SEPTEMBER 10, 1898.

Death of Mrs. Wm. Davern.

Mrs. Wm. Davern died at her home on Franklin street, Monday afternoon after a long illness of consumption. The funeral occurred from St. Bernard's church Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock. Mrs. Davern was born in Tipperary county, Ireland, but had been a resident of Crawfordsville for nearly thirty-five years. She leaves a husband and several children.

Commissioners in Session.

The county commissioners have been in session since Monday. They have spent the major portion of their time in settling with the township trustees and granting liquor licenses. Upon petition Charles W. Lion and Morton E. Edwards, of Fredricksburg horse thief detective company, were appointed special constables.

To Open the Campaign.

At a meeting of the State democratic central committee, Monday, it was decided to formally open the campaign of '98 on September 24. On this day speakers will be sent to every county seat in the State. Hon. M. E. Foley is booked for this city and will speak at the court house.

We are the People.

Montgomery county, of which Crawfordsville is the classic county seat, is within the sphere of influence of the atmosphere of the Wabash Valley. This is evident. Eleven golden weddin were celebrated in that county last year. — Le Haute Gazette.

The late Governor Matthews carried life insurance to the amount of $45,000.

The Jessie Mae Hall company did a big business at Music Hall this week.

Scott Sullivan was fined by Mayor Elmore Tuesday morning for intoxication.

Henry Warren, colored, has had his pension increased from $10 to $14 per month.

Carlton Snyder, this week, removed his family from Warsaw to this city and will locate here.

O. E. Duan will remove his stock of drugs to the Opera House block on north Washington street.

Rev. Cissel, Brumbaugh, Davis, Stafford and McDaniel attended the M. E. conference at Plymouth this week.

John Brothers took the oath of office of Marshal Monday morning, and is resplendent in a suit of bright blue and brass buttons.

The county commissioners have granted the Home telephone company the privilege of erecting poles all over the county on the public roads.

Less than a month ago Maurice Thompson was consuming unlimited space in the Indianapolis newspapers with argument against territorial expansion. To-day Maurice Thompson is filling quite as many columns in support of the policy he so recently opposed. His conversion hinges on the fact that annexation will in all likelihood be a political issue and the policy of the republican party. Maurice Thompson would rather be a republican than be right according to his own light and convictions. He is destroying good white paper to no purpose.—Kokomo Dispatch (den).

WINGATE.

Health fairly good. Not much work and hands are on the "loaf."

Work on the M. E. church progresses slowly.

It is said that we will have a gallery at this place.

Charley Webb is building a new addition to his house.

Dr. W. G. Sams has moved to the property of Tom Sims.

George Washburn was in our town this week looking after business.

Jack Crouch has the typhoid fever.

Armildia Wainscott has the hay asthma.

S. M. Gilkey and his son Harland attended the show at Attica and reported it good.

Jerry Fowler, who has been on the sick list for several weeks, is now on the streets.

Janey Potter and family are visiting friends and relations in this place and vicinity.

The voters of Coal Creek township met in convention at New Richmond on September 3rd. E. M. Morrow was chosen chairman and W. A. Dazey, secretary, and then the convention went into business. Amos Ebrite was nominated for justice and Elisha Campbell, for constable. Both live in New Richmond and are well qualified for the offices. So far as the justice nominated for Wingate is concerned, we can't say much, as he is objectionable to most of the voters of this township.

Wm. Ash, our old section boss on the Clover Leaf, has quit the road. He was section boss for seven years at this place and got $40 a month.

Uncle Thomas Doren had a regular old apoplectic fit at the convention at New Richmond after the convention was over. The doctor says that three of that kind kills.

LINDEN.

The corn crop never looked better. Rents in our town are on the down grade.

A good many peaches were put up this week.

Our cement sidewalk builders are getting along rather slow.

Every three weeks Fuller, the candy man, calls on our merchants.

Jesse Price has moved from Kelsey's addition to Shanklin's addition.

Mrs. C. A. Fink has gone to Ohio to visit home folks for a month or two.

Forty-seven tickets were sold at this place to the excursion to the Soldiers Home.

John Shanklin says they will not get him on any more long excursions on a hot day.

Mrs. Martha Staley was called, one day last week, to Stringtown to attend the funeral of a niece.

Some of the Linden folks went out to Oakland school house, last week, to hear Father J. S. Maxwell preach.

A new voter, (twenty-one years) arrived in our town one day last week. He may be found at H. B. Smith's.

Some of the citizens want to tile the big ditch across Jane Stoddard's field to the Clover Leaf railroad right away.

Peaches and grapes are nearly all put away in this section. Pears are plentiful where the blight has not injured the trees.

The plasterers are working on the Bruse and F. M. Mason dwellings and will soon have them ready for the inside finishing.

E. D. Galbreath has ordered his household goods sent to him. He and his daughter will go to house keeping instead of boarding.

John Vyse has obtained license from the town council to continue his bar in his hotel, but there was no application for license for the exchange.

Mrs. A. S. Fraley and Mrs. George Rash drove over to Stockwell to see Mrs. Sarah A. Kirkpatrick, the fore part of this week, Mrs. Kirkpatrick being very sick.

Mitchell, assistant superintendent of the Linden Cellulose factory, says he thinks they will be ready to contract for stocks here by the 15th. Let them come if they mean business.

John W. Dudley is having a new brick wall built in place of the stone one in his cellar. Pete Davis is building the foundation for the new dwelling out of "nigger heads," lime and sand.

the Rockford, of Illinois, added to his insurance companies. He has had the Manhattan, of England, for some time. See him when wanting fire and cyclone insurance.

John Smith was down from Kankakee Ill., this week.

The air-ship balloon ascensions at the fair this week were frosts of the first magnitude.

The Big Four will sell tickets to the State fair for one fare for the round trip, good from Sept. 12 to 17.

Mahlon Manson, son of Will Manson, is home on a thirty days' furlough. The young man is just recovering from an attack of typhoid fever.

Captain of the Guard.

A Washington special says: "Capt. John Peterson, of Crawfordsville, was today appointed captain of the watch in the postoffice department. Capt. Peterson had held a similar position in the treasury department, but was dismissed during the last Cleveland administration.

Gen. Lew Wallace has interested himself deeply in securing Capt. Peterson's restoration, as the Capt. served under Gen. Wallace in the war of the rebellion."

Closed Yesterday.

The business very generally were closed to give all employees opportunity to attend the fair. A few, however, remained open, the proprietors preferring to catch a stra, or two rather than remain closed. The fair as usual, we understand, was a financial success and premiums will be paid in full.

Rapid Progress.

Seven or eight brickmasons during the past ten days have rushed the work on the foundation of the Bishop building, and that portion of it is about completed. Considering the delays always attending the construction of the size of this one is to be it is quite probable that it will not be completed until January 1st.

Liquor Licenses Granted.

Yesterday the county commissioners granted liquor licenses to W. W. Alston, Alonzo Custer, Wallace Mikels, Darlington; George Gardner, Ladoga; A. Muhleisen, A. Jones, George Long, Robert Allen, Charles Galey, and John Berry, of this city.

An Unavoidable Delay.

For the first time in many years THE REVIEW missed its regular publication day yesterday. The delay was caused by the unavoidable breaking of some of our machinery which threw us just one day late.

Misapprehension.

Crimsonbeak—I see in New York they are talking about the Astor battery.

Yeast—Yes; I see that.
