The Y. M. C. A. members will give their second annual reception Tuesday evening, Sept. 10, to which invitations have been extended.

Walnut township citizens want to buy the fraction of a mile of toll gravel road still remaining in their township. It will cost $250.

John L. Willson, formerly of this city, has been nominated for Congress by the republicans of the Spokane district of Washington territory.

Will Mossler, dashing handsome Will, has divided his time here this week with visiting his brother Louis and entertaining the pretty girls of this city.

By order of court the stock of buggies, carriages, etc., of the firm of M. Doherty & Co., have been turned over to A. F. Ramsey, the assignee. The liabilities are over $20,000.

We call attention to the advertisement of L. W. Otto who is now sole proprietor of the Washington street jewelry store. Mr. Otto is a young man well known by our people and needs no recommendation. He is a competent jeweler and a thorough optician and wants every one to call and see him.

The new letter carriers have been assigned their routes and are busy learning to live on them. Howard Craig succeeds Kennedy in the northeastern part of the city; Roderick takes Willis' route, lying between the postoffice and the junction; Eastlack is succeeded by Wallace Linder, who will hereafter deliver the mail on College Hill, and Jim Shewlin will carry to the people living in the northwest part of the city in place of Lane.

The following marriage licenses have been issued this week: Chas. Wingert and Anna Folch, James O. Layne and Fannie W. Layne, Elijah Serring and Rosa Carver, George Garner and Sarah P. Robinson, James F. Alfrey and Mary E. McManis, John Matherman and Ella Vancleave, Horace Weaver and Sarah E. Brown, Charles H. McMurtry and Anna M. Elmore, Wright Willis and Belle Bappert, John W. Elliott and Ella Sheets.

Rev. Pettit, has withdrawn from the pastoral charge of his church and withdrew from the ministerial conference without a trial. This leaves the Reverend gentleman in a dark cloud from which it will be difficult for him to vindicate himself. This releases the church from any further investigation. He says that in time he will prove his innocence of any wrong and that he preferred this result to a trial under the circumstances.

The teachers gave a social entertainment in the large court room, Thursday evening, and the people of the city gave them a reception by filling the room. It was a pleasant evening, and many of the addresses were of unusual interest, especially that of Mrs. James York and her daughter Miss Maude, Miss Jessie Swift and a song by A. A. McCain. After the recitations and songs a social was held and all who participated speak highly of the pleasant evening. Even bashful county Superintendent Zuck doing himself nobly as an entertainer.

The board of county commissioners have been in regular session this week. The settlement with Capt. Herron, was accepted and he retired from the Treasurer's office. L. T. Michner, Attorney General presented a claim for $3,528.20 that had been paid to the treasurer for collecting school taxes when his fee should have been taken from the common school fund, but the claim was disallowed as this is a scheme like other republican office holders work. Michner would have received about $500 for his trip to the city had they allowed it. They ordered the Auditor to draw his warrant on the Treasurer for the amount to be taken out of the common fund and placed in the school fund to reimburse its loss. A petition with 209 signatures was presented asking them to allow stock to run at large. But another with 256 names was presented asking that the present law remain in force which they did. A petition was presented to incorporate the town of Linden and was granted and an election ordered to occur in the school house of that place on Sept. 18th, 1889, to decide by a vote whether the town will be incorporated.

Miss Pauline Goben will return to school at St. Mary's academy, at Terre Haute, next Monday.

Billy Lowe, living near Elmdale, will soon be married to a Miss Carrie E. Lafferty, of Danville.

Lock your doors when you come to the fair next week. Their are always thieves around this country.

The Mozart club, of Darlington, presented the "Aesthetic Flower Garden," at New Market, Tuesday night.

An all around fight occurred on Manson's corner on Green-st., Monday night. The participants all fled on the approach of the police.

The Vandalia has done a vast amount of work, cut down grades and filling in low place south of this city. The Van is one of the best roads in the state.

The Rockville artillery band gave a concert at Waveland last Saturday night. There were 100 in the house and 300 outside. All seemed to appreciate it.

Work on the gas well has been resumed, under an order from the receiver. It is intended to bore at least 300 feet further than the drill has yet penetrated.

A large lot of lumber was burned on the saw mill yard of Thompson & Fouts, at Waynetown, Monday night. It is supposed to have caught fire from sparks from the engine.

Commissioners' court has been the scene of considerable business this week. A large number of applications for license to retail liquor have been presented, the hearing of which requires much time.

Capt. Herron has retired from the county Treasurer's office without a single blot against his character. The books were correct to the penny. He will not engage in any business this fall but will devote his time to personal business affairs.

Gen. Wallace has selected a uniform for the Y. M. C. A. militia company like the Turkish costume which is one of the prettiest made. If the boys take sufficient interest in this organization it will soon be one of the cabitable companies of the state.

George D. Cook, an enterprising young man of Lafayette, has bought W. B. Montgomery's, drug store at Linden. Mr. Cook is a competent druggist and will make a success out of his new enterprise, while Billy Montgomery will always find something to do.

We saw him but a moment but he looked as "natural" as when he edited the Montezuma paper and we crossed kind words with each other's readers. It was Jolly Ed Burns, now editor of the Frankfort Banner, who was in the city a few moments Tuesday evening.

The firm of Marsh Doherty has made an assignment for the benefit of his creditors. The liabilities are $20,000. The firm was supposed to have been F. Doherty & Son. Quite a number of the representatives of the losing firms have been in the city this week. A. F. Ramsey was made assignee.

Numbers of colored voters are howling mad over the fact that none of their color were appointed to positions under Bonnell, and are declaring all sorts of things they will do when the next election rolls around. All the same they will next spring vote the entire city republican ticket. They can't help it; they will be whipped in.

The boys of the 63rd, Ind. Reg. Volunteers have received sad news. Their beloved commander has been stricken with blindness caused by a paralytic stroke. They knew Col. I. N. Styles to love and respect him and there was many a sad heart among the gallant and brave 63rd boys at the information. He was one of Chicago's leading attorneys, a brilliant man but like all of them he must succumb to the battle of disease and death, though he bravely fought in many a fierce encounter during the war.

There is undoubtedly great anxiety of the amusement going people for the regular season opening which occurs next Wednesday, Sept. 11th, at Music Hall. The popular favorite Miss Annie Burton, supported by the Leslie Davis Ideal Dramatic company will play the fair engagement opening in the great spectacular version of H. Rider Haggard's world famous novel entitled "She" adopted by R. C. White, and by the way this is the first dramatisation of the story. Mr. Davis assures us that his company is stronger than any organization ever under his management. The challenge band and operatic orchestra, full car load of gorgeous scenic and mechanical effect tends to make the productions more elaborate. The prices of admission will be 25, 35 and 50 cents with no extra charge for reserved seats.

Harry Hanley has returned from his vacation.

Mrs. H. S. Watson returned from Evansville Tuesday.

The commissioners have had plenty of work this week.

Frank Johnson was here from Waveland over Sunday.

R. C. Ross and wife are parents of a boy baby born last Sunday.

Mount Johnson and wife, of Waveland, spent Sunday in the city.

Will Doss, of Wingate, is working for Geo. Markley, the blacksmith.

J. M. Schultz was in Gibson county this week transacting business.

There were twenty-five went from here on the French Lick excursion.

Every business man in Crawfordsville should be represented at the fair next week.

T. N. Lucas was over from Frankfort to attend the Christian church dedication.

The Sullivans, Tade and Dan, have made a neat and attractive place out of the Capitol.

Miss Marge Cole left, Tuesday, for Laporte where she has a position in a millinery store.

Miss May Kennedy, of Indianapolis, was the guest of Con Cunningham and wife Sunday.

Officiate is to be a post office no more after Sept. 10. Uncle Sam seems to have no time for the place.

Judge Snyder seems lost in the small court room and the attorneys are in the same shape.

Rev. Pettit was in the city, Tuesday, enroute for Brazil to attend the M. E. ministerial conference.

Bill Carr was in Waveland Wednesday. He tried to go several times this week but always missed the train.

Miss Anna Brennan, who is working in an Indianapolis dry goods store, has been home on a visit this week.

W. H. Weader desires to sell his meat market and slaughter house here, as he wishes to remove to Mulberry, Clinton county.

W. B. Herod, the attorney, has located in Kingman, Kansas, a city of about 4,000 inhabitants in the south-west portion of the state.

Harry Morgan, who has been engineer for the waterworks, has accepted a similar position at Seymour. He is succeeded here by Wiley Kenyon.

H. M. Bronson, the gentlemanly Gen. Pass. Agt. of the O. I. & W., and one of the best passenger men in the United States was in the city Tuesday evening.

Ripley township people want to buy the few miles of toll road that they have. While Wayne township still says they do not injure their township town.

The new school books are on sale at Lacy's book store at the same price that they can be purchased of the township trustee. He will also buy the old books.

James Alfrey, formerly of this city, was married Tuesday at Waveland to Mary E. McCain. Jim has many friends in this city who extend congratulations.

The fountain that N. J. Clodfelter had purchased as an ornament for his front yard has arrived, but in a damaged condition, and another one has been ordered.

Married, at 3:30 o'clock, Aug. 25, by Rev. John M. Stafford, at the residence of the bride's parents, northwest of Shannondale, Henry Hankins and Sarah Elizabeth Henderson.

All of the Methodist preachers of the county, 8 or 9 in number, are in attendance at the annual conference at Brazil, this week. Rev. Switzer will be returned to this charge for another year.

Miss Belle Sprague entertained a large party of lady friends at her home on East Jefferson street Monday evening. The time was very pleasantly spent in conversation, dancing and the discussion of dainty refreshments.

There will be a grand Sunday school picnic at Whitesville, Sunday, Sept. 15. Rev. Ashley of Ladoga, and Rev. Ewing, of this City, will address the people. It is given under the auspices of the Christian church. Every one is invited to attend.

Joe Grenard, a young man of Wayne township, met with a peculiar accident Monday. He was cutting bands for a threshing machine when a workman threw a sheaf of wheat onto him. It struck the knife and caused it to cut a deep gash the full length of his arm.

Nicholson & Son, the photographers, have an excellent lot of Lake Maxinkuckee views on exhibition in the window at Lacy's book store. They were taken by John Nicholson while he was at that popular resort a few weeks ago, and can be highly appreciated by the visitors to that place.

Jessie Green opens up his engagement of teaching, in Oregon, Missouri. It will be interesting to his many friends here to note the steps in which Jessie will squelch the shy maidens, lick the big brothers and finally seek a new job on the stone pile in Oregon's cooler.

J. W. Kieff, a hasty tempered graduate of '87, is with him and between them we confidently expect a blizzard or an earthquake.

The applicants for positions of free delivering clerks are button-holing everybody nowadays for their influence to aid them in securing these places. They seem, or some of them, somewhat indiscreet in their importunities. The editor of this paper has been haled by two different candidates for delivery clerks, and addressed as Mr. Brown (presumably John S. Brown), asking for his aid to secure them the coveted position.

Congressman Brookshire was in the city yesterday and to-day to attend the fair. A News man doubled himself up with the Congressman in a ten cent hack and came to town. Mr. Brookshire said, in speaking of matters of a practical nature, that an extra session would undoubtedly be called. Regarding the tariff, he said that the republicans would not know what to do when Congress did assemble. He himself believed in a radical reform of the tariff and is of the opinion that the question will be fought out to a finish.—Terre Haute News.

Marshal Nye and family were at Lodi this week.

Capt. Wallace, of Lafayette, was in the city, Tuesday.

Miss Mame Somerville has returned from a visit to Terre Haute.

Mr. James Wright has been appointed receiver of the affairs of the gas well company.

Tomatoes have been selling this week for 35 cents per bushel. This is cheap enough.

George Watkins has retired from the Diamond Mills and will make a trip to the far west.

Smith & Pontius have some very fancy gilded curtain signs in their windows on South Washington-st.

Rost & Otto, the jewelers, have dissolved partnership. Mr. Otto will open a jewelry store on east Main street.

Dr. T. J. Griffith has been selected to represent Haddock lodge L. O. G. T. at the Grand Lodge which meets at Indianapolis, Oct. 15.

And the colored "man and brother," who wanted a position as free delivery carrier under Bonnell, where is he? Not one of them was appointed.

R. H. Galloway, of Mace, met with an accident while raising a barn Thursday that dislocated his arm. He will not be able to work for several days.

The wife of Mr. Frank Knuckels has filed papers asking for a divorce by the court from him, alleging in her complaint cruelty and inhuman treatment.

A beautiful work of art, termed "Our City," being a large number of views of manufactories and private residences of South Bend, Ind., with the compliments of Stadelaker Bros., has been received at this office.

An immense number of blackbirds are making their roosting places every evening in the maple trees attached to the old Elston residence and have become a great nuisance. Boys are engaged each evening in shooting them by the hundreds, and yet the number does not seem to decrease.

The Leslie Davis Ideal company will be at Music Hall all of next week and present some of the best plays that they have in their repertoire, such as "She" and the "Sea of Ice." Mr. Davis has secured an entire new company with the exception of the favorite, that estimable lady, Miss Anna Burton, who is always a welcome visitor. The company is exceptionally strong and there need be no fear of the entertainment fair week.

The Conference at Brazil.

The 38th annual session of the northwestern Indiana conference of the Methodist Episcopal church convened in Brazil, Wednesday morning, Bishop J. F. Harst, of Washington, presiding, and with a general and full attendance.

Rev. W. R. Mikes, of Valparaiso, preached the regular conference sermon Tuesday night. The usual examination was held for admission to the traveling convention with the conference when 13 applicants passed, as follows: Geo. F. Cramer, S. W. Goss, M. V. Brown, E. M. Dankeberg, J. H. Wiley, L. C. Davis, A. M. Virden, J. B. Sites, S. C. Alford, Wm. Harst, J. H. Carson, L. H. Murlin and J. C. Reeves. Rev. J. W. Harris, of Michigan City, preached the missionary sermon Wednesday night. Rev. A. M. Middleton, of South Bend, is the chief secretary.

Y. M. C. A. Matters.

The regular monthly meeting of the directors of the Young Men's Christian Association was held Tuesday evening. The business was routine in its character, the main question discussed being the one of money for current expenses. The association is kept running by the contributions of the people and it must depend upon the liberality of the public for its maintenance. The managers have faith, however, that the people will not fail them and that they will come to their assistance. The lecture committee reported that it would be able to announce the course of lectures for the season in two weeks. Twenty new members were elected, making the membership now number 272. W. T. Whittington was elected director to succeed G. L. Bell. The directors will hold another meeting in two weeks.

The Delivery Clerks.

The committee appointed by Bonnell to select his letter carriers for him, he probably fearing to face the angry disappointed ones himself, selected the following: Wallace Linder, James Shewlin, W. V. Roderick and Howard Craig, Frank Scott substitute. There is a wonderful amount of quiet cursing among several of the fellows who failed in their application, but then the leaders will soft soap them, and by promises of something in the future will manage to keep them corralled in time for use next election.

County Institute Entertainment.

At the court house on Thursday night the teachers in attendance furnished the following program of exercises for the entertainment of the audience:

Music, quartette..... Teachers
