

HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA

Take Hood's Sarsaparilla 100 Doses One Dollar

The Chief Reason for the great success of Hood's Sarsaparilla is found in the article itself. It is merit that wins, and the fact that Hood's Sarsaparilla actually accomplishes what is claimed for it, is what has given to this medicine a popularity and sale greater than that of any other sarsaparilla or blood purifier before the public. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures Scrofula, Salt Rheum and all Humors, Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Biliousness, overcomes That Tired Feeling, creates an Appetite, strengthens the Nerves, builds up the Whole System. Hood's Sarsaparilla is sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Prepared by C. I. Hood & Co., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

THE REVIEW.

THINGS POLITICALLY.

"No, sir," said Stephen A. R. Beach, "there is only one place I would want to take and the people would have to unite and give me that. I would like to represent Montgomery county in the legislature," and we never for one moment doubted his assertion. Stephen wants to go to the legislature, and while dishing out a complete ticket from Coal creek township just mark him down on the slate. Our Uncle Hannibal Trout will have to open his eyes, for if Beach starts he will be like a mad bull, there will be no stop to him, and the young bloods can stand back and pout, for the republican party has no use for them.

"Look here, can you tell me why Ike Shevlin is a hustling around so much?" asked a quiet citizen this week. Well of course we knew to a dead certainty. Isaac intends to have the republican nomination for sheriff. There will be no excuse, no compromising. He intends to have it, and we are of the opinion that the ring intends to slate him, so the little fish may as well put their ambition in a bucket of water and drown it.

While you are thinking of it, don't you have an idea that the city administration of Crawfordville is too much one sided for the place's good? The officials are too independent and the mark of favoritism is too clearly shown. There is need of a change and a big change would do a power of good. But then people don't vote for principle nowadays, they vote for the party, even if the devil himself is on the ticket.

Some of the democrats want to know how it is that Jim Knox pulls everything his way. These reflections are suggested by the township book business.—Ladoga Leader.

We don't know that Jim Knox does pull anything his own way. It is remarkably true that Ladoga has a few republicans that think they are the head and shoulders of everything and that they can control almost anything they undertake. Jim Knox is one of them, and he often gets left. If Jim is such a boss why don't he do something with the democratic majority in Clark? All blow and no work seldom has any effect.

If we have anything to say in the selection of candidates for the democratic ticket next fall we want to see men that will work and are democrats from principle, not for revenue. We want the kind of men that will get up and bustle and do not sit around waiting for fate to dish offices out to them wrapped in tin foil. We want men who will support their party organ and expect to receive its support. We want men not afraid of the scheming wire workers and bulldozers of the republican party as we have it in Montgomery county, and we know just such men, who will take the offices.

How the Ladoga Leader does howl about the new school books. Lemon seems to think it a plain case of robbery. Now if he was not acquainted with the price and cost of books we would let him kick and howl until he was sick but he knows as well as we do that Indiana patrons of the public schools have been robbed by the book concerns. He knows they made more off a school book than many farmers do by hard work in a day, and then to defend such a robbery is something we cannot understand. The new law may be hard at the beginning (we confess it is an expense) but in the end the people, and not the rich school book concerns, will profit by it. Now, Lemon, who is paying you for all this talk?

A good subject never grows old. It's just like water; we may quench our thirst, but we will want a drink just as bad in the near future. Such is the verdict in the auditor's office. Auditor Goblen and his deputies will keep nothing from the people and you only have to call and allow them to explain to you to see how difficult it is for any discrepancies to be detected. There are many funny things in that office and in fact there are many very, very funny things in the entire court house, but they have been well hidden. We honestly believe Montgomery county taxpayers have been robbed of $100,000 in the last 20 years. Now mind you, we don't say who did it, for we don't know. Oh, but we wish we did! There would be a stirring up in this domain.

We are sorry some of our friends out in Coal Creek township took exceptions to what we said about that corner of Montgomery county, for we do think there are some of the best people in Coal Creek that we have, but while saying that we must also say they have some very bad ones. But then this column is not for morals, it is strictly politics.

Yes, this city council could be given some wholesome advice and the bad grammar man will do it without any extra charge. They should learn that the city of Crawfordville needs no favorites just because a few men are wealthy and can grind down on the poor; learn to treat all alike, to be men of the people and for the people. They should not charge the home back lines like they do the foreigners that come to our city and take the money away. Hartshorn and Bayless pay their taxes both city and county and why should they pay as much license as Tom, Dick and Harry, who come here from Squedunk to run a hack one week and take all the money away. They should have a night man on duty at the fire company's headquarters, they should see that the poor man is shown as many rights as the rich man, in fact they should do many things they do not and look after the people's and not the party's interest. Nothing charged, gentlemen; this is donated.

Did you see your Uncle Peter S. Kennedy? Well, he has a bran splinter suit of new clothes and has trimmed his whiskers so the wind can blow through them sideways. We have been told this "fixed up" is all because Peter intends to enter the race for Congress. No foolishness about it. Weeping Peter would catch the tariff by the tail feathers and wring the daylight out of it. He is in the race to win, and the sooner Jim Johnston finds it out that much sooner will he dig a little grave on the sandy hillside of Parke county. But there is a score or two marked against Peter on the blackboard of getting even that may be used if it comes to a close corner in congressional option. We await developments with unusual interest, while our own pop-drinking Brookshire fills the chair just as we like it.

There was a good piece of sound logic in the remarks of a soldier to us one day this week, when he said: "During the campaign Tanner spoke openly that God help the surplus, no needy soldier would go unprotected, and the republican party would be their friend, first, last and always. Now when he was talking Harrison and Blaine said 'go on, that's good,' but when he started to carry out just what he had said, just what he told the soldiers he would do, they fired him bodily. He was the only honest man among them and the only one that was doing as he said he would." That is true, and they cannot deny it, and if the old soldier does not see it then he is a fool and a slave to that party.

Did you see that clipping in the colored notes in the Daily Journal from the colored men's paper printed at Indianapolis? It did not come in meeting and say Crawfordville republicans but it did say New Albany and Indianapolis. But the party leaders are not frightened. They know they can drive them right into line ere another election comes around. The colored voter will be made a fool of just as long as he lies under the party lash. He can kick holes in the sky when he is snubbed but it will not amount to the snap of a finger just as long as he remains a slave to one party. Why don't you come out, colored men, and claim your rights as American citizens?

The New School Books in Ladoga Schools, LADOGA, IND., Sept. 24, 1899.

MR. J. S. ZUCK, CO. SUPT.

DEAR SIR:—We have put the entire list of new books into our schools. We had no trouble whatever. The entire cost for about 250 pupils was less than $85. To have supplied promoted pupils with new books of the old series would have cost more than $100.

While I think the new books are so good as the old ones, I know that they are not nearly so bad as they have been represented. We can do good and effective work with them.

All the teachers in the Ladoga schools will do the reading circle work. In our public school library we have the Y. P. R. C. books, or we had last year, and our pupils are reading those at home. We have just put $35 worth of new books in our library. It is growing slowly but steadily. It was established one year ago, and is now supported by means of entertainments given by the teachers and pupils.

Yours Respectfully,

J. F. WARFEL.

Summary of the Fire.

Ed Reynolds was the heaviest loser by the fire Monday night. He had in his warehouse 3,700 bushels of wheat, 2,000 of oats, rye 700, corn 300. One car that was loaded with wheat was saved by being pushed out onto the west end of the track. The end was burned out but the contents saved by brave work of the firemen. All the machinery belonged to Mr. Reynolds and was destroyed. His loss will reach $6,000 with $3,000 insurance. The warehouse belonging to Mrs. S. E. Crabbs and Gen. Manson was valued at $3,000 and insured for $1,000. The mill belonging to Ed Coleman was valued at $5,000 and insured for $2,500. The large warehouse on the east belonged to Jno. Rice, Sr. It was worth $2,000, insured for $1,000. John Williams' stable was insured with Ed Voris for $150. Besides this Mr. Williams' loss on lumber will reach $200, fully insured. Had the wind been from the north the gas works would have been destroyed. It was the largest fire it has been this city's misfortune to have for many years.

The Fowler Will.

Mrs. Eliza Fowler, widow of the late Moses Fowler, Wednesday morning filed in the office of the Tippecanoe county clerk the official notification that she will not accept the provision made for her in the will of her late husband, but will take her allowance under the statute in preference. Mr. Fowler's executors make oath that his personal property will not exceed $650,000 in value. His total wealth was estimated at $2,500,000. By the terms of the will Mrs. Fowler was given one-third of all the real estate of her husband and but $5,000 in money of his immense personal property. The filing of this notice is regarded as the preliminary step to contesting the will, unless the children shall decide to give the widow her share in the personal property.

Miners Resuming Work.

The miners of Clay county are gradually resuming work. In a few days it is thought that all the mines will be in full operation. It is beginning to be fully recognized that the backbone of the strike has been broken. Notwithstanding rumors to the contrary, the miners in Perth, or at least seventy-five or more of them, did go to work Monday morning. More are resuming there every day until nearly or quite one hundred are now at work. Three mines in that neighborhood are under full headway. No violence of any kind has been reported so far. The central committee has called a mass meeting of strikers to vote again on the acceptance or rejection of the operators' offer. They desired the Perth miners to remain out till after this meeting, but they did not do so. The meeting, it is thought, can result in nothing more than in voting to resume work. The demand for coal is increasing, and it is thought it will be large enough to keep the miners at work for the fall and winter months.
