The Preacher's Mother.

The New Richmond Enterprise has the following: "I left an old lady at my house, said Trustee Morrow, Monday while here, who was there for dinner and begging to be sent to the poor farm. She is the preacher's mother at Wingate. She has five sons and two daughters, all married, I understand, and says she has been to the poor house before. I could not give her a permit under the circumstances, considering perhaps that she had got miffed at something and that I would better see the son first. There is surely something radically wrong if some one of the lady's children are not able to care for an aged mother. As Trustee Morrow says, this case needs investigation."

Board of Review.

The Board of Review will remain in session until the last of next week. The session has lasted now three weeks. The Board of Review is a very expensive piece of machinery without results commensurate with its cost. The business this year before it could all have been completed within three or four days instead of consuming four weeks. This, however, is not the fault of the board, but the law under which it is organized.

Court Business for a Year.

During the past court year terminating June 30th, 30 divorces were granted, of which 19 of the plaintiffs were women and 11 of them men. The number of estates settled 53; number of guardianships pending first of year 107; number of guardianships issued 37; number of guardianships disposed of 29; number of executions issued 196; number of decrees of foreclosure entered 26; number of marriage licenses issued 278.

Fast Time.

Walter Leach of this city, made a run on a bicycle, it is claimed on Thursday morning from this place to the Shades and return in 2 hours and 35 minutes. Considering the excessive heat prevailing at the time this is a remarkable record, the distance covered being nearly 40 miles.

The Curfew at Bedford.

The city council of Bedford, has passed a curfew ordinance, which will soon be enforced. It prohibits all children under sixteen years old from being in the street after 9 o'clock at night unless accompanied by parent or guardian.

Cooler Weather in Prospect.

The weather bureau says a cold wave may be expected from last night, and for a few days pleasant weather may be looked for.

Lebanon is drilling a well in hope of discovering natural gas.

The prices for new wheat it is thought will start at the price of 62c here.

Wm. Utterback has been appointed administrator of the estate of John W. Utterback.

Dan George who was shot in the mouth by John Ellis is recovering from his wound.

Will Humphrey, a former attorney here, delivered the 4th of July oration at Seattle, Wash.

Samuel Widdop, a well known tailor of Ladoga, died on Thursday from an apoplectic stroke.

George Harney has rented a room in Crawfordsville, and will open a law office there some time in this month.—Ladoga Leader.

Mrs. C. E. Gardner has moved to Crawfordsville, having changed her decision as to making Ladoga her home. She received a check last week for $2,100, the amount of life insurance carried by her late husband in the Ben-Hur.—Ladoga Leader.

The Battle Ground camp meeting begins July 29. Rev. George Stuart, of Cleveland, Tenn., will conduct the services, preaching twice a day. He will be assisted by Rev. S. R. Belk, of Rome, Ga. Chas. D. Tillman will lead the singing, assisted by Prof. R. J. Rowell, cornetist. Bishop Walden will preach on Sunday, Aug. 8.

A certain Rockville merchant, the other day, went out of his way to request the advertising solicitor for the program of LaPearl's show not to have the printing done at the Tribune office, because it was a Democratic paper. This is not the first instance that has come to the notice of the proprietor of the Tribune where this same merchant has done this kind of business.—Rockville Tribune.

To tease this partisan dapphool who sinks more of his politics than his business, the Tribune can inform him all the time that the printing was done in a Democratic newspaper office.

THE KNIGHTS ON THE FORTH.

A Fair Attendance at the Encampment at the Fair Grounds.

Notwithstanding the busy season among the farmers added to the hard times in many matters the attendance here of people to the celebration of the Forth was fair and much interest was manifested at the marches, maneuvers and drills of the various companies from abroad who came here at the invitation of the Knights of St. John of this city. There were companies from Lafayette, Indianapolis, Logansport and other cities, and their marching through the streets was accurate and with military bearing. At the fair grounds bicycle racing and drills by the companies formed the features of the program.

The first race on the program, the mile novice, was won by F. M. Glore, of Wallace, in 2:38 3-5, with Fred Pear second and Henry Dice, of North Union, third.

The mile open was won by Walter Huff, of this city, lowering the track record to 2:28 2-5. Joe Kadred, of Danville, Ill., took second money and F. M. Glore third. Mr. Huff rode a Rambler racer.

The half mile open was also captured by Huff in 1:12 3-5, Kadred taking second money and Don Cameron third. The excellent time made in this race was due to the fine pace making of Ivy Oarr. Upon the conclusion of the bicycle races the drills for the various prizes occurred.

The drill for the $500 prize, participated in by the Indianapolis, Lafayette and Logansport companies, was the feature of the afternoon. The different maneuvers were exceedingly well executed and elicited hearty applause. The Indianapolis Commandery drilled by Captain Winsch won the prize.

The Zouave drill between the Leiber and Volbert companies came next and proved a pleasing attraction. The prize was divided equally between the two companies.

Made an Assignment.

The shoe store of H. and J. W. Thurston was placed in the hands of an assignee this week. The assignment was brought about through suits entered against Mrs. Alfred Pearce, a stockholder of the concern, and a sister of the Thurstons. A feeling of distrust was created among the creditors by these suits and they demanded an immediate settlement, and as this could not be made an assignment was the next thing in order. The assets are near $5,000, the liabilities about half that sum. Doug. Griffith is the assignee.

Gun Club Shooting.

The Crawfordsville Gun Club will have a two-days shooting tournament on their ground in the north-western part of the city on the 21st and 22d of this month. Many of the best shots in the State will be present on these days and admirers of this style of sport can witness much enjoyment by attending. Seats will be provided for those in attendance and ladies are invited to be present. The rules of the American Association will govern at the tournament.

To the Sanitarium.

George Bishop, the well known clerk in Jake Joel's clothing store, whose health has been declining for some months past, and who has been under medical treatment at Martinsville, was this week taken to the Fletcher Sanitarium at Indianapolis. A derangement of his mind is thought to be near resulting from a slight paralysis of the left side, and prompt treatment it is hoped and believed will avert it.

Sued for Nuisance.

A trial of Harper, the butcher, arrested on complaint of maintaining a nuisance in the using of a building for a slaughter house on the Danville road was heard before the Mayor on Tuesday resulted in a disagreement of the jury which had been called to hear the case. A re-hearing of the case will probably be ordered.

Governor's New Daughter.

Governor Mount is by no means an old man, but his second grandchild came into the world yesterday and he had the pleasure of hearing her cry over the long distance telephone all the way from Shannondale. The babe is the daughter of his daughter, Mrs. Chas. E. Butler, of Shannondale.—Indianapolis Journal.

Called to Illinois.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace F. King were called to Robinson, Illinois, on Saturday night by a telegram announcing the death of Mr. King's mother, who has been in poor health for some time. The funeral occurred on Monday of this week.

Some new chairs for Music Hall have been received this week.

A SHOT IN THE MOUTH

Is Received by Dan George, Which Stops Further Dispute.

John Ellis, a log hauler of Parke county, came to Crawfordsville Saturday to remain over to enjoy our Fourth of July festivities, and has remained here ever since. He visited a family in that delectable locality near the Monon depot. While there he got into a dispute with one Dan George. He drew a revolver in the melee and fired. The ball from the revolver entered the mouth of George, shattered his jaw and passed out near his ear. George lost all interest in the matter at once, and was carried into a building near by and a physician sent for. The wound is not serious and unless blood poison sets in George will soon recover. Ellis fled at once from the scene of the trouble, but was captured in an hour or two and landed in jail. He has been in trouble before, and is said to have heretofore "done time" in a State institution for some crime, and may be returned again to former quarters.

Post Office War at Waveland.

The news that Mr. Landis had recommended P. W. Kriz for postmaster here came through a letter from that gentleman to our distinguished colored fellow citizen, Dred Hargrave. It created no surprise, as nearly every one who talked to Landis last week became convinced that his mind was fully made up before hand.

He said to Mr. Scott: "If I should appoint you on the strength of that election, how would I square myself with the other places where elections have been held?"

There really was no occasion for him to waste a day here. With Mr. Kriz we have no quarrel. He is a good citizen, a good business man, and will make us a good postmaster we have no doubt and his fight for the position was made openly and honorably. But a majority of the Republican patrons of the office had chosen another man, and they had a right to expect his appointment, according to the popular notion that majorities rule in this country.—Waveland Independent.

Rewarded.

Fred Hustis, a former Crawfordsville citizen, who removed from here five years ago, going to the State of Washington, is to have some of the leaves and fishes handed out by the McKinley administration. His name has been presented to the Senate for confirmation as collector of customs in Washington, and will doubtless be acted upon favorably. The job is worth $6,500 per year, and is indeed a good one considering the ordinary ability of the appointee.

Fences Removed.

The fence surrounding the college campus, a mile or more in length, is rapidly being torn down and removed preparatory to a system of improvements of the ground soon to be inaugurated. It is questionable, considering the extent of the ground, whether this is the correct thing to do unless some one is employed constantly day and night to have a constant supervision of the ground.

The LaPearl Show.

The LaPearl show on Wednesday drew out a fair attendance of people at the evening performance. The show has many new features, and is much the best Mr. LaPearl has yet brought here during his annual visits for six years past. After a tour of Illinois and Iowa the show will in October go to West Virginia and Kentucky, and remain out until Dec. 1st.

Completed.

The foundation for the Wilson school building is about completed and work on the first story will be commenced in a few days. Instead of this building being completed and ready for the opening of the schools in September it is questionable if it completed until late next fall. That is the way it looks just now.

Harvesting.

The harvesting season is now on and farmers are quite busy. The wheat cutting began this week in many localities, while hay and clover are receiving attention. The yield of wheat on some farms will be larger than anticipated some weeks ago, while in other localities there will be a poor crop.

Wabash College Gets $70,000.

A decree was signed in New York yesterday directing the executors of the Fayerweather estate to distribute the residuary estate, amounting to about $3,000,000, between the twenty colleges named as beneficiaries. The share of Wabash College will be about $70,000, and this does not include the $50,000 original bequest, minus an inheritance tax of $2,500, which the college has already received.

ONCE AGAIN

Is the Talk Revived Regarding the Fayerweather Will.

There has been much reported for a year or more past regarding the Fayerweather will of which Wabash College has a deep interest. Unless some lawyer succeeds in delaying the paying of the amounts set forth in the will, in order to increase his fee, the colleges named in the will, Wabash being one of them, will soon receive their share of the money. A dispatch this week: "The report of Charles W. Dayton, as referee appointed by the Supreme Court to take the state of the accounts of Thomas G. Kitch, Harry G. Vaughn and Justus Buckley, the executors of the will of Daniel B. Fayerweather, was formally confirmed by Justice Pryor to-day. Justice Pryor also signed the decree directing the executors within ten days to distribute between the twenty colleges named as beneficiaries in Mr. Fayerweather's will the residuary estate amounting to over $3,000,000."

Seining.

The attention of the deputy fish commissioner, if reports are correct, is greatly needed now along the banks of Sugar Creek for four or five miles both up and down the stream from Crawfordsville. The law regarding the taking of fish by seines or other means is said to be violated weekly, and vast numbers of fish are reported to be taken from the stream in that manner. It is to be hoped the fish commissioner will make himself useful and earn his salary by getting right after these people, arrest them and see that they are punished to the limit of the law. A well known individual, living west of the court house, who loves to see his name in print so well that he frequently does some little thing in order to get the Journal to publish it, is said to be one of the crowd comprising this seining crew. He may get his name in print now in a manner that will not be at all satisfactory to his vanity if he persists, as alleged, in violating the law.

Physicians Scored.

A quarterly bulletin is being prepared by the State Board of Health in which physicians are criticized for taking more interest in curative medicines than in preventives, it being openly charged that the physicians are giving the secretary trouble in his sanitary work for no other reason, so far as the secretary can see, than that they want people to be sick. The secretary says: "A search through the programmes of several medical societies and through those of your State societies discovers only one paper upon the subject of preventive medicine and that paper was an attack upon the State Board of Health for trying to better health affairs in the State." The bulletin criticizes the present method of electing county health officers saying: "Often incompetent men hold the position; sometimes a poor physician and sometimes a politician who knows nothing of medicine or sanitary science."

STATE NEWS.

George W. McGowan, fourteen years old, of Attica, was drowned while bathing in the Wabash river.

Joseph E. Shryer, of Bloomfield, will succeed John A. Pates as clerk at the Jeffersonville Reformatory, the latter having resigned.

The return of ex-Congressman George W. Cooper, now at Colorado Springs, is expected at Columbus next week. Mr. Cooper's health is much improved.

Miss Mildred Franklin, daughter of Elder Joseph Franklin, of Bedford, will soon join her sisters, who are attached to the Christian church mission field in India.

Houston's "10 cent railway circus", struck a financial snag at Anderson, but forty of the employees railroaded the stuff outside the State before it could be levied upon, and will endeavor to re-organize the company.
