Montgomery County News

WINGATE.

Health good, no need for doctors.

The train killed another horse for Ben Fly.

Potatoes are scarce in this part of the county.

Twenty-three houses have been built in Wingate in the last 12 months.

Dan Carter has moved to his new residence that has just been completed.

E. Gilkey sold 10 acres of land adjoining Wingate, to Chas and Day Grimes for $1,000.

The game of the Republicans in this precinct is to get all the democrats to move that have to, before the election.

Some of our boys went to Black Rock, on the Wabash, fishing and came home with black eyes and no fish.

Wash Badsin has moved to his new place and seems to be well pleased. Wash is all right, since he took the Keeley cure.

W. R. Myers spoke in our town, on the 27th. The Republicans were well pleased with the speech, and of course the democrats were too.

SHILOH.

John Byrd is on the petit jury.

The Shiloh young people spent Sunday at Asher Wert's.

Frank Smith is not able to navigate, having sprained both of his feet.

Miss Hannah Johnson is teaching school at the brick school house this winter.

Rev. W. H. Sherill, the new minister, will preach his first sermon here Sunday evening.

A prize fight will probably be arranged to take place in this neighborhood soon.

Zeph Newland, who has lived on Tom Lynch's farm so long, has moved to Smartsburg.

There will be an ice cream supper at this place on Saturday evening, Oct. 15. Everybody invited.

Whoever heard of a Presidential campaign with so little excitement. The drum corps, tin horns, torches, etc. being entirely unknown. We believe it to be the best way, but still it seems so very unusual.

DARLINGTON.

Dry and dusty.

B. Kimsey is back from Kentucky.

Darlington has three butcher shops.

Craig Johnson is able to be out again.

Mat Griffin went to Frankfort, Wednesday.

Newt. Johnson had a public sale last Monday.

Ed. Rinker has gone to Morgan county on a visit.

John Kersey, of Frankfort, was here this week.

The steam shovel is still doing work near here.

Billy Wheeler, of Tacoma, Wash., is visiting here.

Wheat is still going lower, only 66 cents for the best.

Sam Giffin has bought half interest in Ead's butcher shop.

Link Hayes has gone to his old home in Washington county.

V. Craig and wife have abandoned their trip to Oregon.

We need rain badly as the pastures and wheat are drying up.

John Thornburg had one leg broken by being kicked by a horse.

Tom and Elijah Avery, of Middle Fork, were here Wednesday.

Bert Nobes is administrator of the estate of the late A. M. Straten.

The Vandalia has taken off the fast trains. We regret it very much.

Sam Booher is attending the Lutheran conference in Marion county.

It is said by those who know that Darlington will not burn gas this winter.

Bob Dunbar, candidate for county commissioner, was here Tuesday evening.

Dave McCalister, the next Senator from this county, was here Tuesday night.

Don't forget the democratic speaking at Shannondale, Saturday night. All are invited.

Mr. Johnson, of Indianapolis, is having a barn put up on the late John Hollingworth's farm.

Willey Marshall, who was caught by the work train here some time ago, is still confined to his room.

Mr. Verts, who was kicked by a horse, was seen on our streets last Wednesday but still has his jaw tied up.

Will Mullin sold his old stand-by mare at the sale last Monday for $9, to a liverman of Crawfordsville.

Ira Booher, wife and their little grandson, will start next week for Chicago to remain about two weeks.

John M. Booher is erecting a wind pump to be used in the creamery. John wants good cool butter milk to drink.

Wm. Simmons died at Frankfort last

20,000 Bushels!

20,000 BUSHELS MILLING WHEAT

MUST HAVE IT QUICK.

I have just taken a contract to fill an order for 20,000 bushels of Milling Wheat for one of the largest milling houses in Indiana. I have 30 days in which to fill the contract and will not permit anything to stand in my way to do it. Bring on you wheat now and get

An Outside Price.

Farmers

Don't be deceived by the little brass tester. I don't require your wheat to weigh 58 pounds in order to give you No. 2 prices. It doesn't matter what your wheat weighs so the grain is plump and dry. Your wheat does not have to grade No. 2 to get an outside price. All I require of it is to be good milling wheat. Come and get honest weights and honest prices.

L. S. AYERS & CO.,
INDIANAPOLIS, IND.

Tuesday and was buried here Wednesday, Rev. M. B. McKinsey officiating.

John Bible, Grant Agnew, Walter Hulet and Wally Sparks all attended the democratic speaking here Tuesday night.

If we had more dwelling houses in Darlington they could be occupied. Why don't some one build a lot of houses to rent? It would pay twenty per cent. on the investment.

James Flannighan and Miss Myrtle Elliot were married last Wednesday. May they live long and happy together is the wish of your scribe.

Last Tuesday night the hall here was packed full of people to hear E. V. Brookshire speak, but to their great disappointment he did not come and James Seller poured out tariff to them to his best ability, not being prepared or loaded as he said, in conclusion, but no one but Mr. Brookshire could have satisfied that crowd of democrats who come out to hear him. There were several republicans present also to hear him speak. Now we will forgive him this time for not coming, but send us another appointment and be sure and come.

Cloaks. Cloaks.

Grand Cloak Opening. All the late styles, color and weaves, at the Trade Palace cloak Parlor, Saturday and Saturday night, Oct. 8.

We will show everything new and stylish in fall and winter garments, as we have made special arrangements with one of the largest Eastern factories to have everything novel and new in this line on exhibition.

One of their expert fitters will be with us all day and evening and will take pleasure in showing you through. Come. We especially invite you. You will see hundreds of handsome new garments, models in fine styles, good taste and fair prices. Don't forget Saturday, day and night. At the Trade Palace cloak parlor.

And now a theatrical manager is bringing out an Ute Indian as a star. There is a tendency in some quarters to turn the stage into a museum.

Glen Park

The beautiful grove just west of the city limits known as Britton's Glen, has been platted into large suburban lots and named Glen Park.

These lots vary in size from two to four acres, and so arranged as to provide a beautiful building site in the grove and tillable land in the grove on each lot.

There are over 200 fine forest trees, mostly hard maple, in this tract of land, and it is conceded by all to be the most attractive and beautiful place for suburban homes anywhere within reach of the city.

It is situated in a good neighborhood on one of the finest drives leading from the city and there is no railroad to cross.

Lots will be sold persons buying for a home at very reasonable prices, one-third purchase money down and from one to three years time, or longer if desired, on deferred payments.

Call at the office of Britton & Moffett, attorneys, and examine the plat and learn prices.
