DEMOCRATIC COUNTY CONVENTION.

There will be a Democratic County Convention held at the Court House in Crawfordsville, on Saturday the 24th day of September, 1853, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for the office of County Commissioner, and one for Representative, which offices are to be filled at the October election; also to excite some interest in the election of the Democratic Nominee for Reporter of the decisions of the Supreme Court.

Let us have a general attendance

DEMOCRATS.

A girl of good moral character, and one who understands culinary matters, can find a comfortable home during the winter by inquiring at this office.

DEMOCRATS OF MONTGOMERY.

On this Saturday, you are called upon to assemble in Convention, for the purpose of selecting candidates for the approaching election. The system of conventions has been productive of much good to the country; it affords an opportunity for the people to meet together, and interchange opinions on questions of public policy; to recur to fundamental principles, and to hear the affairs of the nation discussed. In choosing candidates for your standard bearers, every consideration of patriotism, should impel you to look well to the merits, the qualifications, the morals and democracy of those who are presented to the convention for favor. Let firm, high-minded, honorable, efficient and talented men be placed upon the ticket, and success is sure to crown your efforts.

The Democracy of the nation, last year, rallied in the majesty of their strength, and hurled the whigs from power, and elected a democratic chief magistrate to preside over the destinies of this great and glorious nation. In doing so, they had two objects in view. The one, to stop the stream of corruption that was flowing through the channels of the national government, the other to ensure a more economical and frugal administration. But our efforts for the accomplishment of these objects will all be in vain, unless we cordially co-operate with the President in his plans of reform; unless we yield a vigorous and hearty support to democratic measures, and democratic men. By always standing at our posts, and doing our duty, in adhering to the time-honored usages of our party, and in supporting democratic men, we impart vigor and energy to all the departments of the Government, and stimulate them to good works. Much is expected from the present administration, and unless the democratic party throughout the Union preserve its organization, and aid and sustain them in power, the public expectation will not be realized. If we are not most wofully mistaken, the reports of the different heads of the Department at Washington, to the next Congress, will disclose more villainy, peculation and frauds perpetrated by the Whigs, on the public Treasury, than can enter into the heart of man to conceive.

Upon the present administration will devolve the duty of ferreting out the abuses, and exposing the system of wholesale plunder, that were practised by those in power, before it assumed the reins of Government. In order to do so, the cordial co-operation and support of the democracy must be brought to bear. The heart of the Chief Magistrate and his constitutional advisers, must be cheered with the news of victory from the State elections. If the Democracy begin to fold their arms in supineness or apathy, if states or counties begin to falter, and permit the Whigs to steal a victory, discouragement and doubt will seize upon the heads of Government, and paralyze their efforts for good. But if on the contrary, the Democracy, regarding their principles as pearls above all price, rally with confidence to their support, they will be signally blessed with a healthy and honest administration, such as will tell gloriously upon the pages of history.

So far as President Pierce's administration has progressed, the Democracy have cause for congratulation, and one feature in it will meet the approbation of every philanthropist, no matter to what nation, kindred or tongue he may belong—that is, that every citizen has a right to claim, and will emphatically receive, the protection of this Government, wherever his lot may be cast, be he humble or exalted, poor or rich.—Let the Democracy, then be always on the alert, ready to do battle for the right, against oppression, for equal privileges, and the greatest good for the greatest number.

Let us remark, in conclusion, that the noble stand taken in behalf of Kosta, in rescuing him, after he had declared his intention of becoming a citizen of this Government, from the barbarous hands of Austrian tyranny, has been a single rebuke to the past Administration. The people of this Government have spoken in thunder tone of approbation of that act, and the gallant Ingraham, can, when asked for his authority for his generous and courageous deed, point to Gen. Pierce's Inaugural Address. So mote it ever be.

COUNTY FAIR.

The Montgomery County Agricultural Fair will come off in this place on next Thursday and Friday, the 29th and 30th inst. The Farmers and Mechanics of Montgomery county, including the Ladies, in their appropriate departments, will exhibit their productions liberally and contribute all in their power to render this festival second to none in the State.

All Agricultural and Manufactured articles will be exhibited on the first day of the Fair, and the live stock on the second day.

The Circuit Court is still in session. All praise is due Judge BRYANT for the energy and disposition in hurrying the business. He certainly makes a most efficient officer.

The three lads who were in jail at the commencement of court, have been disposed off. The indictment against Bargelt was dismissed. Fox, upon a similar plea of guilty was fined one dollar and imprisoned one day. Barnett plead guilty, and was sentenced to jail for two months.

The Judge in their cases was evidently governed by that humane provision in the new constitution, which basis all proceedings against criminals upon the principle of reform rather than vindictive justice.

We observed quite a number of distinguished lawyers from abroad in attendance. Among them we are glad to see Hon. E. A. Hannegan, Hon. John Pettit, Hon. Dan Mace, Judge Eckles of Greenacres, R. Jones, Davis Newell, W. C. Wilson, Mr. Chace, Mr. Dame of Lafayette, and others.

How to MAKE TWO ENDS MEET.—We can tell you how to make both ends come in right. Never buy things you don't want; never buy from those who don't care whether you buy or not; for these are persons who look as dry and independent at customers as though it was granting an immense favor to sell their goods at any price. Now to come out square, be perfectly pleased and satisfied, go thou to Bryant & Co's, Washington Hall, where dry goods of all varieties, qualities and prices can be had at ten per cent. less than at any other store up town. The proof of the pudding is in the eating, and if this is true or not, go up and look around and make a purchase. The proof of what we have said will then appear to you as plain as a mile post.

We had the extreme pleasure of adding several names to our subscription list during the past week. Now is the time to subscribe for a paper—the fall trade is about to commence, and every farmer should be in possession of a newspaper, and make himself acquainted with the markets, as that alone is of great importance to them.

The New Albany Daily Ledger comes to us this week considerably enlarged, and greatly improved otherwise. The Daily Ledger is now the largest and best printed paper, and contains more general news than any other Daily published in the State. Friend Norman deserves to be richly patronized by the good citizens of Floyd county.

Hogs on the Wabash.—We learn from a gentleman from the Wabash Valley, that hogs are more abundant than ever known in that region before. The farmers are offering to contract for packing at $2.50, 2 1/2 and 3 cents net. The corn crops are reported good.

We are under many obligations to Mr. W. T. DENNIS, Secretary of the State Agricultural Society, for a complimentary card of admission to the State Fair.

Mr. EDWARD J. PULEN, Editor of the People's Friend, paid us a flying visit during the past week, looking as well as printers generally look, and appeared to be in strong hopes of making his fortune at the printing business. Well, Ed. is a gentlemanly and accomplished young man. We wish him success.

We understand that the Crawfordsville, Frankfort, Kokomo, and Ft. Wayne Railroad, has been let to a responsible company, and will be put under contract immediately. More anon.

THE HOG CROP OF 1853.

Packers and farmers are beginning to talk about the probable price of pork. The following from the Cincinnati Price Current embraces statements that will be interesting to those classes. Of course estimates of this character are not expected to be mathematically exact—they are oftentimes far from it—but the paper from which we quote has a reputation for carefulness and accuracy in making up its statistical articles, that lead us to believe its figures in this instance are a pretty close approximation to the truth.

In Higginsport, Ohio, the present stock of hogs is one-fourth to that of last year.—About Beardstown, Illinois, the hogs are fewer than last year, but of better quality. Feeders say pork will range from $3 to $3.50 per cwt. There will be a large crop in Racine, Wisconsin. Fifty per cent. will be added to last year's product for Knox county, Illinois, and nearly that for adjoining counties; 34cets. for pork is spoken of next fall. Around Economy, Indiana, there are about one-fifth more hogs than last season. There are more hogs in the vicinity of Gratiot, Preble county, Ohio, than last season, the quality not quite so good.

In Boyle and the adjacent counties of Kentucky, the number fattened will be larger. Six or eight counties about LaGrange will raise a third more, and the hogs will be large and well fattened. The State of Wisconsin is full of them, and pork will bring $4. Hogs about Graysville, Ill., will exceed the crop of last season one-fourth or one-third; 6,500 will be packed there next season, and will be 3 to 10 per cent. heavier. In Waverly, Ohio, hogs number about the same, but they are held 20 per cent. less in weight. The crop about Dubuque, Iowa, is 25 per cent. larger than last year's.—Rockport, Ill., will turn off one fourth more, or 500 to 1,000 more.

GIVE IT WINGS!—If you can manage to make your business pay, and at the same time sell cheaper and as good goods as your neighbors, why not let the world know it. If Al. Ramey can sell as good dry goods as can be bought in town, at a figure or two below the ordinary charges, the citizens of old Montgomery will be pleased to know it, and will surely go and examine his entire stock of dry goods and ready-made clothing, corner of Maine street and Green, and we have no doubt all will find it to their interest to do so. Take the directions, go and see.

The New Albany Ledger says, in about two weeks the cars on the N. A. & S. Railroad, will commence running through from that city to Bloomington, which will give a distance of ninety-five miles of finished track on that end of the line. The road is now doing a fine and rapidly increasing business, and when completed, its stock will doubtless pay a better per cent than any other road in the State. Under its present efficient management, the work on the unfinished portion of the road is being vigorously prosecuted, and is now, we understand, in a very forward state of completion.

A well known political economist says: We pay best, first, those who destroy us, generals; second, those who cheat us—politicians and quacks—third those who amuse us—singers and musicians; and least of all, those who instruct us—authors, schoolmasters and printers. To save something is necessary, as well as pay all out. Now for saving while you are also buying the best dry goods in town is to go to James Mick's cheap store, one door west of the Eagle Hotel. There you will find a fine, full and variegated assortment of goods, cheaper than at any other store up town.—Go see!

The following appointments for the Lafayette district, were made by the North Western Indiana Conference at its late session in Attica:

Lafayette District.—R. HARGRAVE, P. E. Wesley Chapel, J. M. Stullard, Eastern Charge, G. M. Boyd, Romney, Wiley & McDonald, Newtown, Wheeler & Ito be supplied, Crawfordsville, To be supplied, Sugar Creek, —Berry, Alimo, H. Gray, Shawney, H. Smith & I to be supplied, Attica Station, F. Taylor, Thornton, W. Campbell, Covington Station, A. Gee, Lebanon, A. Sheridan.

The Portland State of Maine says:—“Friday of the week before last, Aug. 26, was the great day of the season on Mount Washington. The purity of the atmosphere was such that soon after sunrise the visitors on the summit counted one hundred and sixty sail of vessels on the blue Atlantic. The spires of the churches in the city of Portland, eighty or ninety miles distant, were distinctly visible. Over forty lakes, including Winipisseege and Moose Head, lay like gems of molten silver set in emerald. For years such a day has been looked for by the managers of our coast survey.”

FEMALE SEMINARY.—This institution commenced its Fall term on Wednesday last, and under more favorable auspices than ever heretofore—there being a large increase of pupils over that of last year.

To remove dirt from him—jerk an editor out of his shirt.

Horace Greeley it is said has actually abandoned the Whig party, and joined the Women's Rights party of New York. In his paper of the 6th, he gives notice that he has broken the traces. He says:—“We have got entirely beyond voting for knaves or blockheads because of the term ‘Whig,’ or any other label that may be pinned to them. Whether they shall be nicknamed ‘Silver Grey,’ or ‘Woolly,’ is a matter about which we do not care a button.”—And as to his paper, he says that also will not work as a team in the Whig coach, “intending henceforth, while we cherish and advocate sound principles and beneficent measures, to act with entire independence of party usages, mandates, and platforms.”

Probably the severe castigation which he has recently received at the hands of some of his Whig brethren for trying to outlie “Ogle,” has had something to do with his turning his back upon the party. Honorable Whig editors would not sustain him in his wholesale slang against the President, and finding that his flock would not follow, the old bell-wether has deserted his flock, and leads off in a path by himself.

The Brooklyn Advertiser (Whig) takes our bran-bread Abolition Ishmael in his word, and sends him out of the Whig church in this fashion:

“Having no longer the confidence of the Whigs of any section of the country—having been false to his professed faith, and acted treacherously toward those who have sustained and upheld him until the viper has acquired strength enough to sting—finding that his mountebank antics among brazen women and shameless infidels have brought down upon him the derision and the scorn of the intelligent and virtuous portion of the community—lost to all sense of common decency, and abandoned to helplessness and despair, except by the insane bigots and superstitious fools who pamper the absurdities in which he delights—he is glad to sneak into any corner, or adopt any alternative, rather than sink in public estimation into positive insignificance. The Whigs of New York will be glad to learn that he no longer claims affinity with them, and he pretends not now to be of their kind and kin, and that henceforth he will not recognize in any form or shape, or under any name or title, party usages, mandates, or platforms, save such as may emanate from socialists, abolitionists, Maine-law demagogues, and land reformers.”

STATE FAIR.

The Second Annual Fair of the Indiana State Board of Agriculture, will be held at Lafayette, on the 12th, 13th, and 14th days of October next. The annual address will be delivered by Horace Greeley, of N. Y., on Thursday the 13th at 2 o'clock, P. M.

Business still continues brisk—wheat coming in slowly—price seventy-five cents per bushel.

The fall races over the Oakland, Ky., race course promises to be of an exciting character. Some fine horses are now in training, and will be on the turf at the commencement, which will be on the 31st proximo.

We understand from the Port Folio, that the Lafayette Daily Journal has been disposed of to Mr. Terrill, of Madison.

YOUNG LADY SHOT.—A foolish and somewhat reckless boy named Fitch, near Goshen, Ind., on Saturday last, in the spirit of fun and bravado, aimed a gun at Miss Esther Felkner, which had been loaded about a year, pulled the trigger and shot her through the heart. The girl was aged sixteen years, and the boy twelve. He was silly enough to aim at her for the purpose of affrighting her, supposing that because it had before missed fire it would again.

The first course of lectures in the law school of the Indiana Asbury University, will commence on the 2nd day of November next, and continue until the 15th of March, 1854.

We will give one year's subscription of the “Review,” for a barrel of good cider.

We have been presented with a monstrous pipen apple, weighing seventeen ounces, which was raised on the farm of Andrew Buck, in the vicinity of this place. Beat it who can.

The Fall term of Wabash college commenced on Thursday last. We understand there are a large number of new students present.

It is rumored that John W. Davis of Indiana has been appointed Governor of Oregon Territory in the place of Gov. Lane, resigned.

BREADSTUFFS.—The Cincinnati Enquirer says that the following is an extract from a commercial letter from Antwerp, dated August 23d, received by Mr. Windelman, of Cincinnati:

The excitement in the grain market is as great as it was in 1846 and 1847, and the prices are continually advancing. Stock on hand small, and no sellers; but a large business is done in cargoes of wheat under way from the Baltic, at prices from 14 1/2 to 15 guilders. The demand for wheat exportation, particularly to France, where the crops are represented to be lighter and the stock smaller than in 1846, is very great.

Removal of Dr. Hurd's Dental Office to the office formerly occupied by Henry S. Lane & Willson. The office is in a building adjoining his residence, and in making this move it will be permanent. Dr. Hurd has been engaged in the practice of Dentistry in Crawfordsville and vicinity for three years past, and has executed many sets of teeth also the first full set that was made in the county, which is now used in manufacturing the entire skeleton of the person wearing them. The work of the most skillful falls occasionally; in order to give value received, Dr. H. repairs all work that may fall within five years from the time of being executed without extra charge. In order to secure a large amount of business his terms will be moderate.

Dr. Hurd's facilities for getting out gold plates, will enable him to supply Dentists in the West with a short notice. For information on the management of the teeth he will refer you to his pamphlet published last year. Sept. 23, 1853. Hurd.
