Household Talks

To freshen old furniture, wash in lime water; when dry, apply a coat of oil.

Wipe tarnished or fly-specked gas and lamp fixtures with a damp cloth; let dry, then cover with a coat of white paint; when this is dry, re-gild.

Cover pantry shelves and wash-stands in common use with oilcloth. It is inexpensive, comes in bright colors and pretty patterns, and it occasionally wiped with a wet cloth, keeps clean and fresh.

When the mica in stoves becomes discolored take out the piece if possible, and put them in a vinegar bath for a few hours; then polish with a soft dry cloth. If they cannot be removed, rub with a cloth dipped in hot vinegar and polish as before.

To clean a piano, use lukewarm water, white castile soap and a piece of cheese cloth. Wash a small surface, work rapidly, and dry, first with a piece of old soft cotton flannel; then polish. Go over the woodwork in this way. These directions are given by a piano dealer.

When ink is spilled on a carpet or garment at once cover the place with a thick paste of starch and cold water to the depth of an inch and let dry. Or take up with blotting paper, wash well in sweet or sour milk, then cover with white corn meal and leave twelve hours. For dry ink stains, soak in milk, and repeat the above several times.

To make a serviceable covering for a dining-room or kitchen floor, nail, wrong side up an old Brussels carpet to the floor of the attic or outbuilding, then paint with a thick coat of linseed oil and burn umber. When thoroughly dry, give a coat of good varnish. Let it lie ten or twelve days. It should be tacked to the floor loosely, as it shrinks some during the process. Clean the same as oilcloth.

To brighten gilt picture frames and ornaments, to a pint and a half of water add sufficient flower of sulphur to give a golden tinge; in this boil four or five bruised onions. Strain, and when cold apply with a soft brush. Prepared gilding, carefully applied, will restore tarnished gilding. If broken or defaced, fill with putty before gilding.

A paint that dries quickly, for floors, is made by dissolving with heat three ounces of glue in three quarts of water. Stir well remove from the fire and beat in three pounds of yellow ochre. With a new whitewash brush apply a thick coat. When dry, apply a coat of boiled linseed oil. To all a new hardwood floor, mix thoroughly four quarts of raw linseed, two quarts of turpentine and one pint of best Japan varnish.

A novice can paint a window sash nearly as well as a professional by using a piece of tin the size of a pane with a handle. Wipe off any adhering paint with a cloth moistened with kerosene. To imitate frosted glass put some putty in cheese cloth and twist the ends to form a pad, then with it pat the glass until well covered with a milky white stain. When perfectly dry give a coat of good varnish.

Wash grained and varnished wood-work with cold tea. If the least bit of soap is necessary to remove finger marks around door knobs, or to clean window sills, rinse immediately in clear water. Soapy water irretrievably injures graining. In cleaning baseboards a short handled mop will do excellent service and save great fatigue. It is also useful in washing the tops of doors that otherwise cannot be reached without a chair or step-ladder.

To wash a pillow or bolster, double a sheet and sew side and ends together, leaving an opening on one end a little more than the width of the pillow. Open pillow, sew the two together and shake feathers into the sheet. Wash thoroughly in soapsuds, rinse, wring with machine and dry in the sunshine, shaking often to lighten the feathers. Before returning the feathers to the tick, coat the inside of it with thick floor paste and let dry; or, what is better, rub the surface of the tick with melted beeswax, so the dust and feathers will not work through.

Do not wrap silver or plated ware not in daily use in flannel; it contains sulphur, which is likely to tarnish it. Wrap in blue tissue paper, then in unbleached cotton flannel, and enclose in heavy wrapping paper to exclude the air as much as possible. To polish silver that has become badly tarnished moisten a soft cloth in sweet oil; then with any tested polishing powder rub the silver until the spots have disappeared. Then rub with chamois skin and the powder, and finish polishing with a clean piece of chamois.

Try a mixture of benzine and powdered borax to remove rust from white cloth; for mildew, an application of white chalk and borax. All fruit, tea and coffee stains are more easily removed by dissolving a little borax in the boiling water that is poured through them. When upholstered furniture is infested with moths sprinkle it with powdered borax dusting it well into the crevices. To clean woodwork add a tablespoonful to a pint of hot water and use a flannel cloth. A nice lather for cleaning light woodens is made by adding about a tablespoonful of the powder to a gallon of water.

For sizing to be used on whitewashed walls before papering, dissolve half a pound of glue in a little hot water, then pour it into a pailful of boiling hot water, stirring carefully until well mixed. Apply hot and let dry a few hours before applying the paper. Take great care to cover every part of the wall. Note that the part near the ceiling and baseboard is not overlooked, as there the brush is likely to slip. A professional painter gives the following receipt for paste: For a medium-sized room, sift three pounds of wheat flour and mix it into a stiff paste with cold water; stir into it slowly two gallons of boiling water, stirring constantly until it swells and turns yellow. Winter wheat flour makes the best paste. A little carbolic may be stirred to repel insects.

CLARIBEL.

THE WIFE A HELPMATE

Mutual Sympathy and Usefulness Should Enter Into the Marriage Contract.

Not to cook, and wash, and mend and drudge, day in and day out, surely. If this is all a man wants, why not hire a servant; they can be had much cheaper than a wife? If this is all a man wants, it is easy to fancy a young man calling upon a young lady and asking her for a sample of her pudding and that she show him some of her needlework, and that she bring the broom and give him an illustration of how she can sweep. Such things are important and it should be every girl's aim to be proficient in all duties of the household.

But how much more happiness there might be in this life if young men and women would only try to realize that what they most need to learn is how to become helpful, sympathetic, loving companions! When they are courting they are fond of each other's society, they like to be together, to talk, to take walks, and what a lot they find to talk about while his strong arm is about her waist.

And there is never a need for these days to end. The man would be better at his business, and the wife would get her work done while he is away, with nimble fingers and a happy heart. If such a condition did but exist. The great mistake is made when the young wife thinks, Well, she has her home, and the young man reflects—he has a wife. Sympathy and love, that is what each should give the other all through life, and with these the home may be made a paradise—without it, cannot be other than a wilderness.

A Good Made of Exercise.

The exercise illustrated is taken without apparatus. It is useful in the development of a round and beautiful waist and in strengthening the abdominal muscles. It is taken in two positions.

AN EXERCISE FOR GRACE.

First Position—Kneel on the left knee, the face looking straight forward, the right arm extended above the head, the left at the waist. The head and the entire trunk are now slowly turned to the left, the right arm following. This is the position shown in the illustration and should be held for a moment, when the original pose should be resumed.

After three or four of these movements to the left side, the knee position should be shifted to the other leg and the turning made to the right. The effect of this simple exercise will be noticed almost immediately in the waist and groin muscles and the circulation greatly assisted in these parts.

Items of Interest About the Hair.

Black hair was most esteemed by the ancient Jews, while the Greeks and Romans gave the preference to the golden tints, a certain shade of red being much in vogue among the ladies, who sought every means of imparting the desired color to their dark locks. It is said that those with dark hair work the best, while those with fair hair do the most thinking.

People with very fair, almost colorless hair, accompanied by white lashes and eyebrows, are generally of a weak constitution, rather stupid, fond of music, cut no great figure in the world and being of a harmless and inoffensive disposition are seldom badly missed when they leave it.

Black-haired persons, on the contrary, are strong and healthy, but apt to be quarrelsome. If the hair is smooth and straight it denotes constancy, but if curly, great ardor in the beginning of an attachment of the pursuit of an undertaking, followed by inconsistency, want of application and unfaithfulness.

Dark brown hair combines strength, susceptibility, attention to business and good humor, the owner of this colored hair usually making an excellent life partner.

Red hair is usually supposed to indicate a passionate, ardent, hot-tempered nature. An old Scotch saw, however, says, "a red-headed lass never needs look for a lover," which would imply that the color is not in disfavor with the stern sex. In spite of the temper that goes with it, and statistics support this idea, for some calculating observer has discovered that the red-headed old-maid is such a scarce article as to be practically non-existent, and when such a phenomenon is found it is never fail to prove that she is "Miss" by choice.

Regarding the ills most common to different colors, it is said that black and dark-haired people are more liable to consumption than others; brown-haired to rheumatism and heart-diseases; red hair to pleurisy, pneumonia and neuralgia; yellow-haired to skin diseases.

Closely curled hair denotes vivacity, excitability, inconsistency and unevenness of temper; hair curling in loose, irregular rings indicates good nature, an affectionate disposition and generosity. Straight hair in cultured persons indicates evenness of character, honesty of purpose, a clear head, good talents, perseverance and determination, but in persons of little or no education it is a sign of obstinacy, self-gratification and mulishness.

"You can't place any dependence on a woman's word," moodily remarked the young man who had been jilted. "Of course you don't believe that." "Oh, yes I do," said the married man. "My wife has been threatening to leave me for ten years."—Indianapolis Journal.

Drying preparations simply develop dry catarrh; they dry up the secretions which adhere to the membrane and decompose, causing a far more serious trouble than the ordinary form of catarrh. Avoid all drying inhalants and use that which cleanses soothes and heals. Ely's Cream Balm is such a remedy and will cure catarrh or cold in the head easily and pleasantly. A trial size will be mailed for 10 cents, large for 50 cents. All druggists keep it. Ely Brothers, 56 Warren Street, New York.

Drink Grain-O

After you have concluded that you ought not to drink coffee. It is not a medicine but doctors order it, because it is healthful, invigorating and appetizing. It is made from pure grains and has that rich seal brown color that tastes like the finest grades of coffee and costs about 1/4 as much. Children like it and thrive on it because it is a genuine food drink, containing nothing but nourishment. Ask your grocer for Grain-O, the new food drink. 15 and 25 cents.

About seventy-five teachers took the examination for teachers' license on last Saturday. Supt. Walkup reports that some were detected in the act of cribbing, and it is suspected that they wish they hadn't.

MONEY BACK IF YOU SAY SO.

The Sweetest Music isn't always produced by the biggest instrument or the most wind. We apply this idea to the Clothing Business and we find it pays, in other words, that genuine value "stands by" with the public a good deal better than mere pretense—"wind."
