ROBERTS CHAPEL.

Everybody is suffering from a cold. What has become of the Ladies Aid society?

Don't forget the Sunday school. It is at 10 o'clock a. m.

Brother Rolla Schleppey heard Sam Small, and so did Jap.

How would the Wide Awake scribe look in a Sunday school class?

Brother Ellis Crall has some good joke on brother Henry Harper.

Alvin Breaks is looking better. He was at Indianapolis the other day looking for property.

Henry Walter come over with that rabbit gun and we will put Jap Elmore out with his seven-footer.

What are we going to do with Jap, the street commissioner? All the bridges in the district are about played out. When it is hot he can't get money, and when it is cold he can't get dirt. That is what hesays.

WIDE AWAKE.

Fine winter weather.

John Vanaredall is quite sick at this writing.

John Flemming is greatly improved this week.

Mrs. Jane Barcus is the guest of Capt. A. J. McClelland and wife this week.

Henry Hodges is fixing up his old house. I wonder if he is going to rent it?

J. M. Kincaid will move onto the Everett farm next week. Mr. Everett will go to town.

Just for fun ask Jake Francis to play the banjo and sing. It will be more fun than a barrel of monkeys.

Spencer Lee has rented the old Thurston mill in the valley and is grinding corn for the farmers.

City Attorney Frank Davis will move to Linden next spring. Frank says Wide Awake is too sleepy for him.

Thieves entered the home of P. G. Cowen on Sunday night and carried off a goodly supply of potatoes, apples and canned goods.

ROMNEY.

There is a coal famine here at present.

Walter, don't give us away on Black Creek.

Several loads of hogs were shipped from here last week.

A few whitecaps are sadly needed in the town of Romney.

Protracted meeting at the M. E. church commenced last Sunday.

Why can't Romney have a public school? It is something we badly need.

Several of our citizens were invited to a court of inquiry at Lafayette last week.

Bill Ludwick says he has a nose and everybody knows it, and so that is all he knows.

Dr. Simson's new house will be one of the finest in our town when completed.

The Romney singing school entertained a fair sized audience here a few nights ago.

Times are very close and complaints of the scarcity of money can be heard from all quarters.

Those marriage licenses have not been used yet, and the old man says they shall not be soon.

There is liable to be another elopement here, the parties being S. and J. Guess the rest.

Our merchants are having a moderate

General Debility and Loss of Flesh

Scott's Emulsion has been the standard remedy for nearly a quarter of a century. Physicians readily admit that they obtain results from it that they cannot get from any other flesh-forming food. There are many other preparations on the market that pretend to do what does, but they fail to perform it. The pure Norwegian Cod-liver Oil made into a delightful cream, skillfully blended with the Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda, which are such valuable tonics, makes this preparation an ideal one and checks the wasting tendency, and the patient almost immediately commences to put on flesh and gain a strength which surprises them.

Be sure you get SCOTT'S Emulsion. See that the man and fish are on the wrapper.

trade, but not so good as at the same time last year, however.

Who was the young man that lost his socks in Lafayette? Young man, don't get so excited next time.

Simson & Co., of the elevator, have about ten thousand dollars scattered over the country in corn, advanced to farmers.

The R. R. should, by all means, put a man at the crossing near the depot, as several persons have had narrow escapes from death there.

Philip Ogleby is the oldest citizen in this vicinity, and has been one of the most prominent. He is still able to get around, and we hope he will live to vote for Bryan in 1900.

Wonder what it was seen in the grave yard, one night week before last? We will wager a nickel it was no ghost; not much. Ghosts don't go in pairs and wear crinolines.

Had it not been for some charitable people here, we suppose there would have been a person, who died some time since, still unburied. Some people, it seems, have no feelings or good sense either.

A young man, not far from here, gave his old dad a thrashing a few days ago because he objected to his son going with a woman of loose character. Old man, let the boy alone next time or he might turn you out of doors.

There are still a few prairie chickens in this locality, but they are so wild the hunter cannot get within gun shot of them. That is the reason they are here. Quails are getting plentiful and if let alone awhile will be as numerous as in former years.

Strange how some big double-fisted beef eaters in our township ask the county for help. The trustee should establish a whipping post instead of giving them donations. The good people think a few stripes would be better than encouraging them in idleness. What say you, tax-payers?

DARLINGTON.

For all kinds of shelf hardware see Ira Booher & Son.

Hunt & Stenard shipped some fine cattle from here Wednesday.

Our blacksmiths have had a harvest, but they say now it is a famine.

Elder O. E. Kelley will move to Roachdale about the First of February.

A. Bowers drove a fine carload lot of muley cattle through town Wednesday.

Wilson Hunt, of near Campbell's Chapel, was in town Wednesday on business.

Thomas Broadlick, of Delphi, and his mother, of Kokomo, are visiting at A. Booher's.

Wm. Johnson and wife, of Crawfordsville, attended the funeral here Tuesday of Mrs. Smith.

Rev. McGathry, Crawfordsville, will preach at the Christian church the fifth Sunday of this month.

Our log haulers are plowing the gravel roads full of ruts. It ought to be stopped while the roads are soft.

Our schools are progressing finely and the people of Darlington are very proud of Prof. Greist, who is giving entire satisfaction.

Richard Niven, cashier of the Thornton bank, attended the funeral of Mrs. Smith last Tuesday. Dick formerly lived here.

Sherman Jackman had one of his children badly scalded last week by pulling the coffee pot on the child. Its recovery is doubtful.

The Dr. Berryman old family residence, was sold a few days ago to Julius LaPage for $1,500. This is good property and very cheap.

Sam Martin, our postmaster, is moving his old house on Meridian street and is going to build a new house. Murphy & Galey are doing the work.

Miss Bertha and Goldie Booher are visiting friends at Frankfort, Avery's Station and Michigan town, and will be absent three weeks before returning home.

The protracted meeting of the Friends has been eminently successful. There have been several accessions to the church. The meeting will close tonight.

Is it not strange when a preacher is slapping us in the face every word he utters we console ourselves by thinking he is hitting someone else when he hits us hard?

Rev. S. H. Creighton, of Indianapolis, will preach at the Christian church the first Sunday in February. All are invited to attend as Brother Creighton formerly lived at Crawfordsville.

If you want the news, dished up in the best style, subscribe for the old reliable Review. It has stood the test of many years and has always been solid on principles of right-willing to live and let live, and is growing stronger with the people day by day, and will grow in demand from year to year.

Ira Booher was over to Columbus, O., New Years day, and when Sunday morning came he commenced to think about attending church, so he concluded to go to the chapel exercises at the penitentiary, and as he entered the office to get a ticket, he was informed the chapel was full, all seats being taken. He then asked them to sell him a ticket as he would stand up, which they did, and was permitted to behold 2,450 convicts all in one chapel, and learned there are 3,000 prisoners. He then inquired to see young Sidener, but the guard did not know him.

Mrs. W. H. H. Smith, one of Darlington's best Christian women, died last Sunday night at 11:15. Mrs. Smith had been a sufferer for the last year, but she stood her afflictions without a murmur. Her funeral, which occurred on Tuesday at 2 o'clock at the M. E. church was largely attended. She was a faithful member of the Methodist church. Rev. Praemfield preached her funeral. She leaves a husband, three daughters and three sons and three sons-in-law and seven beloved children and a host of relatives to mourn her loss. Mrs. Smith was a lady who stood side by side with our business men of Darlington as she was engaged in the millinery business here for a number of years.

Heroism of the Police.

The Hon. Theodore Roosevelt writes an article on "The Roll of Honor of the New York Police" for the October Century. Mr. Roosevelt says: "I doubt if the average citizen, especially the average stay-at-home citizen, realizes how often the man of the night-stick is called upon to display qualities which in a soldier would be called heroic. His feats in saving life or in arresting dangerous criminals, alone at night, attract no special attention when mentioned in the newspapers, but they often imply just as much courage as those of the man who captures an enemy's flag in battle, or plants his own flag on a hostile parapet. The men of the New York police force represent all the different creeds and different race origins that go to the makeup of our stock; but they all become good Americans who pay no heed to differences of creed and race, for otherwise they would be useless. The police occupy positions of great importance. They not merely preserve order, the first essential of both liberty and civilization, but to a large portion of our population they stand as the embodiment as well as the representative of the law of the land. To the average dweller in a tenement-house district, especially if born abroad, the policeman is in his own person all that there is of government; he is judge, executive, and legislature, constitution and town meeting. His power and influence are great. For any vice or shortcoming he should be sternly punished, but for gallantry and good conduct he should receive prompt and generous recognition."

GAS-TUBE IN HER MOUTH.

Woman Believed to Have Lain Dead in Her Flat Several Days.

Mrs. Julia Hirsch was found dead in the kitchen of her rooms, at No. 133 West 10th street, New York, the other night. In her mouth was one end of a rubber tube, and the other end was affixed to a gas jet, which was turned on full force. The woman's body was swollen and black, and she evidently had been dead for several days. A short time previous Mrs. Hirsch told several of the neighbors that she wished she was dead. She praised the women whom the papers told of having sought death by carbolic acid. No heed was paid to these statements, as she was constantly complaining. A few nights later Mrs. Pauline Rautenberg and Daniel Holle, who live on the floor below Mrs. Hirsch, smelled gas. They told two policemen, who climbed in through the window that led into Mrs. Hirsch's kitchen. The volume of gas that escaped almost asphyxiated them. They found that the windows and the doors had been caulked with rags. On the floor of the kitchen lay Mrs. Hirsch, flat on her back, with the tube in her mouth.

On the table was found a letter, in which Mrs. Hirsch complained of the tedious life and willed all her property to a friend, who she requested to bury her in Evergreen Cemetery.

Trial Of

* W. F. ROBB *

And Verdict of the Jury.

1. I find his store is the cheapest in town.
2. I find his store pays highest price for produce.
3. I find every customer is treated well.
4. I find that everyone gets his money's worth.
5. I find that all goods are the best grade.
6. I find they keep the best groceries in town.
7. I find that all goods are as represented.
8. I find the largest number go there for their goods.
9. I find that all prices are the lowest.
10. I find that the quality of the goods are the best.
11. I find that this store is the most popular in town.
12. I agree with all the other jurymen.

Upon this verdict we, the people, find Wm. F. Robb, 1st door south of First Natl Bank, guilty of selling cheaper than any store in town.
