YOUNG MAN STOP, you are rapidly approaching insanity and death. You will do well to consult us at once. These habits are the result of disease—not vice—and we cure such without fail. We invite your fullest confidence and promise you relief.

CATARH CAN BE CURED. It is a false opinion among the people and a confession of ignorance by the physician when they say Catarrh cannot be cured. Neglected Catarrh leads to consumption, and to ulceration of the throat, causing loss of voice, and in the nose total destruction of the Septum, or partition allowing the nose to fall causing one of the worst deformities. We will give $500 for a failure to cure no matter who has treated you.

MEN who observe certain irritation of Bladder urethra or water passage with Sediments in the urine should avail themselves of our treatment. Such symptoms are indications of Seminal weakness, which admit of no delay. If not cured it leads to prostatic gland nervous debility and premature decay.

CANCERS are cured without the use of the knife. See the reference of hundreds that we have cured.

Suicide of Rev. J. W. Harris.

The following special from New Orleans appeared in last Saturday's Cincinnati Enquirer: "J. W. Harris, superintendent of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home at Knights-town, Ind., committed suicide at the St. Charles hotel by cutting his throat with a pocket knife late Thursday afternoon. He arrived in the morning from St. Louis. He appeared to have been drinking or acted as if he was slightly deranged. In the afternoon he went to his room, and locking himself in, wrote a letter to his wife informing her of his arrival, saying that he was feeling ill. He also said he intended to return to her on the 5 o'clock evening train. He tore up the letter and then cut his throat. A gentleman called at the hotel to see a friend who occupied the same room Wednesday night, and on going to the room found it locked. A bell-boy was called and he opened the door and found Harris dead. He had $62.50 in cash in his pockets, a good watch, a lot of postal cards and stamps and a sealed letter addressed to Mrs. M. D. Harris, Knights-town, Ind., care of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home."

Almost every person in this county will remember Rev. James W. Harris, having at one time been pastor of the M. E. church in this city. At the time of his death, he was Superintendent of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home at Knights-town, this State. Mr. Harris was but 46 years of age, but had been a sufferer from epilepsy many years, which of late has been growing worse, and he certainly committed the rash act during a fit of temporary aberration.

A strange feature of the suicide is the fact that on Feb. 14, 1877, M. M. Wishard, then Superintendent of the Knights-town Home, killed himself in the same manner at the St. James hotel, New Orleans. The act was caused by opium eating, and after making a deep incision in his neck with a penknife Dr. Wishard tried to sever the jugular vein with a pair of surgeon's scissors. He was unconscious when discovered and died half an hour afterward. It is quite possible that the suicide of Dr. Wishard, the details of which were well known to Mr. Harris, impelled him, in the disordered state of his mind, to go to New Orleans and take his own life in the same manner. Mr. Harris' father died in the asylum and one of his sisters died while deranged. His father before his death attempted to commit suicide in the same manner in which Rev. J. W. Harris succeeded. The deceased was a member of the Grand Army of the Republic, Loyal Legion and a Knight Templar. Saturday's Indianapolis News adds:

"Mrs. Harris, as soon as she learned of the horrible news, flew to her home in Green-castle. She there told her friends that while they were at Michigan City he often told her that he was afraid he would take his own life and begged her never to leave him. Accordingly she was with him wherever he went and often followed him to the docks as he had a special fear of jumping into the lake. The funeral will be held to-morrow afternoon at College avenue church. Dr. S. B. Town and Dr. H. A. Gobin will conduct the services."

Death of Grant Johnson.

Grant Johnson died at the home of his parents, one mile north of Mace, last Saturday morning at 8 o'clock at the age of 25 years, of typhoid fever. The deceased was one of the most promising young men ever reared in Montgomery county. In 1882 he entered Wash College. The following fall he entered DePauw where he graduated in 1888. Mr. Johnson was one of the most distinguished students ever going through the institution, being noted for his extraordinary oratorical ability. He won many honors while in college and in 1888 took the prize at the State Oratorical contest. In the same spring he won the Interstate contest by the highest grade ever given the winner of that honor. After concluding his college work he went to Chicago, where he did some excellent work on the Inter-Ocean as a writer, but his chosen profession was the law and he entered a school from which he graduated with the highest honors. At the time of his death he was connected with one of the largest law firms in Chicago, from which city he came to his home in this county some two weeks prior to his death. The funeral occurred from the M. E. church in this city on Sunday afternoon, Rev. G. W. Switzer officiating before a large gathering of friends and relatives. Several of the deceased fraternity brothers were present from DePauw University one of whom delivered a very touching and beautiful eulogy on their former brother and classmate, breaking down and weeping several times during the delivery. The interment took place at Oak Hill.

A Match With the Elder.

S. B. Johnson, of Peru, was in the city this morning calling on Ed Corey, the pugilist. Mr. Johnson is manager of Elder Pitts, the colored champion, whom Corey recently challenged for a finish fight, and the object of his visit here was to arrange a match for a purse. Mr. Johnson made a proposition to put up a purse of $400 for a fight in the opera house at Peru, the winner to take $300 and the loser $100. This proposition Corey did not accept. He wants to fight for stakes and gate receipts, but there seems to be no one willing to put up money on Pitts unless they can have a pull at the gate receipts. Corey will probably go to Peru to-morrow and will endeavor to make some satisfactory arrangements for a fight. If a purse of $600 is offered he will probably accept it, but would prefer to fight for stakes and gate receipts. If the match is made the fight will take place on the 8th or 9th of July during the races at Peru, and it will probably be witnessed by thousands of people. —Michigan City News.

The apparent flattening of the vault of the heavens has been found to have an annual period and to depend on clouds. It seems least flat with a misty horizon, and less by night than by day.

Sunday School Convention.

The annual Sunday school convention of Montgomery county was held in this city last Friday. While the attendance was small the meeting was very enthusiastic. Card playing and dancing and their sinful effects were thoroughly dissected and the skeletons hung up as warnings to young America. Prior to adjournment the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Pres., J. A. Mount; Sec. and treas., T. N. Myers; district vice pres., L. J. Coppage, 1st; T. C. Shanklin, 2nd; George Seybold, 3rd; Franklin Cox, 4th; township vice pres., Thomas Bowles, Coal Creek; Vela Westfall, Wayne; Charles Rountree, Ripley; J. E. Evans, Brown; W. R. Childers, Scott; Daniel Remley, Walnut; A. M. Scott, Clark; W. D. Peebles, Franklin; Garret Snyder, Sugar Creek; James Wilson, Madison. J. A. Mount was elected representative to the state convention and David Harter alternate.

DARLINGTON ECHO ITEMS.

Go ring the bells and fire the guns! Ground will be broken next week for the new mill, and the erection of the building commenced.

J. W. Mikels and Bob Larrick engaged in a lively set to one evening this week in the saloon over a game of cards. A good deal of noise and racket and thunder, but when the smoke of battle cleared away, nobody was found dead and only two slightly wounded.

Grandma Shriver fell Wednesday evening while walking over her porch, breaking her leg over above the knee, at the same place she so badly injured it in her fall last winter. Her crutch slipped through a crack in the floor when she fell with her injured limb across the crutch. The fractured bones were set, and she is getting along very well.

A Suspicious Case.

At Brughurst, a few miles south of Logansport on the Vandallia line, there was last week much excitement over the suspicious case of a boy who it is thought was murdered.

Twelve-year-old Willie Firman was found hanging from a rafter in his step-mother's barn, some dead. His step-mother gave out that he had committed suicide on account of having been corrected for some mischief, but the neighbors refused to accept this explanation. They boldly assert that the boy's death resulted from foul play and demand that the proper course be taken. The boy was worth $25,000 in his own right and the theory is universally entertained that murder was adopted as the method of designing relatives to gain possession of the fortune. The lad was an only child, of pleasant disposition.

Killed in a Runaway.

Walter Lindley, the 14-year-old son of Hiram Lindley, who lives east of Sylvania in Liberty township, was killed by a runaway horse Monday morning. He had just returned from taking his brother to Marshall when he was heard to cry out, and those who looked towards the buggy saw the horse jump and run, throwing the boy out. Whether or not he was killed by the fall or by a kick from the horse is not known. His skull was crushed and he died almost instantly. The burial was at Rush Creek cemetery, Tuesday, a larger funeral seldom being seen there. —Rockville Tribune.

Still Wormy—Does Not Large Enough.

"As the last lingering rays of the setting sun darted above the horizon and painted the sky with colors such as no human artist has ever been able to imitate, we saw the tired but happy farmers leading their weary teams from the freshly plowed furrows and almost envied them their pleasure as they went whistling down the grassy lanes to care for their stock and enjoy the comfort of well earned slumber on couches made down by the toil of the summer day." —Ladoga Leader.

Doctors at home and at Detroit treated her, but in vain, she grew worse rapidly, until she was a mere "handful of bones."—Then she tried Dr. King's New Discovery and after the use of two and a half bottles, was completely cured. LAST HONORS.

They Are Being Paid Canada's Dead Premier.

SIR JOHN LYING IN STATE AT OTTAWA.

Thousands Take Their Last Look at the Statesman's Features—Senator Abbott to Be His Successor Temporarily.

PREPARATIONS FOR THE FUNERAL.

OTTAWA, Ont., June 12.—The body of Sir John Macdonald now lies in state in the senate chamber. Since 10 o'clock Tuesday morning there has been a perfect jam about the main entrance. At 5 a. m. a private funeral service was conducted at Earncliffe. An hour later the remains were borne to the state chamber by six members of the dominion police. At 10 o'clock the senate doors were thrown open. Lord Stanley, accompanied by his staff, was the first to enter. Next came the members of the cabinet, senators and members of parliament. Thousands of ladies paid their last tribute to the late premier. Relays of members of parliament are on duty at the bier.

Senator John Abbott, of Montreal, a prominent shareholder in the Canadian Pacific railway, will be called upon in a few days by the governor general, Lord Stanley, to succeed Sir John Macdonald as premier. Sir John Thompson, minister of justice, is admitted to be the ablest man in parliament, but he is a Roman Catholic and a representative of a Nova Scotia constituency, and could never command a majority of the government supporters from Ontario.

The discussions among the members of the cabinet which Sir John Macdonald left behind him make it inevitable that any arrangement which may be made will only be a makeshift to last until the close of the present session, which will be rushed through, with Senator Abbott as premier. After the session is ended Sir Charles Tupper, the high commissioner representing the dominion of Canada at London, will return to Ottawa and take the premiership. The cabinet will then be reconstructed.

Sir Charles has to be in Washington in October to take part in the conferences with the United States government representatives on the questions of international trade relations, the fishery disputes, the Behring sea controversy, and the other matters between the two countries now pending settlement. He is now attending the postal congress at Vienna. The sooner he returns the better his chance will be of being elected for Kingston. Sir John Macdonald's old constituency. Meanwhile Senator Abbott will be the provisional head of the government for the purposes of the present session.

KINGSTON, Ont., June 10.—Ten thousand persons will probably be in line Thursday at Sir John Macdonald's funeral. Seventeen societies with three bands will precede the hearse. The grave will be walled with limestone, bolted and riveted and covered with huge flags, so that there can be no possibility of desecrators doing any work toward the removal of the body with any rapidity. Besides this strong guard will watch for the next six months. The city is already filling up for the great and solemn event.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING.

Two German Soldiers Fall Victims to the Deadly Thunderbolt While on Parade in the Emperor's Presence.

BERLIN, June 10.—Military and other circles here and elsewhere are discussing a strange and fatal accident which occurred at the Templehof at 9 o'clock a. m. in the presence of the emperor. From dispatches received here, it seems that a party of grenadiers were being exercised by the emperor at morning drill on the parade ground. While the men were being put through their exercises a vivid flash of lightning, followed by a deafening thunder clap, startled and blind-blinded the men on parade, and hurled a number of them to the ground. When the men who had not been struck by the electric fluid had sufficiently recovered their presence of mind they went to the assistance of their stricken comrades, and it was found that the officer in command, Capt. Von Quast and three soldiers were insensible. Two of the latter died almost immediately afterward, and Capt. Von Quast and the other soldier who was struck were dangerously injured. A horse was also killed. It is supposed that the rifle barrels and bayonets of the soldiers attracted the electricity which caused such fatal results.

Railway Employees Meet.

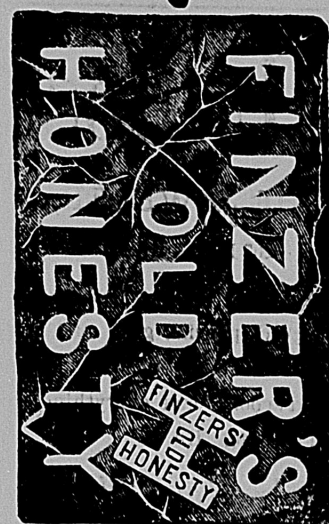

FORT WAYNE, Ind., June 10.—It is estimated that fully 2,500 strangers are in the city attending the convention of railway employees. The convention is composed of the following orders: Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Order of Railway Conductors, Brotherhood of Telegraphers, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, Switchmen's Mutual Aid association and Brotherhood of Trainmen. The object of the meeting is the discussion of matters of vital importance to the members of the different orders.

Suicide of a Blind Farmer.

DIXON, Ill., June 10.—Thomas Smith, a blind farmer living about 2½ miles from this city, committed suicide in front of the Baptist church Tuesday afternoon. No cause is given for the deed. He was in good circumstances and was about 50 years old. He leaves a wife. He was sitting in his buggy talking to a friend when he deliberately drew a revolver and sent a bullet through his temple.

Death of a Well-Known Actor.

NEW YORK, June 10.—Harry Edwards, the well-known actor, died in this city Tuesday morning. He had been sick for two months and had been gradually failing, the immediate cause of death being heart failure, due to dropsy.
