A Colorado Wonder.

S. M. Hardy, of Hardy's Ranch, Wallace county, Kan., while on a recent hunting trip in Kansas and Colorado with a friend, went to the ranch of Charles Kirks, about five miles southwest of Grenada, Colo., beside a deep gulch, where away down flows a tributary to the Arkansas river. Kirks readily gave them shelter for the night, remarking that it was seldom that guests ever called in that lonely place. He told them also that seven years before this he had lived on the Pecos river, at the foot of a mountain spur, herding cattle, and one day a large bear entered the chicken coop and his wife ran to the rescue. She got such a fright that she was sick for several months, and then they moved to their present home. Mrs. Kirks gave birth to a child shortly after, which was never known to have been seen by any one.

The visitors heard strange noises which seemed to emanate from a closed closet. They also heard Mrs. Kirks singing and asked Kirks if he had any children. He then said: "I will show you a curiosity, but you must never breathe it." He then showed them a child three feet high, weighing forty pounds and a compound of human being, bear and chicken. Its head was like that of a bear, but its eyes were those of a human and its ears were a combination of human and bear, as were its mouth and chin. There was a full growth of soft hair over the face, head and neck. In place of arms it had feathered wings. The mother loves it dearly, and will not permit it to be exhibited.—Kansas City Times.

The Captain's Prayer.

Capt. Van Etten is nothing if not sensational. His trip to Bismarck overland on a lecture tour attracted the attention of the entire country and his vote upon all measures is given with a thunder clap spontaneity that arouses the surrounding country for miles. The captain did not go to Grand Forks. While the majority of the Dakota legislators went whirling away to the Red River valley he and a number of the other hard working members remained in Bismarck and on Saturday held a session which was made memorable in many ways. Among events of the day was Capt. Van Etten's prayer (the official chaplain being absent, which comes to us as follows:

"O Lord, bless this house. Of course, as can be seen by careful observation, there are not many of us here, the majority having gone on a junketing to Grand Forks. O Lord, thou knowest their motives in going. If it is in the last interests of the country (which seems very doubtful) thou wilt bless them, but if it is for the pleasures of this world, do with them what seemest best. O Lord, save us all at last—junketers and all, if possible."

This may not be a verbatim report of the earnest captain's prayer, but it is as the words are reported to us. The captain wins the palm.—Bismarck (D. T.) Tribune.

Poisoned by a Cat.

My little boy broke out with ulcers and sores the result of saliva from a cat's mouth coming in contact with a cut finger. The ulcers were deep and very painful, and showed no inclination to heal. I used quite a number of remedies with no benefit, but got Swift's Specific, and he improved with the first few doses, and in a short time was sound and well of the poison, and his general health much improved.
