BAN AGAINST SECRET SOCIETIES.

A special published the other day said the ban issued against secret societies by the authority from the Pope of Rome, is irrevocable as regards Catholics belonging to these societies, which means they must cut loose from the societies or they will be cut loose from the church. It includes the societies of the Knights of Pythias, Sons of Temperance, Odd Fellows, etc., and there are said to be 100,000 Catholics in the United States at this time who belong to these societies. How this edict will effect them is yet to be seen. It would seem to the citizen of average sense that so long as any member of the church is a believer in its tenets, is prompt in his attendance at worship and conducts himself at all times and in all places as a good man should, it is none of the Pope's business how many secret societies any member may attach himself to. These societies, if we understand their object, are for the moral and social advancement of men, and have no other reason for their existence. Therefore why interdict any one from joining them? The right to think and act is at once taken from the member, and he must ask the church authorities what he shall eat and drink, or with what he shall be clothed. This system of dictation seems abominable, and very many of American born Catholics, we believe, will pay no attention to it, and will go out of the church rather than submit to it.

A very good indication of the kind of brigands that are at the head of the republican party in Indiana can be judged by the strife between the friends of Gowdy and Nebeker in the late contest for the chairmanship of the State central committee. Each side said and did everything for their favorite and hesitated at nothing to win. These same men would wink encouragingly at the altering of tally sheet papers, the bribing of voters, or anything else disreputable to win. The democratic central committee should understand thoroughly just what kind of cattle they will encounter this year, and should be prepared for them at every turn in the road. We could have as much respect for any well trained forger or bung-steerer as of these people.

RECOGNIZE THEM.

From the succession of victories won by the Cubans and the desperate efforts made by them for the independence of their country it would seem that they have won their claim to be recognized as belligerents by this government, and should have it. It would be a great encouragement to them and would speed the hour of their deliverance from the yoke of Spain. The Spaniards have changed commanders in their army and from now on propose a relentless war with the Cubans. It will be war to the knife from now on. If, however, the Cubans have the success from now on as heretofore they will soon drive their enemies from the island, and have a government of their own.

NEBAKER VS. GOWDY.

The contest among republicans in this State for weeks past has been over the chairmanship of the republican State central committee. It was either Gowdy or Nebeker. The better, or most honest portion of the party were for Gowdy; the opposite to this favor Nebeker. Nebeker in politics is known as a vile, dishonest trickster who will resort to the lowest methods to succeed—a block of five Dudley man as it were.

Gowdy is just as old and experienced in politics as is his opponent, but has entirely different methods for campaign work.

Is all the talk about the financial affairs of this country it should be kept steadily in mind that the republican party is entirely and exclusively responsible for the financial laws under which this country is now struggling to maintain its credit and keep all of the complex and varied forms of money at a par with each other. Whatever fault there is to be found in the system, the republicans alone are responsible for it. They made all the laws—PaPorte Argus.

INDICTING LEGISLATORS.

The grand jury of Franklin county, Ohio, last week returned indictments against twelve or fourteen members of the legislature of that State for bribery and corruption. They were promptly arrested and furnished the required bonds, and were liberated until the day of trial. They were of both political parties and the charges against them in many of the cases will be proven. The bribe taker and the bribe payer are thieves alike, and should be punished as such regardless of their standing in the community. A man, a public official, who will pay out or receive money for corrupt purposes belongs in the same category with the pick-pocket, forger and all-round criminal, and if justice is not blind will receive similar punishment. In Illinois at the last session of the State legislature, several members were proven guilty of bribery and were punished, exposed and humiliated for their criminal conduct. We doubt not had the effort have been made, the same state of affairs would have been found to exist in the last session of the Indiana legislature. There were too many good acts to be passed into laws introduced and soon after killed in the committee rooms, or after they had been brought before the House or Senate, not to create suspicion that the use of money prevented them from becoming a part of the laws of the State. Had a grand jury, as in Ohio, have gotten after them many of the bogus patriots of the State now posing as political leaders, now swelling up with importance as the campaign approaches, now running as men free from corruption of any kind, would have been exposed, degraded as they deserve to be, and retired into obscurity. It would be a grand thing for the reputation of the State if hereafter the Ohio and Illinois methods be pursued in dealing with corrupt legislators.

NEW INSURANCE COMPANIES.

Movements are under way in some parts of the State to organize home mutual fire insurance companies by which the insured can throw off the exacting grip of eastern and foreign companies, and have their property insured at a much lower rate than is now possible. As it is the insurance companies are nothing but a gigantic trust charging whatever rates their fancy dictates, and from which the insured has no recourse. He can pay the rates demanded or quit insuring, and that is all there is about it. It is believed that responsible and reliable insurance companies can be formed that will insure property at much lower rates than are now asked, and if so, the sooner they are put under way the better.

A very good indication of the kind of brigands that are at the head of the republican party in Indiana can be judged by the strife between the friends of Gowdy and Nebeker in the late contest for the chairmanship of the State central committee. Each side said and did everything for their favorite and hesitated at nothing to win. "A GREAT STRUGGLE."

The big majority by which the republicans carried Indiana in 1894 is not likely to be duplicated in 1896. The campaign of this year cannot be won away from the democrats without a great struggle, with all the force combined and harmonious.—Lafayette Courier.

You could not have told the truth more forcibly if you had sworn to it. The big republican majority of 1894 was won through the indifference of democrats as to results, and a general disgust of the administration, and in consequence thousands of them in the State remained away from the polls on election day. The situation will be entirely different this year. There are strong inducements in view which appeal to every democrat to stand by his party and support its nominees, and this year they will do it. They see the timidity, the partizan, the do-nothing policy of republican House of Representatives. They see the continual inaction, through republican favoritism, of capital over labor. They see and know enough to oppose and labor to defeat the republican ticket, and will aim to do it by all honest means. All is asked is a ticket in both State and county that will command themselves to the people and the victory is half won. The Courier is correct regarding a "great struggle," and the democracy expect and intend that it shall be such, a very different affair from 1894.

A BIG MORTGAGE.

When a rich man wants money he wants it bad. Most persons would think that an individual of the immense wealth that Lucky Baldwin is reported to possess would have no need of ever becoming hard up for money. His wealth has been estimated to be all the way from thirty to thirty millions of dollars. The California papers of last week contained a statement that in order to raise the sum of $800,000, Baldwin had mortgaged the Baldwin Hotel and theatre of San Francisco, and also 2,700 acres of land known as the San Anita ranch, near Los Angeles. This is a pretty good sum of money, and in the hands of a prudent man, 66 years old, should last him the remainder of his days.

The son and daughter of ex-President Harrison are reported as very much displeased with their father's contemplated marriage to Mrs. Dimmick. No doubt if they had their way their father would remain a widower, as by that arrangement they could at his death get all his wealth instead of having it divided, as would probably be the case in the event of a second marriage. That is generally really the case in second marriages that causes the opposition of children, and is most times the only real reason for the opposition to such unions.

In the Beginning

Of a new year, when the winter season of close confinement is only half gone, many find that their health begins to break down, that the least exposure threatens sickness. It is then as well as at all other times, and with people even in good health, that the following facts should be remembered, namely, that Hood's Sarsaparilla leads everything in the way of medicines; that it accomplishes the greatest cures in the world; has the largest sale in the world, and requires the largest building in the world devoted exclusively to the preparation of the proprietary medicine. Does not this conclusively prove, if you are sick, that Hood's Sarsaparilla is the medicine for you to take?

The annual report of the coroner of New York shows that during the last year 4,500 women were buried in the Potters' field.
