

"Like Magic,"

THE effect produced by Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, Colds, Coughs, Croup, and Sore Throat are, in most cases, immediately relieved by the use of this wonderful remedy. It strengthens the vocal organs, allays irritation, and prevents the inroads of Consumption; in every stage of that dread disease, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral relieves coughing and induces refreshing rest.

"I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in my family for thirty years and have always found it the best remedy for croup, to which complaint my children have been subject."—Capt. U. Carley, Brooklyn, N. Y.

"From an experience of over thirty years in the sale of proprietary medicines, I feel justified in recommending Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. One of the best recommendations of the Pectoral is the enduring quality of its popularity, it being more salable now than it was twenty-five years ago, when its great success was considered marvelous."—R. S. Drake, M. D., Beloit, Kans.

"My little sister, four years of age, was so ill from bronchitis that she had almost given up hope of her recovery. Our family physician, a skillful man and of large experience, pronounced it useless to give her any more medicine; saying that he had done all it was possible to do, and we must prepare for the worst. As a last resort, we determined to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and I can truly say, with the most happy results. After taking a few doses she seemed to breathe easier, and, within a week, was out of danger. We continued giving the Pectoral until she was entirely well. This has given me unbounded faith in the preparation, and I recommend it confidently to my customers."—C. O. Lepper, Druggist, Fort Wayne, Ind.

WHAT OFFICES DO THEY WANT?

Senator Mount and ex-Commissioner Harshbarger organized a branch of the Farmers' Alliance the other day at Mace. As Mount is now a hold-over Senator in the State legislature, and Harshbarger has been county commissioner, the question is what offices are they looking for? It is not probable any particular interest that these men have in the welfare of farmers that they should spend their time in organizing branches of the alliance. Both of them have done well with their farms, and as for themselves cannot say that farming does not pay, and that farmers are oppressed by the present laws of the country. The latter named gentleman, in fact, has succeeded so well that he has for years been an officer and stockholder in a bank at Ladoga, and is probably prepared to loan money to farmers at good paying rates of interest. The size of the entire matter is that both are simply carrying out the republican programme for this year to work the Alliance wherever possible in the interest of the republican party. In fact the public is rapidly coming to the conclusion, based on the activity and self interest of such individuals as these two republican politicians, that the whole thing is a republican move under the quiet manipulations of such men as Quay, Rusk, Dudley and other leaders of the party. Men who may have a sincere interest in the welfare of the farmer and an earnest desire that his condition be bettered, will very likely withhold it when they observe the demagoguery of politicians of the Mount variety in particular. The Alliance bids fair if permitting its control to be given to such men to meet with the fate of the Grange of a few years ago. Scheming politicians killed it, and will do the same for the Alliance if not at once thrown out.

THE COMMENCEMENT.

There seems to be a decline in interest in those days at the end of a student's college life known as "commencement." The brass band, the solemn words of the president, the platitudes of the one to soon receive the "sheep skin," have all ceased to attract the attention they did in former years. Time was when no greater event of the year in a college town could happen than "commencement." It was the great affair over all others—the one to be remembered during life. It is no longer so. The older students who have gone out in the world have not time nor inclination generally to attend the festivities of their "Alma mater," or if attending remain but few hours and seem glad to return home. The "commencement" has become an old stereotyped affair, varying but little from that of a half century ago in its details. The High Schools and the Academy, all have them, and school graduates are numerous in almost every section of the country, and in the matter of success in life, it is noticed they seem fully as competent to attain it as those turned out by the college. The "commencement" must furnish something new to attract the attention of former years, yet how this change can ever be brought about no one can yet comprehend or devise.

FREE COINAGE ACT.

A bill known as the "Free Coinage Bill," to the surprise of the public has passed the U. S. Senate, and is believed will also receive similar favor in the house and become a law. The bill places no limit, we believe, to the coinage of silver, and if it becomes a law will be very popular with the public. It has heretofore been supposed that the senate or majority of the republican leaders of it were more or less under the control of Wall street and eastern bond-holders, and any attempt to make money plentier and cheaper would not be entertained, and this action of the senate is the more surprising. For the first time in a long period the senate in this act appears to have had under consideration the interest of the people. Money, plenty of money in circulation, is what the people desire. This bill will greatly aid in bringing about this. For this favor great or small as it may be considered, should the bill receive the signature of the President and become a law the majority of the business men will be greatly thankful.

A Nebraska farmer jotted down the tariff taxes on the goods he used for a year and made a total of $145.2. His other taxes, paid to county and state, were only $76.82. It is, perhaps, necessary to add that he is an ardent tariff reformer. Go thou and do likewise.

CORRUPT METHODS.

A very fitting illustration of the corrupt methods of the school book publishing company, which has made such desperate attempts to retain its grip in Indiana, but thanks to the legislature and the courts has signally failed, is furnished from Olympia, L. H. Leach, a member of the State School board, was lately surprised by receiving a check for $6,000 as a gift from the publishing company. He understood at once the object of that gift, and promptly rejected the matter to the board. He happened to be a man who held his integrity above money. The corrupt crowd that furnished that money will do no business in Washington. We wonder if the trust company ever gave Lafollette, the Boone county freak, any such sum of money to favor it? Did it require half that sum to gain his "influence," or even a fourth of it? Lafollette it will be remembered always was favorable to the Van Antwerp school book gang. Why? Did the gang pursue such methods with him as it has with the man in Washington? No wonder that these book publishers had such a strong hold in Indiana and were so difficult to defeat. They bought up every man in the educational field that was purchasable. No more beneficial and worthy act of any legislature was ever transacted than that of the last General Assembly of Indiana when it ran the Van Antwerp school octopus out of the state.

CONSPIRING TO BEAT THE LAW.

A special from Jeffersonville dated June 14, says:
It was hoped that the new election law, which goes into force during the November elections, would put down the evils of bribery, but from present appearances there is a prospect to the contrary. It is charged by a number of prominent persons in Southern Indiana that venal voters are already clubbing together for the purpose of circumventing the law and of securing money. The scheme is, that a number of voters, who are saleable, will club together, put themselves under the order of a chairman and vote for whoever pays the most. The entire business will be transacted by the leader, who will demand the money of the candidates or political leaders. Their guarantee will be the vote which it is put out, the money to be paid over as soon as the vote has been counted. This proves the desperation of a certain class of citizens who have heretofore demanded and received pay for their suffrage, and it is only by the most rigid adherence to the new law that their nefarious practices can be counteracted.

A VOTING BOOTH.

The latest thing out for squeezing money out of the tax-payers is a patent voting booth to be used at elections hereafter in this state. The very idea of granting any one a patent on any such arrangement smacks of humbuggery and fraud, yet the patentee is striving earnestly to get the commissioners to invest in them in every county of Indiana. We trust the commissioners of this county, at least, will not snap at the bait. It would seem as equally a sensible piece of business to grant a carpenter a patent for creating a room in a house, or a stall in a stable as to grant a patent for a space in which a man can stamp an election ticket without being observed by some body. The patentee may make some money out of the scheme, but we are sure any carpenter can construct a booth sufficient to answer the purpose of the law, and there is no necessity for feeling a patentee for a device which amounts to nothing.

WOULD AVOID THE SOUP.

Adapted to Fountain county latitude by the Attica Ledger from the Danville Commercial:
Let it be understood once and for all time: This is an off year, and republicans cannot afford to simply whistle; They must saw wood and get there. They've got to hustle, get up early, and stay out late, else the great enemy will swoop down upon us in the next election and gobble the legislature, the United States senatorship, the congressional re-appointment, and the general bakery, and leave us in the soup!

The work of the census enumerators, from reports, in many parts of the country, has been very poorly done, in fact affords little or no correct intelligence. Most of the enumerators seem to have been chosen on account of their political complexion and not from any particular business tact; so they were good republicans and would aid the party this fall, appears to have been the principal incentive for their appointment. Republican business qualifications are gagged solely by a man's political hustling, and it seems their sole standard of business fitness.

Mr. HUNT, the candidate on the democratic ticket for surveyor, who graduated last week, has no time for dress parade as so many young men have after graduation, but has gone to hard work on a farm four miles east of town at $18 per month.

Logansport is threatened with an ice famine.

TRAIN robberies in the west are again becoming quite frequent, two being reported last week in one of which in the south-west $10,000 was taken from the express car. Formerly when trains were stopped and the passengers robbed the work was said to be that of the "James gang," but now that that bandit crew have disappeared from the face of the earth, new thieves have arisen to take their places. It shows wonderful boldness on the part of the thieves in going through five times their number of passengers that they are rarely ever interrupted, and it exhibits a remarkable amount of timidity and cowardice that the passengers permit them to do so without any effort to prevent it.

SOME one suggested at Lafayette that the saloon license in that city be reduced from $250 per year to $25. Of course the saloon keepers favored it. The Journal of that city opposed it and in consequence the saloon men began boycotting the paper. The boycott is somewhat in the nature of a boomerang and is generally a dangerous instrument. The saloon men may through this find the license raised to even a higher figure than heretofore. Especial attention may be called to them by it and the desire created that they pay higher license.

The arranging of the precincts in this county, 41 in number, is in strict accordance with the republican central committee, the county commissioners, that is Michael Price, having constantly consulted the committee about its wishes in the matter. If any voters may feel themselves inconvenienced in the matter by the change in the precincts, they should remember that it is the work of the republican central committee.

H. M. PERRY, the attorney, will probably go west in a few weeks to seek a new location for business.

A Fort Wayne census enumerator has found a colored woman living with her third husband who has given birth to thirty-seven children since 1868. But one child is now living.

Over in Montgomery county the Farmers' Alliance has taken up the grange idea which proved so disastrous in this country away back in the seventies—that of the co-operative store or supply house. The farmers of Montgomery county who belong to the alliance have all agreed to buy their farm machinery of a firm in Wingate. The great mistake these deluded farmers are making is their war upon the "middle man" or retailer. The highly protected manufacturer, to whom the farmer pays a tribute in the way of a tariff, is the man for whom they should whet their tomahawks.—Lebanon Pioneer.

The Lafayette crowd of legal lights need, no doubt, some of the refining influences of civilization, at least some of those connected with the Pettit case do. On Monday after the court had fixed the time of the trial and then adjourned, one of the attorneys, Haywood by name, stepped up to one of those connected with the defense and called him a liar. The attorney thus addressed simply retaliated in words by calling Haywood a G—d—d liar. There was no fight, however, and it may be that they went out and imbibed a glass of coffin varnish together, and thus sought to pacify their wounded feelings.

A Sad Condition.
I suffered for five years with the worst form of Blood Poison, during which time I was attended by the best physicians I could find, and tried numbers of proprietary medicines without any beneficial results. I continued to grow worse all this time, until my whole system was destroyed by the vile disease; my tongue and throat having great holes caused by it. I then commenced to take Swift's Specific (S. S. S.), and in a few months I was entirely cured, and to this great medicine I attribute my recovery. This was over two years ago and I have had no return, or any effects of the disease since, and my skin is to-day as smooth and clean as anybody's. WILLIAM SOWERS, Covington, Ohio.

The Maccabees have organized a lodge at Bedford.

What Does It Mean?
"100 Doses One Dollar" means simply that Hood's Sarsaparilla is the most economical medicine to buy, because it gives more for the money than any other preparation. Each bottle contains 100 doses and will average to last a month, while other preparations taken according to directions, are gone in a week. Therefore, be sure to get Hood's Sarsaparilla, the best blood purifier.

There is a movement looking to the removal of the Clark County Record from Charlestown to Jeffersonville, and the issuance of a daily edition.

Doctors and Churches.
The Doctors of New York City say Speer's Port Grape wine has proved to be pure, unadulterated, of a fine flavor, and tonic properties, and is unsurpassed for its restorative powers, and they prescribe it as a superior wine. Churches use it for communion.

Streaks of gold were found by drillers at Indian Springs while digging a well.

Another
Wonderful medicine is just now attracting the attention of the people of Montgomery county, and this is none other than the old reliable Dr. Well's Family Cough Syrup, a remedy that has no equal in the cure of coughs, colds and consumption. Every bottle warranted. Price, 25 cents. Sold by Nye & Co. dec 22-17

SYMPTOMS OF PARESIS

(CONSUMPTION OF THE BRAIN).
THE BRAIN (from a photograph).
In Healthy Condition. With Paresis Lesions.
Restlessness, a feverish feeling, sleeplessness, periodic headaches, dizziness, dimness of vision, ringing in the ears, difficulty in thinking, trouble in remembering names and the faces even of friends. The victim of Paresis is often shocked or annoyed by little noises and trifling things. The nervous system is often in such condition that very slight causes, or even no cause at all, may excite to sudden outbursts of anger. A feeling of pressure upon the brain is frequently followed by seasons of despondency, mental depression alternating with periods of wild, illusive hopes. When the brain begins to consume or decay, many of these symptoms become aggravated. The world seems strange or different from what it was in the past, thought becomes a positive effort and life an intense burden.
The system needs soothing, toning, and building up. Something unusual is demanded. And here is where the great difficulty has always been—to find something pure and yet positive in its results. The late Prof. Phelps, of Dartmouth College realized this when he began his investigation which resulted in the discovery of Phelps' Celery Compound. He knew men and women required something heretofore unknown to the world, and his great discovery has furnished it. This compound checks Paresis, even after it has secured a foothold in the system. Taken on the approach of the first symptoms, it will positively prevent their increase. Its high endorsement by the medical fraternity and the cure it is affording easily account for its wonderful popularity and the unusual stir it has caused in this community.

Girls who use SAPOLIO are QUICKLY MARRIED

SAPOLIO is one of the best known city luxuries and each time a cake is used an hour is saved. On floors, tables and painted work it acts like a charm. For scouring pots, pans and metals it has no equal. If your store-keeper does not keep it you should insist upon his doing so, as it always gives satisfaction and its immense sale all over the United States makes it an almost necessary article to any well supplied store. Everything shines after its use, and even the children delight in using it in their attempts to help around the house.
