How to Avoid Farm Work in Summer

It never gets so hot in the South as it does in the north. There are never any sunstrokes in the South. The hotter the weather the harder the Northern farmer has to work to save his crops, while down South the farmers do most of their farm work during the fall, winter and spring, when the weather is cool, and during the summer they take life easy. It is always cool in the shade down South and the nights are always cool. The thermometer seldom gets above 90. The hottest day during the past five years was 97 degrees. You can grow one crop during the winter, another during the spring and another during the fall on the same land each year. You will net more money from each one of these crops than you can make from a similar crop in the North. You can get a home cheaper. It will cost you less to live. You can make more money. You will have better health, live longer, and enjoy life better in the South than in the North. A beautiful pamphlet that tells all about it free to all applicants. Go South now and investigate. Low rate excursions every month over the Mobile & Ohio railroad.

Charles Marlatt, who was appointed trustee of long suffering, robbed and victimized Wabash township last week, came to town Saturday and procured a bull pup, which he took home to "raise." If that pup thrives, it will not be long until the school furniture shark will be compelled to give the township a wide berth—Covington Friend.

Crawfordsville and Boswell will both fair this week—but the Lafayette show will be the Barnum.—Lafayette Times.

Visitors to the Tippecanoe aggregation say there was little about it of a Barnum nature, but much that was of Beer. Barnum never failed to give the full value for your money, the Tippecanoe concern has frequently paid one half premiums to exhibitors. Quite a difference where comparisons are in order.

Sunday afternoon was one of the most hot and sultry periods that we have had this summer. For that reason people longed for the luxury of the cool shade and a large number of them found it at the fair ground. The crowd was estimated at over 2,000. While there wasn't much Sunday out there, yet everything was quiet and peaceful and no kind of disturbance was reported. The fair only comes once a year and it is presumed the reform league is quite glad of it.

Mrs. Frank Nichols had her eye brows singed and one hand badly burned in a natural gas explosion the other day. The gas had been turned on too long before she applied a match, which resulted in the explosion. The stove plates were hurled about the room in a lively manner.

Ex United States Treasurer Enos H. Nebeker, of Covington, recently surprised his republican conferees by boldly expressing himself on the recently pending tariff bill, viz: "If the Senate bill is finally accepted by the democrats, and becomes a law, in my judgment it will prove generally satisfactory to the people after it once gets into operation. If that is the case, then 1896 will again see a democratic majority, even if they lose this year."

A Natural Gas Explosion.

On Sunday Miss Tyler, the culinary artist in Alex Mahoney's family, tripped out into the kitchen to prepare the noon day meal. When she turned on the gas and struck a match to start a fire in the cook stove an explosion that was distinctly heard all over the neighborhood followed. The girl was scared out of 'steen years growth, had her newly banged hair and eye brows badly singed, but otherwise was only slightly injured. The stove lids were sent flying in all directions, the pipe was torn down and apple butter quickly made of a stew kettle of apples setting on the stove. The gas had not been entirely turned off, so that there was a small escape all the while, and hence the explosion. It was purely the result of carelessness in allowing the gas to escape before the girl attempted to start the fire.

The Knights of Pythias Reunion.

By next week the committee will be able to make a definite report as to what the program for the big K. of P. reunion will be. Governor Matthews has been invited to make a speech and Major Carnahan has been asked to have charge of the grand street pageant and big parade. The Eighth Regiment, U. R., has been invited, but it is not yet known whether all divisions can be present or not. The Divisions of the Regiment are those of Lafayette, Frankfort, Kokomo, Peru, Rensselaer, Logansport, Crawfordsville and Veedersburg. They are a finely uniformed and well drilled body of men. The grand parade will present many other features of striking interest. The bounteous basket dinner at the fair grounds will be followed by a program to please everybody.

A Brute in Men's Clothing.

A bold and dastardly attempt was made to take advantage of an innocent girl on south Grant avenue one evening this week. The hour was between 9 and 10 o'clock. It is not known whether they were walking together or not. The affair occurred in a secluded part of the street where the shadows of the campus trees obscured the rays of the electric light. Attention was first attracted to them when the brute took hold of the girl, causing her to scream with all her might. In the scuffle that ensued the frightened girl broke away from the fiend and ran down the street as if escaping from a murderer. The man, now thoroughly alarmed at being discovered made good his retreat to the darkness.

It is said that the ride from Cannes to Genoa is the finest railroad journey in the world.

A "Sawbuck."

LAFAYETTE, IND., September 1.—Squire Noah Justice, who on Monday assumed the duties of Mayor of Lafayette, had a peculiar case to judicially determine last Saturday. The question involved was, what constitutes a "sawbuck" when the expression is applied to money? Two years or more ago Joseph Foresman, a cattle buyer, sold stock to Fred Dryfus. Among the lot was a heifer that Mr. Foresman intended keeping. He had paid $18 for the animal. Dryfus offered him a "sawbuck" for the heifer. Foresman said he could not afford to take that for the animal as he had just paid $18 for her. Dryfus repeated his proposition, that he would give a "sawbuck" for the heifer, and finally in view of the fact that the beast was a little wild, Foresman said he would take it, though he thought he ought to have more money.

The stock was driven to the slaughter house and an order given Foresman for his pay. When he received his check he discovered that he had been allowed but $10 for his heifer. He refused to accept that amount saying that he had paid $18 for her, and Mr. Dryfus had agreed to pay him a "sawbuck," which was $20. Mr. Dryfus understood a "sawbuck" to be a ten-dollar bill, and said that was all he agreed to pay for the heifer. Matters ran along for nearly two years, when Foresman sued Dryfus for the balance due on the animal, claiming that he had received but $10, when Dryfus had agreed to pay $20, the difference, it will be seen, resting upon what really constitutes a "sawbuck." It was a new point to the Court, who had no long list of Supreme Court decisions to guide him in arriving at a judicial definition of the word "sawbuck" when used in connection with money. After hearing all the evidence, however, and revolving the matter over in his mind the Squire to day gave Foresman judgment for $10, the balance due, with interest from the date of the sale, which ran the amount up to something like $12. To this is added the costs of the Court.

M. E. Conference.

The forty third session of the Northwest Indiana Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church assembled in Trinity Church, at Lafayette on the 5th of September, the session closing on the 11th. The Presiding Bishop is Wm. F. Mallalieu, and Presiding Elder L. C. Buckles. The conference sermon was delivered on Tuesday, at 7:30 p. m., by Rev. H. A. Tucker, of Crawfordsville.

Home and Abroad.

It is the duty of everyone, whether at home or traveling for pleasure or business, to equip himself with the remedy which will keep up strength and prevent illness, and to cure such ills as are liable to come upon all in every day life. For instance, Hood's Sarsaparilla as a general tonic and to keep the blood pure and less liable to absorb the germs of disease, will be well nigh invaluable. Change of drinking water often causes serious trouble, especially if one has been used to spring water in the country. From a few drops to a teaspoonful of Hood's Sarsaparilla in a tumbler of water will prevent the water having any injurious effect.

Hood's Vegetable Pills, as a cathartic, cause no discomfort, no disturbance, no loss of sleep, but assist the digestive organs, so that satisfactory results are effected in a natural and regular manner.
