MADISON TOWNSHIP.

We are needing rain very badly.

Lon Stingley is now a citizen of Kirkpatrick.

Henry Smith is preparing to build a new dwelling house.

Layton Stingley is taking in the sights of the Indian Territory.

The hog cholera is playing havoc with lots of the little porkers.

Linden and Kirkpatrick are both on a boom in building enterprise.

Mellie Stingley is in the southern part of the State on a health tour.

The wheat crop is all threshed. The average per acre is about 15 bushels.

Melissa Ritesman, of Plymouth, is visiting friends and relatives in these parts.

G. W. Barnett, John McBee and Bill Cooper will start for Washington Territory on September 3d.

There is a general complaint of wells going dry, and stock water is getting scarce in many localities.

Clinton Tuten, an old timer of this place, is in Ashland, Oregon, and is well pleased with the country.

There will be a Union Sabbath School picnic in J. W. Wilson's grove next Saturday. All Sabbath school workers are invited to come.

The steam ditching machine in the eastern branch of Lye Creek is doing good work. They are now on the Binford farm, and are making a regular canal.

An old lad from Darlington passed through this township a few days ago inquiring the way to Wingate, where he was united in the holy bonds of wedlockism.

O. D. Thomas, of Linden, has sold his stock of dry goods and groceries to Ousley & Harter. Mr. Thomas will build on the old corner and probably go into the hardware and implement business.

There are about five dozen worthless dogs in this township that should receive a pass to the other shore. Farmers have quit handling sheep on account of so many worthless run-about dogs.

Your trio scribe had the pleasure of seeing the sights of New Richmond last Saturday, and a nice little village it is. Just building and booming, and shows a new depot, elevator, two new churches, a good school building and lots of other branches of business that help to make up a nice little village.

The republican party is still crying for protection. They say they cannot make a living and pay taxes and keep up farm expenses at the present prices of wheat, corn and oats. To turn their attention to raising cattle at 2½ cents per pound they cannot make a living at that, and the hog raiser is in danger of cholera. Everything the producer has to sell is at a very low figure, and everything the farmer has to buy is at a high value. If this state of affairs exists for twelve months longer we predict more sheriff sales in Montgomery county than was ever known before in the same length of time.

WAYNETOWN.

Sant Nabors visited here from Newtown last week.

Mrs. John Munns visited in Crawfordsville last week.

The base ball club here will play no more this season.

The Booe colt show was held at Hillsboro last Saturday. Why can't Waynetown have a colt show?

Several dashing Crawfordsville youths spent Sunday here with our girls. What's the matter with the home boys?

John Fouts and Howard Runyan sold their New Richmond butcher shop last week and have returned to this place.

Mrs. Will Henkel and daughter and Mrs. Tom Nolan, of Crawfordsville, were the guests of Mrs. Lola Berry, Wednesday.

The old Showen cemetery was cleaned out Friday. This would be a good move for those who have friends in other cemeteries to make.

Ed. Simms intends to make a balloon ascension and parachute jump here now soon on account of this being his home. He will beat any record he has made.

The new hardware firm of Brant & Hornell will make a good business addition to the town, though Wm. Rider was one of the best business men in the county.

George Watkins and Amos McCalip came down from Crawfordsville one day last week to see some of the girls. They arrived home about daylight, judging from the time they left here.

The old settlers' meeting at Clore's grove next Thursday will draw the usual large crowd from this place, though our cornet band could not play for nothing, as other bands do, and pay their own expenses.

The gravel road company seem determined to force the township to buy their road. They now have four toll gates on the line, one at the county line, one at the west end, one at the east end of town and one at Wesley. The only question is, can they afford it as long as the tax-payers can?

No pains will be spared to make the annual reunion of the 63d regiment a success. The days it will be held are Sept. 25 and 26. Several good bands will be present. A real camp-fire on the night of the 25th, and sham battle the 26th. In fact it will be a regular military camp under strict military rules.

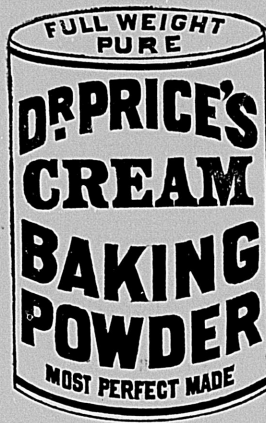

No more 8x10 frames with a dozen photographs of Mrs. Ella Willis & Son, 210½ E. Main street.

PRICE BAKING POWDER CO. NEW YORK. CHICAGO. ST. LOUIS.

DARLINGTON.

Not many went to the Frankfort fair from here.

Mat Griffin had one foot badly mashed last week.

Billy Bonnell, of Crawfordsville, was here Monday.

Charley Boone, of Lafayette, was here Tuesday night.

W. W. Chambers new store room is almost completed.

Uncle John Hulet has sold 40 barrels of salt this week.

The merchants here are laying in their coal for the winter.

Don't forget the entertainment at the M. E. church to-night.

John Stout is boring wells. John says water is getting scarce.

Isaac Hashman has moved to Colfax and will work at blacksmithing.

H. Caldwell has quit work on the boat that is working on Lye creek ditch.

John Burford, of Crawfordsville, smiled on his republican friends here last week.

Mrs. Charles Johnson and family, of Crawfordsville, were this week visiting friends.

There was a large crowd attended the funeral of Aunt Phoebe Hampton last Thursday.

Al Peterson is painting Chamber's new store room and Charley Kane is doing the plastering.

Ed. Booher and Lin Thompson wrote to home folks that they would not be home to the fair.

Marshal Booher has sold his residence on south Franklin street to Flem Buttler for $1,000.

J. A. Marshal has started his saw mill again and is sawing out a large bill for the Vandalla road.

Remember children's day at Lutheran church, Sept. 8th. They will have a grand time.

A show has struck our town and will show under canvass near the depot on Saturday night.

Harlin & Kashner shipped some stock this week. Cattle are so cheap that they are a drug in market.

Rate Crom, of Sugar creek township, will move on Mike Hampton farm about the first of the month.

It is so dusty in our town that we can't hardly keep open doors. We should have a street sprinkler.

Salt is cheaper here than it is in Chicago and threatens to be still cheaper, so says the board of trade reports.

Several persons from here will attend the dedication of the Christian church at Crawfordsville Sunday.

The Darlington and Shannondale bands will both attend the children's day at Lutheran church Sept. 8th.

Remember the Sunday school picnic to be held here one week from to-day. Everybody invited to be present.

Some who have been threshing clover seed report the yielding poor. Some think the weather has been too cold.

A child of Mr. and Mrs. Reader, of New Ross, died last Sunday and was buried at the Lutheran cemetery Monday.

Miss May Myers, of Crawfordsville, was the guest of Miss Anna Bowers this week. She left Wednesday to attend Frankfort fair.

A. H. Bowers bought wheat in four miles of Crawfordsville this week. Talk about prices the farmers know Darlington always pay the best prices going.

John Guntle and wife, Cy Booher and Mrs. Fanny Booher, who have been on the excursion to Kansas arrived home Wednesday morning all right and had a pleasant trip.

Our harness and buggy man is talking of making a public sale the last of September and selling a lot of horses, mules, cattle, buggies, carts and harness, on ten months time and now before he advertises is a chance to trade stock for goods in his line.

The Sunday schools, of Darlington, will have a union picnic on Saturday, Sept. 7th. It will be held at Quaker grove east of town and a prize of $10 will be given to the school sending the largest delegation. Everything is being done to make the day one of great enjoyment.

About 6:30 o'clock last Wednesday morning Aunt Phoebe Hampton passed away. She leaves a husband, five sons and four daughters, all married, and a host of friends to mourn her loss. Mrs. Hampton has been bedfast for over four months and all this time bore her afflictions with patience. Her age was 62 years and 8 months. Early in life she united with the Lutheran church and ever since has been an active member and well liked by all who knew her.

Farmer's Your Attention.

Of course you will attend the county fair and want to know where the most attractive as well as useful articles are kept. A REVIEW man has made rounds and found that Richmond & Ross, the dealers in saddles, harness, whips, robes, etc., have the most complete stock in the city.
