THE NEW BAPTIST CHURCH.

Is Properly Dedicated.—Interesting Services.—The Debt Lifted.

The beautiful new Baptist edifice was appropriately dedicated last Sunday morning. There were no services at any of the other churches and all assisted with the Baptist brethren in their celebration and rejoicing. The new Missionary Baptist church is one of the most elegant and commodious temples of worship in the State. It is second to none in the city and its congregation is to be congratulated on its diligence, labor and self sacrifice. At an early hour the people began to assemble and by ten o'clock the building was packed to the doors. Those who came afterwards were directed to Center church, where the large audience listened to an excellent address by Rev. Phillip Faulk, of Ladoga. At the Baptist church Dr. J. F. Tuttle invoked divine blessing and Rev. Howe, of the Christian church read the scripture lesson. Rev. Tucker, of the Methodist church, then offered prayer and Rev. E. S. Graham, of Hannibal, Mo., delivered the dedication address. At the conclusion of the address W. T. Whittington submitted his report as secretary of the building committee. The building had cost $10,000 of which amount $6,000 had already been raised. There was yet a deficit of $4,000 and Dr. E. S. Graham arose and began his appeal for aid. This was not the Doctor's first effort in this direction by any means for he went at it like a old hand at the business. When he had concluded $3,200 of the amount had been subscribed. At Center church $200 had been subscribed. At the evening meeting $694 more was subscribed, which a little more than covered the church indebtedness. The Baptist people now have a beautiful edifice, a credit to the city and congregation, and all is paid for. A great deal of credit is due Rev. Fuson for the success. He has been untiring in his devotion and energy and has given of his money as well as his time and labor. His congregation esteem him highly and hope to keep him with them for many years to come. Crawfordsville is now surpassed by none in the number of elegant church edifices and her people feel justly proud.

The Swaim Murder Case.

The difficulties which have beset Lafayette and Moses Swaim, of Parke county, which were of their own choosing, would fill several chapters. One is now awaiting trial for murder, while the other is barely recovering from a pistol wound inflicted by his brother. The trouble began shortly after the death of their father. He deeded to Moses Swaim his farm land in Union township, Parke county, and Lafayette was appointed guardian. Seven years ago there was a settlement, and Moses deeded to Lafayette eighty acres, while Lafayette transferred to Moses a tract of sixty-six acres. Moses failed to have his deed recorded, and it was lost. He then brought suit to quiet title, and Lafayette refused to relinquish the claim. The suit was filed in Parke county, and was venued to Vigo county and again to Montgomery. A trial resulted in disagreement of the jury, and the case was again venued, this time to Vermillion county, where plaintiff secured a verdict. Lafayette appealed to the Supreme Court, where he was beaten. Moses then sued for possession and obtained judgment. During the past summer, after this judgment had been rendered, Lafayette, assisted by Gabriel Brant, an employee, attempted to harvest the wheat on Moses' farm, and Moses killed Bryant and seriously wounded Lafayette. While Moses was in jail Lafayette employed men to harvest the wheat, and these have been sued for trespass by Mrs. Swaim. Meanwhile Lafayette is suing his brother for damages, growing out of the shooting, and the heirs of Bryant will also have a whack at him. Meanwhile he is held on two indictments; one for killing Bryant, and the other for wounding Lafayette.

A Little Strike.

Last Saturday morning a notice was hung up in the factory of the Indiana Wire Fence Company to the effect that beginning Monday, Oct. 2, there would be a reduction of twenty per cent. in wages on both day and piece work. All hands stopped work at once and came down town in a body to the company's office to talk the matter over with the officials of the company. The men were informed that the factory had been running for some time at a loss financially owing to the depressions of the times, but on a promise that the cut was only temporary the men resumed their places at their machines Monday morning and all is moving along again serenely.
