

The Cornhusker Case.

The case of Tinsley & Martin vs Michael Fruits, which is known as "The Cornhusker Case," came to a close yesterday after a two day's trial. The manner of trying the case was peculiar. Two or three years since Tinsley & Martin sold a cornhusker to Michael Fruits with a guarantee as to its working capacity. After a trial of the machine Mr. Fruits decided that the machine did not come up to expectations, and returned it to the firm. Suit was brought by the latter to recover $280 on the contract for the implement. It was tried here and the jury found in favor of Fruits. The case was taken to the Appellate Court and sent back for a new trial on a technicality.

The last trial here was most peculiar inasmuch as the regular jury was dismissed by agreement of the parties through their attorneys, Bruner, Crane & Anderson and Wright & Sellers, and the case submitted to eight of the former witnesses, four being chosen by each party. This novel arrangement was carried out and a compromise was effected, and judgment entered of $44.37 for the plaintiff, and the costs of the former trial charged to Mr. Fruits. It is possible that this new departure may find favor in the eyes of future litigants.

The night my house burned

"The night my house burned, several years ago, I was taken with shortness of breath and palpitation of the heart," writes Mrs. Susan C. Miller, of New Martinsville, Louisa Co., Va. "These grew worse all the time, until a few months ago, when I commenced the use of Dr. Pierce's medicines. Before that I could scarcely eat anything. I could not sleep at night, was not able to do any work, and could scarcely get around the house. I had given up all hope, ever getting well again, but I now well again, and I give Dr. Pierce's medicines all the credit."

"I took the 'Favorite Prescription,' the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Pellets,' the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Pellets,' the

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a medicine for women only. It cures all forms of female complaint—stops back and side-ache—allays the inflammation which causes those disagreeable weakening drains on the system—promotes regularity of the feminine functions, and makes painful periods a thing of the past.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a medicine for the blood, liver, lungs, and nerves. It cures all bronchial and throat troubles, strengthens weak lungs, stops bleeding from the lungs, and builds up the entire system. It purifies the blood, stirs up a lazy liver, and soothes abused, crying nerves.

Neither of these medicines contains any alcohol, whisky, sugar or syrup to preserve its properties, but both will keep perfectly in any climate.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. They keep the bowels open and regular. They do not gripe.

When you ask a dealer for these medicines—get what you ask for. Substitutes are not as good. They are, at best, only imitations, and cannot imitate the cures wrought by the genuine.

County Officers Short.

The Salvationists.

For many long years the people of Tippecanoe county have been burdened and ground down by over taxation. There have been charges and counter charges of corruption and peculation in office, yet it still went on, and the office-holders fairly revelled in fat things, while the taxpayer toiled and sweat and "cussed." At last a couple of experts were called to examine the books of three or four ex-officials. Rumor has it that they have found a hole which is deep and wide, seemingly bottomless into which has been drained the spare coin of the sweating taxpayer for a long time. The county commissioners now have the report of the experts, and are sacredly guarding it from the eyes of the public in order, as they say, that the accused may have a chance to compare figures, make explanations and correct the experts. This is nice, very nice indeed for the accused. Any few accused of crime would only be too glad of the opportunity to revise the evidence and fix it up before it went to the jury. This is an entirely new system which the Tippecanoe commissioners are working. They go on the principle that "now is the time for all us fellers to stand together." It would seem in looking over that county's history for twenty years, that the Prince of Darkness was getting even with that county by sending upon it county commissioners. In some quarters, however, it is considered good politics to stand by the fellow who babbles just because he happens to wear the party brand. It means defeat and disgrace in the end, and shame and confusion to the party who does not kick its own rascals out into the cold and cheerless hence.

Going to Quit.

After a continuous business career of 39 years, Zack Mahorney has concluded to retire from active business life, and advertises this morning that he will close out his present immense stock of house-furnishings at cost, endeavoring to clear the goods out in the shortest time possible. Zack Mahorney has been one of the strong men in Crawfordsville's business world. Full of enterprise and push, he has built up an immense business and has sold goods to farmers in a dozen counties. He is probably known to more men than any business man Crawfordsville ever had. A born salesman he knew just how to do business, and he has been phenomenally successful.

He was enterprise to a degree and he will be missed here. He will continue to make Crawfordsville his home, and as he is interested in other enterprises outside of the store he will still be a factor in the city's progress, and development. Jas. Mahorney will upon the closing out of the business here remove to another city and begin a business career of his own. His place is already selected but he desires that it not be publicly announced.

Education of the Deaf.

The fifty-fifth annual report of the Indiana Asylum for the Deaf and Dumb is at hand. It shows that since 1844 there has been admitted to the institution 2,156 children. The institution owns property valued at $594,681.60. During the past year there has been an average attendance of 308, and the cost per capita to the state has been $190.40. The children are put through a regular course of study and fitted to take care of themselves. They publish one of the neatest and typographically perfect papers in the world at this institution called

The Silent Hoosier, the work from beginning to end being from the hands of the pupils. Montgomery county has two pupils there, Lee E. Dazey, of Crawfordsville, and Perry Keys, of New Market.

Good Reading.

The matter run under the head of "The Golden Calf" is not a patent medicine advertisement as some have thought, still in a sense it is a medicine advertisement. It is a bitter medicine, not a mixture of wahoo bark, quinine, prickly ash, yellow dock and aloes for the cure of chills, but a dose of truth, bitter truth, pungent truth, sour truth, ipecac-like truth, warranted to cure hypocrisy and misrepresentation if taken every morning before breakfast.

Enumeration of Children.

The enumeration of school children has been completed and shows that the city has a total of 1,713 children; 855 males and 858 females. Of these there are 52 colored, 30 males and 22 females. The enumeration last year was 1,800, including 125 transfers, but those this year belong to the township enrollment and will be transferred later on.

The Salvation Army held their first meeting in their new quarters in the Elston block last night. Ensign Coe and wife, of Lafayette, were present. The army here is growing, and it is a class of work deserving far more encouragement from Christians than it seems to receive.
