

HERE is a medical lecture in a nutshell. The kidneys drain water and impurities from the blood. The liver makes bile and helps to drive off other waste. If these organs work badly the body becomes a cesspool and disease sets in. You must get them into healthy action or die.

Dr. J. H. McLean's Liver & Kidney Balm is an old and unsurpassed remedy for Backache, Debility, Sleeplessness, Lost Appetite, Foul Tongue, Palpitations and all other symptoms of disease in those organs. It cures as well as prevents every serious trouble in Kidney, Liver or Bladder. At druggists, $1.00 per bottle. THE DR. J. H. McLEAN MEDICINE CO. ST. LOUIS, MO.

SENATOR HARLAN, of Iowa, attempts to answer the general argument of Bryan that the Filipinos are fighting for their independence as did the United States in the revolutionary war, and indulges in some most fallacious argument. He says: The Philippine Islands are free like Colorado or any other state, but like Colorado again, they are not independent. They are free but they owe allegiance to their sovereign, the United States government, just like any state in the union.

The very words of Senator Harlan makes stronger still the parallel drawn by Bryan. The American colonies were free like other British colonies, but they were not independent. They owed allegiance to Great Britain until by acts of tyranny, Great Britain forfeited the right to claim such allegiance. The Filipinos, on the other hand, owe no such allegiance, and never did owe it. Spain had forfeited any claim, doubtful though it was,—she may have had, and transferred it to us for $20,000,000. The Filipinos were sold like cattle, and no sophistry can excuse us in the purchase. Such rights as we have in the islands should be protected, but we have no just claim to permanent possession of them. Senator Harlan further says:

"We are not trying to make slaves of the Filipinos, we have given them their freedom, though not their independence. Our rebellion against England was justified because we were not a free people, but rebelled to become free. The Filipinos are rebels, because when Spain was driven from the islands, they became our subjects, not an independent nation."

What a lucid bit of reasoning is this? Our subjects forsooth! What a pleasant sound the word has in the ears of a free people; with what gusto does the able Senator roll it under his tongue. He could persuade himself to believe anything. He would never dare to let his reason be the keeper of his conscience, else would he turn bandit indeed. He excuses the tenure of the islands, on the plea that Spain or Germany or some other nation would seize them, and it would not then be so well with the Filipinos as under our beneficent rule. That is the kind of a man who would rob a widow of her last piece of furniture lest her home should be burned and the article destroyed. The Philippines have the unalienable right to be free and to govern themselves as best they may. They are human beings and not to be bought and sold like beasts. It is hard, very hard, to find a conscience-satisfying reason why we are carrying on this war in the Philippines to-day.

The Covington Friend announces that H. C. Yount, of Covington, will be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congress from this district. Mr. Yount is a man of ability and energy. He possesses all the qualifications necessary to a successful member of Congress. He is liberal and progressive, and his acts are all tempered by a sound judgment. Should he be nominated he will make a vigorous and aggressive fight, and if elected would serve with credit to his constituents and honor to himself.

We democrats dragged you republicans into a war to free a neighboring people struggling bravely for liberty; you are dragging us into a war to subjugate a distant people to our imperial authority when they are struggling bravely for their own freedom and independence. What is the difference?—Congressman Champ Clark.

In no civilized country in the world it is said, is human life held in such slight esteem as in our own. Yet we pride ourselves upon being an enlightened and law abiding people. Notwithstanding this fact we have become confirmed in the lynching habit and even in the most staid communities goaded by the perpetration of some more than usually outrageous crime, the demon of passion is loosed and a human being is borne to his doom untried and without a semblance of a chance to prove his innocence. One crime is "righted" by the commission of a far graver one. The people are responsible for the laws, and likewise for their execution. To punish one man who has broken the law, therefore a hundred or more put themselves beyond the pale. It is entirely without excuse, and is a reflection upon not only our moral status, but our system of government. Justice should never be in a passion. When she is she places herself below the criminal she would judge. These disgraceful mobs and lynchings would not occur were they not tacitly upheld by the sentiment of respectable people. It is idle for such to attempt to shift the responsibility. That these things exist lies not with the law, the base, the criminal, but with the best element in the land. If that element should see fit to act there would be no more lynchings, and justice need no longer be an object of scorn.

The general sentiment is against the paroling of "lifers" unless new and important evidence is brought out. The lapse of time, the importunities of friends, soft pleadings and woman's tears should not be permitted to defeat the ends of justice. If a manifest injustice has been done it is well and good that such restitution should be made by the Governor as in his power lies, but the dignity of the law should be upheld, and offenders be made to feel that punishment will be meted out in an even-handed and inflexible manner. If executive clemency too lightly overthrows decisions of the courts the law no longer acts as a deterrent to the commission of crime. Let not mercy unduly season justice.

MAYOR JONES, of Toledo, thinks that competition may do for wild beasts but not for men, and says it is no longer practiced except by common laborers and small traders. He is in favor of a very advanced system of paternalism where each man is provided for and the Golden Rule universally applied. When men have been completely made over his scheme may work. At present he is doomed to disappointment.

HENRI ROCHEFORT, one of the most vigorous and best known writers of France says: "I have hearty contempt for cosmopolites and people without a country, and one of the reasons why I admire Americans so much is because they are all so intensely patriotic that the exceptional Astor is looked upon as a leper." Most Americans will heartily agree with the versatile Henri in this sentiment.

HENRY LABOUCHERE has unearthed an old law enacted during the reign of William III to "beat the Dutch" who were taking advantage of that opportunity to be elevated to the British peerage. It provides that no alien may be so honored. It "beat the Dutch" then, and it beats a descendant in the person of William Waldorf Astor. His hopes are forever blasted.

DER KAISER has expressed a belief that Admiral Dewey never used the words attributed to him in regard to Germany. The Emperor is getting to be a very sensible fellow. He has learned to laugh at unpleasant incidents and to disbelieve unreasonable reports. He is progressing.

GOEBEL, of Kentucky, is a young man and, it is said, self-made. It will not damage the state to any great extent to infuse a little new blood into her political life and get away from some of the old traditions. They are more hampering than beneficial.

It has been suggested that we use the Philippines as a penal colony. No greater curse could be visited upon a land than that. The experiment has been tried too often to permit of any doubt on the subject. It is not American.

It is being rumored that the Hon. Elihu Root is not finding his new job a sinecure. That "smile of satisfaction" that adorned Albig's face may be explained by and by. It is notorious that "misery loves company."

GOVERNOR PINGREE is writhing under the barbed shafts of the newspaper liars. He denounces them in terms not mild, but he tells the truth. He has been scandalously traduced from the hour when he expressed an honest opinion of the Philippine situation.

There is a marked lack of confidence everywhere manifested in the promises of gas companies. The bitter experiences of last winter did not render people particularly credulous. Now is a good time to lay in a supply of coal for next winter.

The assassination of Maitre Lobori, counsel for Dreyfus, demonstrates the desperate character of the conspiracy against Dreyfus. It is one of the most hideous crimes of the century, and the indications are that the half is not yet known.

The coal trust will gain $10,000,000 by the twenty-five cents advance per ton in the price of anthracite. With this the promoters will probably be enabled to worry through another winter and keep the wolf from the door.

"IDEAS on colonization have been attributed to us, that are not ours. America wishes to grow by the expansion of her commerce by exporting her products, and not by force of arms."—Ex-President Harrison.

"PROSPERITY" is surely upon us, and yet it is hard to understand that reduction of the wages of the Johntown steel workers. Only from 70 to 80 percent, and yet the employees object. Very unreasonable, to be sure.

SIR WILFRED LAURIE now claims to have been misquoted by the press. He has been stung by the same insect that punctured the sensitive cuticle of Governor Pingree.

The trial of Dreyfus is one of the most dramatic of the century. It is probably attracting more attention over the world than any other of the century.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, F. J.
