A CHANGE OF OWNERSHIP.

After Monday last our connection as editor and proprietor of THE CRAWFORDSVILLE REVIEW closed. We have disposed of the paper and all its appurtenances to E. A. Cunningham and Wm. E. Henkel, who henceforward will control its destiny.

After a continuous management of near fourteen years it is somewhat of a satisfaction to lay down the pen and recuperate for a season. While we may have committed errors in our career, as do all, we can say that above all we have aimed to represent democratic principles as we understood them, and have always desired to be sincere in our advocacy of them. To those kind friends in Montgomery county who have sustained us in the management of THE REVIEW we cannot but always feel grateful to them, and our last wish to them is that their lines may fall in pleasant places, and in the language of Rip Van Winkle, may they live long and prosper.

Under the new management many new improvements and additions to the plant will be made, among them the issuing of a daily democratic newspaper, which doubtless will and should command the patronage of the business men of Crawfordsville as it will be made acceptable in every sense.

In Mr. A. B. Cunningham the public will recognize a former editor of THE REVIEW, but who has not been engaged in editorial work for several years. He wields a trenchant pen, is a reliable democrat and his work we feel assured will please the supporters of the paper. THE REVIEW has been an advocate of democratic principles for near three score years, and is entitled to the united support of the party. It has not been fickle and time-serving as has been many who boast so loudly of their adherence to democratic principles. Trusting and believing that THE REVIEW under its new ownership will receive the support of all sincere democrats of the county, and the patronage of business men for its value to them as a business medium, we bid our readers farewell.

FIXING THE STANDARD.

The house committee on coinage, weights and measures by a strictly party vote, has ordered a substitute for the bill fixing the standard of value in the United States. The provisions of the bill are that the standard shall be the gold dollar; that all contracts now existing or to be made in the future, shall be computed on that basis; and that there shall be a department of issue and redemption; that greenbacks shall be retired, and gold bills substituted therefor. No more silver dollars shall be coined, save from the bullion now on hand. It is left in the discretion of the Secretary of the Treasury to coin or not coin silver bullion into subsidiary coin. A bi-metallic feature was embodied in an amendment by Mr. Bland, but it was voted down by a party vote of 6 to 8. The bill will be passed with all possible vigor, and if enacted into a law, there will be no end of failures, as a result. Men cannot pay existing debts contracted under the old system, under such a regime. They are bound to go to the wall. Yet lovely is the idea of honest money and a gold standard.

The defeat of the Agricultural-Public-School Instruction bill was a sad blow to Governor Mount. This was his pet among the bills. It was that which was thought worthy of a few inches of valuable space in his annual message. It was a theory over which he had spent as much time as Nickum on his perpetual light. But it seems that he could no more convince the Solons of the Indiana Legislature that it was what it was "cracked up" to be, than Nickum can convince capital that his light is not a first class fraud. He might stand the defeat of his cherished, long-nursed bill calmly, but when characterized by members of the Legislature as an "old female man who ought to wear a sun-bonnet" this is too much. But no matter the children of the public schools of the State will not be compelled to listen to agricultural instructions from a lot of school marm's who could not tell a Colorado potato beetle from a chipmunk.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of Testimonials.

What do the children drink?

Don't give them tea or coffee. Have you tried the new food drink called Grain-o? It is delicious and nourishing and takes the place of coffee. The more Grain-o you give the children the more health you distribute through their systems. Grain-o is made of pure grain, and when properly prepared taste like the choice grades of coffee but costs about one fourth as much. All grocers sell it 15c and 25c.

McKinley Has Gone Over to the Support of the Gold Standard.

The acts and utterances of the president since his inauguration show conclusively that he has gone over bodily to the support of the gold standard, and that with him bimetallism is merely a reminiscence.

He has decided that "whatever the language of the contract, the United States will discharge all of its obligations in currency recognized as the best throughout the world at the time of payment." This simply means that no matter what the agreement may have been, our bonds and other obligations must be paid in gold. He has in effect officially declared in a message to congress that the standard silver dollar is redeemable in gold, and in the face of his oft repeated declarations that all of our present currency should be kept in circulation he has suggested the advisability of impounding the greenbacks as they find their way into the treasury and only paying them out in exchange for gold.

He has even gone so far as to urge upon congress in a special message a so called reformation of the currency on the lines recommended by the Indianapolis currency convention, which as every one knows, was a gold standard assembly without reservation, and made the maintenance of the gold standard the first article of its creed.

Many People Cannot Drink

coffee at night. It spoils their sleep. You can drink GRAIN-O when you please and sleep like a top. For Grain-o does not stimulate; it nourishes, cheers and feeds. FALLING PRICES EVIL.

Impede Production and Imperil Business Enterprise.

INCREASE BURDENS OF PEOPLE.

Work Injustice to All Producers, Especially the Agricultural Class. Basis of Our Money System Must Be Broadened to Provide a Stable Currency.

It is plain enough that the question of price levels is one of the relation of money volume to commodities. We can therefore have which price level we choose that of dollar wheat, 50 cent corn, 10 cent cotton, and so on, or the other level of 50 cent wheat, 25 cent corn, 5 cent cotton, etc. Either of these planes of prices can be easily enough secured. One that represented by 50 cent wheat, 5 cent cotton, is the gold plane of prices; the other, that indicated by dollar wheat, 10 cent cotton, etc., is the bimetallic plane. With gold the sole measure it is impossible to have high or higher prices. On the contrary, prices must go lower as gold appreciates, or grows dearer, as it is doing now all the time.

With money supply left, as before 1873, to come from the mines of both gold and silver, we would undoubtedly have in time a range of prices approximating that which prevailed from 1850 to 1873. But the gold men say that low prices are not an evil. That may or may not be true, but falling prices are an evil always, for they not only increase burdens, but they impede production and imperil business enterprise.

Moreover, low prices are an evil, if with low prices debts are to be paid which were created when prices were high, for then earnings are unjustly taken from those who are entitled to them and turned over to those who have no right to them. It is often claimed, too, that when prices fall what one buys costs less, and therefore no one is hurt. But in the first place debts and taxes and many other things do not change with prices, and consequently more of everything is required to pay the same debts, taxes and many other things after prices have fallen.

Again, things do not go down evenly. Products go first; professional services, cost of education and things that can be controlled by monopolies follow slowly. Then, again, producers sell in the wholesale market and buy in the retail market, and prices in the retail market often remain up long after wholesale prices have gone down. Hence, in any view of the question falling prices work injustice to all producers, and most of all perhaps to the great agricultural class. Great solicitude is manifested in high places about the depreciation of currency, but what about the depreciation of everything else? The currency at best is not in more than 3 per cent of the entire wealth of this country.

Is it nothing to have wheat, cotton, goods of all kinds—all the products of labor—all the things that must go to buy money and pay debts and taxes and in the end labor itself depreciate as we have seen them go down since 1873? Ask the question of yourselves and your neighbors. Under which condition would this country be most prosperous, one with a general range of prices indicated by dollar wheat, 50 cent corn, 25 cent wool, 10 cent cotton and labor and other things in proportion or one with wheat 50 cents, corn 25, wool 12½, cotton 5 and labor and other things ranged on that scale? Well, as we have shown, the difference is one of money supply and nothing else. We cannot have the higher range of prices with only gold and bank promises to pay for gold currency. There is no getting away from the fact that the basis of our money system must be broadened by adding silver to gold if we would have a higher range of prices for our products or if we would prevent a further fall of prices. This is the only way, too, to provide a sound and stable currency.

Dig down to the cause to your sickness, if you want to get well and stay well. Most likely it's indigestion. The irritating poisons of fermenting, putrid food, left in the stomach by indigestion, cause headache, neuralgia, nervousness, dizziness, stomachache, nausea, irritability and all the other well known symptoms of indigestion.

They also cause many pains and disorders which are often laid to other causes and hence are not easily cured. But as soon as the poison are removed, all these symptoms and disorders disappear, because there is nothing left to cause them. Nothing succeeds in this like Shaker Digestive Cordial because it prevents the undigested food from fermenting in the stomach and helps the stomach to digest its food.
