THE AFTERMATH.

The Teachers' Institute—Its Reunion—Welcome Address and Response.

Prof. Stalker said that Montgomery teachers are intelligent and attentive, making it easy for an instructor to present his ideas. He also complimented the teachers on the rapid advancement of the Young Peoples' Reading Circle in the county.

Miss Wells said that our teachers are alive and in earnest; that they are both sympathetic and inquisitive; that our county seems to be well organized for successful work.

THE REUNION.

Among the bright features of the institute was the reunion on Tuesday evening which was pronounced by those who had attended many similar entertainments as the best of the entire list. It reflected great credit upon those in charge of the programme. The address of welcome was made by Will Maxedon, who was master of ceremonies of the evening, and was as follows:

FELLOW TEACHERS, INSTRUCTORS, LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:—It is with a degree of humility and full appreciation of the honor conferred that I extend to you, this evening, the respects of the Committee and Superintendent, pursuant to whose call you are now duly assembled. You are here fresh and invigorated from a summer vacation, some of you from behind the counter, some from behind the plow, a few of you from summer resorts and many of you from schools of training. Your bright and enthusiastic appearance to-night bears with it the conviction of careful preparation and sincere devotion to duty. You are soldiers of a great army of this country waging destructive warfare against its mighty foe of illiteracy. In the State of Indiana there are ninety-two regiments of this great army now standing in brilliant array, singing their war-song, their battle axes sharpened and their swords gleaming in the sunlight of the nineteenth century. Ready at a command, to charge upon this mighty force, now developing into organized anarchy, threatening the purity of society, the happiness of homes, the life, liberty and prosperity of this country. Fellow teachers, you are esteemed, honored and respected in any community or society. Your business is an honorable one. You give value received for every dollar of your salary. You wrong no man. You deprive no home of its comforts. Your high standard of character, your pure and noble purpose, its indispensable value to society, places you in the highest estimation of our people.

It is natural to suppose that your annual institute held at this place, whose instructors are the best that the profession affords, is of the highest order and that your week's discussion has for its object the perfection and adoption of the best modern means of cultivating and developing pure, round, noble characters, that will stand out as bright, shining jewels of this Nation's crown. Characters that will go forth on life's journey shouting: "My Country 'tis of thee, sweet land of liberty, of thee I sing. Land where my father's died, land of the pilgrim's pride, from every mountain side let freedom ring."

Characters that in places of trust will be incapable of bartering the rights of their constituency. Characters that are the credit and honor of the highest civilization in the world and the grandest nation in history, that will perpetuate its institutions and secure the blessings of liberty to you and your posterity.

I congratulate you upon the importance of your mission and the honorable position you occupy in society, upon your dignified and respectable appearance.

I congratulate you that you are teachers of Montgomery county and that your superintendent is a man from your ranks, acquainted with your difficulties, and who has demonstrated special fitness for his position by the clean satisfactory discharge of its duties. I congratulate you upon the very excellent program for your entertainment. To the enjoyment of which it does me splendid pleasure to extend you a hearty and cordial welcome.

Prof. Ogg in response said he felt deeply the honor bestowed upon him in being asked to reply to the address of welcome, as he was not a teacher of Montgomery county, but was a teacher in Montgomery and a teacher of teachers of Montgomery county, and as it was his custom to do all that he was asked to do, and could do, he took great pleasure in responding on behalf of the teachers. He said: "Mr. Chairman, having gone over a considerable portion of your county I can say from the standpoint of a farmer who has a farm of his own and who devotes one month of each year to practical farming, that from an agricultural point of view I agree with you in all you say regarding Montgomery county. With reference to Crawfordsville and your allusion to your beautiful city I thought I might take some exception. Being a resident of the city of Greencastle, the seat of DePauw University, I have always heard that city spoken of as the 'beautiful Athens of the West.' The Professor then imagined himself standing on the Acropolis gazing down into old Athens, and he drew a beautiful picture of that ancient city, the most brilliant epoch of its career, but he remembered that there was another city in ancient Greece which was celebrated chiefly for its famous oracle of Apollo, and he thought that while Crawfordsville might be justly entitled to the sobriquet of the 'Athens of the West' Greencastle could claim to be the 'Delphi.'

Mayor Bandel and All the City Officers Begin on Quadrantals Terms—Miscellaneous Business.

The Common Council met last evening with Messrs. Myers and Wilhite absent. Retiring Clerk Scott read the minutes of the last meeting, after which Mr. Scott made a few neat remarks and gave way to Mr. Tracy, who assumed his duties with a short and appropriate address, commending Mr. Scott for his kindness and consideration.

A petition from the butchers was presented asking an ordinance for their protection. This proposed ordinance made it unlawful for any unlicensed person to sell or offer to sell in Crawfordsville fresh or salted meat. The proposed license would cost the vendor $100 for one year, and by an ascending scale on to $5 a week and $3 a day. A violation would stick the offender from $10 up to $50. This ordinance was referred to the committee.

An ordinance was presented granting a franchise to The People's Telephone Exchange, represented by A. P. Ramsey and P. C. Somerville. The franchise granted the privilege of putting in of a telephone plant. The charge to patrons for service would be $36 for business houses and $24 for residences. The ordinance was referred and will be acted upon at a special meeting next Monday evening.

Mr. Thomas reported the completion of the purchase of the McEwen lot and stated that Mr. Hirst, the present occupant, would sell his sheds and fixtures and would give possession in a week for $150. The report was received and the committee empowered to consummate the bargain with Mr. Hirst at the stated price.

The bonds of the new officers for four years were presented, filed and approved. Treasurer Nicholson gave bond for $60,000 with the following gentlemen's names affixed: W. E. Nicholson, P. C. Somerville, A. F. Ramsey and John L. Davis. Marshal Grimes gave bond for $1,000 with the following surety: J. P. Grimes, A. F. Ramsey, P. C. Somerville. Mayor Bandel gave bond for $3,000 with surety as follows: F. C. Bandel, A. F. Ramsey and Henry B. Hulet. Clerk Tracy gave bond for $100 with the following surety: J. D. Tracy and A. F. Ramsey.

The city engineer reported that Engineer Hall, of the Monon, would be here this week to see about the Washburn avenue bridge improvement. The committee was accordingly empowered to make a contract or bargain with Mr. Hall as to what the road should do and what the city.

The superintendent of the electric light plant reported receipts for August of $642.02 and expenditures of $866.41, a net cost of $223.39 per light.

A repealing ordinance was read and passed repealing several ordinances proved illegal or out of use. The first was the old salesmen's license passed in '92. The second was an ordinance passed during the "boiling for gas" period, third the electric railway ordinance of '93, and two or three others of like character.

The contract for printing the new volume of city ordinances was awarded to The Journal Company, its bid being the lowest of those submitted.

The fire department was instructed to take no part in extinguishing fires outside the city.

What Sewerage Will Cost.
The September number of "Paving and Municipal Engineering" contains a short article on the proposed system of sewerage for Norristown, Pa., a city of 13,000 inhabitants. It will be of interest here in view of the general demand for this great public convenience and necessity.

The Council at Norristown, Pa., has under consideration a proposition for the construction of a separate sewerage system for house and cesspool drainage exclusively which is about as follows: Vitrified clay pipe, the interior surface of which is of glassy smoothness, to facilitate the flow of the matter entering the sewer. At the dead ends of the pipes will be located automatic flush tanks, which will completely flush the entire system every twelve hours. All sewerage will be carried into a conduit constructed along the Schuykill through the low-lying section of the borough limits, where it will discharge into the Schuykill. With a view to the emptying of sewer into streams affording water supply being prohibited in the future, the conduit will terminate at a point where, when it becomes necessary, a reservoir may be constructed to receive the discharges from the sewer system. The deposits will be chemically treated at regular intervals, precipitating the solids which, after the liquid has been pumped off, will be removed and devoted to fertilizing purposes. It is estimated that about twenty miles of sewer will be required, at a cost of about 65 cents per lineal foot.

A Keeley Club.

The objects of this new organization are many, the main one being to furnish rooms where they can mingle together and, by the help of the citizens, do a lasting good in the cause of making sober men. THE WORKING GIRL.

Miss Sallie Palmer Gives Some Suggestions to Girls About Backache, Faintness, and Dizziness.

(SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.)

Did you ever notice working girls on their way home from stores or factories?

Did you notice how many of them had pale cheeks, dull eyes, and heavy steps?

Did you wonder why they were not ruddy and bright?

The story which is told by Miss Sallie Palmer, of Nicetown, Pa., gives the reason for this sad condition of many working girls.

Sometimes their back and sides will ache terribly. They are faint and dizzy with pain and weight in the lower part of their stomach. They watch the clock, and wish that the day would end, as they feel so ill and tired.

Standing all day, week in and week out, they have slowly drifted into woman's great enemy, displacement of the womb. That, or some other derangement of the organ, causes irregularity or suspension of the "monthly periods," bloating, flooding, or nervous prostration.

"Take warning in time," she says; "Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the surest and safest remedy in the world for you."
