WANT WAR.

There are thousands of persons in this country that actually desire to see the nation involved in war with some foreign power. They are, however, generally of the unthinking kind, and are not moved in their desire by pure motives of patriotism. War is the greatest calamity that can be inflicted upon any nation, and should be the last resort. These persons who demand war now so vigorously in most cases do so from pecuniary reasons. They think that war would wipe out the panic of hard times, that by it the government would begin to pay out money and business in all quarters and in all parts of the country would begin to be quite active and encouraging. This might be the case, as it was during the last war 30 odd years ago, but the great demoralization of the people through that war should not be forgotten. Why we are not over the effects of it yet. It is when war is raging that the money sharks of the country get in their work. It is then that they take advantage of the government and the people. The after results from the war, the great demoralization of the people, is what makes such a calamity so undesirable. If possible at all war should be avoided. If to wipe out the panic that war alone is desired by many then we better have the panic continue.

THE TRUSTS FLOURISH.

From the inauguration of McKinley the many trusts of the country began to flourish. They seemed to realize that their time had come. Combinations of capital to kill off competition and squeeze the people were rapidly formed, and to-day trusts are in a more flourishing condition than ever. At the same time the consumers are paying the increased cost of everything needed. The trusts laugh at the efforts of the people to relieve themselves. Only within the past few weeks two powerful trusts have been formed—one the iron and nail manufacturers, and the makers of paper. Consumers of wire and nails are forced hereafter to pay higher prices for these articles, and book makers and newspaper publishers all over the land have lately discovered that they are paying from 10 to 15 per cent. higher for paper than heretofore. It makes no difference what laws are enacted against trusts they are not enforced. They have the money to prevent it and they use it. The increase of the trusts within the past twelve months is only another evidence of the beneficial effects of McKinley and prosperity. The trusts have their inning now, and so has McKinley and the myriad of office holders that are a part of his administration.

NON EST NICHOLSON.

Nicholson, the author of the Nicholson temperance law which has kept saloon keepers in hot water in this State for some years past, has probably closed his political career for some time to come if not permanently. He lives at Kokomo, and has lately aspired to the nomination for Representative in Congress. A few days ago a test for whom the delegates of Howard county should favor, himself or Steele, of Grant county, was held through a primary election. Nicholson was beaten in his own county by Steele, the latter defeating him by over 500 votes. He is no longer a candidate and should at once seek the shades of private life. He is purely a one-idea man, is a crank on the temperance question and has done the true friends of temperance more harm than good. The people will not suffer extreme radical and ultra leaders to dictate to them very long, and the radicalism of Nicholson, no doubt has been the means of producing his political downfall. To be defeated in his own county by an outside man, is certainly humiliating enough to any one of fine sensibilities and enough to satisfy most men that they are not wanted.

CUBAN WAR NEWS.

You can get most any kind of war news from Cuba. We fail to remember to have ever read of more false rumors, misstatements, exaggerated reports, etc., about the Maine disaster, Spanish war news and other matters relating to the island of Cuba, than have been found in the columns of the large city dailies during the past two weeks. It is difficult really what to believe. It may be evidences of enterprise to publish these many exaggerated reports regarding the Cuban war situation, but we doubt it. The intelligent reader will have difficulty in sifting the truth from the mess of stuff daily reported, and there is little of the reports to be believed in any matters until they have been officially confirmed.

One year of McKinley and prosperity and how do you like it?

SHOULD BE COMMENDED.

Although the first man arrested as one of the lynchers in Ripley county has been tried (primarily to being held it proof strong enough was furnished) and acquitted before the justice before whom he was taken, the efforts of the Governor and Attorney-General are certainly to be commended. They are aiming as is their sworn duty to uphold the law and all who respect law and order will sustain them in their efforts. The people of Ripley county for the reign of terror which existed there for many years past and the bad reputation which their county has sustained, have none to blame but their own officials, the judges, juries and executive officers, and if they won't protect the community then outside aid must be called in.

GEN. WALLACE no doubt believes in advertising, in keeping himself before the public. His latest about Gen. McClellan was a good ad. and was published free in a thousand newspapers. Before the Senatorial race is over we may reasonably look for some new sensational advertising from him.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh; That Contains Mercury.

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by druggists, price 75c. per bottle.

Sick-poison is a poison which makes you sick. It comes from the stomach. The stomach makes it out of undigested food.

The blood gets it and taints the whole body with it. That's the way of it.

The way to be rid of it is to look after your digestion.

If your food is all properly digested, there will be none left in the stomach to make sick-poison out of.

If your stomach is too weak to see to this properly by itself, help it along with a few doses of Shaker Digestive Cordial.

That's the cure of it.

Shaker Digestive Cordial is a delicious, healthful, tonic cordial, made of pure medicinal plants, herbs, herbs and wine.

It positively cures indigestion and prevents the formation of sick-poison.

At druggists. Trial bottles 10c.

The climate is cold in Siberia in the winter, but the summers are fine and southern Siberia is a country much like the Dakotas.

Did you make your Grain-O this way?

Here are the latest directions. Use one tablespoonful of Grain-O to two cups of cold water. Mix the Grain-O with half an egg and add the water. (Be sure to measure.) After the water gets to boiling point let boil for fifteen to twenty minutes. Use cream and sugar to suit the taste. If you have not cream use hot milk.

A lady said: "The first time I drank Grain-O I did not like it, but after using it for ten days and forming the habit, nothing would induce me to go back to coffee." This is the experience of all. If you will follow direction, measure it every time and make it the same, and try it for ten days, you will not go back to coffee.

CONTINENTS OF COURT.

▲ Much Needed Law Which Czar Reed Is Now Holding Up.

All the world knows that the present house of representatives of the United States is the most slavish, abject and craven body of public men that ever assembled upon any part of the broad continent of America. It is actually proud of its impotence and incapacity. It is so completely dominated by one man, the speaker, that it has no self assertion, no autonomy of its own. When Thomas B. Reed has evolved from his self communings, in the speaker's private room, a line of conduct to be observed, an act to be performed or a protest to be smothered, he simply announces his conclusions, and his colleagues obey unquestioningly. Such are the orders from the White House. The colleagues might as well all depart to their homes and leave him to accomplish all legislation, were it not that the forms of constitutional government require their presence to record his supreme will.

AMONG the many projects of law which the speaker is "holding up" this session is the bill "in relation to contempts of court," introduced two years ago into the United States senate by Senator Hill of New York and which was recognized as making an issue between the two political parties in the presidential election of 1896 and received endorsement in the Democratic platform of that year. It is doubtless one of the conditions of the treaty of amity and partnership between Reed and McKinley that this bill shall not pass the house this year.

The bill is a step toward re-establishing the good old Democratic doctrine that the federal army shall not be used as a posse comitatus by civil authorities. But its language is restricted to the definition of contempts of court, as being either direct or indirect. Those committed in the presence and during the sitting of a judge are direct and are punishable summarily, but all other contempts can only be adjudicated after written complaint and accusation and with opportunity for purging, and trial must be had by a jury, as in any criminal case, reviewable by appeal.

If this becomes a law, as it some day will, we will have no more sending of regular troops to enforce judicial proceedings for so called contempts, and the subjection of the military authority to the civil, and its absolute separation therefrom—which is the supreme safety of free institutions of government—will have been secured. But Reed will put off the day as long as he can.—New York News.

DEFICIT KEEPS UP.

But For the Railroad Sales Bonds Would Have to Be Issued.

Defenders of the Dingley tariff are calling attention to the fact that the January exports were $9,000,000 in excess of those for the corresponding month last year under the Wilson law. It is to be observed, however, that the friends of Dingley's bill are careful not to explain that during last January there was an increase of exports in two of the great food products of this country amounting to $11,000,000.

It would be quite consistent for the Republicans to claim that the famine in Europe was a result of the Dingley tariff. Indeed that sort of an argument was made when wheat went to $1 a bushel. Upon such a claim as that the result for an increase of $9,000,000 exports for January last must rest. As a matter of fact, the Dingley tariff is going right on producing a deficit, and during the last ten days the government has fallen behind to the extent of about $1,000,000 day.

In referring to this matter the New York World shows that the receipts for ten days in February were: "From customs, $5,843,069.07; international revenue, $4,115,102.23, and miscellaneous sources, $620,748.85; total, $10,578,920.14. The expenditures were: For foreign, $5,995,000; war and navy, $2,390,000; civil and miscellaneous, $9,658,000, and Indians and interest, $1,478,000; total, $10,521,000." Under these circumstances it would seem to be a part of discretion for Dingley defenders to remain silent. An increase of exports by a food famine is not creditable to the tariff, and a deficit of about $1,000,000 a day cannot be made good by foolish and ungrounded claims.

M'KINLEY PROSPERITY.

There Appear to Be Some People Who It Has Not Yet Reached.

The majority of the New Bedford cotton mills have been dividing annually from 10 to 15 per cent dividends on their capital, and they have been paying their workmen—men having families to support—wages of from $4 to $6 a week. The manufacturers complain that their profits have been reduced by southern competition. The establishment of cotton factories in the south and the employment in them of cheap negro labor have enabled the latter to undersell the New Englanders, whose operatives are mainly native Americans and French-Canadians. The state of Massachusetts in the year 1896 was more prosperous in its manufacturing interests than now. But it was aroused by the promise of even more prosperity should William McKinley be chosen president, and it gave McKinley about three votes for every one for Bryan, Democrat. There appear to be some of the people of that state, however, whom the promised prosperity has not yet reached.—New York News.

John Will Scarcely Do.

Senator John M. Thurston of Nebraska addressing a Republican club, declares that the trusts must be driven out of the Republican party or that organization would lose the next congress. Senator Thurston is the general counsel in Nebraska for all of C. P. Huntington Pacific railroads. The senator will hardly be considered a good driver.—Atlanta Journal.
