"HONESTY is the best policy"—in everything save politics. An honest man in a crowd of professional politicians lasts about as long as a snowflake in a snowdrift.

THE people of Montgomery county despise a boodler. There are enough honest men yet left to see that jobbers and self-convicted plunderers are left out of office hereafter.

An honest man is the noblest work of God, but he is so rare that the small bore politician scarcely ever takes him into his calculations. But when he finds him, he is painfully surprised.

VINEGAR trust has been formed and will control ninety-five per cent. of that product. It is not unlikely that this concern will sour on itself, especially if the rotten apple and rain water article begins to work.

We have been writing a good many editorials on the Philippine question of late, because we thought it was a great question. But we have discovered a band of Filippinos, treacherous and blood thirsty, closer home, who will claim our attention.

MAYOR ELMORE has no power to stop the sale of liquor on Sunday. The council has shorn him of his power. It is now in the hands of the Police Board. These are the facts in the case. If saloons run open on Sunday lay in complaints to the Police Board, not the Mayor.

The spirit of Democracy is to do the right; to recognize the truth, no matter from whence it comes; to stand for the people as against corporate power; to lessen the burdens of taxation. It is not the spirit of eternal opposition which some of its ignorant interpreters place upon it in these latter days, who lose sight of honesty and the public welfare to oppose the other fellow.

A MAN who is for sale himself always imagines that every other man is for sale. Sometimes he is fooled in his man to his own sorrow and undoing. Every man will not sell out. It is not every man who will betray his trust. Men can still be found who will not defend and uphold wrongdoing; who will refuse to uphold wrong in his own family or political party, or church. Once in awhile the boodler runs up against one of those and finds him to be about the real old thing. Then what?

The leading papers of the South do not excuse the brutality in the lynching of the negro Hose. Even the greater number which have discussed the matter editorially uphold the law. The hideous crime of the negro unquestionably merited the punishment of death, but the ferocity and the fiendishness of his taking off by the mob has no excuse in a Christian community. Such breaking out of primal savagery may make one question whether we have traveled so far on the road to an ideal civilization, as we sometimes flatter ourselves. The attitude of the press will be the most powerful means for bringing about a change in the right direction.

BLUNT Admiral Kautz has offended the president by his letter in which he told his cousin that he was "not a King here, but just a plain boss of the ranch." Plain living has always been the lot of these old sea-dogs, but when it comes to plain speaking as well the line must be drawn. When it comes to firing shots from their ship's guns, they make an impression, and their speech seems in recent times to be equally effective. Another class of people are hurt however, and therein lies the difference. A discreet and dignified silence is the only thing allowable to an Admiral. Admiral Kautz and Captain Coghlan form a distinguished company.

A MAN is not necessarily a traitor to his country because he questions the wisdom of the policy pursued by the administration in regard to the Philippines. It is stated by some newspapers that there are men in this country who actually desire the defeat of the American soldiers. Such an insinuation is a mortal insult to any American. There might possibly be a few such, with warped and distorted intellects who have more mouth than brains, and more bile than patriotism. But the average citizen is for America, right or wrong, against the world, and will fight for her and die for her, a thousand times over, if necessary. He only exercises his privilege as a free American when he discusses a national policy. His loyalty to country, is not necessarily brought into question by that, as some pretend to believe.

DAVIS KNOWS.

The editors of the Crawfordsville Review and the Argus-News are now questioning the true Democracy of each other. Neither of them has any to spare.—Newport Hoosier State.

The best critic in the world is the fellow who is the most ignorant of that which he criticizes. If there is any man on the planet who is densely ignorant of what Democracy is, that man is the editor of the Hoosier State. He is a Republican, not because he understands Republican principles, but because Vernillion county is Republican and all the politicians are afraid of his dirty pen, and he continues to have things his own way. There is never a principle advocated by his paper. He neither knows, nor cares what his party advocates, and outside of how to work wires he is a profound ignoramus. Of course such a man is capable of passing judgment on Democracy, or anything else involving principle.

As was anticipated, the jury trying Mrs. George for the slaying of Saxton, at Canton, Ohio, returned a verdict of acquittal. There was possibly but little doubt of her guilt, yet the public and the court and the jury had no sympathy down in their deepest hearts for the seducer of a wife, the man who ruined a home. There is a sort of unwritten law among men that the debaucher of a home shall die, and his slayer go acquit. Saxton may have been highly connected, wealthy, but his criminal instincts led him to betray his neighbor's wife. It does no good to argue that she was equally guilty with him. We do not know the inside history of this tragedy; there is another and darker page than that which tells of the shooting of Saxton, by the woman whose honor he stole, whose home he broke up, and whose children he put to shame. Eternal justice may have demanded the life of the woman, but infinite belief in the sacredness of home and fire-side, and the sacred right of defense of character let her go acquit.

THE meeting on Thursday evening for the purpose of devising ways and means for assisting Wabash College in introducing co-ordinate education should be well attended. She is doing a grand work as is attested by her alumni who are discharging creditably duties of citizens in all walks of life, public and private. A prejudice exists among some people against the college owing to the conduct of a few silly young fellows, who to her misfortune, are at times enrolled among her students. They cause unfavorable comment, while the great body of quiet and orderly young men who are working earnestly and faithfully to fit themselves for careers of usefulness are over-looked. She should not be held responsible for the fact that fortune has endowed some youthful members of the genus homo with more money than brains, and that they choose to sometimes act in a very silly manner in public. She is not able to convert the auricular appendage of a female of the porcine species into a silken receptacle for the coin of the realm. Don't hold her responsible for fools who are born, not made, but give her credit for the work she has done, and lend her all possible encouragement and your efforts will be doubly rewarded. Attend the meeting. Help Wabash College and help the town and help yourself.

MAJOR SWORDSTICKER
Replies to Col. Swashbackler and Tells How He Flopped into the Silver Camp.

ADAM HANNA BEND, IND., April 27, '99
MY DEAR COL:—

You letah of the 22nd instant was a great relief to my ovahbuhnded heart, sah, to know that othah great men have troubles as well as myself, sah. No man evah had a habdah time than I have had, sah. I had made myself excruciatingly obnoxious to the yawping, freesilvah crowd, sah, and they rub it in on me to beat the band, sah. I was between the devil and the deep blue sea, sah. I was swoh'n to gold, sah, and undah-took to run the county convention, sah, but an ignorant, long-haired yokel from one of the out townships, sah, made a speech which carried the convention off its feet, sah, and ovah the protests of my scholarly friend from Gerogah, sah, a complimentary resolution for mistah Cleveland was knocked sky high, sah. They were as a mob of stohm scared Texas steers, sah. In their madness they turned the picture of Cleveland to the wall, sah, and metaphorically they trampled all ovah my sacred carcass, sah. I was awful angry, mad sah, mad. I denounced them to my friend, Col. Bottlewinger, in my best style, sah, and they glared at me with suspicious eyes, sah. The Colonel remarked: "You're a blamed fool, sah." I felt the force of his remark, sah, and atah a nights reflection, I felt very much like one, sah. I came down town and engaged in a curbstone conversation with my bosom friend Capt. Crispin, who had gotten into the push before the cyclone came, sah, and who wants to be Sheriff of the county, sah, and he showed me where it was dollars with me in his company, to where it would be doughnuts with Cleveland, sah. So I prepared to eat my dish of that vile and carrion bird, vulgahly called crow, sah, but which undah ordinary conditions I scoh'n to mention, sah. It choked me, sah. It sickened me, sah. It hurt me, sah, but it went down, sah. It has stayed thah for several months, sah, and yet the ill-effects come up occasionally, sah, when some scoundrel brings forth my uttahnances and produces them befoh the public, sah. As soon as I heard from Chicago I knew that Captain Crispin was right. He is a politician from way back, sah, with a head longah than a pump handle sah, so I followed the Captain and crawled down from my gilded perch, sah, bounded upon the band wagon, and they put me to playing the ORGAN, sah. I am still playing it sah, and waiting for the things which are deferred and maketh the heart sick, sah. I still believe that Cleveland is the greatest man in the world with one notable exception, Gen. Robert E. Lee, sah, and that the gold standard is the best doctrine, except, look out for your own self, sah. I have adopted the lattah as my motto, sah, and am looking atah myself, sah, and being careful indeed to claim everything in sight, whethah I get it or not, sah. A great many believe that it was me, sah, who first discovered 16 to 1 sah, and I take care that all my uttahnances tend to prove my assertions, sah. Yet many are very doubtful about it yet, sah. I am great on making assertions, sah, and Hew to the line Let the chips fall where they may, sah. I'm in it for myself, sah, principle to the foh winds sah. I hope to heah from you soon again my Deah Col.

NERVOUS DISEASES Treated Free!

The Celebrated Physician and Specialist, Franklin Miles, M. D., LL. B., of Chicago, will send $2.50 Worth of His New Treatment Free to Each of Our Afflicted Readers.

Our afflicted readers will certainly never have a better chance to try, free of charge, a new and highly recommended Treatment for Diseases of the Brain, Spinal Cord and Nerves.

Dr. Miles' Special Treatment is the result of twenty-five years of laborious investigation and extensive experience, and his New System of Treatment is eminently scientific, and three times as successful as the usual methods.

Many hundreds of prominent people have testified to the almost miraculous results of this new treatment. The Doctor has for years been well and favorably known as a leading specialist in these diseases, and his offer should certainly be accepted by our afflicted readers.

From the Sunday School Union.—The editor writes: "We desire to state that from personal acquaintance we know Dr. Miles to be a most skillful and reliable man who has spared neither labor or money to keep himself abreast of the great advancement in medical science."

From the Chicago Daily Tribune.—"We believe that were this new system, as perfected by Dr. Miles, generally adopted it would enable physicians to treat their patients much more successfully, and would certainly increase their knowledge of the nature and peculiarities of their patients' cases."

From the Chicago Daily Tribune.—"The honor of discovering a successful method of treating many of the so-called incurable diseases belongs to Franklin Miles, M. D., LL. B., of this city."

Dr. Miles has had twenty-four years' experience and is well and favorably known throughout the country. He has an able and extensive corps of assistants and investigators in his laboratories. He has patients in every State, Territory, Canada and Mexico. He cordially invites the afflicted to write to him.

The County Districts.

The commissioners met in special session yesterday to district the county under the new law providing for a county council. The county is divided into four districts, with no divisions of townships. In this case Union township being the biggest thing of the sort in the state, kept us from having a fair divide. The commissioners under the law could not cut it in two, so they made a district out of it. The districts as they stand now are:

First—Coal Creek, Wayne and Ripley.

Second—Brown, Scott and Clark.

Third—Madison, Sugar Creek, Walnut and Franklin.

Fourth—Union.

It now becomes the duty of Judge West to appoint the county council, which he will proceed to do in a few days. There are not a great many candidates for the position, as it is mostly glory one gets out of it. This is one office where the spoils do not appear on the surface. A way may be discovered later on to beat the combination, but until he figures it out the professional politician and office-seeker will confine himself to pastures upon which he has grazed before.

Had a Battle.

According to announcements made before their discharge, the members of Co. C, of Lafayette, are proceeding to thump one by one the adherents of Captain Marks. They found one of them Saturday and pounded him up in regular slugger style, and it will probably continue until all have been dressed down as these irritated young Filippinos think proper. The bad blood between the Captain and his men is deplorable. It has been a disgrace to Indiana soldiery throughout the past year, and will probably continue until someone is killed. The boys seem vicious in their resentment, refusing to come home on the same train or over the same road with the Captain. The authorities should take the matter in hand and quell the irrepressibles before someone is killed and another stain added to Co. C and its unpopular officer.

The Kellers Again.

The Kellers will come into public view again to-day in the Fountain circuit court, at Covington. This is a $50,000 damage suit filed by Maggie LaHoe, once Maggie Keller against Geo. V. Thomas and other citizens of Wolf creek falls vicinity, who took an active part in the attempt to bring to justice the murderers of Clara Shanks. The Kellers, Maggie and George and wife were arrested and tried, and acquitted. This suit is brought by Maggie for defamation of character. It has been in the courts for some time.
