LAST CALL.

Every man who has neglected to pay his subscription for the last year and those who are in arrears since 1854 are requested to make immediate settlement and save cost, as we intend to commence suing—We have thrown grass long enough and like the old man in the fable shall try what virtue there is stones.

Township Convention.

The Democracy of Union Township are requested to meet in Crawfordsville in Convention, on Saturday the 31st inst., for the purpose of nominating Township Officers.

Let every Old Liner turn out—The enemy are in the field.

By order of the COMMITTEE.

OBITUARY—John L. Robinson, Marshall of Indiana, expired at his home in Rushville, on Thursday Night, March 23, after a short illness.

Thomas Brown, who was tried and convicted of murder at the recent term of the Circuit Court, was sentenced by Judge Cowan, on last Wednesday morning, to imprisonment for life in the penitentiary—Sheriff Wallace left for the courtier institution with his prisoner on Thursday morning. Thus ends the career of a man not yet thirty years of age. A warning to the rising youth of our age.

WASSON & BINFORD.

This firm are now in receipt of their spring and summer stock. Their goods have been selected with great care in the eastern market, and embraces every article kept in the line. The ladies will find by giving this establishment a call, every want anticipated in the judicious selections of their stock, embracing the beautiful and needful. The farmer will here find a ready exchange for his produce, and the mechanic an excellent opportunity to make cheap purchases.

CRAWFORD & MULHANEN—This old firm are now in receipt of their spring and summer goods. Their stock as usual has been selected with great care and embraces every article needed by the farmer and mechanic. For good Bargains go to Crawford & Mulhnen.

Mr. Wm. Robinson will, in a few days, be in receipt of a splendid lot of furniture, direct from Boston. His establishment is an excellent place to purchase furniture. See his advertisement in another column.

CLAYTON NURSERY—We call the attention of our readers to the advertisement in another column, of the Clayton Nursery. Mr. U. M. Scott is the agent for this place. He can be found at S. H. Gregg's Hardware store.

Stephens and Hazelton were hung at Charleston, Virginia, on Friday last for participating in the Insurrection at Har-

COL. S. C. WILLSON.

This gentleman has been in our place for the last two weeks upon business connected with the Court.

He will be a candidate before the Convention for the Congressional race. The Colonel is a good speaker, a sociable and true gentleman, and one who would make a telling canvass should he be so fortunate as to receive the nomination.

The above from the Covington Friend, we heartily endorse. Col. Wilson is a man of calibre, and if pitted against any of the popinjays already named by the Helpites of the District, he will be triumphantly elected. The Colonel is a plain spoken man, a Democrat of the old Jackson school, that "speaks right out in meeting," and if nominated will deal entirely with facts, ungarished with the low demagogery and highfalutin style of the great mass of political aspirants. As a lawyer, he stands at the head of the profession, and in the capacity of a legislator at the National Capital, he would reflect the very highest credit upon his state and district. We are decidedly in favor of his nomination.

CAPTURE OF MEXICAN VESSELS BY AN AMERICAN STEAMER—HIGHLY IMPORTANT NEWS.

The telegraph dispatch from New Orleans brings highly important news from Mexico. Several Mexican vessels have been captured by the American steamer Saratoga, and brought as prizes into New Orleans. The Executive of the American Consul to Vera Cruz has been revoked—All this looks as if war was about to commence, or had commenced, between the United States and Mexico.

The Capture of the Mexican vessels is a beligerent act of the highest grade—General Miramon refused to guarantee the lives and property of our citizens or to respect the American flag. Hence the action of the United States Squadron. The Liberals and American citizens at Vera Cruz were in favor of this course. Further news from the seat of war will be looked for with great interest. It may be the commencement of a policy that will lead to the establishment of an American Protectorate over Mexico.

DEATH OF GOVERNOR BISSELL OF ILLINOIS.

The telegraph reports the death of Governor Bissell, of Illinois. He was a distinguished officer in the Mexican War, and commanded a regiment at the battle of Buena Vista. He was elected to Congress by the Democrats in 1848, and in the first session of his term he came near having a duel with Jefferson Davis, of Mississippi, in account of the strictures made by the former upon the conduct of the Mississippians in Mexico. In 1854 Bissell deserted the Democrats and connected himself with the Republicans, on account of the Repeal of the Missouri Compromise. In 1856 he was elected Governor of Illinois by the Republicans. He had a majority of about five thousand over Colonel Richardson, who was supported by the Democrats—His term of office would have expired on the 1st of January, 1861.

GRAHAM BROTHERS.

This firm are now receiving their mammock stock of goods. Their store-room is by far the largest and most elegantly finished of any in town. Our country friends who wish to see a display of goods embracing every style, variety and pattern, should call in. Mr. James Graham who is yet in the east, has called the market, purchasing only the very first quality of goods and at terms which will enable the firm to sell at greatly reduced figures.

To every one we say, go to Graham Brothers if you wish to purchase cheap. Their motto is small profits and quick sales.

CAPE RACE.

Cape Race, where the steamship Hungarian was lost, leaving no one to tell the sad tale of the disaster, (says the Baltimore American) is one of the most dangerous headlands upon the coast, and many a gallant ship has there found a watery grave. Could the stories which mariners have told of the hair-breadth escapes from this headland be collected, they would fill a volume. In connection with the mysterious disaster which has overwhelmed the steamer Hungarian, the following graphic and beautiful passage from Everett's address at the inauguration of the Dudley Observatory, has a peculiar and almost prophetic interest.

That no further improvement is desirable in the means and methods of ascertaining the ship's place at sea, no one, I think, will from experience be disposed to assert. The last time I crossed the Atlantic, I walked the quarter-deck with the officer in charge of the noble vessel on one occasion, when we were driven along before a head-breeze and under a head of steam, beneath a starless sky, at midnight, through the rate certainly of ten or twelve miles an hour. There is something sublime, but approaching the terrible, in such a scene, as the awful gloom—the midnight chills—the awful swell of the deep—the dismal moan of the wind through the rigging—the all but volcanic fire within the hold of the ship—I scarce know an occasion in ordinary life, in which a reflecting mind feels more heavily its hopeless dependence on irrational forces beyond its own control.

I asked my companion how nearly he could determine his ship's place at sea under favorable circumstances? Theoretically, he answered, I think within a mile; practically and usually, within three or four.

My next question was, how near do you think we may be to Cape Race, that dangerous headland which pines its iron-bound, unlighted bastions from the shore of Newfoundland far into the Atlantic—the first land-fall to the homeward-bound American vessel? We must, said he, by our last observations and reckoning, be within three or four miles of Cape Race. A comparison of these two remarks, under the circumstances in which we were placed at that moment, brought my mind to the conclusion that it is greatly to be wished that the means should be discovered of finding the ship's place more accurately, or that navigators would give Cape Race a wider berth.

THE EMPEROR OF AUSTRIA—A letter from Europe states that the Emperor of Austria has "learned to get drunk every day," and that great influence is exercised over him through the medium of a Miss Koenz, the daughter of the manager of an equestrian amphitheater. This fair damsel accompanied him to the Italian champaign, and rode by his side at the fatal field of Solferino. She occupies apartments in the Imperial palace.

FOR THE REVIEW.

FOR JUSTICE OF THE PEACE.

I see announced, to-day, Mr. E. H. Cox

as a Candidate for the office of Justice of the Peace for Union Township. I think it right to say to the people generally, that a good, thorough-going Justice in, at this time, particularly needed in our community.

Several gentlemen have offered, but setting politics aside and consulting the public interest alone, Mr. Cox is the man for the place above all others. He has been a close, diligent student at law in the office of Messrs. Willson & Wallace for several years, and during that time has shown industry, energy and capacity, which every body who knows him must admit.

And I doubt not he will carry the same qualities into his office, if elected. We will wait with interest to see whether the public, in choosing a Justice, really cares

more for politics than for their actual interests.

Mr. Cox becomes a candidate only at the instigation of friends and citizens, who want a capable officer, and at the same time feel disposed to help forward a worthy

young man, just beginning the great struggle of life.

RATIFICATION MEETING IN FOUN-

TAIN COUNTY.

The Democracy of this county held a convention on the 3d instant to ratify the nomination and action of the State Convention. It was the largest and most enthusiastic political gathering which has assembled in that county since the last Presi-idential election. The official proceedings

says:

Col. Willson delivered an excellent address, which told with happy effect upon the audience generally and caused not a few wry faces among the Republican portion of the assemblage.

Upon the conclusion of Col. Willson's speech Hon. Daniel W. Voorhees, being loudly called, took the stand and made one of his best efforts. It was truly an eloquent appeal to the Democracy, replete

with facts and sound conservative views,

rallying them under the broad folds of the flag of Democracy, upon which is inscribed

the word "popinjay" head of a republican clique. Jim. Wilson having pretty much run out of steam, his brother Billy is wonderfully anxious to get into his Congressional boots, and we venture to say that he and his friends will be found particularly busy in ridiculing the pretensions, not only

of every substantial man that
