

The Safest

AND most powerful alternative is Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Young and old are alike benefited by its use. For the eruptive diseases peculiar to children nothing else is so effective as this medicine, while its agreeable flavor makes it easy to administer.

"My little boy had large scrofulous ulcers on his neck and throat from which he suffered terribly. Two physicians attended him, but he grew continually worse under their care, and every body expected he would die. I had heard of the remarkable cures effected by Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and decided to have my boy try it. Shortly after he began to take this medicine, the ulcers commenced healing, and after using several bottles, he was entirely cured. He is now as healthy and strong as any boy of his age."—William F. Dougherty, Hampton, Va.

"In May last, my youngest child, fourteen months old, began to have sores on his head and body. We applied various simple remedies without avail. The sores increased in number and discharged copiously. A physician was called, but the sores continued to multiply until in a few months they nearly covered the child's head and body. At last we began the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. In a few days a marked change for the better was manifest. The sores assumed a more healthy condition, the discharges were gradually diminished, and finally ceased altogether. The child is livelier, its skin is fresher, and its appetite better than we have observed for months."—Frank M. Griffin, Long Point, Texas.

"The formula of Ayer's Sarsaparilla presents, for chronic diseases of almost every kind, the best remedy known to the medical world."—D. M. Wilson, M. D., Wilkes, Arkansas.

THE BRIBERY LAW.

The vote sellers, "blocks-of-five men" and dead beats in general are in many localities commencing to figure how they can make some money out of their votes at the ensuing fall election. For many years a certain unscrupulous class in every county in Indiana have made merchandise of their votes; have looked upon the sale from it as a part of their income. They are no more depraved nor low-lived in this than the Congressman or legislator who sells his vote, and both alike are criminals. In Indiana this year the elections are carried on under a new system, and the purchasing of votes will not be so bold nor frequent if at all. Honest elections are all any reasonable person requires. A defeat under such conditions does not entail one-half the bitterness. The McCabe bribery law is now in effect in this state. If enforced in all localities, it will be all sufficient, and vote buying will cease.

Section 1. That whosoever hires or buys, directly or indirectly, or handles any money or other means, knowing the same to be used to induce, hire or buy any person to vote or refrain from voting any ticket, or for any candidate for any office at any election held pursuant to law, or at any primary election or convention of any political party, then the person so offending in any one of the foregoing particulars, and all other persons aiding, abetting, counseling or encouraging or assisting in such acts, thereby become liable jointly and severally to the person hired, bought or induced to vote or refrain from voting by the means above enumerated, in the sum of $300, and reasonable attorney's fee for collecting the same.

Section 2. Whosoever, being a candidate for any office, loans or gives, directly or indirectly, or offers or promises to loan or give, any money or other thing of value to any elector or for the purpose of influencing or retaining the vote of such elector, or to induce such elector to work or labor for the election of such candidate, or to refrain from working or laboring for the election of any other candidate or to any person to secure or to retain the influence or vote of such elector in his behalf as such candidate, or to be used by such elector in any way to influence the vote of any elector or electors generally, for himself or any candidate or ticket, and whoever hires or otherwise employs for consideration any person to work at the polls on election day for the election of any candidate to be voted for at such election, shall be fined in any sum not more than $1,000 nor less than $500, and shall be disfranchised and rendered incapable of holding any office of profit or trust within this state for any determined period, and a violation of any provision of this section by any person elected to such office shall render his election void, and, if he has taken the office, upon conviction shall operate as a vacation of the same.

MOUNT FOR REPRESENTATIVE.

For the purpose of simply fulfilling their obligation to their constituents, and to say that they had nominated a candidate, the delegates to the republican convention of the eight district at Brazil last week, chose Hon. Jas. A. Mount for the position of nominee for Representative in Congress. There was no strife nor scrambling for the position, in fact no one of the party aside from the one chosen was at all anxious for the race. The long-headed leaders of the party could almost to a certainty predict the result of the battle in November next and had no desire to make themselves a burnt offering on the altar of the party, and hence the selection of Mount. He received the nomination and no one cared particularly to contend with him over it. It will give him a little cheap notoriety, which to him is almost as satisfactory as $5,000 per year salary of the office. Mount is well fitted from his short experience to play the role of the demagogue in the contest coming on, and will do it to perfection. He is well calculated to be a republican, greenback, prohibitionist, farmers' alliance, all at the same time and his party friends here well knowing this quietly urged this in his favor. There was little or no prospect they knew nor hope of success, so they let Mount have the nomination without contention. What they may gain by him if anything is through his ability to "fool" them as to how he stands politically and he will agree with each and all of them regardless of what their opinions may be on questions of prohibition, finance, labor, tariff, etc. Socially and morally Mount is a clever gentleman and has been successful as an agriculturalist, but he is not the only one of his party of which the same thing can be said while they are not on every question that may come up and two-faced you know where to locate them. As stated he was chosen solely for his supposed ability in drawing into his net such persons of the Farmers' Alliance, Prohibition and old Greenback party that may not know him nor his methods. We believe "his hash will be settled" effectually in November by a majority of 500 or more against him by a constituency that desires above anything a man of fixed opinions on questions before the people, and who does not change his sails to every passing breeze.

CUNNINGHAM FOR CONGRESS.

Samuel A. Cunningham, of Laurens township, will probably be the Farmers' Alliance candidate for Congress in this district, and, so, the chances are that the democratic will endorse him, or make no nomination. Mr. Cunningham is no stranger to the people of Tippecanoe county. He is a man of ability and integrity, and possesses all the qualifications to make a creditable representative—except that he is not a lawyer. Perhaps, however, this might prove a recommendation in the rural portion of the district—Lafayette Sunday Times.

Mr. Cunningham is a scholar and a gentleman, and is good enough for the democrats and farmers of Tippecanoe county. He will also get a host of republican votes here and may get enough to defeat "Don" Waugh. Trot Mr. Cunningham out.—Tipton Times.

The gentleman spoken of above is father of A. B. Cunningham of the Auditor's office of this county. He is said to be an excellent campaign speaker, is industrious in political matters and would, if nominated, although in a district with a majority of 4,000 republicans against him, make it disagreeably interesting for his opponent. He will probably be nominated.

DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATES.

It is believed that the list of candidates for state offices is now complete, and that the following named gentlemen will present their claims for recognition at the democratic state convention to be held at Indianapolis on August 28:

Secretary of State—Captain Hilliges, of Muncie; Col. John Lee, Crawfordsville, and James B. Clark, Bloomington.
Auditor of state—J. O. Henderson, Kokomo; James C. Lavella, Washington; George S. Green, Posey county.
Treasurer of State—Thomas B. Byrnes, Evansville; P. H. McCormack, Columbus; Albert Gall, Indianapolis; Henry C. Berghoff, Fort Wayne; James H. Slack, Huntington.

Attorney-General—Green Smith, North Vernon; J. McCabe, Warren county.
Clerk of the Supreme Court—Joseph T. Fanning, Indianapolis; George S. Pleasant, Vevay; Daniel McDonald, Plymouth; Andrew M. Sweeney, Jasper; Nelson G. Hunter, Wabash; James Applewhite, Brownstown.
Superintendent of Public Instruction—James A. Marlow, Sullivan; B. F. Whistler, Wayne county; Harvey D. Voris, Franklin; E. E. Griffith, Frankfort.

The state central committee is still in doubt as to just how many offices are to be filled at the general election this year. Under the decision of the supreme court it is generally understood that the chief of bureau of statistics and the chief of bureau of geology and natural science must be elected by the people. With this understanding Wm. H. Peele, Jr., will ask the nomination for the former office and S. S. Gorbey is the candidate for the latter. As the gentlemen have been to considerable expense in the effort to hold on their respective offices, they will probably have no opposition for their nominations.

The Louisville Courier-Journal prints a table compiled from official statistics which shows that while 3,000,000 democratic voters in fourteen northern states elect only forty-seven congressmen, 3,900,000 republican voters in the same states elect 136 congressmen. In other words, the republicans require only 25,000 votes to elect a member of congress, while the democrats in order to elect a member must have 65,000 votes. And yet, says the St. Louis Republican, a coercive, unconstitutional and revolutionary election bill is being pushed through congress by the republicans, because of a claim that the republican vote in the south is "suppressed." Throughout the north, and especially in those states where the republicans have long held sway, a republican vote counts for nearly twice as much as a democratic vote in the election of senators and representatives. At least half the states have been gerrymandered in the republican interests, and now the Union is being gerrymandered by the creation of rotten senatorial boroughs in the northwest.

WHILE the majority of people when the cause of conflagrations are unknown and undiscovered love to attribute them to incendiaries, still this in probably half the cases of fires will not hold good. The destruction of the Crabbe & Reynolds elevator was not, we believe, the work of an incendiary at all, but was caused, no doubt, by overheating of the machinery in the upper part of the building and which caused a smoldering fire, and which escaped the notice of the watchman in attendance. Spontaneous combustion or heat generated from surrounding objects is often, the cause of unknown conflagrations, but which is often said to be the work of an incendiary. The firm whose property was destroyed by fire in town last week have not any enemies, we believe, who would resort to any such means of revenge as to burn their property.

VINDICATING HIM.

The republicans had a state convention in Ohio last week. The man Foraker, whom most persons would have thought, after the verdict he received from the people last year, would have had self-respect and sense enough to stand aside, was present and took a full hand at the convention. He wanted to be vindicated. Any scoundrel who would aid in trumping up a bogus charge against his political opponent, as he did against Gov. Campbell, in the ballot-box business, needs vindication. He needs it badly. Foraker is played. He is a dead cock in the pit, and if the standard of republicanism is gaged by such creatures as he must be at a low ebb indeed.

They appear to have little sympathy for criminals in Texas when once the law has pronounced them to be such. At Paris, Texas, last week, a judge of the court there sentenced nine men to be executed, and he had been on the bench but a short time. In Indiana in most cases, petitions would have been circulated to have the sentences commuted or the Governor to pardon them, while their cells would have been decorated with bouquets of flowers by sympathetic females. They stand but little of such maudlin sympathy and foolishness in Texas.

THE republicans will not hold their convention this year until after that of the democratic. They are looking for strategic points this year, and not to any merits on the side of the political questions they may advocate. It is known that above anything else, if possible, they desire a majority in the legislature by which they can secure a senator to succeed Voorhees. Many of the far seeing of the party, however, say that "this is not a good year for republicans," and consider that they will meet a Waterloo in November all around.

THE new election law thus far where tried has given general satisfaction. It will be perfectly satisfactory to everybody except the dead beats who have heretofore made merchandise of their votes, but it is such creatures that the law is aimed to reach, and is, therefore, correct. If the new law will break up the pernicious and dangerous habit of vote buying in this state, then the public will have no necessary cause to grumble at the additional cost of carrying on elections.

THE President has signed the so-called silver bill, which is no silver bill at all. It is now a law; as it is, it is of no value to the country at all; it will afford no relief whatever. It will give no more currency, raise the value of no product and will prove to be a measure wholly in the interest of the goldbugs of Wall street. Free coinage is what the people wanted.

CHICAGO has a population of 1,100,000 people, and has gained over a half million in numbers since the census of 1880. New York has a population of 1,700,000. Judged from past increase Chicago, within twenty years more, will be the largest city in America.

THE PENSION OFFICE.

There would seem, judging from reports, to be considerable corruption going on of some kind in the pension department at Washington, and things appear to be running in about the same shape if not worse than a year ago when Corporal Tanner was in control. The present commissioner, is that much smarter than Tanner that he keeps his mouth shut and will make no defense of himself until compelled to. It would appear impossible for a republican administration to place a clear headed businesslike man at the head of the pension department. He must be a knave or a blunderer, every time.

THE Journal, after coming around among the old "cuts" in the office, is now representing a military man of some fame, and seeks to pass it off on an unsuspecting public as a picture of Jim Mount, republican candidate for congress in this district. The cutting Stanley's last work, representing some of the things to be found in the regions which he has traveled it may soon find a face in the subject in hand.

AN attempt was made to rob a train on a railway north of Van Wert, Ohio, last week. The engineer was killed but the robbers failed to secure any valuables, being scared away. This is the farthest east such operations have yet been attempted. Most train robberies have occurred west of the Mississippi and generally in sparsely settled portions of the country.

MONTGOMERY county is the best one in its history, and a rare occurrence in any county, furnishes both candidates of the two leading political parties in the 5th district for congress. Now if Ballard would only forgo his nomination for judge on the prohibition ticket this year and run for congress the thing would be complete. He ought to have thought of this.

An Editor's Faith.

The editor of the Advocate, published at Greenville, Ala., expresses his faith in S. S. S.: "The good this preparation has accomplished is incalculable, and thousands of men and women that it has saved from an early grave, to-day rise up and bless the originator, and those who placed it in their power to procure it. A number of our acquaintances have used this wonderful medicine to their great benefit, most of them to their perfect healing, and their testimony has been given to the public that others like them may take the healing balm. We know that Swift's Specific (S. S. S.) is no humbug and can recommend it, and we do most heartily. The proprietors are genial, liberal and charitable, and have probably done as much or more good than any firm in the South. Read, reflect and be relieved."—Greenville (Ala.) Advocate, Nov. 1890.

PARESIS (CONSUMPTION OF THE BRAIN)

can certainly be cured by only one thing, namely: PROF. PHELPS' great discovery,

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND.

Saved From the Insane Asylum. Dear Sirs:—I feel it my duty to tell you what Paine's Celery Compound did for me. I can't praise it enough. About a year ago my head troubled me so that it seemed as though I should be crazy. It was caused by overstudy. I asked the advice of two doctors, who gave me medicine to no effect, and I did not know what I would do. I did not want to see anyone, everything seemed so strange. I had a tired, languid feeling, my kidneys troubled me, and I felt badly. I read your advertisement in a paper and thought I would try the compound. Before I had taken half of one bottle I felt like a new person. Four bottles cured me and I would recommend it to all that feel the way I did. Yours truly, Mrs. J. E. Wilcox, Rural P. O., Wis.

Physicians Prescribe It. Dear Sirs:—I am much pleased with the action of Paine's Celery Compound in those cases where the nervous system was broken down from over-work of mind or body. I have seen particularly good results where the patient had lost all ambition, no appetite, constipated, could not sleep nights, etc. Three or four cases of weak, emaciated, hysterical females have been cured with the Compound. I have observed that it quiets excitable nerves, gives patients better rest, increases appetite, regulates bowels, and is a good remedy to build up broken-down cases generally. Yours truly, R. C. Eberhart, M. D., Atlanta, Ga.
