CORRESPONDENCE.

HOG HEAVEN.

Ab Cope is suffering with pneumonia Tommy Wolliver is very sick with rheumatism.

Nettie Cope is better and has gone back to work.

Sam Demmorette, who has been quite ill, is improving.

Col. Cope and wife spent last Sunday with the old folks.

Charley Edwards has embarked in the grocery business.

Miss Mable Snyder visited Miss Goda Couger last Sunday.

Joe Douglas, formerly of this locality, has the typhoid fever.

Uncle Vol Miller was visiting at William Viers' last week.

The big girls have begun going to school. Fun will now commence.

Seno Gunkle, of Crawfish Corner, was visiting our sick folks last Sunday.

Master Andrew Snyder, of the city, spent last week with his cousin, Hamlin Morris.

James Zook and wife, of Newport, are visiting Mrs. Zook's mother, Mrs. O. P.
Demmorette.

John I. Miller and wife, of Pittsboro, are here on a visit. John was the first blacksmith in Hog Heaven.

I understand from a reliable source that Charley Edwards has secured a "Boss" nurse. Walter is assistant.

Uncle Bill and Aunt Eva have not been seen this winter. They are expected to make their appearance on ground hog day.

W. J. Snyder, known by the cognomen of Bill, he of Klondike fame, has retired from the corn shucker. He can now be found at his office at home.

The Black Creek Literary Society will be organized some evening next week. It will open with a comic debate on "Which is the Bottom Side of a Pancake?" Dialogues and speeches will be given, and a jolly time is anticipated.

In speaking of the big dinner given in honor of Uncle Vol. Miller, on Christmas day, Sandy said last Sunday: "There was one man we should have invited to that gathering, and that man is Mart Simpson, the veteran fisherman. Mart acted as bridesgroom at Vol's wedding, which occurred about the year 1852 at the old Black Horse tavern. The tavern was owned and conducted by Seno Cope, long since dead. The bridesmaid was Rheua Remley."

I notice that the Mt. Zion grave yard is in a dilapidated condition. The fence is down, the gate is broken, and cattle roam over the graves, many of which are overgrown with brambles. The darn men seem to take no pride in keeping this place in repair, and us women will have to go to work and fix up the fence and paint or whitewash it. This little city of the dead is sacred to the memory of many Hog Heavens as well as Black Creekers. Here reposes the "dreamless dust" of Samuel Cope. His is one of the oldest graves in the county.
Seno Cope and his good wife, Aunt Katie, are also buried here. It was on this spot that the old log school house stood, and there were only three farms then, I am told, under cultivation in this part of the county. The farms were those of John Remley, Edmund Nutt and Samuel Cope. By all means let us beautify this spot. Sandy says he will give a quarter towards repairing the fence.

POLLY PACER.

WAYNETOWN.

Fiddlers' contest at the town hall on the 14th. Everybody invited.

B. F. Merrell, our newly-elected treasurer, was on the sick list last week.

Rev. Crum delivered a temperance lecture at the town hall Thursday night.

Isaac Diggins will build a new residence on his farm east of town early this spring.

Several from this place attended the birthday dinner at Jappy Curr's last Tuesday.

A troupe of big Indians and their squaws organized a Pocahontas degree at this place Tuesday night.

It is said by those who pretend to know that High Jacket got a little too much of C. B. Munns' punch bowl.

The entertainment at the Christian church last Thursday night was one of the best. The receipts were thirteen dollars.

The editor of the Waynetown Dispatch carries his hip in a sling, the result of scuffling with a bigger man than himself.

Barton Price, a respected citizen and life-long democrat, living west of town, died Tuesday night of a complication of diseases.

Mr. Chesnut, father-in-law of John S.
Munns, dropped dead at the latter's home Friday evening and was buried at Wingate Monday.

James Pierce died at his home, one mile north of this place, on last Friday morning, of Bright's disease. Interment occurred Monday at the Masonic cemetery.

The F. & A. M. elected the following offices at their stated meeting meeting on the 27th: Wm. Rider, W. M.; Dr.
Bonnell, S. M.; P. M. Brown, J. W.; B.
F. Merrell, treasurer; Wm. Biddle, secretary; Chris Brant, trustee.

LINDEN.

The J. M. Hose ditch is being tiled with 18 inch tile.

The people here were very quiet during the holidays.

It is reported that scarlet fever is in this neighborhood.

Lon Stingley, of Kirkpatrick, has moved to this place.

Miss Melie Mason is still confined to her bed with a broken ankle.

Eli Timmons still carries his arm in a sling. Also Samuel Johnson.

There is scarcely a family around here without some member having a bad cold or the grip.

The report is out that Dr. Dingman has rented his brick room to be occupied by a dry goods store.

Our Linden schools are giving entire satisfaction as far as we know, for some that started in when the school opened and then for some unknown cause stopped, have returned and all is lovely at present.

Society election took place last Saturday night. The officers elected are:
D. M. Newkirk, N. G.; Kirt Thewlis, V.
G.; Chas. W. Newkirk, sec.; Wm. R.
Morford, treasurer. The trustees are:
Wm. R. Morford, C. A. Newkirk and Kirt Thewlis.

If anyone wants the oldest democratic weekly newspaper J. S. Bennet will take your name and dollar and you receive the paper fifty-two weeks for that dollar. That is cheaper than writing to your friends and old neighbors to get

BUZZARD ROOST.

John Buck still tries to go east.

The sick are better at this writing.

Jim Lyons is learning the blacksmith trade.

Ellis Burk has his new barn completed.

Jack Lyone is building a barn for Otto Thompson.

George Johnson fell off of a horse
Monday and was seriously hurt.

Frank Mills traded his fine driving mare to Tom Carle for a farm horse.

Don't forget that THE REVIEW is the best Democratic paper in the county.

Charles Lyons and Elmer Pullian are cutting wood for Casey's brick yard.

Charles Morrison is in the south part of the state working for a saw mill Co.
Uncle George Mason is beginning to look old and care worn. His wife has extended her visit with friends in Lea-

A Great Engineering Feat.

December 18th the engineers of the Chicago & North-Western Railway accomplished the wonderful engineering task of moving its 220-ton bridge crossing the Kionickinnic river at Milwaukee, on its Chicago division, down stream 250 feet. This is a feat that has been undertaken but a few times in the history of engineering.

The bridge was a single-track draw, and was removed to a new foundation in the quick time of two hours and forty-seven minutes. The structure was floated on two scows, one on either side of the center which were sunk with 90,000 gallons of water. With the scows in proper position, the water was pumped out and the bridge gradually lifted from its foundation and towed to its new resting place by two tugs.

The bridge was in perfect condition and was removed only to make way for a double track structure of the latest pattern.

News Item.

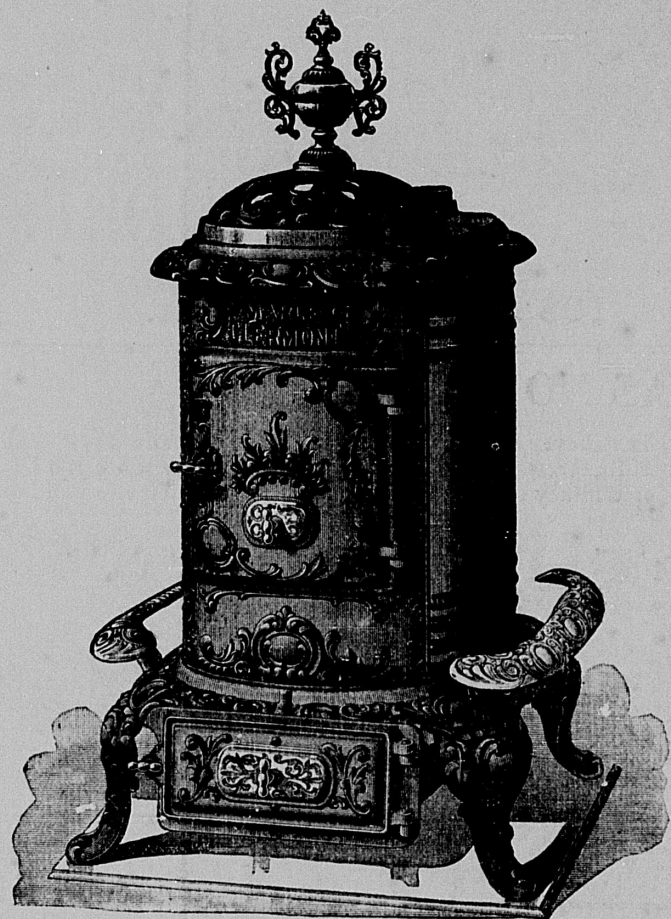

December 15th a special train, consisting of thirty cars, of woven wire fence, left the Western Avenue station, Chicago, via the Chicago & North-Western Railway, for Lincoln, Nebraska. The shipment was made from Adrian, Mich. This is the largest shipment of wire fencing ever made at one time over any railroad, and the North-Western Line demonstrated its progressive spirit by furnishing a special train for it.
