PROSPECTIVE PRESIDENTIAL CAN-DIDATES.

The politicians are already commencing to figure upon the names of persons who may be candidates for President in 1896. At this time it would seem that David B. Hill is the natural candidate for the democracy. Tammany and Hill rendered splendid service this year and gave the democracy a splendid majority to figure upon hereafter. Cleveland's majority this year in New York is larger than was Tilden's in 1876. Hill is right in the way for the next nomination, and there are few candidates that could push him aside for some other man.

Who will the republicans nominate in four years. The party this year transferred its worship from Blaine to Mc-Kinley, and he did seem as the one man alone of the party who would be nominated in 1896. But the last election has put a quietus on McKinley. The general repudiation which his tariff measure has received throughout the country would render his nomination very impolitic. Who will be nominated, it would, at this early date, be an impossibility to reasonably guess, but not Mc-Kinley.

For the next third party if no one else will take the nomination, Weaver, no doubt, will consent to the use of his name.

THE CORRECT METHOD.

The results of the Australian system of managing elections more than met the expectations of those favoring it, and indicate to its friends that the days of an honest ballot and a fair count are here and are to stay. We see at such elections little of the disgraceful plans that distinguished the old system. No pulling of men up to the polls with a ticket marked according to previous arrangement. No buying of men as you would cattle distinguishes the present system, but every voter is compelled by the law to be his own free moral agent —no one can mark the ticket for him.
The new law is fatal to republican calculations and schemings. They cannot demoralize the people to the extent of the former elections by the use of money or by intimidation. Their greatest political triumphs have been won by the bold and fearless use of money.
Their leaders know this. Their plan was to get in power and get it by any means they possessed. Let us hope that the dawn of purer elections is here, that the days of bribery, brow-beating and intimidations are over, that elections in their results will be the true expression and desire of the people. If you are beaten fairly at the polls your disappointment is soon over,—if by money, the thing rankles in your bosom for years. Let all honest people, democrats, republicans, prohibs, and all others hail the day of honest election by the adoption of the Australian system.

THE LATE CAMPAIGN.

Everybody will rejoice that the campaign is over and that there will be much less of politics for a year or more.
There was one thing to be noticed about the political battle of 1892. There was this time much less animosity, vendic-tiveness and party rancor than before in many years. It was also observed that there were fewer wagers made on the result and apparently less interest in the campaign than any heretofore in twenty years. While there were as many speeches as ever, the public seemed to be indifferent quite often to their utterances and had made up their minds long since just how they would vote.
Altogether the campaign of 1892 will be distinguished hereafter by the moderation and good sense that attended it, and one in which subsequent political contests in most particulars should be modeled after. It interfered very little with regular business matters, and the people did not lose their senses while it was under way.

A scramble, we suppose, will at once commence by thousands of democrats for official positions now that Cleveland is elected. These gentlemen, many of whom are democrats for revenue only, should remember that Grover is a stickler for civil service, and they should investigate first to see if they are the fellows wanted.

WHAT DID IT.

After the smoke of the late political battle has arisen from the field and the disastrous defeat of the republican party is seen and made known, the leaders are beginning to ask themselves the question "what caused it?" The cause is easily explained. In was McKinley-ism and high tariff. That's what brought around the republican Waterloo—nothing else. The advanced thinkers of that party saw where McKinleyism was leading the country, hence the Greshams, MacVeighs, Cooleys and scores of other lights of the party began to desert it.
They saw it was monopoly against the common people, capital against labor.
They saw and knew that the oft repeated phrase "the tariff is a tax," was a truth in every word. They saw that the words "home market" was a fraud and a deception, originated for the purpose of hoodwinking the people; that a war tariff in time of peace was wrong and oppressive. It was the McKinley tariff law that caused staid old republican states like Illinois and Wisconsin to wheel around into the democratic column. These things brought around the defeat of the republican party. It had too large a load to carry, but has stalled and broken down. The verdict is rendered against the republican party. It must remain now out of power for a long time to come. It is doubtful if it can ever again recruit itself to sufficient strength to be formidable in the political field. It has lent its aid too much against the common people in favor of the monopolists and must now retire.

NO CHANGE IN SALARIES.

It is thought by some that an attempt will be made at the ensuing term of the State legislature to so modify the new salary law governing the pay of county offices as to largely increase their emoluments. This would be entirely wrong, and greatly incense the people against the party doing so. Every man elected on the 8th, to a county office knew almost exactly what the office would be worth to him long ago, and if not satisfied he need not accept the position. If the democracy would meet a Waterloo in 1894, just let the next legislature increase the pay of county officers. The people are in no humor whatever to have any increase in the pay of county officials, but do favor the abolition of several offices such as county assessor, school superintendent and others, and if the legislature dares to increase by a law, the pay of any public officials the party will meet with a defeat at the next election such as it has not known in years. With the present debt of the State hanging over the people such talk is ridiculous, nonsensical and very impolitic.

A PIOUS DEMAGOGUE.

Of all the candidates on the republican State ticket who were defeated we know of none more deserving of it than that pious old demagogue, Gov. Ira Chase. We have the utmost contempt for the man who seeks to combine his politics with his religious profession for his political advancement. Chase did this. His sermon here, his pious obituary there, his pious remarks everywhere at gatherings were all delivered with an eye to the main chance—his election for Governor of Indiana.
And the people generally who have an abhorrence for hypocritical utterances and assertions were not slow to "catch on." They seemed from the start to read the man and his motives, and his cunning piety deceived very few. He supposed from the heretofore conceived idea among many that his church, the Christian, regardless of the politics of its members, would clank together for his support. That church here in Crawfordsville is one of the strongest of the denomination in the State, yet few if any of the democrats in it voted for him. They concluded doubtless he might better for himself stay out of politics and have generously aided in retiring him.

CAMPAIGN EXPENSES.

To get every vote in the box possible, the republicans made as energetic efforts here last week as they ever have.
Money was furnished in vast quantities by the State Central Committee and men who were former residents but now live hundreds of miles away were sent to return and vote. Numbers came from as far away as Kansas, many from Illinois and points east, and even "the administration" sent out a half dozen or more from Washington City to this county to vote for Harrison and the republican State and county tickets.
Hundreds of dollars must have been spent in this way. The money was squandered. We've got 'em.

The next regular Congress which convenes March 4th, has a majority in the House and is a tie in the Senate.
With a democratic president a reform in the tariff law, a reduction in many articles that is, should be undertaken at once and carried through. We have clamored for tariff reform. Let the reform be made as soon as the new order of things is fairly under way. We have the opportunity. The people desired it.
That is what the overwhelming vote on Tuesday, the 8th, meant, in favor of the democratic ticket. If a democratic Congress deceives the people in this matter or delays the passage of necessary tariff reform laws it will not soon have an opportunity to do so again.

HERE IS NEWS.

Just Now of the Utmost Importance.

And it is Something That all Will Appreciate.

Because it is an Honest and Outspoken Opinion.

"Rheumatism and neuralgia are 'perfectly curable,' remarked one of our most eminent physicians, in conversation with the writer. The only thing necessary is to use the right remedy and use it persistently."

But what is the right remedy, doctor?
Well, although a physician in practice, I must say that the best all round medicine for rheumatism and neuralgia —that is the remedy which will effect the most cures—is the discovery of Dr Greene, known and sold in every drug store as Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy.

I have cured many cases with it, continued the doctor, and call to mind several remarkable restorations which have come under my directly observation, notably that of Mr. William Guckemus, of 62 State Street, Utica, N. Y. His was a terrible case. Why, he could hardly move in his bed, had terrible pains in his hip and back. His food would not digest but would bloat him up very much. He used Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and is now a perfectly well known man in Utica, in fact, has been foreman in the turning shop for 24 years, and consequently everybody knows him and his wonderful cure.

And there was that remarkable cure of Mr. Michael Crowley, added the doctor, who resides in New York city, at 74 Laight street. He had rheumatism so bad that he could not eat or sleep.
Nothing seemed to relieve him until he procured Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and now he is a perfectly well man. He declares that this remedy saved his life and that it is the most wonderful medicine in the world.
A talented lady of my acquaintance, also, Mrs. J. T. Cummings, of 1303 Loran Street, Cleveland, Ohio, told me that she suffered fearfully with pain in her right side for four months. She was extremely nervous in addition and could not sleep nights. She received no relief whatever until she used Dr.
Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and now through the curative effects of this medicine, the pain has left her entirely and she is well again.

It certainly does cure rheumatism and neuralgia, wound up the doctor, said I could go on indefinitely describing case after case among my patients where it has given almost instant relief and soon effected perfect cures. I pronounce it the great remedy for pains and aches and I prescribe and use it freely because I know it to be a purely vegetable and harmless medicine.
"No, we physicians do not class it among patent medicines because, as you must remember, it is the prescription of one of our best known and most successful doctors, the specialist in nervous and chronic diseases, Dr. Greene, of 35 West 14th St., New York. The doctor in fact, endorses and recommends his valuable remedy in just such cases as those above stated and he can be consulted by anyone free of charge by calling at his office or writing.

CABINET MAKING.

The result was no sooner announced four years ago when Harrison was elected than the newspapers commenced to construct his cabinet. They have already begun on Cleveland's cabinet newspaper prophecies as to his cabinet:
