THE RESULT IN MONTGOMERY COUNTY—REPUBLICAN RASCALITY.

The Black Republican triumph in this county at the election on last Tuesday, was obtained by the most bare-faced and enormous frauds ever perpetrated upon a free people. There was not less than two hundred votes imported into this county by the Republicans as the figures will show. The vote polled was four thousand six hundred and ninety-seven, nearly five hundred more than was ever polled here before, and the increase was nearly all Republican. Taking this vote as a basis, and allowing five inhabitants to each voter, (the usual estimate) would show a population in the county of twenty-three thousand; whereas the census just taken shows a population of but little over twenty thousand. Now either the census takers have made an omission of three thousand persons, (which is altogether improbable) or there has been a large importation of illegal votes. Again in Walnut township, which usually polled two hundred and thirty-seven votes, there was this year an increase of nearly forty per cent, and mostly Republican—the Democrats having increased their vote but seven.

The same may be said of Madison and Coal Creek township, where about the same Republican increase is found, with no falling off in the Democratic vote. The same game of running in illegal votes was attempted in Ripley township, but was prevented by the vigilance of a Democratic inspector.

When charged with these outrageous frauds, the Republican leaders simply chuckle over them, without attempting any denial or palliation of their guilt. They went into the fight determined to win by foul means as they knew they could not by fair. How long we will ask the people tamely submit to this swindled out of their dearest rights of freemen by unscrupulous political scoundrels.

THE ELECTIONS.

Indiana has gone for the Republican ticket by some 15,000 majority. Ohio and Pennsylvania have also gone largely for the Irrepressibles. Notwithstanding all this the Rail Splitter will never live in the White House.

ARREST OF ILLEGAL VOTERS.

Sheriff Wallace arrested on last Tuesday night two Black Republicans (imported) who voted the Republican ticket at these polls. They were on the eve of taking their departure for Illinois when arrested. They both gave bail for their appearance at Court. Warrants were out for some twenty more, but the officers were unable to find them, they having fled the county immediately after voting.

THE BRECKINRIDGE VOTE.

Very nearly all of the Breckinridge vote in the State went for the Republican ticket. In this county there is not probably thirty persons belonging to this party and but very few exceptions they supported the Democratic ticket.

We understand that an impression prevails among some of our Democratic friends that T. D. Brown sold them an inferior quality of coal oil on last Monday night. Such is not the case. Mr. B. sold nothing but the genuine article. Teddy never allows his political opinions to mix in with his business or social affairs.

CRAWFORD & MULLIKIN.—This firm now in receipt of a full stock of fall and winter goods. The stock comprises a fine assortment of ready made clothing, hats, caps, boots and shoes, together with a splendid collection of cloths, muslins and everything in the dry goods line. Give them a call if you desire good bargains.

PENNSYLVANIA ELECTION.

Mr. Curtin, who has just been elected Governor of Pennsylvania, was not nominated at a Republican Convention, but by an organization which called itself the People's party, which embraced, we stated yesterday, not only the Republicans but a large proportion of the Bell and Everett men! He was nominated, indeed, as the candidate of all the Bell and Everett men, as well as the Republicans. He was brought into the field before the Presidential contest commenced, and although a portion of the Union men in Philadelphia, withdrew their support from him after he avowed himself for Lincoln, the great body of that party, considering themselves as honorably committed to his support, continued it until the end of the race. This is evident from the fact that in Philadelphia, where Fremont obtained but 8,000 votes out of 70,000, and where the body of the Opposition votes are for Bell and Everett, Curtin got nearly 40,000 votes.

If a union is now made between the two national parties upon one electoral ticket, which is understood and expected will be the case, Lincoln will doubtless lose Pennsylvania by a heavy majority—Thirty thousand majority can be given against him in Philadelphia alone. The vote for Fremont in 1856 was but 147,000 in Pennsylvania, while the Buchanan and Fillmore parties received over 300,000 votes. It is not possible for Lincoln to carry Pennsylvania if the efforts which are making for a cordial union of the Douglas and Johnson and Bell and Everett men, upon a common electoral ticket, succeed, which we have no doubt will be the case. Our Republican friends are in great danger of being too sanguine of carrying Pennsylvania for Lincoln on account of their ignorance of these facts.

THE FUTURE.

The State Sentinel speaks thus to the Democracy. Let the faithful heed it in Montgomery county:

The path of duty for ever Democrat is unmistakable. The defeat of the State ticket is no reason why any effort should be relaxed to carry the Presidential election. Otherwise it should still further develop our resources and courage for another engagement with the enemy. Our cause is just and must prevail. We call upon the Democrats of Indiana to organize for the contest in November. Let us do our whole duty without reference to the result. We are contending for principles, the success of which we believe necessary to the prosperity, progress and perpetuity of the Government. In view of this fact let us discharge our whole duty, and if we fail, the responsibility will not rest with us. With the necessary effort we believe that we can triumph over our political enemies. Let us then prepare for the contest. Arrangements should be made to bring out every voter. It is but a few days to the election, and it is necessary, therefore, we should immediately enter upon the work. A true soldier never yields or fails in his entire duty until he is overwhelmed in the contest. In this crisis of our public affairs, when dangers threaten upon every side, let it not be said that the indomitable Democracy of Indiana ever faltered in their duty. We have for a long time maintained the character of a conservative and Democratic State. The Democracy of Indiana can, if they will, redeem in November the defeat of October, and continue the proud position they have occupied. Shall it be done?

DON'T GIVE UP THE SHIP.

Democrats of Montgomery county "don't give up the ship." If we will only work we can carry this county in November. Remember that we were beaten on last Tuesday by the basest frauds.

Montgomery county to-day is democratic. Erase from the poll books the names of the imported voters, and the Democratic ticket will show a clean majority. Now mark the prediction. We shall carry this county for Douglas.

The Greencastle Banner, a Republican paper, pays a high compliment to the Breckinridge men of that county, who generally supported the Republican State ticket. No wonder the Democracy were beaten when the Interventionists of both North and South combined against them.

BRAMBLE HOUSE.

This splendid hotel, the favorite resort of our citizens when visiting Lafayette, has been greatly improved of late, in all the new additions and luxuries of a first class hotel. Mr. Dale the gentlemanly proprietor, is unrivaled in his scrupulous regard for the comfort of his guests.

The population of Union township, as reported by the last census taken a few weeks since, shows the total number of inhabitants, including Crawfordville, to be six thousand, seven hundred and ninety-four. Now, according to the vote polled on last Tuesday, which numbered sixteen hundred, the population should be eight thousand—taking the basis of one vote for every five. We think those figures show conclusively that the most outrageous frauds have been perpetrated at these polls.

Experience is probably the best teacher, and Dr. Bull seems to have concentrated the teachings of a long medical life in the preparation of his Vegetable Worm Destroyer. Its effects upon the worms are magical, while the form of capsule, boots and shoes, together with a splendid collection of cloths, muslins and everything in the dry goods line. Give them a call if you desire good bargains.

WHO DEFEATED THE DEMOCRATIC TICKET?

There is no doubt but that the Breckinridge men generally in Indiana voted for the Republican State ticket. The returns prove this. There are large Republican gains in all the counties where there is a Breckinridge vote. And the Breckinridge men admit that they did not vote at all, or else swallowed Seward, Lincoln, Giddings, & Co. A dispatch from Green castle to the Cincinnati Gazette tells the story. It says: "Breckinridge leaders and candidates voted for Lane here to day." They voted for the very men and principles whose success they have heretofore declared would be dangerous to the peace of the Government. We find Bright, Fitch and company, who have denounced with the utmost bitterness the Republican party, and whom the Republicans have in return unspuriously abused as dishonest demagogues, shake hands with each other, and unite in a common effort to defeat the Democratic State ticket—candidates whom they supported in Convention, and to whom they were in honor and by word pledged to vote for at the polls. But selfishness, personal animosities and revenge have done their work. The Democratic party is wounded in the house of its friends. It suffers a temporary defeat at the hands of those it has given the ability to do mischief. Those who are stricken down have heretofore unspuriously devoted their means, their efforts and their influence to build up the men, give them political and personal influence, who thus manifest their ingratitude for these favors. Was there ever treachery more base? It is not only infidelity to personal friendship and party obligations, but to principle—if their action is ever influenced by the latter consideration. In the Senatorial contest in 1857, Messrs. Bright and Fitch demanded that the Democracy should stand by them, regardless of their personal preferences or doubts even as to the manner by which they were to be elected. In 1860 the same men refuse to be bound by similar party obligations. Why? Any issue of principle? Not a whit of it. To gratify their dislike of a man who has the sympathy of nine tenths of the Democratic party of Indiana, they utterly disregard the obligations of personal friendship and party duty. They seek to injure, to overcome Douglas by striking down their own personal and political friends and the party which have made them all that they are. It is to professed, but treacherous, Democrats, the Republicans are indebted for their triumph. We have no doubt they like the treason, but they forgive and love the traitors! We repeat: The Democratic party is defeated in the house of its friends—by its own members who have heretofore professed to be loyal to its principles and usages. Without this aid the Republicans could not have triumphed to the extent they have. What is the compensation to the "Bright malcontents"? A little patience and we shall know?—Indianapolis Sentinel.

THE DEATH OF GOVERNOR WILLARD.

We learn from those who were present at the demise of Governor Willard that he died without a struggle. During the day that his death occurred he was about his room and manifested his usual cheerfulness, but a moment before he expired he was sitting upon the set of his bed in pleasant conversation with his friends present. He laid down and immediately his spirit took its flight calmly, gently, and almost unconsciously. The striking characteristics which he exhibited in life attended him in death. For a long time previous to his demise his energy had been lost in his bodily strength, but his strong will held out to the very last. He only yielded to the disease which for years had battered till he had no longer strength to fight it.

Governor Willard is the first Executive in this State who has died in office. But few men had more and warmer personal friends than Gov. Willard. His noble qualities of head and heart, and his genial temperament, attached to him friends wherever he went. And from every quarter come tributes to his personal worth, consulting and grateful to his family and his friends.—Indianapolis Sentinel.

AN UNUSUAL CASE OF SOMNAMBULISM.

A singular case of somnambulism—a sickly girl in Plymouth, New Hampshire, a somnambulist, with a strong propensity to walk off with things and hide them where they could not be found, nor she herself remember, so that at last it was necessary to lock her in securely at night made off a few weeks since with a valuable watch. Then the family gave her liberty and watched her movements, in hope that the same somnambulism that carried it off would again find it. The other night she started out, followed by her brother. She walked places that he dare not follow, but the moonlight helped show her course, and he kept along. Finally she walked up the trunk of an old tree that hung at an angle of forty-five degrees over a brook which was deep beneath her, and stooping down brought out that watch. Returning to terra firma the brother waked her, took the property, and they hurried home.

Sure is life—it is a wonderful thing—life—ever growing old, yet ever young; ever dying, ever being born; cut down and destroyed by accident, by violence, by pestilence, by famine, praying remorselessly and insatiable upon itself, yet multiplying and extending still, and filling every spot of earth on which it once obtains a footing; so delicate, so feeble, so dependent upon fostering circumstances and the kindly care of nature, yet so invincible, endowed as it is with supernatural power, like spirits of the air, which yield to every torch, and seem to elude our force, subsisting by means impalpable to our proper sense, yet wielding powers which the mightiest agencies obey. Weakest and strongest, of all the things that God has made, ife is the air of death, and yet conqueror. Victim at once and victor. All living things succumb to death's assault; life smiles at his impotence, and makes the grave her cradle.

INDIANA ELECTION.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 11.

Returns from over 60 counties are received, indicating that the Republican majority on the State ticket will reach 15,000.

The Legislature will stand nearly as follows: Senators holding over, 18 Democrats, 11 Republicans; new members, 7 Democrats, 18 Republicans. Republican majority of 9. House—Republicans, 58, Democrats 43, giving a Republican majority of over 20 on joint ballot, securing the election of a Republican U. S. Senator.

James A. Cravens, (Dem) in 2nd Congressional district, is elected by 200 majority over Davis, Independent Whig.

Holman, (Dem) in 4th district is elected by 400 majority.

The delegation in Congress stands as before—Democrats 4, Republicans 7.

Vanderburg County gives the Republican State ticket 24 majority, a gain of 600.

THE REPUBLICAN ELECTION FRAUDS.—

There can not be a doubt, in any unprejudiced mind, but that the Republicans committed the grossest of frauds at the election on Thursday last. Look at their unprecedented majorities. On a fair vote, their average majority would not exceed two hundred at the utmost, but in some cases it goes over a thousand. Where did this large vote come from? The recent census shows only a little over 4,000 legal voters in this township, but over 5,200 were polled. Who gets the benefit of the increased vote? Is it not the Republicans? In some way they manufactured about a thousand illegal voters. They well know how it was done, and if they are not disposed to divulge the process we will, in due time, enlighten the public. In doing so we shall be compelled to exhibit the several leading Republicans acted in the frauds, no matter how much we may regret to expose them.—State Sentinel.

ELECTION DAY OVER THE RIVER.

We voted the larger portion of yesterday to New Albany and Jeffersonville. It was anticipated that difficulty might arise from the large importation of illegal voters by the Black Republicans and Breckinridges; but the prompt action of the Democrats almost entirely prevented the dastardly scheme, so far as regards the precincts in both cities, though we were informed that the hordes of political Cossacks had posted off to the country precincts, where they perhaps succeeded in depositing their ballots for disunion and abolition.
