DECLARED UNCONSTITUTIONAL.

The act of the legislature of 1891 regulating the pay of county officers has, so far as treasurers are concerned, been declared unconstitutional, and eventually it is believed, the whole law will be annulled, on account of several imperfections and inequalities, which exist in it. A law paying all county officials a reasonable compensation for their labors, but not one cent more, is needed and should be passed. They should not be expected, nor should it be desired that with their responsibilities they should be paid simply a journeyman's wages, but it should be most emphatically impressed upon them that they should not make fortunes off of tax-payers and litigants during their incumbency of office given them by the people.

Our republican brethren at the ensuing session of the legislature will have an excellent opportunity to pass a just and equitable law in this matter. The mistakes in the laws of the past both for and against the interests of the people and county officers can be satisfactorily demonstrated, and a new act fair and equitable to all parties can be enacted. But will it be done is the question? Will the county officers lobby be more influential with the legislature than the honest desires of the people?
It almost always has been with all legislatures for twenty years past, and nine times out of ten efforts relating to this matter have been useless. In a strong fight the lobby generally wins, and litigants and tax-payers pay back to the lobby the expenses they had been to. We have been and are living now in an age partaking more or less of corruption, and in which money most times overrides the wishes of the people. It is a fact and not a sentiment that faces us. Shall money triumph in this instance over the often times expressed wishes of the people? Can a law, is there a desire among the politicians and interested parties, that a law will be constructed that shall be constitutional in the matter of services to be paid officials? That's the question. It has been a brilliant failure thus far.
What the future law makers may do is in doubt. Will they pass a law that will stand the test of the courts, and at the same time be fair to all? We will in a few short months be able to give a satisfactory answer to this question.

EX-CONGRESSMAN HOLMAN says there were just three causes for our late waterloo. They were Cleveland's miserable foreign policy, the hard times and the unpardonable delay of Congress in passing a tariff bill. He says the country is bankrupting itself by building enormous war vessels that we have no use for at all. He says the present tariff act will be left undisturbed for many years. The republicans are getting further away every day from extreme protection. He declares that free silver will be the chief issue in 1896. The democratic party dare not do otherwise than declare for the unlimited coinage of the people's money at the present ratio. With that issue only we can win. We need more money in the United States. The amount that is collected for the support of the government is taken from the pockets of all the people and put into the hands of a few thousands.

COL. SMILEY CHAMBERS, a to be leading light in republican State circles, has spoken out against the proposed gerry-mander of the State by the legislature.
This will make him decidedly unpopular with most of the leaders of his party and Chambers will be bridled hereafter.
A man of that party proposing anything fair and honorable before the legislature is sure to become unpopular and be hooted down, as the hot heads so long out of power in this State are determined to make the most of the situation.

LOBBIES in the interest of various corporations and individuals it is said are being formed to work the legislature which convenes in a few weeks. As most of the members are new to the law making business it is quite probable that most of them can be "worked."

THE RECEIVER BUSINESS.

Among the radical changes which should be brought about by the legislature is that relating to the allowances made by courts to receivers for bankrupt firms, corporations and such. It is shameful the allowances made to the incumbents of such positions. It is nothing more than high handed extortion and legalized robbery. In the settlement of a bursted bank's business at Indianapolis some years ago, Harry Milligan, formerly of this place, received altogether $35,000 for his position as receiver of the defunct institution. The late Wm. Wallace, of Indianapolis, received $25,000 for settling up the affairs of the Fletcher & Sharp's bank, we believe it was, and now Pailey is allowed the snug fortune of $50,000 for work as receiver for the Iron Hall organization occupying two years of time. It is quite possible that none of these men ever before made so much money in the same space of time with brain and hands, and never will again—unless appointed receivers. The allowances are made them generally by judges who know little of the practical affairs of life outside their own profession, and are really incompetent to judge what the services of a receiver are worth.
The matter of allowances to receivers should be taken from their hands and placed in those of men who know what they are worth, and will see that they are paid that and no more. It used to be thought that a Register in Bankruptcy had a "soft thing" in administering the duties of that office, but when it comes to the receiver, the register man is not in it, judging from matters developed in later years.

TO ABOLISH INSTITUTES.

A measure to abolish what are known as township teachers' institutes, it is said, will be introduced at the coming session of the legislature. The opinion is growing that our educational institutions of all kinds are costing the taxpayers entirely too much, and that a cutting down of expenses should begin without further delay. The item of township institutes alone costs the taxpayers of Indiana over $180,000. In Montgomery county alone, the costs of these institutes is near $3,000 per year.
And for whose benefit are they held every month? For teachers only. A young man fitting himself for the practice of law, medicine, the ministry, or even merchandising, pays his own way.
The tax-payers are not called upon nor expected to pay his way in order that he may become proficient in his calling or even pay it after he has learned. Not so the teacher. The tax-payers of Indiana are to-day paying each township teacher from $12 to $15 each per year. Why not give each medical and law student or clerk who is "preparing" himself for a future career of usefulness, $12 or $15 per annum to help him along? Is it correct for tax-payers to be compelled to pay this? This is one of the unjust workings of the school law, we believe, that nine tenths of the people desire to see abolished.

The principal business of the republican legislature of the State next month would seem, judging from indications, to be to tear down good laws enacted by past democratic legislatures, and erect in its stead certain acts in the interest of rings and corporations. Consequently the new tax law, the school book law, the election law and other beneficial acts of the past few years, will go through a mill of amendments, alterations, etc., until they are made satisfactory to a select few managing the party in the State, but largely against the interests of the masses of the people of the State.
Those milk and water democrats who went over to the protection and monopolist party last month body and branch, may yet live to regret their foolish impulses judging from appearances just at this time.

Now that the foot ball season is about closed would it not be a good idea for the students to give some attention to their studies, to permit intellectual pursuits have some chance with physical exercises. There is three times the amount of sport in colleges now to that of 25 and 30 years ago. Yet are they turning out any brighter men, intellectually speaking, to-day than then? It is questionable. There is entirely too much time given to sports and amusements in colleges. If students attend college to discipline the mind and improve the intellect, they should do so or quit. A nation of sports is not desirable, but one of intellect and intelligence is.

In this State one text book used costs scholars 25 cents, which in other States is sold for 40 cents, another text book selling in Indiana for 65 cents is sold in other States for $1.00. A republican legislature will probably revise the school book law by which the school children of Indiana will have to pay the increased price. At least it looks that way judging from the reports of a revision of most laws enacted by democratic legislatures.

Is the event that ex-President Harrison's aspirations for the Presidency should fail in 1896, his friends might secure for him the position of receiver for future defunct corporations at Indianapolis. There seems to be both money and fame in the business.

BEAUTIFUL SPECIMENS.

The few candidates on the republican State ticket inducted into office since the election have undoubtedly shown themselves to be beautiful specimen bricks already, and are bringing mortification to their party friends through the State in their conduct thus far.
Blatchley, it would seem, (who unfortunately was elected State Geologist), from charges made by republicans, is fully fit for "stratagem and spoils," and was already expecting to lengthen his pocket book by the sale of positions of which he has the control. Hess, the clerk of the Supreme Court, an individual scared up from the wilds of Wabash county, is charged already with nepotism in appointing three of his children to salaried positions under him, and for which the State must foot the bill. He is proposing also, it is stated, to charge newspapers at so much per square for any information of interest to the public coming from his office for publication. What special talents the incoming Treasurer and Secretary of State elected on the republican State ticket may exhibit it is not known, but if of similar nature to those already spoken of they will be "honnies" indeed. The party seems to have fished up some very boney, but greedy suckers when they placed them in the field, and it can be safely said that some of them will hold their offices but one term after which they can retire without regrets.

SURFACE indications now are that the majority party in the State legislature will be controlled solely by Indianapolis politicians. The rural members will simply be puppets in the hands of the gang who hang round the New Dennison, and will be instructed just what to say and do. These fellows will control most of the legislation, particularly where it may effect their individual interests, and most of the offices within the gift of the legislature.

The Pains of Rheumatism

According to the best authorities, originate in a morbid condition of the blood. Lactic acid, caused by the decomposition of the gelatinous and al-buminous tissues, circulates with the blood and attacks the fibrous tissues, particularly in the joints and thus causes the local manifestations of the disease. The back and shoulders are the parts usually affected by rheumatism, and the joints at the knees, ankles, hips and wrists are also sometimes attacked. Thousands of people have found in Hood's Sarsaparilla a positive and permanent cure for rheumatism. It has had remarkable success in curing the most severe cases. The secret of its success lies in the fact that it attacks at once the cause of the disease by neutralizing the lactic acid and purifying the blood, as well as strengthening every function of the body.

Cardinal Mezzofanti, the phenomenal linguist, spent his boyhood in a carpenter shop.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures.

NEW MARKET, Ind., Nov. 6, 1894.
James Wright of this place makes the following statement concerning his experience with Hood's Sarsaparilla. I have been taking Hood's Sarsaparilla for kidney trouble and can say that it has nearly cured me. I have also taken it for rheumatism and am completely cured of this trouble.

Hood's Pills are especially prepared to be taken with Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Salt rheum with its intense itching, dry, hot skin is cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla, because it purifies the blood.
