THE SPECIAL CALL.
The Indiana Democracy Will Begin Work on January 2nd, 1892.
To the Democracy of Indiana.

The Democratic state convention of 1890, directed the formation of a new state committee in the month of January, 1892, and every two years thereafter.

In compliance therewith the following instructions are issued:

The Democrats of each county are directed to meet in mass convention at the county seat of such county at 1 o'clock p. m., on Saturday January 2, 1892.

Each county convention shall select delegates to the district convention hereinafter named, in the ratio of one delegate for every two hundred votes (and for any fraction or more than one hundred votes) cast in said county for Claude Matthews, secretary of state, at the November election, 1890.

On Friday, the 8th day of January, 1892, at 1 o'clock p. m., the delegates selected in each congressional district shall meet in such congressional district at the following place.

First District—Evansville, Ind.
Second District—Washington, Indiana.

Third District—Jeffersonville, Ind.
Fourth District—Geensburg, Ind.
Fifth District—Martinsville, Ind.
Sixth District—Cambridge City, Ind.
Seventh District—Indianapolis, Ind.
Eighth District—Terre Haute, Ind.
Ninth District—Frankfort, Ind.
Tenth District—Logansport, Ind.
Eleventh District—Bluffton, Ind.
Twelfth District—Fort Wayne, Ind.
Thirteenth District—South Bend, Ind.

The delegates in each congressional district shall proceed to select, by a vote of the majority of said delegates, a number of the committee for such district.

The chairman and secretary of each district meeting shall forthwith certify to the secretary of the state committee the names of the persons selected as members of the state committee for such district.

On the 20th day of January, 1892, the state committee so selected will meet at the committee rooms in Indianapolis to elect officers and proceed with the work of organization.

By order of the Democratic state committee.

CHAS. L. JEWETT, Chairman.
JOS. L. REILEY, Secretary.

THE DEAD HOVEY.

It is remarkable that many a man's good qualities, ability and attainments are not discovered until he is dead. This seems to have been the case with the late Governor Hovey, of Indiana. His nomination for governor was purely an accident, was not intended by the schemers and wire-pullers of his party, who could not forgive themselves that they permitted it, through want of vigilance on their part, to occur. Hovey was a self-willed, determined man and could not be driven by the whippers-in of his party. He was, in fact, a good official, and attended to the duties of his office with close attention. He took a decided stand in favor of the new election law, the school book law and the new tax law—all of them, by the way, democratic measures. The leaders of his party, those who trade in politics, the "blocks-of-five" element of the party, did not like him for this. He feared not to do what he considered was right, regardless of party clamor and party curse. Since he has passed from time to eternity his former defamers are loud in their praise of him, and cannot speak in terms too highly now of the dead Hovey. Now this sounds insincere, far fetched and hypocritical. Why did they not discover all these good qualities in him months ago? If he was not a correct man when living why hesitate to say so after he is gone? If an official has good qualities he should read of them occasionally while living. It may be some consolation to him in his dying moments.

By the death of Hovey a good preacher will be changed, no doubt, into a poor governor by the stepping into the gubernatorial position of the Rev. Ira Chase, a minister of the Christian, or "Campbellite" denomination. Chase was in Ohio at the time of Hovey's death, the dispatch said, making political speeches and holding religious meetings. The two, politics and religion, don't mix very well—never did. The public in general have little faith in these extraneous politicians. There is always more or less of the hypocrite about them. Politics itself is a field in which genuine, devout, God fearing ministers have no more to do with than possible. It is not to their liking. Rev. Chase has a little over a year to serve as governor, should he live, after which he can go back to the pulpit, as he will not be wanted after that time.

The editorial that recently appeared in Indianapolis Journal, in which the assertion was made that the Republican party is no longer "in touch" with the people, has been the topic upon which the press of the state has made many comments. The Richmond Item takes up the matter and comments thus:

Whose fault is it that the working class of people have lost sympathy with the Republican party to such an extent as to cause the Journal to bewail the fact? Is it not the fault of those within the party who have allowed it to drift away from its original moorings—to lose sight to a great extent, of the grand principles of liberty and equality which gave it birth and victory?

As stated by the Journal, you can not revive popular interest in the party by organizing clubs, giving the old men a back seat and pushing the young men to the front. You must first cleanse the party of the greedy mercenaries that are wrecking it; you must change it into something more than a manufacturers' protective tariff agency; you must abjure that unholy alliance between Republicanism and monopoly; must kick the boodlers out of the national committee; must drive the money changers out of party temple.

Not many Republican newspapers are so outspoken. The Item is quite independent, but its criticisms are just, and many Republicans will approve its utterances.

THE OFFICIAL VOTE.

The official vote of Iowa and Ohio has been completed and the total vote for State officers is as follows:

Iowa.—Boies, Dem., 207,575; Wheeler, Rep., 193,759; Westfall, People, 11,986; Gibson, Prohi, 902. Plurality for Boies, 7,816. Total vote of the state, 420,214, the largest vote ever cast.

Ohio.—McKinley, Rep., 336,739; Campbell, Dem., 335,228; Ashenhorst, Prohi, 20,190; Seitz, People, 23,472. Plurality for McKinley, 21,511. Total vote in the state, 795,629.

It will be seen that in Iowa the People's party only polled 11,986 out of a total vote of 420,214, and in Ohio the People's party polled 23,472 out of a total vote of 795,629. The Prohis in Ohio were only about 3,000 behind the People's party.

In both the States the vote of the People's party was a little less than three per cent. of the total vote cast. The People's party stands about as much show to win in 1892 as the Prohis do.

The truth is, the Democratic party is the party of the people and its principles are indelible.

THE TAX-PAYERS SHOULD NOT PAY.

If the disbarment proceedings in the case of Geo. W. Paul come up again, as threatened, it is hoped the tax payers will not the next time be compelled to pay any bills whatever in the matter. They certainly should not. The public is not interested in lawyers' quarrels and wrangles, and let them pay their own bills if they want to fight. Two attorneys were paid $125 each for their great labor(?) in the former proceedings. The public considered the allowance then as entirely wrong, morally at least, if not legally. With no "blood" in it to any body engaged in it there will not be half the anxiety to dishar anybody. We hope the court will give the parties who desire to engage in the matter distinctly to understand that Montgomery county is not going to pay for it, that is, if they are going to dance they must pay for the music.

MINNEAPOLIS "SAW" THEM.

In the locating of the national republican convention next year at Minneapolis by the committee it was noticed that a large number of millionaires from that city were in attendance at the meeting in Washington City last week. Delegations from other cities have since made the charge that the committee in making the selection was "influenced" by said millionaires. No doubt this is correct. If you want to get on the correct side of the average republican politician just tickle his palms with the cash and he is yours, regardless of the justice, sense or propriety of any cause in which he has an interest. It is quite probable that San Francisco, Omaha and Cincinnati did not have long enough purses.

The official count in Ohio shows a state of facts not generally known, but of more than ordinary political interest. McKinley's plurality is 21,511, but he did not receive a majority of the votes cast—he is a minority Governor. And a still more important truth is noted in the fact that McKinley, the "simon-pure" representative of the high protection idea on the Republican ticket, had a plurality of 5,500 less than any of his colleagues on the high protection idea on the Republican ticket. He ran behind his ticket over 5,000 votes, thereby demonstrating weakness that can be accounted for only by the fact that he is the author and particular champion of the McKinley Bill.

In another column it will be noted that a democratic mass meeting will be held on Saturday, Jan. 24, 1892, to select delegates to attend the district convention at Terre Haute, to select a committee for this congressional district. This will be the first of the many political meetings to be held next year, and a full attendance of the democrats of the county should be on hand.

SHERMAN VS. FORAKER.
As the time rolls around for the selection of a U. S. Senator by the Ohio legislature the interest in the contest between Sherman and Foraker increases. Of the two Sherman is undoubtedly much the best man, although heretofore having somewhat of a monopoly of the office. Sherman is safe and conservative, cool and collected. Foraker is a hot-head, a bitter partisan, a bloody-shirt patriot, who could see nothing good outside of his own party. Sherman, we believe, will be again chosen.

SENATOR BRICE ORDERS A CALL ISSUED FOR DECEMBER 3.

S. F. Sherin, Secretary of the National Democratic Committee and ex-officio Secretary of the Executive Committee of that body, has, by direction of Senator Brice, Chairman, issued a call for a meeting of the Executive Committee at the Arlington Hotel, Washington, December 8, 1891.

The Executive Committee is composed of twenty five members of the National Committee.

The republican leaders in Ohio, enthused by their late victory, have determined to try and unseat Hon. Calvin Brice, by charging that he was not a resident of that state when elected. A number of the cooler heads of the party are opposed to such proceedings, and there seems no ground for such charge, as Mr. Brice has never voted in any other state, and the effort will prove a failure to throw him out.

The bad weather of last month delayed the construction of the line for the natural gas plant considerably, but it is now probable that it will be completed by the last of next week at the farthest. Natural gas would be much appreciated now, judging from the high prices of coal.

PURDUE has beaten all the other college football teams, and will now carry the pennant, whatever that is. It is questionable, however, whether they will carry the pennant for proficiency in the business for which they attend college. "Sports" generally don't like text books.

W. W. Dudley announced some time since that he was out of politics. In the interest of decency it is to be hoped that this is true, and that he will stay out. It is an indication of purer politics when such scheming scoundrels as he conclude to quit, although a heavy blow to the republican party.

John L. Sullivan, the prize-fighter, announces that he will fight Slavin, the English champion in September or October next, after which, winning or losing, he will permanently retire from the ring. For the decency of the human race it is hoped he will.

The war between the baking powder makers still groweth apace, the main warfare being between the Royal and Price, with occasional spats among the smaller fry of the business. In the meantime the public is obtaining good baking powder from all of them.

The Anderson Democrat comes out last week in favor of Bynum for governor, although Capt. W. R. Myers lives in that town. This is done probably as a "back stop" to Myers, who threatened the publication of a new democratic paper there.

A BLAINE club of 300 members has been organized at Muncie. By the way, it is noticed that Harrison clubs are not being formed very rapidly in Indiana, and for "State Pride's" sake this is too bad.

St. Paul, Minnesota, will make an effort to secure the location of the national democratic convention next year.

Merit Wins.

We desire to say to our citizens, that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklen's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sell as well, or that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time and we stand ready to refund the purchase price, if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merits. Nye & Co., Druggists.

The Crawfordsville Review For the Campaign of 1892.

Premiums to Those Getting Subscribers

The political campaign of 1892 will soon be upon us. Indiana, as in the past two decades will be again an important point on the political battle ground. The selections as candidates for the important national positions to be chosen, it would seem at this time, will be made in part from this state, consequently the fight will be "red hot" and exciting. Presidential, state and county officers are to be chosen, and politics will be as thick to the square inch as ever.

THE REVIEW, For 50 years a Democratic newspaper in Montgomery county, will labor, as in the past, for Democratic principles. We desire to increase and extend its circulation, and offer to those procuring subscribers for the ensuing year the following
