WHAT IS IT?

Persons outside of the profession often ask, what is an Emulsion? We answer an Emulsion is a combination of two or more liquids, so thoroughly mixed that each is held in permanent suspension. Several of the much advertised "Emulsions" now on the market are nothing more than compounds, and a microscopic examination will reveal globules of oil in their original form. The Emulsion made by Wm. J. A. Magee & Co., Lawrence, Mass. everywhere so favorably known by physicians as is composed of one-third part Cod-Liver Oil, one-third part Extract of Malt, and one-third part Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda, each of which must be of the finest quality obtainable. These three valuable ingredients, with a little flavoring extract, are put into a "mixer," where it is emulsified for six hours by steam power, at the rate of 128 revolutions per minute, which breaks every globule of the oil, and combines it with the other ingredients in such a thorough manner that no separation will ever occur. Magee's Emulsion has no equal for the relief and cure of Coughs, Colds, Scrofula, Dyspepsia and General Debility.

Magee's Emulsion

FIENDISH DEEDS.

A Horrible Tragedy Enacted Near Carlisle, Minn.

A GERMAN TRIES TO KILL HIS FAMILY.

He Shoots and Carves His Wife and Son—The Former Dies of Her Wounds—The Murderer's Suicide Follows—The Awful Act of a Lover.

A HORRIBLE CRIME.

CARLISLE, Minn., Dec. 29.—Saturday the family of Carl Reher consisted of five persons. To-day the father and mother are dead, the son is hovering on the edge of the grave and one daughter is dangerously wounded. Carl Reher was a German aged nearly 60 years, who lived in a cabin on the flats, as they are called, in Wilkins County, about two miles from this village. His family consisted of a wife, aged 49; the son Henry, aged 25, and three daughters, aged 22, 16 and 14. Reher was a taciturn, moody man, who was held in much fear by his neighbors as a person of unbridled passions and dangerous disposition. His son Henry has served a term in the penitentiary for horse stealing and is known as a hard character. For the last three years there have been frequent family quarrels, which often resulted in violence.

Reher came home about 9 o'clock Saturday night from Elizabeth, where he ran a shoe-shop, and after some pleasant about Christmas presents drew two self-loading revolvers and began shooting at his wife, son and daughters. The first bullet was fired at his son and missed its mark. The young man staggered back and threw up his arm to protect himself. The second and third bullets struck him in the arm, which was shockingly mangled. The fourth bullet was aimed at the oldest daughter and entered her shoulder.

The lamp was extinguished by the fifth shot, which entered the body of Mrs. Reher. By this time the whole family was in a frenzied panic, and all made a rush for the door in the darkness. Reher dropped his revolvers and drew a huge carving-knife. As Henry Reher reached the door the father plunged the knife into the son's back, penetrating deep into his lungs.

The three daughters got safely out of the house and scattered to hide themselves in the hay-mow and outbuildings. Mrs. Reher was left alone in the house with her husband. He attacked her fiercely with a carving-knife and stabbed her again and again. She fell apparently dead, and he went out to find his daughters and finish his work. He did not succeed, and returned to the house. His wife was gone. The youngest daughter, who watched the scene from the hay-mow, describes what next occurred. Her father appeared at the door with the dripping knife still in his hand. The full moon lighted up the landscape brilliantly and he saw his wife crawling painfully on her hands and knees fifty yards away. He ran to her and again fell upon her with fiendish ferocity and plunged the knife again and again into her prostrate body. Then he returned to the house.

Half an hour later several neighbors, well armed, arrived. The three daughters were still in hiding. They had heard a single pistol shot, but no other sound. The neighbors entered the house and found Reher dead, with a bullet in his brain and a rope around his neck. He had thrown the rope over a beam and put the noose around his neck, and as the rope tightened, had blown out his brains. He lay there with his own blood mingling in a pool with that of his wife and son. Mrs. Reher also lay on the floor. She had crawled back to the house and lay almost beside her dead husband. She had only strength to tell the story of the awful tragedy and then died. Her body and limbs were badly cut. Henry Reher, the son, will probably die of his wounds.

A BRUTAL MURDER.

SAYVILLE, L. I., Dec. 29.—The news of a most brutal murder at Bohemaville, two miles north of here, has been received. The body of Winnie Crompton, an attractive Hungarian girl, was found hacked to pieces. The limbs had been severed from the trunk and the body itself was cut to pieces. Nothing remained of the once comely girl but a bloody mass of flesh and bones. The woman was first stabbed to death and then her murderer cut her body up, so that when it was found it had to be gathered up in fragments. Suspicion immediately fell on Frank Krulisch. He was quickly arrested. When confronted with the mutilated remains of the girl Krulisch gazed stolidly before him. He admitted the killing, but nothing further could be obtained from him. The motive for the murder is not yet clear. It is said that Krulisch loved and was jealous of Winnie Crompton.

Brought High Prices.

BABYLON, L. I., Dec. 29.—Raceland was the first of the late August Belmont's horses to be sold at the auction on Saturday. Michael Dwyer secured him at $7,000. Prince Royal was next put up, and at $5,000 was knocked down to Phillip Dwyer. St. Carlo sold for $1,600 to Fred Eshner, of the Keystone stable, and Potomac for $25,000 to Michael F. Dwyer.

A Christmas Excursion.

WINONA, Minn., Dec. 29.—The steamboat excursion on the Mississippi river which had been advertised so extensively for Christmas day was a success. Over 150 people went on the trip from here to Fountain City, a distance of ten miles. This is the third Christmas this treat has been indulged in.

A Mill Burned.

HOWARD LAKE, Minn., Dec. 29.—The Howard Lake roller mill, Bonnell & Son proprietors, caught fire at 6 o'clock Saturday. Total loss, $18,000; insurance, $10,000.

CRAZED BY HIS RUIN.

The Failure of His Bank Drives a South Dakota Financier Insane—Other Business Troubles.

WOONSOCKET, S. D., Dec. 29.—The strain upon L. L. Stevens, owner of the Sanborn County Bank which failed Friday, has driven him mad. Frequently he has torn hair from his head and constantly called for money he could not get. Steps are being taken to have him examined by the insanity board and sent to an asylum. Just before going crazy he gave instructions to the assignee to pay back some money to a few creditors who had made late deposits, but nobody knowing the combination of the safe it could not be opened. Small depositors lose about $20,000 and they are greatly excited.

GREELEY, Col., Dec. 29.—The banking firm of Hunter & West has suspended with liabilities of about $100,000. The assets, including the private property of members of the firm, which has been turned over to the assignee, are placed at $130,000. It is believed that no one will lose by the failure if sufficient time is given to realize upon securities and real estate owned by the firm. Stringency in the money market forced the suspension.

LANCASTER, Pa., Dec. 29.—The Fishing Creek Lumber Company has made an assignment. The company has a paid up capital of $100,000, and the assets, consisting of a large saw-mill in Columbia County and extensive wood lands in Columbia and Sullivan counties, are believed to exceed the liabilities. Tight money is assigned as the cause.

BROWN AND THE BURGLAR.

The Foundation on Which the Charge of Manslaughter Against the New Supreme Justice Rests.

DETROIT, Mich., Dec. 29.—Dispatches from Washington say there is some opposition to the confirmation of Judge H. B. Brown as Associate Justice of the Supreme Court on the ground that the Judge is guilty of manslaughter, having killed a man who broke into his house. The truth about the burglar story is that the Judge awoke one night a few years ago to find a man in his room. He sprang out of bed and asked the intruder what he wanted. The fellow fled and the Judge fired at him as he ran down a stairway. Judge Brown says he hit him, but there was no "trail of blood," as has been asserted by correspondents. A month or two afterward an ex-convict told Judge Brown that he hit his man and that the burglar died of the wound. The other day Judge Brown, in speaking of the incident, said that he looked into the ex-convict's story and failed to discover that there was any truth in it.

KILLED HIS RIVAL.

Two Sultors Call on a Pennsylvania Girl and One Is Slain.

SCOTSDALE, Pa., Dec. 29.—A young miner named Plunker, of Noyes, and George Plunker have been courting the same young lady, who is employed at Plunker's brother's boarding-house at Stauffer's. Saturday Plunker called on his sweetheart. Shortly after George Plunker came in. The two young men shook hands heartily and seemingly were the best of friends. In the course of conversation Plunker invited Plunker upstairs. The latter accepted the invitation and a short time thereafter the report of a pistol shot was heard. The inmates of the house ran quickly to the scene only to find the dead body of Plunker stretched on the floor with a bullet through his heart. Plunker was asked some questions on the affair and his answers were so unsatisfactory that he was at once placed in custody and taken to jail charged with murder.

DISASTROUS LAKE SEASON.

Fifty-Five Vessels Lost with a Financial Loss of $713,000 the Last Year.

DETROIT, Mich., Dec. 29.—The last season has been unusually disastrous to the shipping on the great lakes. From a tabulated statement compiled it is learned that sixteen steamers, whose total tonnage was 5,915 tons, and whose value was $350,500, were lost. Twenty-seven schooners and barges valued at $278,000 and with a tonnage of 8,555 tons were also lost, as well as twelve tugs valued at $79,000 and 520 tons burden, making the total number of vessels lost 55, with an aggregate tonnage of 15,020 tons and a financial loss of $713,000.

A Girl's Awful Death.

LOCK HAVEN, Pa., Dec. 29.—Emma Mather was killed Friday on a railroad bridge near Halifax by a train running at high rate of speed. She was half way across it, and, realizing her danger, attempted to drop through the ties into the creek below. The space was too narrow, however, and while she was trying to squeeze through the engine struck her. All her clothing was torn from her as the train passed over, killing her instantly. Her body dropped into the creek.

A Receiver Asked For.

CHICAGO, Dec. 29.—Bertram M. Winston, treasurer of the well-known real estate corporation known as the P. E. Stanley-Winston Company, has applied to Judge Hawes for the appointment of a receiver for the concern. P. E. Stanley, the president and largest stockholder, is charged with appropriating $70,000 and having wrecked the company by wild and reckless speculation on the Chicago Stock Exchange.

Accidentally Killed.

BROOKTON, O., Dec. 29.—Harry Williams, a prominent lawyer of this city, was accidentally killed here. His brains were blown out by the discharge of his gun. He was preparing for a hunting expedition when, lifting the gun by the barrel, the trigger caught and the weapon was discharged. A load of buckshot entered his head and he died instantly.

Discharged the Police Force.

JACKSON, Miss., Dec. 29.—The resignations of the entire police force were demanded at a special meeting of the Board of Aldermen owing to the inefficiency of the force in dealing with the Christmas revelers. Their resignations were accordingly handed in and accepted.
