BOWS.

Here's the Idea:

The bow has a groove cut on each end to hold the bow down, independent stems, and its into the groove, firmly locking the bow to the pendant, so that it cannot be pulled or twisted off.

To be sure of getting a Non-pull-out, see that the case is stamped with this trademark. C

HE LOST HIS CHUM.

Autograph of a Street Gambler Over His Dead Companion.

A newsboy, small, wily, with eyes like a ferret, and a clinched fist, set on the curbstone crying in an aggressive way when a pedestrian halted and laid his hand on the youngster's shoulder.

"What's wrong, sonny?"

"I ain't yer sonny."

"Well, what's wrong, my boy?"

"Ain't yer boy, either. Lemme be."

"Oh, see here now, what's the row?"

"Lost five cents in the gutter?"

"Naw I ain't—oh, oh, oh!"

"Split it out, then."

"Me chum's dead."

"Oh, that's another thing. How did he happen to die?"

"Runned over."

"So. Was there an inquest?"

"Inques' nothin'. He jest hollered me, and rolled over dead. An' I wish I was dead, too, along of him."

"Cheer up! You can find another chum."

"Yer wouldn't talk that way if you'd mowed Dick. He was the best friend ever had. There warn't nothin' Dick wouldn't a done for me. An' now he's d-d-dead an' buried. I'm a wishin' I was too."

"Look here," said the man, "go and tell your papers, and take some poor little ragged boy and be a chum to him. It'll help you and do him good."

"Pshaw, mister, where's there a boy wot'd go around nights with me? I be cold and hungry and outen doors, and sleep on the groun' like Dick? An' he wouldn't teel a bit till I'd had enuff. He were a Christian, Dick were."

"Then you can feel that he's all right if he was such a faithful friend and good boy."

"Boy? Dick a boy? Lord! Dick warn't only a ragged' good for nothin' human boy, mister—Dick were a or."

RECKINRIDGE DIVORCE CASE.

Nothing Known of the Proposed Action of the Congressman's Wife.

Louisville, Ky., March 19.—Mrs.

reckinridge intends instituting divorce proceedings against her husband,

the defendant in Miss Pollard's breach promise suit, the fact is unknown

her relatives in this city. Dr. Pres son Scott, Mrs. Breckinridge's brother,

at present in Florida for his health,

Campbell Scott and other members

the family are in the city.

Inquiries have elicited the informa

on that the family of Dr. Scott knew nothing of Mrs. Breckinridge's alleged intention to sue for a divorce. They say the first intimation they had of such intention on her part was conveyed to them by the press dis patches from New York. The Scotts

are much annoyed by the light in which they stand and are seemingly greatly harassed by the various rumors afloat concerning the former

Wing's actions.

Gov. Altgeld's Health.

Springfield, Ill., March 19.—For

the weeks there have been rumors

of various kinds afloat here concerning the health of Gov. Altgeld, but they can not be traced to any authoritative source. The fact that the governor is way again from the capital and is now reported as being at Biloxi, Miss.,

soon after his recent trip to Hot Springs has given to these rumors the apparent semblance of truth, and it is said that a member of his house

old said some days ago that Gov.

Altgeld's life will not be extended for any years, that it may not outlast

the term of his governorship. Certain is that his health is so precarious

that he has almost decided to give up his senatorial ambition. He has not the vigor or the inclination to en gage in the strife. He has never fully recovered from the exhausting illness

which prostrated him soon after the gubernatorial campaign of 1892.

Buckingham Palace Uninhabitable.

So serious have been the discoveries

connection with the sanitary condi tion of Buckingham palace that the question is now being discussed as to whether it can ever again be used as royal residence. Not only is the palace in a shocking condition,

which will necessitate the expenditure

a fabulous sum to set aright, but it has also been found that one of the greatest of the main sewers of the metropolis passes immediately under the palace, and that the gases arising therefrom permeate the foundations of the royal abode. The proposal to cover the course of the sewer in ques tion is deemed impracticable.

PRESIDENT LINCOLN'S HERO.

Col. Wm. Stilloway, Whom Secretary Stanton called the Greatest Hero of the War, Cured by Dr. Greene's Nervura Blood and Nerve Remedy.

There never was a time when so many of our great and prominent persons have been cured by one and the same remedy, as have been reported in the papers of late, cured by that wonderful medical discovery, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy.

Col. Stilloway resides at 8 Pine St., Boston, Mass., where in an interview with him he talked very interestingly. "On the 16th of April, 1861, I enlisted in the army of the North. I weighed 162 pounds. After serving four years and eight months in the army and navy, and suffering from wounds and rheumatism, I was discharged. I weighed the day I was discharged 109 pounds. Every year I had attacks of nervous prostration; shortness of breath and the loss of appetite were not the least of my misfortunes. I tried numberless things. Nothing did me any good.

"While employed in Boston I was compelled to resign my position on account of ill-health. I consulted several eminent physicians, and took their medicines. No use—I grew worse day after day. They told me I could not live. I could not walk alone in the street without falling or clinging to the railings. At times I would shake and twitch. Had spells of falling down in the office and on the street.

"In the house I had to lie down or drop down; several times I believed I was at death's door. I had been commander of three different G. A. R. Posts, and my comrades advised me to try Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. I bought a bottle and when I had taken two-thirds of it I began to improve.

"I kept on taking it, improving all the time. I now weigh 130 pounds and feel like my old self again. You can put it in your paper that I attribute my good health to nothing but Dr. Greene's Nervura. I am perfectly satisfied that it saved my life. I am 75 years of age, but, as you can see for yourself, I am as active as a man of 40 and can do a good day's work, as people here well know. My friends in Boston, New York and other places are surprised at my recovery. Indeed, I am surprised myself to be so well. I advise anybody afflicted to buy and try Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy at once."

Such an astounding cure as this in so prominent a personage as Col. Stilloway, the personal friend of the President of the United States, Secretary Stanton and Secretary Welles, of President

A SMART TRICK.

How an Unscrupulous Jockey Doctored and Sold an Old Horse.

"One of the best tricks in horse-flesh I ever saw played," said Eb. Wisner, a horse dealer, "happened in Indianapolis. There was a broken-down horse brought into an auction room. He was stone blind, his tongue hung from his mouth about ten inches, the end of it had been frozen and turned black, and altogether he was the most woe-begone, dejected looking specimen of equine anatomy I ever saw. He was sold for $2 to a seedy-looking fellow, who we supposed to kill him for his hide.

In about two hours a man came up riding a horse with head thrown back, prancing as though full of life, and altogether a good-looking animal. He said he had just bought him for $50 and wanted him sold. I congratulated him on his bargain and told him we could double his money for him. The next morning before the daily sale I went to look at the horse, and to my astonishment he was the same we had sold the day before. His eyes had lost the brightness caused by belladonna; he had forgotten the energy put in him by the ginger, and the red pepper pod which had been placed under his tongue to make him keep it in his mouth had lost its strength and that organ again hung low. With an investment of $2.15 the

Tons of Petrified Fish.

In the northwestern part of Colorado there is a region several hundred square miles in extent which is literally a vast deposit of petrified fish of all sizes and shapes. These fish beds—shales containing fish remains—are about 150 feet in thickness and extend up and down the Green river for a distance of 150 or 200 miles.

GATHERING AT MASSILLION.

Coxey's Peace Army Growing—Say There Will Be No Trouble.

MASSILLION, Ohio, March 19.—The commonwealth is growing apace. Yesterday afternoon Coxey and Browne spoke to a large crowd gathered on the public square. A people's party ticket was placed in nomination and unanimously indorsed. People came to attend the rally from points as far distant as Columbiana. Tenders of assistance are reaching the general by every mail. The letters received by Coxey and Browne are of great variety and startling oddity. A few of them contain threats, but the great majority offer sympathy and engagement.

Yesterday several letters reached Coxey and Browne from various parts of Pennsylvania saying that Gov. Patterson has ordered Sheriff John Moon of Green county to meet the army on the state line and read the riot act. The general at once wired the governor and received the following reply:

"The sheriff of Green county knows his duty and I have no doubt will fully perform every requirement of the law."

A Massillon lawyer who has just returned from a trip through southern Pennsylvania says the whole country is excited over the coming of the commonwealth army and that in towns where militia companies exist special drills have been taking place almost nightly in anticipation of a call from the governor. Coxey and the other men in charge of the movement are confident there will be no trouble during the march to Washington.

KNIVES, GUNS AND RAZORS.

One Man Killed and Four Others Dangerously Hurt in an Alabama Quarrel.

PRATTVILLE, Ala., March 19.—Moses Thomas and Henry Atwood, two well-known young men, had a quarrel last night about a debt the former owed the latter. Knives were drawn and they came together. Atwood's two brothers joined in the melee to help him and William Thompson gave help to his brother. Knives, pistols and razors were freely used for ten minutes and when the constable stepped in the following damage was done:

M. CHEREY, a bystander, cut in the arm and shot in the head.

HENRY ATWOOD, both ears cut off; shot in the head; angular vein exposed; will die.

WILL THOMAS, cut about arms and shoulder and shot in the hip; may die.

GIMMORE ATWOOD, shot in the right side and cut in the neck; wounds dangerous.

MOSE THOMAS, cut in the left breast and head.

BOMB THROWERS ALL INSURED.

London Anarchists Are $8,000 Richer

by the Death of Vaillant.

PARIS, March 19.—The Gaulois says that the anarchists in London have been paid $8,000,000 insurance on the death of Vaillant, the anarchist, who was recently executed as a result of his conviction for throwing a bomb into the chamber of deputies. The Gaulois adds that the life of Pauwels, the anarchist killed by the premature explosion of a bomb which he was carrying into the Church of La Madeleine, was insured. Henry, the anarchist who threw the bomb into the cafe underneath the Hotel Terminus, is also insured.

Iowa Temperance Matters.

DES MOINES, Iowa, March 19.—There is considerable caucusing in progress among the republican members of both houses over the situation on the temperance question. Senator Waterman is in favor of calling another caucus and receding from the amendment striking out the reference to spirituous liquors. The matter will come up again in the senate to-morrow on the motion to reconsider the vote by which the bill failed of passage and if by that time the prohibitionists have been able to secure the votes necessary to pass it, it will be modified in the manner asked for by them.

Smallpox at Ishpeming.

ISHPEMING, Mich., March 19.—A case of smallpox was discovered in this city last night. The victim is Martin Lucas, a young Englishman who arrived here from Spring Valley, Ill., last Tuesday. Every precaution is being taken to prevent the disease from spreading. Special police officers have been detailed to guard the premises, and all the inmates are being confined to the house. The city is not provided with a pesthouse, but it is probable that one will be erected soon.
