

ATTORNEYS.

M. D. WHITE. W. E. HUMPHREY. W. M. REEVES.

WHITE HUMPHRIES & REEVES.

ATTORNEYS-AT-LAW.

Office, 103½ E. Main St.

G. W. PAUL M. W. BRUNER

PAUL & BRUNER

Attorneys-At-Law

Office South side of Green street over Zack Ma-orney's hardware store.]

E. W. REAM, Dentist.

Modern dentistry practiced in all its phases. Bridge work or artificial teeth, orthodontic work, and all dental devices. All sizes of artificial teeth with an especial care to usefulness and the restoration of a natural expression of the face. For the extraction of teeth, all the reliable anaesthetics known to modern dentistry, both local and general.

E. W. REAM, Dentist.

Office over Barnhill, Hornaday & Pickett's grocery, Crawfordsville, Indiana.

G. W. BENEFIEL,

Veterinary Surgeon

AND DENTIST.

Office at Bob Davis' Livery Stable, 125 W. Pike St., Crawfordsville, Ind. Calls by mail or telegraph answered promptly.

Abstract of Title.

Having secured the service of Wm. H. Webster, late of the firm of Johnson & Webster, we are now in a position to furnish abstracts upon short notice full and complete Abstracts of Title to all lands in Montgomery County, Indiana, at reasonable prices. Deeds and mortgages carefully executed. Call at Recorder's office.

THOS. T. MUNHALL.

LOANS.

—PLenty OF—

MONEY TO LOAN

On Farm or City Property.

NONE BUT THE

Best Insurance Companies

Are Represented by

Morgan & Lee

Ornbau Block, West of Court House.

First Mortgage Loans

AT

41-2 Per Cent.

Interest Payable annually. Apply to

C. W. WRIGHT.

Money to Loan

At 7 per cent. annual interest without commission.

FARM AND CITY PROPERTY for sale or exchange. HOUSES to rent.

CUMBERLAND & MILLER,

118 West Main Street.

GRAWFORDSVILLE - - - IND.

RUPTURE CURED.

I was ruptured when a boy and for thirty years wore a truss; never had one that would not slip, and rubbing caused galling and sores. I left home Dr. Nott through a druggist, some six or seven years ago, and I made a mistake in not taking Dr. Nott's treatment then, but I put off until Nov. 20, 1892; then I took my first treatment, a second on Dec. 18, and a third on Jan. 15, and I am now cured.

To the amazement who reads this I will state that I am cured thoroughly and I would be glad to answer any letter regarding the cure or to talk to them personally. OMER HODIBAH, Jan. 15, 1893.

We answer all inquiries promptly, accept no payment until cure is effected and guaranteed to cure any case we undertake. Examination and consultation free. Send your name and address to our national circuit. Dr. W. H. Nott has had twenty-two years experience and for nine years has confined his practice to Hernia exclusively.

DR. NOTT RUPTURE CURE CO.,

20½ W. Washington St., Indianapolis, Ind.

This Spring's Stock of Bonnets, Hats, Flowers, Etc.

For the Ladies is very beautiful, and all tastes can be suited. To do this call at

Mrs. M. W. Wilson,

Joel Block, south Washington street, and inspect the stock of new goods just received. Price low.

Economy Is The Road to Wealth.

Thos. C. Kane, agent for the Lafayette Steam Dye House, is in the city. Look up your soiled and faded goods and hand them to him. Work first class. He will call and get your goods, and have them dyed and improved in first class style. Emil Miller, proprietor, 6, Curtis block, Lafayette, Ind. 41

Every can of Honest Baking Powder guaranteed by N. M. Martin. 41

Try one can of Honest Baking Powder, only 20cts. a pound at N. M. Martin's.

THE REVIEW.

BY F. T. LUBE.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

One year, in the county, $1.25
One year, out of the county, 1.40
Inquire at Office for Advertising rates.

JULY 1, 1893.

CO-EDUCATION.

The selection of Landis as a new trustee of Wabash College over several members of the alumni much more prominent than he, is looked upon as something of a victory for those favoring co-education, it being understood that Landis favors it and several of the alumni favored him especially for that reason. The originators, the most of the early graduates of the institution, and many of the asserted friends of it have looked upon the suggestion of co-education in Wabash college with some degree of horror. All its presidents and faculty have strongly opposed it, yet they have seen other institutions that have adopted it increase in membership and influence and gradually surpass it. The public—and the educated public too—have not observed that its graduates were superior in any sense to those of the co-educational institutions, or in the work of after life attained any higher eminence. That is for instance, the ministers and lawyers educated from Wabash College superior in a general sense to those of DePauw? We do not observe that they are. This, however, is but one view of the matter. Is it not better for the moral training of both sexes that boys and girls be educated together? In the common and high schools of the country is there any injury in the recitation of young men and women together to their moral natures? Tradition has told Wabash College managers for a half century past that it was wrong, entirely out of place, to permit young women to attend school there, and has been the means of greatly retarding its growth and membership. Its membership now is but a trifile more than that of 25 years ago. It must shake off the old antiquated idea of anti-co-education, must infuse modern blood and advanced ideas into it to keep up with the procession. The first thing should be co-education and at once. Cast out the old fogies that hang to the cast-iron rule of the institution as being for the education of males only, and who have held the institution back for so many years. Do this and Wabash will at once enter into an era of prosperity such as has not been known before in her history.

BROOKSHIRE AND MAXWELL.

THE REPUBLIC BUREAU,
COR. 14th ST. AND PENNSYLVANIA AVE.,
WASHINGTON, D. C. June 19, 1893.

Congressman Brookshire, of the Terre Haute district in Indiana had a bout this morning with the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General, Mr. Maxwell. He went into Mr. Maxwell's office with his hands full of papers and insisted that a few more heads in his district ought to go into the basket. Mr. Maxwell told him that he had succeeded in procuring as many changes, or more, than any other member of Congress in the United States. In reply, Mr. Brookshire said:

"Indiana represents the bloody angle of political conflict in the United States and my people are demanding these changes and I think are but asking justice."

Mr. Brookshire further said that he had been called away from Washington for month and that some of his colleagues had succeeded in securing removals in his absence in their respective districts. Mr. Maxwell said: "You have done as well or better than any of your colleagues in getting changes made, and besides, for a time, we propose to have the department work devoted chiefly to making appointments where resignations have been sent in and where four-year terms have expired."

Then the irrepressible Congressman said: "Brother Maxwell, this man I ask to have appointed is a cripple, and he is singularly well qualified to perform the duties of Postmaster. The Postmaster I ask to have removed is a bitter partisan and attempts on all occasions to expose our political faith to ridicule."

Mr. Maxwell replied: "This may all be true Mr. Congressman, but when you have secured appointments to a very large number of fourth-class post offices, there are many Congressmen who have secured but a few or no appointments at all. The work ought to be done along the line. We cannot afford to show special favor to any section of the country."

The amiable and energetic Indiana Representative then bowed himself out of the presence of the amanuensis.

EVERY time some fraudulent rascal is caught who has been wrongfully drawing money from the government under the claim of pension, the republican press immediately proclaims that the administration is inflicting great wrongs on the ex-soldiers. That cry is sounding very empty. Worthy, deserving ex-soldiers are not to be deprived of their pensions, but the frauds will be as fast as they are discovered, and the cry of these demagogues will not prevent it.

THE SEWER QUESTION.

The Journal has taken the position that sewerage is a necessity and in presenting the arguments in favor of such work we have not questioned the motives of those who have opposed it.

Sewerage may be a necessity as you claim, although its urgency at this time is greatly to be questioned. The greatest "necessity" just now Mr. Journal with the city is to get out of debt and reduce taxation. With a larger debt hanging over us and a higher rate of taxation than known before in many long years, what is the necessity of taking sewers, brick streets and other improvements? Get out of debt first before contracting new obligations. Don't climb until you are strong enough. Nothing is more detrimental to any city than big debt and a high rate of taxation. If the persons so anxious for sewers and brick streets are not curbed they will greatly injure the city, and drive people away from here on account of the high expenses of living resulting from their unwise actions. To know what the sentiment of a majority of the people here is on the sewer and street improvement question let the Journal now do a little investigating. He will learn very quickly how a majority of the tax-payers feel in the matter.

"ONE of the best object lessons," says the Muncie Herald, "illustrating the workings of the tariff is shown in wool. There has been a gradual decline in the price ever since the tariff was laid. The McKinley crowd assured the people that the tariff of 12 cents on wool would bring up the price. In 1891 the price was a little lower than in 1890, but the McKinley crowd said just wait until the law gets in its work. Well, the sheep raiser waited until 1892 and was compelled to take from 4 to 6 cents less for his clip than in 1891, and a tariff of 12 cents a pound in full force all the time. This year wool is lower than last by about 3 to 5 cents, and the McKinley law yet in full force. The only argument the republicans now offer in behalf of the robber law is, that the democrats are the cause of it all. But such silly stuff will not answer for argument. The facts are, the tariff on wool is killing the sheep industry of the country."

THE ROBY RACE TRACK.

Gov. Matthews is seeking to abolish the Roby race track and prize fighting business will receive the support of all decent people of the state. The men patronizing and upholding such institutions are very generally the lowest dregs of humanity—loafers, gamblers, thieves, pimps, etc., who have no rights that respectable people should respect. In the Roby business the off-scourings of Chicago greatly predominate. Such people have no right in Indiana, and should be driven off from its soil even if arms and the most extreme measures have to be resorted to to accomplish it, and their property confiscated. A band of professional horse thieves or counterfeits could not do half the injury to the good name of the state that the Roby race business could if suffered to remain.

THE BUSINESS OUTLOOK.

The Capital City bank at Indianapolis which suspended over a month ago, resumed business last week. The bank at Chicago, which was one of the direct causes of its failure, has also resumed business. Other lines of business in which there have been failures during the past few weeks in different parts of the country, are gradually pulling themselves together, gold is commencing to be shipped into the country instead of from it and taking everything into consideration the business outlook is daily becoming more encouraging. It is encouraging to manufacturers of political capital for the republican party to hear of improved business appearances, as it will result in a falling off of the republican vote in all those states that have elections this fall.

LIZZIE BORDEN, of Fall River, Mass., whose trial on charge of the murder of her father and step-mother, occupied the court at New Bedford, Mass., for some weeks, has been acquitted. The murder took place at the family home in the forenoon and Lizzie was the only one known to be present of the family in the house, and the affair looked very suspicious for her, yet she was liberated. If not her who was it, was the question often asked, but not answered. She should now devote herself industriously to finding out who did the deed.

CHARLES FOSTER, one of the high priests in the republican synagogue, a former governor of Ohio, and lately a treasury official under Harrison, lately bursted financially for over $600,000. He offers to settle in full for 50 cents on the dollar. This is a very good illustration of republican financing. After beating his creditors out of immense sums of money he offers to give half of it back if they will call it square themselves. They will have to call it square anyway whether or not they feel square about it.

THERE is no reason to believe that the democratic party will be able to carry a single northern state in which an election is to be held this year.—Journal.

As most of the states holding elections this year in the north are rock-ribbed, cast iron republican we cannot see where there is cause for any particular exuberance of feeling on the part of republicans over the prospect, but then as they are ready to grab at straws they are welcome to the joy they may experience.

A MULTI MILLIONAIRE CALLED.

Ex-Governor Leland Stanford, of California, and at the time of his death U. S. Senator from that state, laid down all earthly cares last week and passed from time into eternity. His wealth was estimated at $35,000,000 and he was probably at the time of his death the wealthiest man west of the Mississippi. Of the many individuals of the Golden State, who within the past two decades have arisen from poverty almost to the possession of vast amounts of property, Leland was an exception to most of them in the fact that he was not wholly wrapped up in his own selfishness and self aggrandizement. He was intelligent, liberal with his means, enterprising, and the world was made better by his existence. With his own means he erected, endowed and equipped the Leland Stanford University—an institution in California for furnishing young men first-class opportunities for a superior education. It cost him vast sums of money, but he established on a firm basis one of the best institutions on the continent. This of itself will greatly redound to his credit. He made better use of his vast wealth than the hundreds of rich men who have preceded him to the grave during the past few years, and succeeding generations will accord him praise for his good work.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheeney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio by F. J. Cheeney & Co. Testimonials free.

—Sold by Druggists' price 75c. per bottle.

J1, 1m

In Lamar beehives hang in the form of oblong gourds from the branches of trees.

"One of my customers came in to-day and asked me for the best cough medicine I had," says Law Young, a prominent druggist of Newman Grove, Neb. "Of course I showed him Chamberlain's cough remedy, and he did not ask to see any other. I have never yet sold a medicine that would loosen and relieve a severe cold so quickly as that remedy does. I have sold four dozen of it in the last sixty days and do not know of a single case where it failed to give the most perfect satisfaction." 50 cent bottles for sale by Nye & Boo. J1, 1m

In the Argentine Republic there is a street car line which is fifty miles long.

Last fall I was taken with a kind of summer complaint, accompanied with a wonderful diarrhea. Soon after my wife's sister, who lives with us, was taken in the same way. We used almost everything without benefit. Then I said, let us try Chamberlain's colic, cholera and diarrhea remedy, which we did, and that cured us right away. I think much of it, as it did for me what it was recommended to do. John Hertzler, Bethel, Berks Co., Pa., 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Nye & Boo. J1, 1m

A bald headed religious sect in Russia holds that hair is sinful.

Distemper Among Horses.

Coughs, influenza, epizootic, and all catarrhal affections of the horse positively and speedily cured by the use of Craft's Distemper and cough cure. One dose prevents. Three to six doses cure. Used by leading breeders, shippers, farmers and turfmen everywhere. Price 50c. Sold by Nye & Boo. J5, 1m

The first workman who made pens got $1 apiece for them.

it Never Fails to Cure.

And for that reason every dealer is authorized to guarantee Dr. Well's New Cough Cure, and will refund the money in every case if not satisfactory. Price 25 cents. Trial bottles free at Nye & Boo's. J1, 1m

A horse sometimes sheds real tears of anguish.

The New Great South American Kidney Cure.

The acknowledged superior cure and immediate relief for all derangements, painfulness and decay of the kidneys or bladder, Bright's disease, diabetes or any complaint that hurts or deprives either of these delicate organs. This new remedy has been thoroughly tested by learned physicians and found far superior to any medicine yet discovered for quickly relieving all weaknesses, aches, pains and distresses arising from diseases of any part of the urinary passages. It is a great relief for the old, middle aged and children male or female. It relieves at once retention and pain in passing water, and it is very effective in relieving prostratic troubles in the old, and for nightly incontinence of water in children, or others, caused by weakness of the bladder. It may be worth many a hundred dollars its cost. This is a remedy of great value to ladies, because they are very liable to weakness and pains peculiar to their sex.

Sold by Dr. E. Detchon, 213 E. Main St., and all druggists. Crawford 9118

Good Housekeepers are always provoked.

When delayed in obtaining

SANTA CLAUS SOAP.

for it is an indispensable

article in good