CALLING OUT THEIR BEST MEN.

The republican campaign managers have become alarmed over the prospects of the November election. There is no doubt of this. The "silver craze" is not dying as they anticipate it, but is daily gaining in strength. The managers of the republican party are using every means known to political warfare. Their money is now being placed in many quarters to buy, to bulldoze, to intimidate. They are now forcing out their strongest men to harangue their faltering followers. Harrison, Rogersell, DePew, Foraker, and others have been forced to come out to try to save the party from defeat. Their influence, if nothing else, the managers hope will keep the majority of the rabble of their party with them. They are alarmed. There is no doubt of this, and are now going through the narrowing condition of "make believe." They have sprung every lie suggested on Bryan and it has no effect. They are using every device known to skillful politicians to keep their scattering hosts together, and yet with little benefit. The common people are tired of their lies and promises. They are no longer scared by their threats, and are determined to vote for their own individual interests. Harrison may appeal in most eloquent sentences, Rogersell may use all the sarcasm at command, Foraker may waive high the bloody shirt, but their listeners are little moved by them. Free silver, and cheaper money is what they desire, and will have it if their votes are to count for anything. In the meantime our gallant standard bearer, William Jennings Bryan, is making the greatest political canvass ever known in this country, and is attracting the largest audiences that ever listened to any speaker in the world. Everything points to success and he assuredly deserves it.

The indications seem favorable for a majority of the votes in Indiana, Michigan and Iowa being cast for Bryan. Adding to these the States south of the Ohio and west of the Mississippi, all of which his friends figure will be favorable to him, and his election is sure. Illinois, we believe, will favor McKinley, also Ohio and all the eastern States, including New York, but these are not a majority of the electoral and alone will not elect him.

THE BLOODY SHIRT SPEAKERS.

Such has been the desperation of the republican campaign managers in this campaign that they have been compelled to ring in the bloody shirt element in order to secure, where possible, the ex-soldier vote. But it seems to have been a decided failure. Gens. Sickles, Alger, Corporal Tanner, and three and four other ex-officers of the late war, were brought out and placed in a car and run all over the country as much for exhibition as anything else, and for the belief that it might win some votes for the McKinley cause. With large numbers it has had the opposite effect. With many it has created disgust and contempt. Most of these ex-army officers were anything but speakers and politicians, and their remarks generally were nothing but verbiage and nonsense, showing clearly that they were out of place on a political platform. One of the remarks attributed to them was that the Bryan men were nothing but tramps and ragamuffins. They chatted this sentence like parrots. Considering that the majority of the agriculturists of the country are for Bryan, that many thousands of business men, merchants and manufacturers are for him, that large numbers of Senators, Legislators, Governors, etc., favor his election, such observation coming from supposed intelligent men, can create only for those uttering it feelings of pity and contempt. The tour of these ex-army officers has not been a success. They found many old soldiers, privates too, that do not think Bryan advocates are tramps, but expect to vote for him. It is quite probable that were it to be proposed again, that the tour of the Generals would be voted down quickly. It has done the McKinley cause no good.

CHICAGO APPRAISEMENTS.

To show how wealthy corporations and individuals escape their share of the burdens of taxation, and of which the middle and poorer classes complain, an instance is shown in Chicago, but is only one of many in that city, and perhaps the country over. Appraisements of real estate are supposed to be made equitably so that owners shall pay an equitable amount of taxes. The Auditorium building and ground on which it stands in Chicago at a fair valuation is worth $5,000,000. The assessor for purposes of taxation finds it worth only about $365,000. There are many other large business blocks in that city that have the same ridiculous low appraisement placed on them, while the man with the $5,000 residence finds his property assessed to the highest notch. Is there any wonder that dissatisfaction among the common people should prevail, that a spirit of anarchy should exist among many, that enmity toward the millionaires should prevail when such open fraud, unfairness as this shown above should prevail? The assessors in these instances probably get to handle and possess some of the millionaire's gold, in order to make such appraisements as these.

STATE SUCCESS.

The prospects of carrying the State and county for Bryan and the democratic ticket are decidedly encouraging at this time, and all that democrats have to do is to continue in the fight for the remaining few days as they have during the past few weeks. The polling of the State shows a democratic majority of from 30,000 to 40,000, and all the lies, money and coercion, that the republicans can originate and use will not, it would seem, change the result to any great extent from this. The bolting element of the democracy will be small potatoes at the election, probably from 5,000 to 8,000 only, which will be nothing in comparison to the vast number of free silver republicans over the State that will this year vote for Bryan.

"GOLD STANDARD TICKET."

The above is the caption of the ballot to be voted by the bolting or McKinley democrats at the election next month. The leaders, through republican urging, sought to get the word "Democratic" placed at the head of the Palmer and Buckner ticket, for the purpose of confusing those desiring to vote for Bryan and Sewell, but it would not work. The election commissioners could not be bulldozed nor intimidated, and put the proper name to the ballot that the democratic gold bugs expect to vote regardless of the wishes of these individuals.

NOT TRUE.

Every minister in Crawfordsville will vote for McKinley.—Journal.
This is not true. There are two or three at least, that we know of, who will not, but expect to cast their ballots for Bryan and free silver. Ministers are just like anybody else in the matter of political predilections, and have just as strong prejudices in politics as the rest of us. All of them in Crawfordsville, however, notwithstanding their surroundings are not for McKinley and will not vote for him.

In a burst of eloquence, Chauncey DePew once said that fifty men can control the business of the United States, because they can control the railroads and the money arteries. That is the condition that the people of the country want to change. They do not wish fifty men or five hundred men to have control of the business of the country.

DON'T MUTILATE A TICKET.

We understand that among some republican schemes proposed to a voter lately in the north part of the country is one to induce him to mutilate the ticket containing the names of presidential electors. Any ticket mutilated by the knife, pencil or ink is, of course, useless, is thrown out and the voter loses entirely his choice for president. The voter could if venal enough mutilate the ticket, but cutting out an emblem for instance, then fold the ticket, hand it to the polling clerk, and hand the emblem to the party getting him to thus act, as a proof of his work, and then receive the money to be paid for such corruptible work. No honest voter will mutilate knowingly his ticket.

ALTGELT IN NEW YORK.

Gov. Altgelt delivered one of the ablest speeches heard from the lips of any speaker in this campaign in New York one night last week. Altgelt has made an excellent Governor for Illinois, and in spite of the mountains of maledictions heaped up against him has an excellent chance of being re-elected. The lies uttered against him have little or no effect in his own State where they know him, and know him as a worthy citizen.

ROBERT G. INGERSOLL ON THE SILENT QUESTION IN 1878.

"For my part I do not ask any interference on the part of the government except that money be made out of nothing. I do not ask of prosperity born of paper. But I do ask for the redemption of silver. Demonetization was an imposition upon every solvent man. A fraud upon every honest debtor in the United States. It assassinated labor. It was done in the interest of avarice and greed and should be undone by honest men."

OLD Bob Ingersoll, the republican infidel orator, now goes completely back on his words of a few years ago, and his speeches read like a lawyer making a desperate appeal for his client after the public were satisfied that he should be hung. He denounced a few years ago the crime of 73 and favored bimetalism. He don't now. His fee per speech is probably $1,000.

SUSTAINED.

The Supreme Court last week in a decision reported sustains the constitutionality of the Nicholson temperance law. It is in consequence hereafter the law of the State, and dispensers of intoxicating liquors must regulate their business in accordance with its provisions. Future legislatures may modify some sections of the law, but it stands as a whole until then.

The coercion of railway employees, factory hands and others employed by many large establishments through the country still continues, and many men wear McKinley badges who will not vote for him, yet it is pleasant to remember that the force business ceases at the entrance to the booth where the ballots are cast.

As the campaign draws to a close the Indianapolis News, continues that "neutral, but independent" position that always distinguished it in political years, by devoting daily two or three columns in behalf of the republican national ticket.

DEMOCRATS, keep up the good work. Do not worry in well doing. The prospects of carrying the State and county ticket are excellent, but a relaxation at any time until after November 3d may result in defeat. Keep at work.

One good thing that always happens at the close of the political year, is the blessing that consigns the drum corps to oblivion.

Fads in Medicine.

There are fads in medicine as in every thing else and a "new thing" frequently sells for a short time simply because it is new. But in medicine, as in nothing else, the people demand and will be satisfied only with positive, absolute merit. The fact that Hood's Sarsaparilla has stood its ground against all competition, and its sales have never wavered but have remained steadily at the top, demonstrates, beyond any doubt, the intrinsic virtue of this medicine. The new things have come and gone but Hood's Sarsaparilla rests upon the solid foundation of absolute merit and its power to cure, and its sales continue to be the largest in the world.
