A MASONIC TEMPLE

To Be Built Next Year at a Cost of Between $35,000 and $40,000.

For some years past it has been the conclusion and determination with the Masonic fraternity of Crawfordsville to erect a temple for its use, and one suitable in all respects to the demands of the order. The time is about here the members think to begin the work, and with this in view a committee of fifteen members was chosen some months ago to select a suitable location for the building. They have six locations upon which options have been given and one of these may be soon chosen and purchased. Two of these are on south Washington street, one of them being the old Park House property, another the north-west corner lot on Walnut and Maine, one on Market street, the V. Q. Irwin lot, and the old Robbins House property on east Main street. It is believed one of these two last mentioned will be chosen. The committee will meet October 22d and at that time will determine upon a choice of location, and in the ensuing spring the work of building be commenced.

The Knights' Drill.

The Knights of St. John on Thursday afternoon on south Washington street, in presence of vast numbers of people, gave the finest exhibition drill ever seen here. No company here, or even those that occasionally have appeared in entertainments at Music Hall have equalled the work of the Knights last Thursday. They were repeatedly applauded for their many quick and accurate evolutions, and the many strangers present were much pleased at the movements and counter movements before them so finely shown by the Knights. Captain John Drury can well be proud of his magnificent company.

Passed Away.

Aaron Hughes, of whose former career and final settlement at the poor asylum was mentioned in our last issue, died on Tuesday morning and was buried in the cemetery at Winchester where his wife, who preceded him to the grave several years since, is interred. His age was 76, and he had resided here since 1852.

Assigned.

The dry goods establishment of Newt Wray, in the Oranbaum block, was placed in the hands of an assignee yesterday.
Dull trade is given as the cause of the assignment, and the failure of prosperity to get around. Mr. Wray will probably go on the road as salesman for some wholesale house.

Injured in a Runaway.

Ben Swank, of Coal Creek township, was severely injured by being thrown from a wagon near Wingate on Monday.
His head struck the ground in falling and for a day or two he was unconscious. He is now, we learn, slowly recovering from his injuries.

Deaths This Week.

Mrs. Thos. Powell, residing near New Rosa, died on Monday. Her death was caused from cancer.
Geo. F. Linn, living at Beckville, in the eastern part of the county, died on Monday from an attack of typhoid fever. His age was 22 years.

One Year.

John Michaels, arrested some days ago for the theft of five bushels of wheat from a farmer west of Yountsville, was brought into court on Monday afternoon for trial. He pled guilty and was sentenced to a year's confinement in the penitentiary.

Gone to Utah.

Charles Spellman left last week for Utah. He goes to accept a position as manager of a newspaper in one of the towns of that State.

A lamp exploded in the office of the Arlington Hotel at Covington, and not until after the police broke in the door and extinguished the fire, did the night clerk awake.

The coroner's inquiry in the suicide of G. Foeter, of Liverpool, England, who killed himself while a guest in a hotel at Greencastle, lays the blame upon the excessive use of cigarettes. His valise and pockets were found to be filled with the noxious decoctions.

THE EXPERTS' FIGURES

Are that Ex-Treasurer John C. Hutton Owes the County $9,479.11.

After an inspection which was probably quite thorough, of the books of the treasurer's office during the four years of John C. Hutton's occupancy, the two experts, Foodyke and LaRue, figure that there is due from him to the county the sum of $9,479.11. This report was made last Monday morning to the county commissioners and a number of other interested parties. Of this sum $3,038.00, the experts say, was drawn by Mr. Hutton as a part of his salary, and to which he was not entitled under the present law, while the remaining accounts, over $6,000, are errors in settlement, making his shortage the amount stated above. According to the experts' report taxes which had been collected on many occasions were not reported. The commissioners demand a settlement in accordance with these figures and suit has been entered.
The fun will probably now set in. Mr.
Hutton denies the shortage and has employed Wright & Seller, and Johnson & Johnson to defend him in the trial which, no doubt, will be contested warmly and be prolonged for two or more years.

The public knows little or nothing regarding the matter aside from reports.
There is not one man in a hundred knows or could know anything about the correctness of these books of the county offices. The experts employed here follow the business of looking after the books of county offices over the State from year to year, and are certainly more competent to judge and report correctly on the condition of any office of the county where disputes arise or errors are made in the books, than anybody else. They are supposed to be disinterested and unprejudiced in matters coming under their eyes between the county and interested parties.
If Mr. Hutton actually owes this or any smaller sum to the county he should be forced to pay it. There is no politics nor personal feeling in this, but only justice between man and man. If he does not owe it he should exhaust every resource rather than submit to an injury to himself or bondsmen. It is said that three months ago the county would have settled in full with Hutton for $2,500. It may be that this would have been money in Hutton's pocket to have accepted the proposition. The matter of giving bond in this county for the faithful and honest performance of duties while in office is going to be a difficult matter hereafter and officials will have to secure bond from eastern guarantee companies. There have been entirely too many shortages. If Hutton is short in his accounts with the county he is the fifth treasurer of the county that has proven so, one of them it is said being short over $40,000 and another $27,000. The people have had enough of it surely, and the question comes up why not employ experts to go over every treasurer's books hereafter who may be elected to the office.
It might be money well spent.

The following are the bondmen of Mr. Hutton for the first term he served as treasurer:

Jacob W. Hutton, Alex Harper, Edward Goff, James Hutchison, Eph Griffith, Benton Snyder, Alex T. Thompson, John H. Smith, Samuel Weikie, Todd, J. W. Todd, Albert Allen, Ben Swank, G. W. Bowers, J. F. McDaniel, J. P. Coleman, L. D. Coyner, Robert Dunbar.

For the 2nd term the following names appear on the bond that were not on the first, although the second bond contains most of the names of the first:

J. S. Henry, F. M. Dice, G. S. Durham, J. P. Bible, Jerre Harlow, James H. Servies, Benj. Ball, I. Wilkinson,

Can't Move Perhaps.

A special to the Enquirer says: A funny controversy has arisen over the legal residence of Gov. Mount. When he was inducted into office he leased a furnished home inside the city limits, but more recently he closed negotiations for a handsome quarter in Woodruff Place, a swell residence portion of the city. Woodruff Place is an incorporated town of itself, although within the limits proper of the city of Indianapolis.
Under act of Congress in March, 1819, the site of Indianapolis was donated to the state of Indiana as a seat of government, and it is among the constitutional conditions of the state that the Governor and other state officers must reside in Indianapolis during their respective terms of office. The claim is now made that when the Governor changes his home to Woodruff Place he violates a constitutional prohibition by living outside to city of Indianapolis.
Besides, it establishes a precedent, for if the Governor can live elsewhere than in the city, it is contended that other state officers may do the same. The Governor is looking into the question, but so far he has not intimated that he will cancel his lease.

Cory vs. Tierney.

A prize fight to be between these two people for purse of $400. Articles were signed in this city on Monday between Ed. Cory, of this city, and Jack Tierney, of Chicago, for a prize fight for a purse of $400, the fight to take place Oct. 24th within 50 miles of Covington. A forfeit of $50 was posted by each man as a guarantee that he would be on hand on the day specified and in the ring. It is to be a finish fight, and the rounds not limited. Tickets to the entertainment will be $2.00, and if some sheriff and his deputies do not get on to the game before hand a large attendance of "the fancy" may be expected. Cory has already gone in training with Howard Dickerson as trainer which is a guarantee that nothing will be left undone to put him into good condition for the mill. John Robbins.
It is thought, will be selected as referee

Kicked to Death.

John Buekirk, the clown who was here last summer with LaPearl's circus, and whose tricks with the mule will be recalled by all, was killed at Shelby-ville, Ill., a few days ago. In going through his part of the performance he came too near the mule, whose duty it was to kick at him, and was struck above the heart, he living but a short time after the accident.

The Salvation Army.

The Salvation Army under the management of S. L. Bathley, has established barracks in this city at the old blacksmith shop across the street east from the Ramsey House. The intention is to hold meetings every night during the fall and winter.

Franklin by Trustee Dan Lewis. It is $2 in all the other townships, but in Waveland, Crawfordsville and Ladoga is $2.50.

Valuable Horses Burned.

Charles Palin, a young farmer and owner of several blooded horses, in Richland township, Fountain county, suffered a severe loss early Sunday morning in the burning of one of his large barns, with all its contents, nothing being saved. Major Eaton, one of the best blooded stallions in this section of the State, and Peggy M, who last week at the Cayuga fair made a record of 2:19 1/4, with five other horses of good blood, were cremated. One horse escaped but was so badly burned that the animal was shot to end its misery.
There were also four hundred bushels of oats, two hundred bushels of wheat and $500 worth of buggies and farming implements. The loss will reach $20-000 with no insurance. The fire was the work of an incendiary.

Music Hall October 5.

Professional jealousy does not seem to trouble Walker Whiteside, the tragedian. His manager, Mason Mitchell has engaged for leading support on his coming tour no less a man than Frederick Paulding, who has had a distinguished career in the best companies that have ever played legitimate drama in this country, and has been a star as well.

A novelty is promised for the opening attraction here in an entirely new play based on Stanley Weyman's famous and thrilling romantic play "The Man in Black". Mr. Whiteside essays a dual role, that of the old magician and that of young Chevalier de Renaux. The test is a severe one, but no one who remembers Mr. Whiteside's fervent young Hamlet and his crafty old Shylock can doubt his complete triumph.

Reunion Co. B. 10th Ind. Regt.

Friday, Oct. 8, 1897, Co. B of the old 10th Indiana Regiment, will hold its seventh annual reunion at the home of Comrade Jacob Swank, three and a half miles northwest of the city. The boys of this company with quite a number of their friends are expected. Business meeting at 11 a. m. Haversack dinner at 12 m., camp fire at 1:30 p. m. As this is the beginning of their second round of annuals a rousing good time is expected.

Refuses to Pay.

Oscar Taylor, residing at Grand Rapids, Mich., owned a large two-story frame residence in the south-east part of Coal Creek township which was destroyed by fire last April. There was an insurance of $300 in a company at Fort Wayne. He has demanded the insurance, but for some reason the company refuses to pay, and suit has been brought by Taylor for the amount.

To Plainfield.

Leo Phillips, a youth of Coal Creek township, on petition of his parents, was sent to the boys' reformatory last week at Plainfield. He was rapidly developing into a tough youth, was becoming unmanageable and his early incarceration at Plainfield was urgently demanded.
