

THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN NERVINE TONIC AND Stomach & Liver Cure

The Most Astonishing Medical Discovery of the Last One Hundred Years.

It is Pleasant to the Taste as the Sweetest Nectar.
It is Safe and Harmless as the Purest Milk.

This wonderful Nervine Tonic has only recently been introduced into this country by the proprietors and manufacturers of the Great South American Nervine Tonic, and yet its great value as a curative agent has long been known by a few of the most learned physicians, who have not brought its merits and value to the knowledge of the general public.

This medicine has completely solved the problem of the cure of indigestion, dyspepsia, and diseases of the general nervous system. It is also of the greatest value in the cure of all forms of failing health from whatever cause. It performs this by the great nervous tonic qualities which it possesses, and by its great curative powers upon the digestive organs, the stomach, the liver, and the bowels. No remedy compares with this wonderfully valuable Nervine Tonic as a builder and strengthener of the life forces of the human body, and as a great renewer of a broken-down constitution. It is also of more real permanent value in the treatment and cure of diseases of the lungs than any consumption remedy ever used on this continent. It is a marvelous cure for nervousness of females of all ages. Ladies who are approaching the critical period known as change in life, should not fail to use this great Nervine Tonic, almost constantly, for the space of two or three years. It will carry them safely over the danger. This great strengthener and curative is of inestimable value to the aged and infirm, because its great energizing properties will give them a new hold on life. It will add ten or fifteen years to the lives of many of those who will use a half dozen bottles of the remedy each year.

IT IS A GREAT REMEDY FOR THE CURE OF

Nervousness,
Nervous Prostration,
Nervous Headache,
Sick Headache,
Female Weakness,
Nervous Chills,
Paralysis,
Nervous Paroxysms and
Nervous Choking,
Hot Flashes,

All these and many other complaints cured by this wonderful Nervine Tonic.

NERVOUS DISEASES.

As a cure for every class of Nervous Diseases, no remedy has been able to compare with the Nervine Tonic, which is very pleasant and harmless in all its effects upon the youngest child or the oldest and most delicate individual. Nine-tenths of all the ailments to which the human family is heir are dependent on nervous exhaustion and impaired digestion. When there is an insufficient supply of nerve food in the blood, a general state of debility of the brain, spinal marrow, and nerves is the result. Starved nerves, like starved muscles, become strong when the right kind of food is supplied; and a thousand weaknesses and ailments disappear as the nerves recover. As the nervous system must supply all the power by which the vital forces of the body are carried on, it is the first to suffer for want of perfect nutrition. Ordinary food does not contain a sufficient quantity of the kind of nutriment necessary to repair the wear our present mode of living and labor imposes upon the nerves. For this reason it becomes necessary that a nerve food be supplied. This South American Nervine has been found by analysis to contain the essential elements out of which nerve tissue is formed. This accounts for its universal adaptability to the cure of all forms of nervous derangement.

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind., Aug. 20, '86.
To the Great South American Medicinal Co.:
DEAR GENTS—I desire to say to you that I have suffered for many years with a very serious disease, and have been unable to find any remedy I could bear of but this, which done me any appreciable good until I was advised to try your Great South American Nervine Tonic and Stomach & Liver Cure, and since using same I have been perfectly well. I am very much surprised at its wonderful power to cure the stomach and general nervous system. If everyone knew the value of this remedy as I do you would not be able to supply the demand.

A SWORN CURE FOR ST. VITAS' DANCE OR CHOREA.

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind., June 22, 1887.
My daughter, eleven years old, was severely afflicted with St. Vitus' Dance or Chorea. We gave her three and one-half bottles of South American Nervine and she is completely restored. I believe it will cure every case of St. Vitus' Dance. I have kept it in my family for two years, and am sure it is the greatest remedy in the world for Indigestion and Dyspepsia, and for all forms of Nervous Disorders and Failing Health, from whatever cause.

INDIGESTION AND DYSPEPSIA.

The Great South American Nervine Tonic
Which we now offer you, is the only absolutely unfailing remedy ever discovered for the cure of Indigestion, Dyspepsia, and the vast train of symptoms and horrors which are the result of disease and debility of the human stomach. No person can afford to pass by this jewel of incalculable value who is affected by disease of the stomach, because the experience and testimony of many go to prove that this is the ONE and ONLY ONE great cure in the world for this universal destroyer. There is no case of unmalignant disease of the stomach which can resist the wonderful curative powers of the South American Nervine Tonic.

HARRET E. HALL, of Waynetown, Ind., says: "I cannot express how much I owe to the Nervine Tonic. My system was completely shattered, appetite gone, was coughing and spitting up blood; am sure I was in the first stages of consumption, an inheritance handed down through several generations. I began taking the Nervine Tonic, and continued its use for three months, and the result that I was able to walk about, and a few bottles more, and the entire cure. I believe it is the best medicine in the world. I can not recommend it too highly."

THREE SCORE SLAIN.

Awful Work of the Cyclone in Kansas.

THE DEATHS NOW ESTIMATED AT 60.

Dwellings Demolished and Their Occupants Crushed in the Ruins—Some of the Strange Freaks of the Wind.

SIXTY ARE DEAD.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 4.—As the telegraph service is being reestablished through the storm-swept district of Kansas many strange stories are being brought in about the freaks of the wind which caused so much devastation all over the western part of the state. The list of dead and injured is increased with every new report received and it is now estimated that the list of fatalities will reach six within the state border, while three are reported killed at Oklahoma.

The Death Roll.

The following is the estimate placed on the dead and wounded as near as it can be ascertained at this time: South Haven, eight dead and thirty-two injured; Wellington, four dead and twenty-three injured; on farms between these two towns, five dead and nine injured; Topeka, seventeen dead and forty-five wounded; Augusta, seven dead and nineteen injured; Homestead, five dead and seven injured; Strong City, two dead and eight wounded; Salina, fifteen injured, three fatally. These towns are the only ones from which anything like a definite report has been obtained, but from meager reports received the dead at other places will make up the estimate of sixty, as stated above.

In most instances those who were killed died instantly from being struck by flying debris, and in only three or four cases were the deaths lingering. The hundreds who were injured have principally broken limbs and severe contusions. In very few cases will the injuries prove fatal, although many victims were compelled to lie all night in the soaking rain which followed the storm.

Fury of the Storm.

The storm was a hurricane with a tornado tendency. While the hurricane was blowing at a fearful rate tornadoes would form directly in the path of the storm and rage for a short distance, tearing down everything in their way, and then they would scatter and the broad sweep of the gale would continue with unabated fury. It was these tornadoes which caused the greatest destruction of property and loss of life. As long as the straight wind blew the people had little to fear, but it was the terrible twister which carried the houses from their foundations and scattered wrecks and ruin along the route of the storm. The damage done by the hurricane was to build walls and fruit trees, while the tornadoes destroyed large dwellings and human life.

Some Strange Freaks.

Butler and Greenwood counties appear to have been the worst victims, as they were in the immediate center of the low atmospheric pressure. From these counties come the stories of the wind's fantastic work. A son of William Eggers, in Butler county, was taken from his father's arms by the force of the wind and dashed against a tree in front of the horrified parents, while the father barely felt the force of the wind.

William Conners and James Horton were driving in a light wagon when the storm approached them, and they whipped their horses into a run to escape. Conners jumped out and ran to the head of the team, when a tornado struck them. The wagon with Horton were blown away and he was killed. The horses and Conners were unhurt, and he says he did not feel the wind at all.

James Wilson, in Greenwood county, was caught up by the tornado, carried through the air and forced against the side of a barn, where a scantling was run through his body. He was pinned to the barn 8 feet from the ground and died in horrible agony.

A schoolhouse standing in the path of the storm near Augusta was carried away almost intact. The building was torn from the floor, which was left standing. On the floor the tables, books and other school supplies were left entirely undisturbed.

The house of William Rice in Topeka was not only taken away, but even the foundation stones were blown out of the ground and the place smoothed over as if there had never been a house there.

At Haven River a cow was lifted from the ground and carried to the top of a house and deposited on an angle of the roof so that she could not fall, and it was necessary to kill her to get her from her position.

Summer County Devastated.

WELLINGTON, Kan., April 4.—The cyclone and waterspout which passed through Sumner county Thursday night was the most destructive in the history of Kansas. The roaring of the wind was heard for miles. Starting at a point eighteen miles southeast of this city, it cut a path of ruin and desolation twenty miles long and one-fourth to one-half a mile wide. Nothing was spared and everything above ground was literally torn to pieces. Trees were torn up by the roots and buildings, live stock and fences were picked up and carried long distances. Over thirty farmhouses were blown to pieces besides innumerable barns and outbuildings.

At Dalton, 5 miles west of this city, the storm was fiercest. The house of William Little was crushed and he and his four children killed and his wife badly injured. Near by, Samuel Butterworth's house collapsed and he and four members of the family were carried 300 yards and dropped into an orchard. His hip was crushed and his leg broken. His daughter was caught in the timbers of the house but escaped with slight injuries. There were thirteen persons in Joe Showalter's house when it was struck and all were injured. Showalter had a leg broken and other injuries. Mr. Maple and his son, of Portland, were badly injured by the wrecking of their house and the father will die. About fifty persons in all were injured and as yet it is impossible to make any estimate of the damage to property.

Many Dead at Wamego.

WAMEGO, Kan., April 4.—Friday's windstorm passed from the south to the north about 2 miles east of Wamego, and five deaths are so far reported, while one other person, Charles Fowler, will not live. The deaths are Mrs. Albert Eggers and two children, Joseph Johnson and a child of Charles Taylor.

Wiped Off the Map.

SALINA, Kan., April 4.—Reports from various parts of the country bring news of great disaster caused by the storm Thursday night. The little village of Vine Creek was wiped out. At Smolar ever house is demolished and one child reported killed. Oakville, a small village, is blown away and not a house left standing. Several were injured there but not seriously.

Great Damage at Omaha.

OMAHA, Neb., April 4.—Thirty of the best residences in the town were completely destroyed by Thursday night's cyclone. Almost every house in the north and west part of the town is more or less damaged, and almost every store in the business portion sustained some injury. The damages are $100,000 and probably more. There was not any tornado insurance.

The cyclone crossed the Kansas line at or near Bostwick, this county. Much damage is reported done at Bostwick. The path of the storm is one-half mile wide. Most of the farm houses in its path from Bostwick are leveled to the ground. As yet it is impossible to obtain accurate news. The houses of Anderson Rose, Abe Stape, Brierby and others southwest of Nelson, also the outbuildings, were leveled to the ground. Several persons are reported injured in the country and two killed.

In Iowa.

BURLINGTON, Ia., April 4.—Reports are coming in from all over Iowa of damage by Friday's storm. At Bloomfield part of the brick from C. H. Cronie's drug store was blown to the ground. The roof of the masonic building was stripped off. A great many outbuildings were demolished. No one was seriously injured. At Vinton the storm was terrific, unroofing many buildings. Great damage is reported from farming districts from wind and lightning. The damage in Iowa will amount to thousands of dollars.

DUEL OVER A WIDOW.

Two Louisianians Meet on the Field of Honor and One is Instantly Killed.

NEW ORLEANS, La., April 4.—A duel was fought on Turnbull's island, at the mouth of the Red river, Saturday morning at 8 o'clock between A. Kirk and M. McGowan, both of West Melville, resulting in the latter being instantly killed. The ball penetrated near the left eye and came out close to the right ear. The weapons used were Winchester rifles and the distance 100 yards. Mr. Kirk was seconded by John Butler and McGowan by William Martin. The duelists were placed back to back. At the signal to turn McGowan fired but missed, when his adversary took deliberate aim and sent the bullet on its deadly mission.

The cause of the duel dates back about two years. At that time Kirk was engaged to Miss Nelly Hill. The engagement was broken because of alleged slanders circulated against him by Tobe Powell. Kirk then proposed and was accepted by Mrs. Theig, a wealthy widow. He claims that McGowan revived the old charges against him in order to break this engagement and ingratiate himself with the widow. A challenge followed, was accepted, and resulted in the duel Saturday. Powell challenged Kirk in September, 1890, the challenge being accepted, but the former, at the last moment, backed out. Kirk acknowledged in an interview that, being crossed in his love for Miss Hill, he intended marrying the widow for her money, and McGowan had the same intention.

May Unseat the Democrat.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—Mr. O'Farrell (Va.), from the house committee on elections, reported the contested election case of Noyes against Rockwell from the Twenty-eighth New York district, with the recommendation that Rockwell, democrat, the sitting member, be unseated, and Noyes, republican, be given the seat.

The Mississippi Legislature Adjourns.

JACKSON, Miss., April 4.—The Mississippi legislature adjourned Saturday afternoon after a three months' session. The legislature of 1892, composed largely of farmers and alliance men, will pass into history as the "shortest" ever assembled in the state.

Silk Manufacturers Asso.

BOSTON, April 4.—Peter Anthony & Son, manufacturers of silk embroideries, 88 Lincoln street, and factory at West Roxbury, have assigned to H. W. Sawyer, of Cambridge, and J. R. Nutt, of Boston. Liabilities, $150,000.

Two Rock Island Boys Drowned.

ROCK ISLAND, Ill., April 4.—Fingel Hill and Lee Johnson, the latter a son of Editor Johnson of the Union, were drowned in the Mississippi here while boating. Their two companions were barely rescued.

Fleeced Working Girls.

NILES, Mich., April 4.—Recent developments show that young Frank H. Bishop neglected $8,000 worth of forged paper in the last two years. He borrowed from working girls to the extent of $1,000.

Confessed His Awful Deed.

HOUSTON, Tex., April 4.—Walter E. Shaw is said to have confessed that he killed his mother and aunt with a razor in order to get $40 with which to continue a spree.

Castoria.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."

Dr. G. C. Oswood,

Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."

Dr. J. F. KINCHLOE,

Conway, Ark.

The Centaur Company, 77 Murray Street, New York City.

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."

H. A. ARCHER, M. D.,

111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoke highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."
