GEN. WALLACE FOR SENATOR.

If long winded newspaper articles are to elect Gen. Wallace U. S. Senator, the Crawfordsville Journal will certainly agree to furnish them. However something other than fulsome eulogies and high sounding sentences are necessary. There are other men of his party in the State fully and probably better equipped mentally for the position than he. What has Wallace ever done in particular may be asked that would entitle him to this place? The simple fact that he is a literary man and the author of "Ben Hur" certainly does not. He was a very ordinary lawyer when a practitioner at the Montgomery county bar, and was a pigmy along side of McDonald, James Wilson, John Butler and other legal lights of that day in this county. If an ordinary lawyer he would no doubt be an ordinary law maker if a Senator. Can anybody see where he has any claims on his party? He has received two or three big fat offices from it since the war. Republicans say he was never known to make any donations during campaign years to further the party's interests, but kept his hand tightly on his pocket book. Does any one know of him making any liberal cash contributions to help along his party? If so, speak out and let the fact be known. Astute leaders of his party, men who have worked steadily in the harness, say Wallace is not the individual for the place of U. S. Senator. He is deficient in many requisites, and his mere literary reputation will not in particular aid him. He has had little legislative experience. He at times is extremely fanatical, and lacks the cool, calculating mental balance necessary to a good national law maker. His going over the country last year denouncing Bryan as an anarchist, a man mentally, morally and socially his equal, indicates to some extent the trend of Wallace's mind. He considered probably this denunciation of Bryan as argument favorable to the republican platform, but the thinkers of his party did not view it in that light. They looked upon it as anything else than of benefit to their party, and were glad when Wallace was through. It's another wise thing to do—catch the rabbit before you cook him. The republicans must elect a majority of the legislature of Indiana before they elect a U. S. Senator. The democracy of Indiana propose to take a hand in the contest next year. The republicans will find their ancient enemy in line for the contest. The prosperity to come with McKinley's election is not seen nor felt yet, and the voters of 1896 are doing much thinking now. It will be well for the Journal to await a year yet before pushing Wallace forward. The reaction may prove fatal to its present candidate.

THAT "PROSPERITY."

The substantial character of the revival of prosperity is found in the present condition of the iron and steel industry, universally recognized as a faithful barometer of trade.—Journal.

The Journal and similar republican publications are simply working a game of make believe. The intelligent people of this country see very few indications yet of returning prosperity, although we were to have it just so soon as McKinley was elected which event occurred almost a year ago. Dollar-a-bushel wheat is not alone going to bring about an era of better financial times. To be sure there has been a revival of business in some lines, but this was absolutely necessary to supply long delayed demands. The railways and some iron industries have more to attend to now than a year ago, but how long, we ask, is this to continue? Does anybody see anything permanent about it? Has this increased activity in some commercial lines come to stay? There has not been a day in weeks past in which some manufacturing interest some where in the country has reduced the hours of labor of its employees or reduced their wages? Is this some of the Journal's evidences of returning prosperity? Daily papers in the large and medium sized cities of the country time and again report business failures since "prosperity" set in. Reason: Dull business and slow collections. Is there anything of a "substantial character" in this species of prosperity? It is simply a case of "whistling through a grave yard to keep up courage," in this kind of twaddle about prosperity. Republican party leaders expect their organs to do it whether or not there is any foundation for it.

THE OHIO ELECTION.

The State election in Ohio occurs within the next three weeks. For a State campaign it has been very exciting and large crowds have attended where the political issues were discussed. It is really a contest between Hanna and corruption on one side and the popular will and honesty in politics on the other. We fear the money power is too great to be overcome. Hanna wants to be returned to the U. S. Senate, and will spend immense sums of money to win. He is backed by the entire McKinley influence which means the republican administration. No schemes to succeed will be omitted. These we believe will triumph over the popular wish in the matter, and Hanna, the adventurer, the promoter of trusts, the corruptionist, we fear will succeed. It looks that way now.

THE SOLDIER MONUMENT.

The Indianapolis News says that on the Soldiers and Sailors monument of that city the sum of $509,000 has been paid. They are not through paying yet either. The people living here in 100 years hence will no doubt consider that while we may have had a prominent way of remembering the soldiers of former wars, we also had a devilish extravagant plan for doing it, when one-third of the sum spent would have answered as well and impressed the generations to come fully as much with our patriotism. Truly the politicians who created and worked the Soldier's Monument scheme as they did for their own interests would have been master workmen in the gold brick industry had they turned their attention to it.

NOT SO STERLING AS HE MIGHT BE.

Sterling R. Holt! Yes, that's his name. He seems to be more Holt than Sterling. This individual, who last year resigned the State chairmanship of the democratic central committee because his ideas regarding the financial question did not coincide with those of the committee, was a few days ago ascertained to have been engaged in some disreputable matters relating to improvements about Indianapolis. He received $5,000 in the deal. He should have his first name changed at once. People will not be able to recognize him by it.

When your stomach begins to trouble you, it needs help. The help it needs, is to digest your food, and, until it gets it, you won't have any peace. Stomach trouble is very distressing, very obstinate, very dangerous. Many of the most dangerous diseases begin with simple indigestion. The reason is that indigestion (not digestion, not nourishment) weakens the system and allows disease germs to attack it. The antidote is Shaker Digestive Cordial, strengthening, nourishing, curative. It cures indigestion and renews strength and health. It does this by strengthening the stomach, by helping to digest your food. It nourishes you. Shaker Digestive Cordial is made of pure herbs, plants and wine, is perfectly harmless and will certainly cure all genuine stomach trouble. Sold by druggist, price 10 cents to $1.00 per bottle.

Very Gratifying Result.

"I have taken several bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla and find there is nothing like it for tired women with aching heads. It will also bring the roses to the pale cheeks of the little ones. We have been very much gratified with the results obtained from Hood's Sarsaparilla." Mrs. J. ACKERMAN, rear 179 N. California St., Indianapolis, Indiana.

Losing Flesh

You naturally lose flesh in the summer and running down is so easy. You get a little weaker each day without hardly noticing it. There is loss of appetite, headache, weakness of the muscles, disturbed sleep, weakness of memory, and these are the beginning of nervous prostration. Iron and tonics and bitters may afford some temporary relief, but what you need is a food for body, brain and nerves.

Scott's Emulsion.

of Cod-liver Oil with the Hypophosphites, furnishes just the nourishment needed for those who are run down and pale and thin and weak. If you lose flesh in summer take Scott's Emulsion now. Don't wait till fall or winter before beginning.

For sale at 50c. and $1.00 by all druggists.

Crystal Lantern

A high-grade Tubular Lantern with a securely guarded glass found in place of the ordinary tin one. This feature permits the amount of oil to be seen at a glance, and, of course, renders leakage impossible. This Lantern has our improved slide lift; and while the fount is so shielded as to render its breakage improbable, if broken it can easily be replaced.

We make a vast assortment of Lanterns, and issue a highly suggestive little Catalogue, illustrating many favorite styles—a copy of which may be had for the asking.

This lantern, and indeed any other one of our make, can be had of your dealer, or without insistence, but always with it.
