A Portion of a Speech.

The following is a portion of the speech made by Mr. Bryan from the platform on east Main street on Thursday:

"The republican platform transfers to foreign nations the right to determine when we shall have the double standard because that platform promises to maintain the gold standard until the leading commercial nations shall join with us.
Who shall determine when they will act? They must determine it or we must wait until they act and then our decision in this country is to be based, not upon what we want, but upon what they will let us have. The republican platform, for the first time in the history of this nation, proposes to surrender the right of self government, and standing upon a platform which declares in favor of an American dollar for the American people, I put my patriotism against the patriotism of Gen.
Lew Wallace or against the patriotism of any other man on earth who indorses the republican platform."

The Grand Rally To-Day.

As we go to press everything portends an immense attendance of people at the last grand rally of the democrats of Montgomery county before the election.
The weather again seems somewhat unfavorable and will no doubt keep many people away, still the crowd at least will be as large as that of the republicans last Saturday. Large delegations from the region of Shannondale, Ripley, Coal Creek and Clark townships will form a part of the parade this forenoon. Senator Teller and Mr. Shively, the candidate for Governor, will address the people at the fair ground, and in the evening there will be speaking at Music Hall.

day afternoon of scarlet fever. The funeral will take place to-day.

At the State convention of the order of Red Men at Indianapolis this week, Robt. Ross, of this city, was appointed Guard of Wigwam for the ensuing year.
Mrs. Mary T. Small, of Waynetown, has made application for divorce from her husband J. M. Small, of the Despatch of that town, and the custody of the children.

The Halloween folly of October is due next Saturday night. It is probable that politics will this year somewhat interfere with it, and that in consequence it will not attract the interest as heretofore.

A business man on Pike street, it was reported, made the remark one day this week that he did not want the trade of any Bryan man. It is quite probable that he will not be troubled with this quality of trade after his wishes are generally understood.

A Crawfordsville "Squire" who has taken an active part in talking politics, was called upon to marry a couple the other day. He started in by saying:
"We are gathered in the sight of God to join together this man and woman in the holy bonds of wedlock at the ratio of 16 to 1, in order that the prosperity of this glorious nation may continue; and if anyone present has anything to say why the gold standard should not be continued let him forever hold his peace."—Ladoga Leader.

CHICKEN THIEVES CORRALLED.

The Coleman Gang Behind Bolts and Bars.

The amount of stealing of property by breaking into houses, robbing hen roosts, etc., reported from the north east part of the county from time to time during the last two months, will probably be greatly decreased hereafter, if, as the officers think, they have the parties now under lock and key. The Frankfort Times of Tuesday, says of them:

"For several weeks the farmers and people living in small towns in Montgomery county have been receiving frequent visits from housebreakers and chicken thieves. They also frequently branched out into other counties. The operations of the gang became so bold and their visits so numerous that all the power of the law was brought into use to bring the marauders to justice.
The notorious Gus Freeman was a member of the gang."

"In their efforts to bring the thieves within the law, the Crawfordsville officials sent descriptions all over the country. One of these descriptions came here, and to that fact the capture of two of the gang may be attributed.
While passing along the east side of the square near the postoffice yesterday morning, Marshal Bird noticed two young men reading a letter. He thought they were the men wanted, but made matters doubly sure by stepping up behind them, where he could see the contents of the letter they were reading. It was from a woman in Crawfordsville, and warned them to remain away from that city, as the officers were after them. Bird immediately placed both men under arrest and started to jail with them. As they neared the jail, however, they changed their minds and suddenly tried to break away from the officer. One of them drew a revolver and thus secured Bird's undivided attention for a few minutes, the other fellow getting away, but the man with the revolver was quickly landed in jail.
"As the man who got away crossed Clinton street Officer Denton saw him and gave chase. Near the High School building Tank Anderson undertook to stop the fleeing man, but the sight of the revolver convinced Mr. Anderson that he had no further objections to make. He ran east on Walnut street to John Young's house and crawled under the porch. At first he refused to come out, and made a threatening display of the gun, but when he saw that Denton was in earnest he crawled out.
"The men gave the name of Coleman and were, a few days ago, run thirty-five miles by Miller's Darlington blood hounds. Detective L. W. Cochran, of Crawfordsville, and S. M. Miller, the blood hound man, came up on the evening train after the men. Word was received from Kokomo last night that another of the gang had been arrested there, and they went up after him on the early train this morning."

Pops and Democrats Fuse.
The democrats and populists of Boone county, succeeded this week in fusing completely on county officials, the democrats profiting greatly by the deal. The terms were such that but one of the regularly nominated candidates on the democratic ticket was withdrawn, Henry Lamb, candidate for surveyor, giving way to Joseph T. Ashley, the populist nominee. The democrats had previously indorsed the populist nominees for representative and assessor. The ticket as it now stands is as follows: Judge, Barton S. Higgins; representative, Sylvester Titus; prosecuting attorney, Reed Holloman; sheriff, Edward Price; treasurer, Wm. H. Stewart; surveyor, Joseph T. Ashley; coroner, Chas.
R. Armstrong; assessor, Theodore Chadwell; commissioners, John Dulin and James McClain.
The populists polled 392 votes in 1894.

Indiana's Arbor Day.
For the first time in the history of Indiana, the Governor has issued a proclamation calling upon scholars and teachers in the schools of the state to observe the 30th inst. as Arbor Day, and it is his desire that the observance shall be general. In various districts, throughout the state, the ceremonial of planting trees has been annually observed, but never before by official sanction.
Death of Mrs. Lenora Galloway.
Mrs. Lenora Galloway, an old resident of this city, died at her home on west Pike street on Monday night after a long illness. Her age was 72 years.
She was a sister of Mr. John Potts, the well known butcher. Three children survive her, her husband having died during the war. The funeral took place on Wednesday evening.

Five hundred homeless men at a London shelter sent a telegram to the Queen containing congratulations on her long reign. The Queen replied with "sincere thanks."

AN ORPHAN'S GOOD LUCK.

Falls Heir to Over Two Thousand Dollars—Money Ready to be Paid Over.

Maximilian Berndt is an orphan. He is 18 years old now and has a good position at Fontanet. For a long time, however, he was an inmate of the Rose Orphan Home in this city, having no relatives or friends here. It is just announced that young Berndt is the acknowledged heir of $2,152 and that the money is ready to be paid over to his guardian.

The money comes from his grandmother, who was a resident of Patchgan, Germany. She died six years ago and ever since that time Attorney W. E.
Hendrich has been trying to have young Berndt's heirship recognized.
The lawyer has at last proved successful in his labors and will get a fee of $538 for his services.

Berndt's parents met an unhappy fate. His father, Ernst Berndt, a well known cigar manufacturer on Main street, drank heavily and committed suicide. His mother later went west and was burned to death in a hotel fire.

Mr. Voorhees Eloquent Words Endorsing Bryan.

Hon. D. W. Voorhees, who has been unwell for several months sent the following letter to the Chairman of the Central committee of Vigo county inviting him to act as chairman at the Bryan reception at Terre Haute on Thursday evening.

TERRE HAUTE, Oct. 21, 1896.

"The Hon. G. A. Schaaf, Chairman Democratic County Committee:

"Dear Sir—Permit me to express the deep regret and sorrow I feel at being unable to participate in the great welcome to be extended by our people tomorrow night to Mr. Bryan, the able and gifted democratic candidate for the presidency. He has shown himself worthy of all the eulogiums and honors that can be given him by the American people. He will carry Indiana; he will be elected, and the laboring, producing classes will thereby be vastly aided in returning to prosperity and happiness. It is an inexpressible grief to me that I have been denied an active part in the great contest. I wish my friends to be assured, however, that I stand as I always have in support of the issues of the present campaign as they are laid down in the Chicago platform and maintained by the nominee of the Chicago convention.
With great respect, Very Truly Yours
"D. W. VOORHEES."

Mr. Voorhees has been quite sick for some time, but he is now rapidly recovering.

Well Known to Kokomo.

At last the notorious Clevenger gang has been brought to grief. For the past three months the farmers of Montgomery, Clinton and Howard counties have been the losers of many hundred chickens through the depredations of this gang of which Gus Freeman was the head. The crowd consists of John and Ida Clevenger "Buck" Gibbs, "Chick" Doll and Lee Bard. Doll and Ida Clevenger were arrested at Crawfordsville Saturday. The remainder made good their escape but Gibbs and John Clevenger were captured at Frankfort Monday and taken to Crawfordsville. Ex-Policeman Welty, about 7 o'clock Monday night, found Lee Bard at the Clover Leaf saloon.
He was arrested and kept in jail over night and this morning Welty took him to Crawfordsville where sure cases of chicken stealing and other crimes are lodged against the whole crew.—Kokomo Tribune.

VARIOUS OPINIONS

Regarding the Political Outlook in Various States.

Indiana is an object of particular anxiety to leaders of both parties. The democrats regard it as necessary to their success, and are concentrating their energies on the State.

A number of well-known Washington correspondents are in Chicago, having been canvassing the political outlook in various doubtful States. William E.
Curtis said: "I can speak for only two States—Kentucky and Tennessee. The former is absolutely certain for Mc-Kinley, the latter will go to Bryan, but the republicans will elect the State ticket."

Maj. John M. Carson, of the Philadelphia Public Ledger, said: "Indiana is close, but I think McKinley will carry it. Kentucky I regard as absolutely certain for McKinley. I think every Pacific coast state will go for Bryan, and Nebraska and Kansas are doubtful, likely to go either way. If Bryan carries Indiana, Illinois or Michigan, I think he will have a good chance of winning."

Frank Richardson, of the Baltimore Sun, says Bryan will carry Maryland.
The Sun is an anti-Bryan paper, but Mr. Richardson is a firm friend of Mr.
Bryan.

Albert Miller, of the Kansas City Star, has a wide reputation for accurately forecasting political events. He says there is no possibility of the Republicans carrying Michigan, and that if the gold democrats had made a big fight in Alabama they would have carried the State for Palmer.

John S. Shriver, of the New York Mail and Express, has wagered $20 on each and every State in the Union with Frank Hordford, of the Detroit Free Press. Mr. Shriver's proposition is that all these States will give their electoral vote to McKinley. He has made a like wager of $10 each with E. W. Barrett, of the Atlanta Constitution, and expects to win on twenty-eight States.

Mr. Shriver offered to bet $100 even with Frank Richardson, of the Baltimore Sun, that Illinois would give Mc-Kinley 1,000 majority. Richardson at first accepted the offer. Shriver put up the money, and then Richardson asked for more time to investigate the Illinois situation.

A Railroad Boycott.

It is stated that Judge Ricks and Woods of the United States Circuit will take action on the boycott instituted by the joint traffic association against the Clover line if the matter is presented to them and that it will be presented if it is seen that the business of the Clover Leaf is injured by the boycott.

School House Destroyed.

Sparks from a traction engine passing the Small school, one mile west of Waynetown, set fire to a wood shed adjoining it, and soon all was in flames.
No water could be secured and the building burned to the ground. The loss, including building, furniture and books, is about $500.

Very few bets of any kind on the result of the coming election are being made in Crawfordsville. One trouble is the want of money, which with most betting men is decidedly scarce.
