

Peculiar

Many peculiar points make Hood's Sarsaparilla superior to all other medicines. Peculiar in combination, proportion, and preparation of ingredients, Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses the full curative value of the best known remedies of the vegetable kingdom. Peculiar in its strength and economy—Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine of its kind which can truly be said to "do the work." One Dollar. Medicines in larger and smaller bottles require larger doses, and do not produce as good results as Hood's. Peculiar in its medicinal merits, Hood's Sarsaparilla accomplishes cures hitherto unknown, and has won for itself the title of "The greatest blood purifier ever discovered."

Peculiar in its "good name at home,"—there is now of Hood's Sarsaparilla sold in Lowell, where it is sold more than of all other blood purifiers. Peculiar in its phenomenal record of sales abroad, no other preparation has ever attained such popularity in so short a time, and retained its popularity and confidence among all classes of people so steadfastly. Do not be induced to buy other preparations, but be sure to get the Peculiar Medicine.

WHAT IS IT?

Persons outside of the profession often ask, what is an Emulsion? We answer, an Emulsion is a combination of two or more fluids, so thoroughly mixed that each is held in permanent suspension. Several of the much advertised "Emulsions" now on the market are nothing more than compounds, and a microscopic examination will reveal globules of oil in their original form. The Emulsion made by Messrs. J. A. Magee & Co., Lawrence, Mass., everywhere so favorably known by physicians as is composed of one-third part Cod-Liver Oil, one-third part Extract of Malt, and one-third part Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda, each of which must be of the finest quality obtainable. These three valuable ingredients, with a little flavoring extract, are put into a "mixer," where it is emulsified for six hours by steam power, at the rate of 125 revolutions per minute, which breaks every globule of the oil, and combines it with the other ingredients in such a thorough manner that no separation will ever occur. Magee's Emulsion has no equal for the relief and cure of Coughs, Colds, Scrofula, Dyspepsia and General Debility.

Letter From Montana.

GLASGOW, MONT., August 3, 1890.

Editor Review:

In answer to many inquiries which I have received from friends in Montgomery county since I came here I beg leave to impose on your columns once more and therefore obviate the necessity of a personal letter to each.

This place has about 600 inhabitants, is less than two years old and is built on unsurveyed public lands in the famous Milk River Valley, and at present there is not a free-holder within 100 miles of here. Glasgow is on the St. Paul, Minneapolis & Manitoba railroad at the end of Great Falls, the other east to Minot, N. D. As no one has any title to their building sites there are no good buildings in the town. They are mostly built of logs, roofed with hay and that covered over with dirt (there is no sod) to prevent the wind blowing it off, and it is about as effective in turning water as a mosquito bar, but as it does not rain much there is not much roof needed. There are three store rooms, the railroad buildings, two hotel buildings and a few dwellings built of better material, frame with tar paper roofs. There are not to exceed 50 eastern people in the town. The population is made up mostly of Canadians, but there are many Swedes, Norwegians and Germans, and a few half breeds. More than one-half of the business rooms in the town are occupied by saloons and for gaming purposes, the doors of which never close, but are kept open night and day, and Sunday is their best day for trade. But strange to say there are not many intoxicated persons seen on our streets. The people here have a great mania for horse racing and most every evening the whole populace turn out and a race takes place on the track which begins one mile east of here and runs into town on the main street. They run for from $25 to $100 a side, and win or lose, they wear the same placid smile after the race that they did before the race. This county (Dawson) is two hundred miles wide and 300 miles in length. The county seat (Glendive) is 180 miles from here, and to visit it requires a great deal of time and expense, and makes it very inconvenient for our business men. To go to Glendive by rail one has to go via Helena, and thereby travel a distance of more than 1,000 miles. The shortest route is by rail to Ft. Buford, 136 miles east, thence by stage 90 miles southwest. It costs the county $150 to convey a prisoner from this place to the county jail, and as the county is sparsely settled, it throws a heavy burden upon the taxpayers, hence they are clamoring for a county division, which will be made soon; then Glasgow will be the name of the new county (valley).

There are a few ranches within a distance of 200 or 300 miles from town, holding their claims till the land may be surveyed to enable them to prove up. Beyond a distance of 3 miles from here, with the exception of a few section houses houses along the railroad, it is all a wild tract of grazing land, abounding with wild game. Deer are so plentiful here that they become quite tame and very often approach within sight of the house. A few days ago a boy brought a young fawn into town which he had captured that morning about one half mile from town.

This place is well supplied with water from Cherry Creek, which is fed with springs, and is about one mile from town. It is hauled in tanks and sold to the consumers at 20 cents per barrel. Milk river runs within a quarter of a mile of the town, but the water is so impregnated with alkali that it is not used by many. We drank some of it when we first came, before we were aware of the effects it would have upon us; each of us suffered with intense thirst soon afterward, and were very sick for two days. Wild sage, which grows in abundance on the prairie here, is used to counteract the effects of the alkaline water.

There are about 300 Cree Indians living in their tepees or tents 2 miles from this place. They were engaged in the Reel rebellion and are refugees from Canada. Brokaw, a half-breed and half brother to Reel, is their chief. He speaks no English. He was Reel's first lieutenant during the rebellion. They will be allowed to remain here till this land is surveyed, but as they are not subjects of this government it does not provide for them or permit them to have any reservation, hence they are compelled to "rustle" for their living. The squaws earn the living by scrubbing, ironing, etc., for the people here, and by selling mocassins, money purses, and buffalo-horns, while "the noble red men of the forest" manage to get enough money to buy their whisky by gathering up buffalo bones which are found scattered over the prairie and for which they receive from $5 to $10 per ton at this place.

There are two justices of the peace (called judges here) in Glasgow and no other court officials nearer than Glendive, and as all the buildings are treated as chattel or personal property and there are no titles to realty to be settled by the courts, it gives the J. P.'s jurisdiction in all cases, hence there is a great deal of court practice here. No man can do any business here without first obtaining a license therefrom. Doctors, lawyers, and all professional men pay a license of $10 per year, while merchants, hotel keepers, restaurateurs, laundries, liverymen, and in fact all class except ranchers, pay according to the amount of business transacted during the year. The average license for the last named classes is about $5 per quarter. As there is no bank here most of our merchants do their banking at St. Paul, over 800 miles from here, and immediately after pay day on the railroad, which pays the employs by checks, there are more checks than currency in circulation. There are about twelve men here to one woman, and if any of the eastern girls want employment or a husband they will have no trouble to find either by coming here. There is a cemetery here with five persons interred in it. Two of the persons who lie buried there were frozen to death. The old residents of this vicinity say it is not unusual for the thermometer to reach 50 below zero, and Wednesday, the 30th, it registered 106 above, but the nights are very cool,—about as the nights in Indiana at the time of year when "the frost is on the pumpkin."

There are eight school districts and consequently eight teachers employed in this county. The terms of school last from 7 to 8 months. There is not much inducement for a teacher to pay one month's salary or more in a long, tedious trip to Glendive to pass examination and most teachers who come here find better employment than teaching school. This county is democratic and all the present county officials are democrats, consequently I feel at home here.

There are no song birds here. Even the English sparrows are unknown, but there are millions of prairie chickens. Since last writing a party of seven of us visited the Great Falls of the Missouri river, nine miles distant from the city of Great Falls. The water falls over a precipice 68 feet high at which place the river flows through a canon whose walls are perpendicular and more than 400 feet in height. We also visited the giant spring near the city—it is a marvel of wonder—and perhaps nothing more than a subterranean river, the water of which is very clear and cool. The spring gushes out of the ground with a great force, and forms a stream whose velocity and size is greater than Black Creek. I forgot to add that water may be obtained here in sufficient quantities by digging 25 to 30 feet in depth but is absolutely useless as it is so strong with alkali that it can not be used for drinking or washing and only for cooking purposes, and then it will eat the cooking utensils that are made of tin full of holes in a short time.

This is not as pleasant a place to live as Indiana, but the advantages for making money are a great deal better than Indiana. They are all "rustlers" here. Wages and living are high.

Those Who Have Registered.

Below we append a list of those persons who have registered with the county clerk in pursuance to the new law. Those immediately following are persons who are out of the county but claim this as their home and voting place. It would be well for all democrats to cut out this list, paste it in their hats, and, on the day of the election when a certificate of registration is presented, refer to the list and see if his name is thereon. If not you may safely conclude that the certificate is forged and if the vote is cast see that the voter is properly dealt with. The following list is full and complete and all persons who have registered their names appear herewith:

Taken to Lafayette.

Wm. Campbell, of New Richmond, the Review correspondent at that place, was arrested Monday by the deputy sheriff of Tippecanoe county, on charge of subordination of perjury. The charge arises from a runaway match in which a young man named Ross ran away and married a girl named Chappel, the daughter of an old farmer near Romney in Tippecanoe county, who was but 18 years of age. A man by the name of Whitteotten swore to her being of marriageable age. When arrested he claimed that Wm. Campbell, a saloonist at New Richmond, had made him drunk and induced him to do what he did. On the strength of this statement Mr. Chappel Monday had a warrant issued for the arrest of Campbell, charging him with subordination of perjury, an offense with a two to twenty-one years imprisonment clause attached to it. Campbell enters a general denial of Whitteotten's accusations and he says he is ready to prove his innocence.

Fatal Fall.

Wednesday night a young man named Milton Acton, working for James Walter, near Wesley, fell from a window at his place and struck upon some stones below. The injuries received were fatal and he died on Thursday evening.

How I Saved My Life.

I was taken sick while at the dinner table with terrible distress in my stomach. Before this I had been hearty and strong. For 14 days I kept getting worse, despite the efforts of two doctors. I lost forty pounds, and was satisfied that I could live but a few days. My trouble was Stomach and Liver Complaint, resulting in an attack of bilious colic. At this time I saw Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, of Roundout, N. Y., advertised, and sent for a bottle. I also sent for my physician and told him that I was going to try the Favorite Remedy. He examined it and told me to use it three days and let him know the result. I walked four miles in the three days. Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy has saved my life. W. S. Ritter, State Mills, Ross Co., Ohio.

THE NEW PENSION LAW

Provides a pension of not less than $6 nor more than $12 per month to old soldiers or sailors who served 90 days during the last war, and were honorably discharged from service, who are in any way disabled.

This pension is granted without any reference to when or how the disability was incurred either in or out of the service, if not the result of his own vicious habits.

Provides also $8 per month for the widow of every soldier or sailor who served 90 days, without regard to the time or cause of her husband's death, if she is dependent on her labor for her support. Also $2 additional for each child under 16 years of age, and the child's pension is to continue if it is insane, imbecile, or entirely helpless although the mother remarries or should die.

Provides also that any soldier's parent who is without other means of support than his or her own manual labor, if the soldier died in the service, or from any disease or wounds he received while in the service, may obtain a pension at the rate of $12 per month.

Applying for or accepting pension under this law does not prevent the claimant from prosecuting a claim under the old law. Pensions under the new law commence the time the application is filed.

If an application is made under this law the claimant can select any attorney he desires without reference to the old claim, and if a soldier is now drawing less than $6 per month he can be increased under this law.

The attorneys fees is limited to $10 in each case. We are now prepared with necessary blanks to prosecute all claims under the new law. Address or call on the Old Reliable Claim Agency of
