THE POPS THIS YEAR.

The populists in this district occupy a very peculiar position in the matter of a nominee for Congress. They nominated Cheadle some weeks since at Frankfort, but he never accepted the nomination. He was looking for bigger suckers and he caught them last week at another convention. Now what will the pops do for a Congressional nominee? The 2,200 of them as they boast of having in this district will assuredly not vote for a man who, by his silence toward them, furnishes an indication of contempt for them, don't care for the honor they tendered him. The ticket this fall to be voted for by the populists will not have the name of Cheadle upon it. Who will they vote for for Congress is the question? If he received the populist vote entire of two years ago and was then beaten by 200 votes, where will he land this year without their support? If the populists after Cheadle's failure to acknowledge their nomination should re-nominate a straight out candidate of their party for Congress then the muddle will be deeper than ever. Whether they nominate a candidate or not it is very evident that the attempt this year to turn populist votes into the Cheadle channel will be to a great extent a failure.

THE MONROE DOCTRINE.

The object of this present Spanish-American war it was declared at the outset was in the interest of humanity only, to set free from Spanish misrule and tyranny the people of Cuba. Now the talk is of retaining permanently Puerto Rico and some even desire that the Philippine Islands be annexed to this country. We must not wonder if this is done if foreign powers treat with contempt our profession and desire for the enforcement of the Monroe doctrine. If the United States by conquest of countries off of this continent annexes them to its possessions, it must not wonder if foreign nations follow the same line of business on this continent. Foreign nations may respect our sincerity, but will not tolerate our hypocrisy.

RURAL MAIL DELIVERY.

The rural mail delivery now about to be undertaken in this country will, if nothing else, have the effect of decreasing the trade and business of every county seat from which it operates. Farmers who every Saturday come to town often only for their mail and while here do their trading, will come much less frequently if their letters and newspapers are delivered to them at their homes.

LOOKED SUSPICIOUS.

In seeking by resolutions at a meeting of the council a few evenings since for the improvement of Wabash avenue, it was discovered that the resolutions and engineer's specifications did not "jibe." That the specifications declared that a "brick edge" was to be used in the construction of the gutters while the resolutions said nothing of the kind. The incorruptible and virtuous members of the council thereupon voted the whole thing down and new specifications will be furnished and the work re-advertised. The engineer stated that councilman Smith ordered him to insert the "brick edge" feature of the specifications. We have not heard his explanation in the matter if he has any to give, but through this business he has been placed in an unenviable position. The council if composed of the proper men to look after the interests of the city should keep their eyes open to everything offered effecting the interests of the tax payers, and if the salary of the position of councilman does not pay for the time expended the incumbent should resign as there are always plenty of "patriots" seeking these positions.

HIS OPINION ONLY.

In the puffs of Joseph Cheadle appearing in the State Sentinel in special from Crawfordsville heretofore and from now on until the November election, probably, it will be well for the public to bear in mind that they are the sole productions of the publisher of the Argus News and are his opinions only. From his special to the Sentinel on Friday we make the following extract: "Montgomery county is enthusiastic for 'Private Joe' and a majority of its delegates chosen to the convention were Cheadle delegates."

As for a "majority of the delegates chosen" from this county being favorable to Cheadle it could be better refuted by inquiring of J. M. Selzer, Chas. Johnson, Wally Sparks, M. J. Carroll, H. D. Vandave, J. A. Brennan and a half dozen or more of them, and as for enthusiasm for Cheadle ask most any democrat the exact measure of his enthusiasm for the nominee for Congress.

WILL CAUSE TROUBLE.

From indications already shown it is quite evident that even if Cuba is wrested from the Spaniards the trouble is not half over and that this government has a great job ahead in getting matters settled in the island. The Cubans seem to amount to little as fighters, but are immense consumers of provisions furnished by the United States. They will not, it is represented, do but little work, but are ready to rush in and control the country already conquered without giving any compensation for the great expense and labor furnished in their behalf. It is very evident that the United States for the next 25 years probably will have to have a military protectorate over Cuba, as it will take the natives that long at least to know what their country is for and how to run it right.

THAT TRUSTEE DECISION.

It would seem that the fewer the decisions from our Supreme Court are given, after the exhaustive "opinion" on the trustees holding office two years after their terms had expired, the better. Whatever "law" may have been applied in the decision, the voters without question never intended nor desired that any trustees should hold their positions over four years, and it would have been well for the supreme judges to have applied some common sense as well as "law" in arriving at their decision in the case. The feeling is growing among the people that justice of the peace opinions quite often in petty cases, for instance, have about as much law in them as many coming from the supreme court. In fact it only requires a very ordinary lawyer to be a supreme judge.

Deafness Cannot be Cured by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circular; free.

THE NATIONAL BANK EVIL

An Element Responsible For Financial Ills.

ITS LONG FIGHT FOR SUPREMACY.

Unceasing Effort to Grasp the Power of Issuing Currency—Want the Exclusive Right to Wield the Gold Standard. Source of Disaster and Ruin.

Ever since the first national bank was organized down to the present time the system has been a disturbing element in our finance. No one can examine the many conflicts and acts of congress on money, finance and currency without being impressed with the irrepressible strife that has been waged between it and the people for supremacy over the nation's currency. Through all this strife, whether waged on silver, gold, bonds or currency or any other kindred subject, it has been animated by one unceasing purpose, and that is to grasp the power of issuing currency from the hands of the government and exercise that power itself. That "confusing heterogeneity" which needs simplification," as Mr. Gage now terms our existing currency, has been brought about by that very conflict, by the effort of the people to preserve an adequate money and currency and constitutional money against the assaults of the national bank and its allies to destroy it.

In the last campaign we were told that every dollar of our currency was just as good as any other dollar as long as we maintained the gold standard; that the maintenance of the gold standard was the only thing necessary. The national bankers never believed that. They knew that while the gold standard was absolutely necessary for the accomplishment of their designs, yet that design could not be attained while our currency was a "confusing heterogeneity." The gold standard as it exists today is perhaps as oppressive to them as it is to the people. There is not one of them that could stand its practical operation, nor dare to push it upon another.

The gold standard is sufferable only in a theory. It is of value to no one but to him or that class that has in its own hand the exclusive power to put it into practical operation upon its victim without hurting itself. As it exists today no one has that exclusive control, and the unwarranted exercise of it by any one injures all alike. The country has not yet revived from the instance of such use and the fear of its repetition. To obtain the exclusive power to direct the operation of the gold standard is one of the objects of the national bank, and our present currency blocks its pathway to that object completely.

We have talked a good deal about real money and token money. Now, so long as there is real money the power of the gold standard is broken, but if there be little real money and much token money its power is omnipotent for evil. If we look at the statement showing the kinds of our currency there are, we will see that, excepting the national bank notes, every dollar of it is practically irredeemable, and therefore "real money." All the certificates mentioned represent the existence of actual dollars, and the United States notes or greenbacks, while they go through the operation of redemption by one act of congress, it is peremptorily commanded by another act that they be issued again as fast as they are redeemed. Thus they are practically irredeemable. So much real money in our currency weakens the force of the gold standard, and while we have suffered deeply and bitterly from its effects the consequences will be much more deplorable if we permit the national bank to take charge of and reduce all of our currency to national bank notes and thereby have exclusive power to wield the gold standard and exact whom they will through the alchemy of its operation. In addition to the intolerable advantages such a change in our currency would give to the national banks it would destroy about $1,350,000,000 of real money now in circulation or in the treasury of the United States and place the business of the country on a basis of about $500,000,000 of gold, and it needs no argument to make plain the certain low level to which the prices of labor and products must sink.

A currency reform of this character needs only to be understood by the people at large to earn itself the condemnation it so richly deserves. The conflict which has been in progress for a generation has been a struggle on the part of the national bank for the perpetuation of its life, and on the part of the people for financial liberty. Compromises have been made, and may still be made, but they only embitter the conflict that is sure to follow. The national bank has been the fruitful source of all the ills in our financial troubles, and the organizer and leader of every assault that has been made upon the money or currency of the nation, and I challenge the whole history of this conflict for one instance where it has been successful or its suggestions have been adopted in the change of the system of our money or currency that was not followed by disaster, depression and individual ruin, and from which there was no recovery until such action was reversed or its force broken by some remedial act.

Every Republican paper from Maine to California is now falsely and maliciously making the statement that the German people are against us in this war.
