTROUS FIRE.

Rockville Suffers from the Flames—No Fire Protection Aid Called from Crawfordsville and Terre Haute—List of the Losses.

Special to The Journal.

ROCKVILLE, Ind., Aug. 2.—This morning at 1:30 fire broke out in the south room of the Harrison block, on the east side of the square, and owing to poor facilities for fighting it soon gained rapid headway, entirely destroying the Harrison block and the one adjoining on the north, owned by Mrs. George Hodson. It was only by the hardest work that citizens were enabled to save the remaining buildings on that side of town, and their efforts would have been in vain had it not been for the splendid fire walls forming the south side of Walker's block. At 2 o'clock there was every reason to believe the whole east side of town would be consumed, and Crawfordsville and Terre Haute were telegraphed for aid. Before either city could reach here with assistance, however, the fire was fully under control. The Crawfordsville order was commanded just as a train was leaving with the hose cart aboard, but Terre Haute was on the road and arrived here at 3 o'clock. The builders destroyed were erected last fall, and were handsome two-story structures, with fronts of pressed brick. The fire was undoubtedly of incendiary origin, same district was burned in December, 1892, and the progress of the fire checked by the fire wall, previously mentioned. Then, as now, there was no other reasonable theory than that one had fired the buildings. The loss is heavy and figures as follows:

Loss on Hodgson block, $8,000; insurance, Phoenix, or Hartford, $1,000; National, of Hartford, $2,000; Etna, $2,000; Home, New York, $1,000.

Harrison block, loss, $10,000; insurance, North American, $2,000; Pennsylvania, $2,000.

H. Scott, loss on furniture stock, $2,000; insurance, $1,600—Royal, $1,300; Western, Toronto, $400.

C. A. Pekey, bakery and restaurant loss $500; no insurance.

Rockville Light Artillery, loss $1,000; no insurance.

G. W. Jenck, tailor, small loss, insurance in Phoenix, Hartford, $200.

F. E. James, attorney, loss $500; no insurance.

Steale Post, G. A. R. and W. R. C., loss $500; no insurance.

Dr. C. B. Brown, veterinary surgeon, loss $300; no insurance.

There were but two vacant store-rooms in Rockville at the time of the fire and these were immediately obtained by Craig and Pekey, who at once moved in and announced themselves ready for business. The others burned out, therefore, not able to resume business until the blocks are rebuilt.

The fire was the most disastrous in Rockville for many years, and the loss of these fine buildings has resulted in a renewed interest being taken in the subject of water works, for which the town council will shortly contract.

The ready response to the appeal for aid, by Crawfordsville and Terre Haute, was most appropriate.

The Loss Adjusted.

When General Grant arrived at Chattanooga, he ordered Hooker, who was then at Bridgeport, to advance to Lookout Valley, menace Bragg's flank, and protect the passage of supplies up the Tennessee, to within a short distance of the furnishing armies.

This was promptly done. Hooker's main force took post at Wauhatchie, where he was attacked before daylight on the morning of the 26th of October.

After a battle of three hours in the darkness, the Confederates were beaten and driven away. During the struggle an amusing incident occurred.

The fire was the most disastrous in Rockville for many years, and the loss of these fine buildings has resulted in a renewed interest being taken in the subject of water works, for which the town council will shortly contract.
