

1866.
THE WORLD,
An Independent Democratic Daily, Weekly & Semi-Weekly Newspaper.

After four years of civil war, forced upon the people of the United States by the violence of sectional parties, we now enter upon a new era of unity and of progress. North and South, a cordial co-operation of all honest men is needed to repair the waste of war, to establish our peace through the triumph of sound constitutional principles in the administration of the government, and our unity by guarding all that makes Union desirable.

The great Democratic Party, whose history in the past is the history of private prosperity, of territorial extension, and of public order in America, stands now, as it has ever stood, the Party of the Nation, superior to all sectional passions in its loyalty to the rights of co-equal States, and to the liberties of the individual citizen. Once more its voice will be heard, once more its adherents will be rallied to its time-honored standards in every city and town of the Northern and of the Southern States.

To the principles of this great Democratic Party of the Nation, this World has borne firm witness throughout the ordeal of civil war. It will now be devoted to the not less arduous task of applying these principles to the solution of the many and weighty questions—financial, social, political—which come upon us with the return of peace. Faithful to the real interests of all sections, it will be enslaved by the prejudices and blinded by the propositions of no one.

That the principles of American Democracy should thus be uttered, with no weak or uncertain voice, here in the great metropolitan center of American enterprise and commerce, is a matter of such importance to every citizen as must commend this World to the co-operation and support of good men in all sections of the Union.

Whatever skill can devise or enterprise accomplish will contribute to make this World what it is our desire that it should continue to be—the BEST NEWSPAPER OF THE DAY.

Competent correspondents at every commercial and political center of both hemispheres, who are always instructed to make the speediest and most accurate telegraph, will keep our readers fully informed of the doings and the progress of mankind in all parts of the globe.

EDITIONS.

The Daily World affords a complete compendium of, and commentary upon, the news of every day. The Semi-Weekly World is a large quarto sheet, same size as Daily, containing all its news, correspondence, editorials, commercial and market news, cable market and news, and a full and interesting miscellany of literature. Published Tuesday and Friday.

The Weekly World is a large quarto sheet, same size as Daily, has now the largest circulation of any weekly journal published save one. Its extraordinary success since its issue with the late Mr. Arthur Hays Sulzberger, has justified the most liberal expenditure which will make it unrivaled in interest and value to farmers, published weekly.

1. Its market reports embrace the New York, Albany, Brighton and Cambridge Live Stock Markets; the New York Produce and General Produce Markets; special and valuable foreign intelligence; a department of Agricultural Readings; altogether comprising an unrivaled handbook of current information for the farmer, stock raiser, and country dealer, the Country Merchant, &c.

2. Its Reading for the Family Circle embraces the freshest and best Stories, Poetry, Fiction, Reading, &c.

3. Its Digest of the News is not, like most city weeklies, a mere waste-basket of the Daily; only matters of interest and importance are chosen from the Daily, while the mass of its contents are prepared especially for the Weekly.

In every post-office district there should be found one active, public-spirited Democrat, who will, for a benefit upon his neighbors, and the cause, by making a determined effort to form a club of four, ten, twenty, or fifty for the Weekly World, at our greatly reduced rates.

Bill Bowers'

Semi-Annual Address

Ladies and Gentlemen of Montgomery and surrounding Counties.

Again permit us to tender our warmest thanks for the very liberal patronage bestowed on us; and hoping still to merit the same, we would say to you and all others that the still waves, and that we are now daily receiving our Fall and Winter Stock, comprising a full line of all kinds of Goods hereafter kept by us, all of which we propose to sell just a little cheaper than the cheapest.

We do not say that we sell more goods than any house in Indiana; we prefer to tell a story that somebody will believe. But we do say—and those who wish to do so with a call can be convinced—that we sell goods a little cheaper than any other house in this city. Our stock is now full and complete, and will be kept so during the fall and winter. Then we give to all cash or ready-pay buyers to give us a call and we will make it to your interest to trade with us.

BANNER

As we sell no goods on a credit, of course we have no bad debts to make up off of our customers. Neither have we lost anything in outside speculations to be made back from our customers; but our system of doing business is uniform—all goods marked in plain figures, at small profits, and sold at marked prices; none need fear of being deceived.

Then come from the hills, the plains and the valley, Come to the Banner with a rush and a rally, And don't be deceived by the little side show, That's kept open daily on C. O. M. Row.

You've all seen the "Elephant" and paid out your money Till it's lost all its novelty, and ceased to be funny. The "Mammoth" has belittled and made so much of it, that it's lost its attraction for all but the boys.

And other old fables have lived out their day, And only keep store to have some place to stay. Don't want to be kept up and up with the times, And always give you the word of your dinner.

Then pass the side-shows, the "Mammoth", and all Come to the Banner, and see us as we are. You'll find when you call that we mean what we say, Then call at the Banner, you'll find it will pay.

DR. JOHN BULL'S COMPOUND CEDRON BITTERS.

The Latest and Most Important Discovery of the Nineteenth Century.

John Bull of Louisville, Kentucky.

His imitable preparation of Sarsaparilla, has long stood at the heads of the various compounds of that valuable drug.

HIS COMPOUND OF WILD CHERRY

Has become a household word throughout the west and south.

His Worm Lozenges

In less than a year after their introduction attained a reputation as wide-spread as the continent of North America.

But the crowning glory of his life remains to be attained in his latest discovery, or rather combination, for he does not claim to have been the discoverer of

CEDRON

Which is the basis of the bitters now offered to the public. That honor belongs to the native inhabitants of Central America, to whom its virtues have been known for more than two hundred years. Armed with it the Indian braved defiance to the most deadly malaria, and handled, without fear, the most venomous serpent. It is a balm for the body, that while there is breath left in the body, the Cedron is potent to cure, no matter what the disease may be.

While Dr. Bull is not prepared to endorse this extravagant pretension, he is, nevertheless, satisfied from a thorough examination of the evidence relating to its virtues, that as a remedy and preventative for all diseases arising from exposure, either to changes of weather and climate, or to the miasmatic influences, it stands

WITHOUT A RIVAL.

And justly deserves the reputation it has so long enjoyed in Central America and the Western States.

IN DYSPEPSIA

And its attendant train of symptoms, it acts more like a charm than a medicine. There is nothing like the whole range of Materia Medica that can for a moment bear a comparison with it in this disease.

A full account of this wonderful plant may be found in the 11th edition of the U. S. Dispensatory, pages 1367 and 1368.

A series of experiments in which Dr. Bull has been for years engaged, has just been brought to a successful termination, and he is now enabled to offer to the public a combination of CEDRON with other approved tonics the whole preserved in the best quality of copper distilled Bourbon Whisky, which he is confident has no equal in the world.

He might furnish a volume of certificates, but the public have long since learned to estimate such things at their true value. The safest plan is, for every one to test for himself the virtues of a new medicine.

GIVE THEM

It is not necessary to publish a long list of diseases for which the Cedron Bitters are a specific, in all diseases of the
