

Nothing Succeeds Like Success!

If you look in the dictionary you can see the definition of Success. If you come to our store you can see the reality of success. Our Great

DISCOUNT SALE

Has been very successful and by it we have increased our sales 35 per cent. over any previous year in the same period. We will not enumerate many of the Grand Bargains we are offering but will just say come to our store for anything you wish. Every item in our stock will be sold at cut prices. Our Wash Dress Goods have been divided in lots at 5c, 7½c, 10c, 15c and 20c. The prices are just about half of their real value and would be cheap to lay aside until next year.

Do You Remember

The grand Walker Auction Sale we had last spring? Well we are going to revive it on Winter Goods. We bought several items from the Walker Auction that were not salable at that time, and we rolled them in the basement until you wanted them and here they are. The lots are small and will not last long.

DEMOCRATIC TIMES.

Laboring men in Wheeling and elsewhere, who have been idle for many months, are welcoming these "democratic times" and the prosperity they bring with them.—Wheeling Register (dem.).

Now for business. There is no longer a question of a business revival. The country is on the up grade. If ever there was a time for investment and enterprise now is the time—Toledo Commercial (rep.).

For four months there were no orders for goods, and there consequently was no incentive for activity with the mills. It would have been under the circumstances, a gambling operation to have run the mills in the anticipation of a demand which might never materialize, and, of course, nobody did it. Now, with the sudden and unprecedented demand which has developed during the last two weeks, the capacity of the mills will be overtaxed. We are running with double shifts night and day, and have even now more goods sold ahead than we can make. —N. Y. Dry Goods Economist (trade).

The well lately drilled in by the Salem wire nail company and which first seemed a duster is now flowing about 250,000 feet of gas daily. The company has built a rig over the famous old Heck well and will clean it out and shoot it, with the hopes of securing a flow of gas.

A new well will also be started on this company's property. The company is preparing to put in an oil fuel plant in connection with its furnaces, so as to be fortified with plenty of fuel when the plant is cut off from the city's mains or their supply gives out or falls short.—Findlay (O.) Journal (rep.).

Free trade in wool has resulted in extraordinary activity in woolen manufacturing. We are told in the trade circles of the week that "the free wool clause of the new tariff resulted in heavy withdrawals of that staple and renewed activity among manufacturers." This is a rank heresy toward the faith of the high protectionists. Free trade in wool oughtn't to work that way at all, according to the catechism of the protectionist, and wool has no right to behave as it is behaving. The worst thing for the McKinleyites is that wool is advancing in price. The passage of the McKinley law was followed by a sharp and immediate decline. The new tariff law gives every encouragement of a slight mistake when the school day was discontinued. It had come to be looked upon as an established feature of fair week. Its discontinuance, therefore, caused more or less disappointment.

Two Catholic Weddings.

On Tuesday morning at St. Bernard's church Patrick E. Fanning, of Indianapolis, and Miss Ellen, daughter of Enos O'Conner, residing east of the city, were united in marriage by Father Crosson. Mr. Fanning has a position on the Indianapolis fire department and after a wedding trip to Chicago himself and new wife will be at home to their friends in the Capital city.

At 8 o'clock Wednesday morning the marriage of James A. Brennan and Miss Nora Kelley was solemnized at the same place by Father Crosson. The newly wedded are well and favorably known young people of this city.

The Butchers' Wm. Protection.

The city butchers have petitioned the city council for protection. They ask for an ordinance to make it unlawful for any unlicensed person to sell or offer to sell in Crawfordsville fresh or salted meat. The proposed license would cost the vendor $100 for one year, and by an ascending scale, to $5 a week and $3 per day. The penalty for a violation would be from $10 to $50. Whether this ordinance ever gets through remains to be seen.

Old Exhibitor.

"Old Exhibitor" may be correct partially in some of his observations, as several exhibitors did more than the customary amount of growing this year. They complain of partiality in some departments, of loose management in others. Some of the managers look upon the fair just simply as a place to have a good time, a week of holiday where the pay goes on, and probably become indifferent and careless in attending the duties assigned them. It may be that "new blood" will change all this and again it may not.

The Monon Seeks a Loan.

A circular has been issued by the Monon Railroad Co., notifying the share holders that on September 19th, the date of the annual meeting, authority will be asked for the creation of a $1,000,000 equipment mortgage sinking fund, 5 per cent twenty year bonds to be secured by mortgage on freight cars now used but not owned by the company, which cost $1,000,234, of which more than one-third has been paid. All passenger and engines, the circular states, have already been paid for. The proposed equipment bonds will be countersigned and issued only as title to the cars is vested in the trustees, the object of the operation being to fund into a twenty year bond the temporary obligations now existing in the form of equipment notes. The company has already arranged for the sale of sufficient bonds to provide for all the equipment notes matured during the past year, and which will accrue during the coming twelve months.
