BROOKSHIRE AS AN AUTHORITY.

We are in receipt of a copy of the Morning Journal, of Hannibal, Mo., of last Sunday, containing an instructive and finished speech by Col. W. H. Hatch, of the Hannibal district of Missouri. Col. Hatch is a leading member of congress, having been a member for many years; the chairman of the committee of agriculture in two or more congresses; is a candidate for speaker, and is strongly urged by the agricultural people of the west and south for the presidency. In his splendid tariff speech, Congressman Hatch said: "This comes from a report of the secretary of the treasury and I read from an exhaustive analysis of it incorporated in an able speech on this subject, delivered by Mr. Brookshire, of Indiana, on the floor of the house on Sept. 27, 1890:

To give the figures in round numbers, we sold to Great Britain and Ireland last year $29,700,000 worth of cattle; $23,156,000 worth of corn; $31,470,000 worth of wheat; $35,425,000 worth of wheat flour; $148,300,000 worth of raw cotton; $1,000,000 worth of hops; $7,600,000 worth of refined oil; $5,200,000 worth of canned beef; $12,700,000 worth of fresh beef; $3,600,000 worth of beef, salted, pickled and cured; over $2,400,000 worth of tallow; $33,540,000 worth of bacon; $6,500,000 of hams; $1,000,000 worth of pork, fresh and pickled; nearly $11,000,000 worth of lard; $2,200,000 worth of butter; $7,300,000 worth of cheese, and nearly $8,000,000 worth of unmanufactured tobacco, besides a great amount of other agricultural products which I will not take time to mention.

The amount of agricultural products which was sold to Great Britain and Ireland last year will approximate $380,000,000 worth.

Great Britain and Ireland and Western Europe practically furnish us the only markets for the great bulk of our surplus agricultural products. It seems from this treasury statement that our annual exports of purely agricultural products to South America will not amount to perhaps $10,000,000 worth per annum, and that our exports to the people south of us, to Mexico, the countries of Central America and Honduras, to South America, the West Indies and all the Isles of the South seas adjacent to South America will not aggregate perhaps more than $25,000,000 to $30,000,000 annually.

Mr. Brookshire was, as we are informed, the first member of congress to attack and to show the falaciousness and hypocrisy of Mr. Blaine's reciprocity scheme with the Spanish republics in Central and South America.

It was also stated in some of the leading democratic journals of the country that his speech on the Force bill (the Lodge election bill) was the strongest, clearest and most epigrammatic statement of the villainies wrapped up in that wicked piece of proposed legislation. This speech was extensively circulated into all parts of the country as campaign literature.

Suffrage and taxation were the two great questions before the last congress, and on them we feel sure that our representative acquitted himself creditably and well, both in his votes and speeches.

While Mr. Brookshire makes no pretensions as an orator, we will have to give him credit, we think, for being a close, pains-taking student.

GROWLING ALREADY.

We have never known a gas company or any kind of company for that matter having a monopoly in supplying the needs of the people but what was half the time in a wrangle with its patrons over the charges for the supply it produced for others use, or some petty exaction it had made. The same thing may be expected with the company that is to supply citizens with natural gas for heating purposes, and the curses against it in six months or a year from this time will be loud and deep on the part of many of its patrons. The mutterings of the storm can already be faintly heard. Here is one for instance that is already creating dissatisfaction, yet it is understood is insisted upon by the company. If your house has a cellar, say sixty feet from the side walk, while your stove is but thirty you must pipe to the cellar first and then turn around with the pipe and go back to the stove. This makes much more expense to the party having his house piped for gas in the outlay for extra pipe and work for the plumber.

And really what is the present need of it? Is it not expected to ultimately place meters in the cellars and measure out gas to the consumers instead of allowing them to burn as much as they need at a schedule price as now? A man owning four houses on learning of this rule of the company determined not to burn it, and ordered the plumbers not to do a lick of work for him. Others persons may feel the same way, and the use of wood and coal will not be abandoned by many.

The present census is going to be a very costly one, not less than eight, and probably ten millions. The last one cost $1,795,000.

CAMPBELL'S CHANCES.

The election in Ohio occurs next Tuesday, and considerable interest is being shown in the result. Originally among democrats it was generally believed that McKinley would be elected by majorities ranging from 15,000 to 20,000, but now it seems doubtful if he will secure any majority at all. Campbell's chances for election have grown much brighter within the past two weeks. Immense crowds have attended his meetings all over the state. He has avoided no discussion of any live issue. It now seems at this distance that the only thing likely to defeat Campbell will be the disaffected members of the party in Hamilton county. The party elsewhere is unanimous for him. Ohio is generally a republican state, and that party has managed to secure most times the majority, but it does not look now like they would this year be able to do it. The Pittsburg manufacturers have contributed over $30,000 for the election of McKinley, and this very thing has turned thousands of voters against it. The greater portion of the Alliance party is composed of former members of the republican party, and taking these things together it would seem that Campbell's chances to be elected Governor are decidedly encouraging.

POLITICAL EVENTS.

Following is the list of state elections to be held November, the third, proximo: Iowa elects state officers and legislature.

Maryland elects state officers and legislature, and voters on six constitutional amendments.

Massachusetts elects state officers and legislature.

Mississippi elects three railway commissioners and legislature.

Nebraska elects associate justices of the Supreme court and two regents of the state university.

New Jersey elects part of its legislature.

New York elects state officers, legislature, ten supreme court justices, and representatives in the tenth congressional district.

Ohio elects state officers, legislature, and votes on amendment to constitution providing for uniform taxation.

Pennsylvania elects treasurer and attorney general, and votes on constitutional convention and elects delegates to same.

Virginia elects half its legislature.

Rumors about the contemplated resignation of Raun, the present commissioner of pensions, continue to fill the air. This office under republican management has for years been a mine of corruption. Ever since the delectable Dudley had charge of it, with the exception of the four years that Gen. Chas. Black was commissioner, the office has been run in the strict interest of the republican party, and a very loud smelling and ugly state of affairs has frequently been shown up in it. The present commissioner Raun seems to be as partizan and corrupt in his management of the office as any of them and that he will remain any length of time seems very doubtful. In the interest of the ex-soldiers, it would appear that Raun should vacate.

THE TRUE SYSTEM.

The most dangerous blow aimed at the republican party was the passage in most of the states of the Australian ballot system. In every state at elections held under that plan it has shown greatly decreased majorities or complete utter route. This only shows the general corruptness that permeates the entire party. Bribery and intimidation were its principal weapons of success. Take these away and it is shorn of its power. Honest and fair expressions of the popular will it does not desire. The present system of managing elections has come to stay, while the corrupt means of republican leaders for managing them is bound to go. Let the system become general and we will soon hear the last of republican triumphs.

From the number of games of sport constantly indulged in in the way of foot ball, base ball, lawn tennis, etc., by students in the various colleges of the state, the public will most likely be mystified in learning for what purpose they attend college. There seems to be much more time devoted to these games than to the study of the arts, sciences, classics, or work fitting them for business duties. There appears entirely too much time devoted to "sport" and not enough to books. A chair endowed for the study of pugilism, athletic and gymnastic exercises, and old sledge, would perhaps be the most popular just at this time.

The tariff is taken off of sugar. Result, the price of sugar is reduced. Therefore the tariff on sugar made it cost the consumer more. The tariff was taken off of quinine, with the same result. So likewise did a reduction in the tariff on binder twine reduce the price of binder twine. Now, why should not the people have the benefit of free wool and cheaper clothing?

There were eight hundred entries of hand made lace at the St. Louis fair and a Crawfordsville woman took first premium. And so it goes; from fancy work to office-holding, Indiana leads the procession.—Indianapolis News.

WADE HAMPTON thinks the farmers' alliance in the south is dying out rapidly, and says that many of its members are leaving it, and that its demise may be expected complete within a year or two. Hampton's prediction must be taken with some degree of allowance. He, as well as Ingals, had his political grave dug by the alliance, and of course does not feel very friendly toward the organization.

The sum of $125,000 was offered for a horse last week in the east and refused. It would seem that some men have much more money than brains, who would tender such sums of money for a horse. The horse interest is, however, every year, becoming more powerful in this country, and is commanding much money.

DID Sim (Coy) get only thirty pieces. —Attica Ledger.

Direct your question to the managers of the republican campaign in Indianapolis. It is probable that they gave him more than thirty pieces, yet at this time it would seem that that price was entirely too high.

"STATE PRIDE" seems to have been entirely overlooked in the late Indianapolis election and Ben. Harrison heard with regret that his city had gone near 3,000 majority against the republican nominee for mayor.

Last Thursday, at Stockton, Cal., on a kite-shaped track, Sunol, the great mare of the Golden State, trotted a mile in 2:09 1/4, clipping Maud S's time half a second, and lowering the world's record.

Poisoned by Scrofula

Is the sad story of many lives made miserable through no fault of their own. Scrofula is more especially than any other a hereditary disease, and for this simple reason: Arising from impure and insufficient blood, the disease locates itself in the lymphatics, which are composed of white tissues; there is a period of foetal life when the whole body consists of white tissues, and therefore the unborn child is especially susceptible to this dreadful disease. But there is a remedy for scrofula, whether hereditary or acquired. It is Hood's Sarsaparilla, which by its powerful effect on the blood, expels all trace of the disease and gives to the vital fluid the quality and color of health. If you decide to take Hood's Sarsaparilla do not accept a substitute.

Saved my Child's Life

J. S. Weaver, Secretary Iron Steamboat Company, New York, says: I wish to say to the public that I had a child about four years of age, lying at the point of death with summer complaint (diarrhoea), the doctor and all of us having given up hope. The doctor, however, advised us to get some of Speer's Port Wine, and give her a little at a time very little, but often. As a last resort we did so, and I say that Speer's Port Wine saved her life. She is my only child. I had never seen Mr. Speer, but with tears of joy I went and told him that his wine had saved the life of my only child.

Allow me to add my tribute to the efficacy to Ely's Cream balm. I was suffering from a severe attack of influenza and catarrh and was induced to try your remedy. The result was marvelous. I could hardly articulate, and in less than twenty-four hours the catarrhal symptoms and my hoarseness disappeared and I was able to sing a heavy role in Grand Opera with voice unimpaired. I strongly recommend it to all singers. Wm. H. Hamilton, Leading Bass of the C. D. Hess Grand Opera Co.
