

Best Cure For

All disorders of the Throat and Lungs is Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It has no equal as a cough-cure.

Bronchitis

"When I was a boy, I had a bronchial trouble of such a persistent and stubborn character, that the doctor pronounced it incurable with ordinary remedies, but recommended me to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I did so, and one bottle cured me. For the last fifteen years, I have used this preparation with good effect whenever I take a bad cold, and I know of numbers of people who keep it in the house all the time, considering it safe to be without it."—J. C. Woodson, P. M., Forest Hill, W. Va.

Cough

"For more than twenty-five years, I was a sufferer from lung trouble, attended with coughing so severe at times as to cause hemorrhage, the paroxysms frequently lasting three or four hours. I was induced to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and after taking four bottles, was thoroughly cured."—Franz Hoffman, Clay Centre, Kans.

La Grippe

"Last spring I was taken down with la grippe. At that time I was completely prostrated, and so difficult was my breathing that my breast seemed as if confined in an iron cage. I procured a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and no sooner had I begun taking it than relief followed. I could not believe that the effect would be so rapid and the cure so complete."—W. H. Williams, Cook City, S. Dak.

IN HIGH FEATHER.

Congressman Brookshire Presides Over the House—Talks on Silver.

A Washington correspondent to the Terre Haute Express says: "The Eighth Indiana district is occupying a large part of congressional attention. Yesterday it was Senator Voorhees in the upper chamber, to-day Speaker Crisp surrendered the chair for almost the entire session to Representative Brookshire, while he retired to his room and wrestled the question how to let every member have all the time he wants to speak and still close the debate on Saturday night. Mr. Brookshire presided with dignity, maintaining an unusual degree of decorum and good order on the floor during the debate. He left the chair near the close of the afternoon session and took fifteen or twenty minutes. His speech was devoted largely to a history of the financial system of France and a comparison of the resources of that country with those of the United States. From there he argued that this country with its greater ability for absorbing silver and the greater demands for money arising out of its much larger population and greater wealth could as easily float a thousand millions of gold as France could its seven hundred millions. Mr. Brookshire insisted that the mints of the United States should be opened to the free coinage of silver demanding that the use of silver as money of equal legal tender value with gold should not be abandoned.

He was listened to with interest and made a good impression. Mr. Brookshire to-day received an additional evidence of the favor in which he is held by the house leaders. Mr. Sayers, the chairman of the committee on appropriations, in arranging the sub-committees placed him on the sub-committee in charge of the sundry civil bill, the measure carrying the largest appropriation made in one bill except that for pensions. Mr. Brookshire's assignment on the committee was even a greater compliment than at first appeared. He is the youngest man appointed on the committee for at least twenty years past. It has been an old man's committee and Mr. Brookshire's selection may mean a change of policy in making up the membership."

Pettit Is Dying.

A party of gentlemen just from Michigan City, where they visited the Northern penitentiary, are authority for the statement that the condition of William F. Pettit is of the most alarming character, and his friends need not be surprised to hear of his death at any time. Pettit when seen by the parties referred to was found a hopeless victim of that dread disease, consumption. Judging from his present condition, it seems that unless the Supreme Court soon get at the appeal taken in his behalf from this county that Pettit will never live to know the result of the court's judgment. Those who saw him say that the prisoner is a mere shadow of his former self, and cannot possibly live over two months at the farthest, an opinion which Warden French endorses. It is learned that consumption is hereditary in the prisoner's family, his uncle and several other relatives having died with the disease, which is of that type termed hasty consumption. The many acquaintances of Mr. Pettit will be surprised to hear of his really dangerous condition, and will sympathize with him, inasmuch as all things point to his early death. Pettit seems to be broken hearted, and his present surroundings cannot be otherwise than of a character that can only hasten the end.—Lafayette Courier.

A New Swindle.

A new swindle upon honest and unsuspecting farmers has been brought to light, and this is the way the scheme is operated: Swindler No. 1 calls upon a farmer with a patent wagon tongue and informs him that, having made a big thing of it, he is on his way home, with only this county to sell. He tells the farmer that he can have it for $250, and if he wants it to send to him. In a few days patent right man No. 2 comes along. He has heard that the farmer has the right of the county for the patent wagon tongue, and he has made a big thing of it in Pennsylvania, he wants to buy the right of the county, and offers the farmer $400, and pays $10 to bind the bargain. The farmer writes to No. 1 and sends him his note for $250. He never hears of either of the men again, but his note comes up for collection in a neighboring town and Mr. Farmer is out $240.—Bluffton Banner.

A Successful Season.

J. W. Taylor, proprietor of the Yountsville sheep farm, is now enjoying one of the most successful fair campaigns in his history. His herd of Shropshires has carried everything before it, while his Chester White hogs have not been beaten this season. At the Parke, Hamilton and Boone county fairs his sheep have been first in class, sweepstakes and herd contests. Expert judges say Mr. Taylor has the finest ewe and ram they ever passed upon. This is a compliment few stock men ever have paid them and Montgomery county fairs should feel proud over Mr. Taylor's success. He is attending the Clinton county fair this week and will be an exhibitor at the great Montgomery county fair.

The Beauty Standard.

The standard of female loveliness varies greatly in different countries and with individual tastes. Some prefer the plump and buxom type; some admire the slender and sylph-like, and some the tall and queenly maiden. But among all people of the Caucasian race, one point of beauty is always admired—a pure, clear and spotless complexion—whether the female be of the blond, brunette, or hazel-eyed type. This first great requisite of loveliness can be assured only by a pure state of the blood, active liver, good appetite and digestion, all of which are secured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is guaranteed to accomplish all that is claimed for it, or money refunded. If you would have a clear, lovely complexion, free from eruptions, moth patches, spots and blemishes, use the "Golden Medical Discovery."

KEEPS OUT OF SIGHT

BANKER BEACH IS NOW LYING VERY LOW.

His Prairie City Bank at Terre Haute Has Assets Worth $10,000, While the Liabilities Amounted to $138,000—$20,000 Due From Henry Clews.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Aug. 28.—The report of the assignee of the Prairie City bank just filed told the depositors that their worst fears were justified as to the almost worthless character of the assets. The assignee's estimate of their value was $125,000, but this he purposely made at an outside figure because his bond is to be based on the amount, and he did not want to be subjected to any criticisms on that score. The committee of depositors went over the list and it is the best judgment that not more than $10,000 can be realized. The total amount of deposits is $138,000.

The assets consist of a lot of accounts which, although not outlawed by the statute of limitation, are practically worthless. Most of them have been charged up to profit and loss years ago. It is made plain now that the bank had not done a legitimate banking business for a long time, but that it had merely been an institution through which its proprietor, John S. Beach, obtained money for his own use. He has loaned no money to speak of as a banker for a half dozen years.

In addition to the $138,000 liabilities in the shape of deposits he is known to have owed $60,000 which he secured by mortgages. Of this amount $32,000 was to the savings bank of which he was treasurer. He had no right under the law, as an officer of the bank, to borrow this money, but he did, and to secure his bondsman he gave a mortgage on city real estate. This mortgage, with one to another creditor, about covers the real estate in his name here, and which was of substantial value.

The other property turned over to the assignee is not expected to bring in more than a trifle of the amount Beach placed it at in his own statement of assets.

Among his bills receivable is $20,000 due from Henry Clews, the New York banker. This debt dates back to the panic of 1873. A city banker says this loss, for such it is, was the beginning of Beach's trouble; that it was the first incentive to send good money after bad. Since then he has been speculating with other people's money, trying to make a big winning, but instead has lost in every speculation. His wife has a good deal of valuable property in her name which his creditors think should be turned over to them, as they believe much of it was obtained by the use of their money. They will employ lawyers in the effort to recover their money, and if they do not get dollar for dollar will enter criminal proceedings. Beach is keeping out of sight.

VESSEL THOUGHT TO BE LOST.

Fishing Smack and Nine Men Still Unaccounted For.

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Skippers of fishing craft who came through the cyclone that struck this neighborhood on Thursday are inclined to think that the Ella M. Johnson is lost. She is the only smack of the Jersey fleet of about seventy-five vessels unaccounted for. She was commanded by Capt. Erickson and had a crew of nine men, mostly Scandinavians.

It may have been the wreck of the Johnson that the pilot boat Actea passed off Barnegat. The crew of the Actea saw a spar standing out of the water off Barnegat on Friday. They brought up a lot of wreckage on a line and decided that it belonged to a fishing smack.

Eager for a Lynching.

OLNEY, Ill., Aug. 28.—A mob is in pursuit of William Eckenrode of Noble, Ill., a small village a few miles west of this place, and when the mob is caught there is little doubt that he will be lynched. A soldiers' reunion was being held at Noble and a large crowd was in attendance, among them being Eckenrode, who was keeping company with a 12-year-old daughter of John Steffy, who lives four miles north of Noble. Eckenrode induced the girl to take a ride with him in a buggy. When they had reached a small piece of timber at the edge of the town Eckenrode jumped from the buggy, dragged the child after him and assaulted her.

Death of Marshal Van Buren.

LANSING, Mich., Aug. 28.—United States Marshal William Van Buren of the eastern district of Michigan died suddenly at his home here early yesterday morning of heart disease, aged 51 years. He had not been well for some months, but had not given up work. He was a native of Canada, and previous to 1871 was foreman of the news room of the Detroit Tribune. He was subsequently for thirteen years foreman for W. S. George, state printer, and afterward managing partner of W. S. George & Co. He was twice elected mayor of Lansing and had been United States marshal since March, 1890. He leaves a widow and three sons.

Jacksonville Bank Falls.

JACKSONVILLE, Ill., Aug. 28.—The Central Illinois Banking and Savings association of this city closed its doors. This bank is one of the oldest in the state, having been established in the '50s, and has as its stockholders some of the wealthiest and most influential citizens in the county. The poorer classes have been its principal patrons. Two state institutions had funds on deposit to the extent of $25,000. John Chambers and W. E. Veitch have been appointed receivers. The liabilities are placed at $320,000 and the assets at $300,000, independent of the large private fortunes of the members of the association.

Fatal Leap of an Aeronaut.

PHOENIA, Ill., Aug. 28.—Michael Rordan, aged 30 and married, made a parachute drop at Central park. The heavy wind prevailing at the time blew him against the street-car barns, fracturing a rib and internally injuring him. He fell to the ground and struck on his head on the curbstone. It was a long time before he regained consciousness, and there is little hope of his recovery.
