The Great Remedy for the Cure of CONSUMPTION!

AND ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS.

THE results of its use is a proof of its great value. The extraordinary HEALING PROPERTIES of this medicine are experienced by all those who have used it. The testimony can be found in a pamphlet which can be obtained of the Agents where the medicine is for sale.

Coughs and Colds, however distressing, are broken up in an incredible short time, by causing a specific influence on the lungs, so that the matter and phlegm are easily expectorated.

Pains and Soreness of the Chest are quickly relieved by the irritated parts becoming healed. Cold Chills and Night Sweats become immediately checked, by the strength being restored. The torpid liver is restored to action as the blood becomes purified.

Consumptives would do well to read his treatise on deceased Lungs.

Physicians who have failed to cure their patients should try this Medicine before they give the case up, as we know very many valuable lives have been saved by being persuaded to give it a trial.

May 12 1896

HAVE YOU READ This Story:

slightly modified to suit the Time, Place and Occasion:

The shades of night were falling fast, As through a Western City passed A youth, who bore 'mid snow and ice, A banner with this strange device:—"GOOD NEWS!"

The news was that L. A. FOOTE & CO. had just received a large lot of New Goods, making their stock fuller and more complete than it had ever been, and the best stock in their line ever in the city of Crawfordsville.

He passed where hangs the sign o'er head: "No farther go," a young man said: "You'll find no better far or wide"— And loud that axe-horn voice replied:—"GOOD NEWS!"

For the information of the public, we would say that the sign referred to is that of the "Corner Book Store," (you can see it from either Green or Vernon streets,) and the young man who stopped the traveler was John R. Robinson, Jr., who has been in the establishment a year, and being well posted in the business, knew what he was talking about when he told the gentleman who he wanted to buy a book, that he would call and ask him.

And now he stands within the door, Where goods are found from wall to floor; And with a smile and wink of eye, He says in accents clear and high:—"I SEE NEW GOODS!"

He saw Bibles, Testaments, Prayer Books and Hymn Books for all denominations, Albums, Histories, Novels, Music Books, a great stock of miscellaneous Books, all the school Books in use in common schools, College Text Books, Blank and Memorandum Books, Pictures, all sorts, kinds and sizes, Picture Frames, Modelling, Paper of every size and kind, Wall and Window Paper, Window Shades, Girds, Tassels, Envelopes, Slates, Pencils, Ink Pens, Toys and Games, and Notions of all kinds. In fact, if you were to ask him he would not be able to enumerate the half that he did see. Nor did he forget to inquire the prices, which, being lower than he anticipated, and finding many things he wanted he bought quite a large quantity, which led to the following results:

At break of day, towards the brook, His way a thirsty farmer took; He heard a voice of wild despair Ring clearly through the morning air—"GOOD NEWS!"

The farmer was astonished for he could see no one, and so he brought out his dogs for a hunt, and had the mystery explained as follows:

A traveler, by the faithful hound, All buried in New Goods was found; Still in his hands, as in a vice, That banner with that strange device:—"GOOD NEWS!"

The fact is that he had got too many articles for his money, and being unable to carry them, and so got into the above unfortunate predicament:

I fear the youth who bravely bore The "Corner Book Store" had not found Or he might now be singing round—"GOOD NEWS!"

The reason we have for this belief is, that if he had found the "Corner" he would have bought so many entertaining Books that he would never have undertaken the journey, but have stayed at home and made a quiet citizen.

Our hero lives, and lives this day, If you'd like to know I'll tell you the way; His mind was full and his heart was warm, And he was only singing amid the storm,—"GOOD NEWS!"

It was rescued from his perilous condition, went on his way rejoicing, and gladdened his family and friends with a bountiful supply of Books, Stationery, Toys, Notions, &c., which he had bought at the place where you get cheap goods and the right change back.

And now with goods in his arms and hands, Goods on his back, in goods he stands— And costing but a very few cents— The well known sound comes from his lips,—"GOOD NEWS!"

It may be that the youth above mentioned was employed to blow for FOOTE & CO., but you can be convinced of your mistake if you will call and see the best assorted and most complete stock of goods in our line ever brought to the city, and at prices to suit the times.

The youth forgot to say that we keep a General News Depot, where you can find a full supply of MAGAZINES and Literary Papers.

Also have for sale the "Willis & Gibbs Sewing Machine," which we invite you to call and see. Any goods not on hand promptly ordered. Thankful for past favors we would respectfully ask you ALL to call. March 31, 1896. L. A. FOOTE & CO.
