THE DETECTIVES.

Grand Annual Meeting of the National Horse Thief Detectives in Session Here

This Week.

MONDAY and Tuesday of this week were great days for the Horse Thief Detectives of Indiana, Illinois and Ohio. It was the occasion of the grand annual meeting of these terrors to thieves. The meeting was in charge of a committee of local detectives Messrs. Thomas Sutton, H. H. Talbott and M. B. Waugh, and to their credit be it said everything moved like clockwork, and the large crowd was taken care of in excellent style. On Monday evening there was a parade with more than 300 men in line, and following the parade there was an entertainment and social good time at Music Hall. The band played, the detectives marched through the principal streets to the hall where addresses of welcome were made by Mayor Elmore and W. T. Whittington and the response by Hon. Jas. G. Johnson, of Mace. The entertainment which followed consisted of recitations and music, vocal and instrumental.

There were about 250 delegates present from various associations, and as this county has 500 members, there was a large number present. Governor Mount who is President of the National Association was absent in Texas, but Vice-President Anglin was on hand. The history of the organization is not ancient. It was effected a good many years ago as a protection against predatory horse thieves, and through it many scoundrels have been brought to justice. It has been interested in the ferreting out of many crimes during its existence, and is one organization that always stands for law and order.

Resolutions were passed commendatory of the officers of the organization and lauding Crawfordsville and vicinity for the royal welcome given the delegates. The later sessions of the body were secret. The following officers were elected. Grand organizer, James McManamy, of Fountain county; President, S. S. Anglin, of Kosciusko county; Vice-President, Thomas Sutton, of Montgomery county; Secretary, Jas. W. McCorkle, of Montgomery; Treasurer, James Carroll, Eaton, Ohio. The association adjourned after accepting the invitation of Greenfield, Ind., to meet there next year. The meeting taken as a whole was a grand success, and much important business was transacted. We were glad to have them with us and wish them great success during the coming year in the apprehension and conviction of criminals, over 200 of whom have been cared for in state institutions through their efforts the past year.

Ed. S. Boyland Dead.

At Colorado Springs, Thursday, occurred the death of Ed. S. Boyland, who had gone to that place hoping to find relief from consumption. Mr. Boyland was a well known printer, having learned his trade in THE REVIEW office. Later he worked on the Logansport Reporter, after the failure of the Daily Herald in this place, which failure was brought about by his illness, and inability to look after its welfare. He was 37 years of age. He was married in 1889 to Miss Mollie Brown, who, with three little girls survives him. He was an Odd Fellow, Modern Woodman, and a Son of Ben Hur. The remains will be brought here for burial. Funeral at 2 o'clock Sunday, from the home of his mother.

Gerard-Linn.

On Thursday evening at their new home, on Hocum street, Paul Gerard and Miss Elsie Linn, were united in marriage by Rev. Williamson. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Linn, of Mace, and the groom a well known young man of this city. A reception was given after the ceremony.

Is She Happy With Him?

That is a question often asked when a man takes unto himself a better half. She couldn't help being happy if her husband will buy her one of those pretty fall hats at the Y. M. C. A. millinery parlors.

Every day is bargain day at the Y. M. C. A. millinery parlors. See Miss Cade for millinery.

Venue to Boone.

JEFF STEWART'S suit in which Miss Marie Williams, formerly cashier in his store at Indianapolis, asks damages to the amount of several thousand dollars, has been sent to Boone county on a change of venue. The complaint of Miss Williams is a hot one, and for safety should be deposited in an asbestos lined box. She sets forth in the first paragraph that the defendant had accused her of stealing cash from the drawer of his grocery at Indianapolis while she was acting as his cashier, thus injuring her good name and business prospects, causing her sickness and expense on account of worry and distress over the charges, and in this paragraph she asks damages in the sum of $10,000.

In the second paragraph she alleges that she is of legal age, unmarried, and that previous to these charges of defendant she had borne a good name, and alleges that in July last Stewart had caused to be published in certain newspapers a statement to the effect that the plaintiff (Miss Williams) was guilty of theft instead of Miss Coulter, who had been charged as being guilty. On this paragraph she asks damages in the sum of $10,000.

The third paragraph alleges that Stewart had said in the presence of several citizens that he had caught the defendant stealing money from the cash drawer. On account of this malicious and damaging statement on Stewart's part she asks $10,000.

The fourth paragraph charges that Stewart set about in a systematic manner to ruin her. That he treated her with so much more kindness than he did the rest of the clerks, and gave her so many privileges denied the others that it became a matter of comment and criticism. She avers that she is poor and the defendant had told her to take money from time to time from the drawer and it would be all right, and that he had frequently handed her money himself. She further alleges that he one day took her to the basement of the store and there made proposals to her which shocked her. She refused to have any relations with him whatever, but afterward went back to the store. She says that she continued to take small sums from the drawer, believing that the previous arrangements held good. She says that she took $16 on June 10 and that she was watched and accused of theft. She alleges that Stewart took her into a room and searched her, which conduct shocked her. On this account she asks $10,000.

The case has some sensational features and promises to draw a large crowd in the Boone court.

Marriage Licenses.

THIS has been a healthy week in the marriage market. The weeks record of sweetness or divorce stands as follows. It was the street fair:

Ward Young and Coly Britts.
W. M. Lawter and Hattie McDonald.

Isam G. Everson and Mary L. Hinkle.

Bert Cahoon and Eva Prickett.
Hershel Kelley and Lottie Birch.
Samuel Johnson and Ruth Jackson.
Paul Gerard and Elsie Linn.
James Mullen and Sarah Smith.
John J. Trotter and Mary J. Griffin.
John W. Kepler and Maud Snyder.
Roland S. Baker and Zerelda Lookabough.

School Consolidation.

SCOTT township has become aroused on the school house consolidation question and a petition is in circulation asking that the schools be consolidated into one with the exception of three substantial brick buildings now owned by the township. Only three men have refused to sign the petition. It is proposed to erect next year one seven room building with all the modern appliances and apparatus. This is certainly a move in the right direction and in the end will save money for the township.

The Street Fair.

FOR one solid week the city of Crawfordsville has been a bedlam of noise. The bands have paraded the streets from early dawn until late at night. The people have surged in unbroken lines up and down seeking amusement in all its varied forms. The man who failed to find something to laugh at or kick about was surely a queer creature. The exhibits in the live stock department were first class in every respect. While it did not attract the attention it should have done, it was here all right, and the agricultural and poultry department at the Y. M. C. A. was the best ever seen in the county. The merchants were lavish in their display of their wares, and used every means in their power to let the people know what they had for sale. It is too early yet to give much information as to profits to various lines of business, but we have widely advertised our town, and sent out a far better advertisement than that of last year. There has been no particular complaint as to the general class of entertainments offered the public. No compulsion was used to make a man look at something which he felt was naughty. If he went where he had no business to go he had no one to blame but himself. The opinion of individuals differ on things which are harmful to morals, and always will, but this we can say, the extremely loud features of last year were eliminated and each year will find more and more improvement along this line until every objectionable feature is wiped out. It takes time to educate a community in any line, and the street fair will evolve itself finally out of all its ruts. There may be things which need to be remedied, no doubt there is, but let it be done quietly and next year we will know more. From the large crowds in attendance and the fun they were having, and the freedom with which they were spending money would indicate that financially the fair was a success.

Death of Rev. J. S. Maxwell.

AFTER a two months illness Rev. John S. Maxwell died at his home on Jennison street, aged 86 years. Mr. Maxwell was born in New Jersey, but for many years has been resident of Indiana and Illinois, where he has been engaged in the ministry of the Newlight church. For the past 35 years he has resided in this city. He was a good man and his loss is great to the community. He leaves a wife and eight children. The funeral occurred Thursday. Interment at Oak Hill.

Again in Business.

W. M. DARTER, late of the Big Four elevator, has purchased the elevator at New Market and is ready now to buy all the wheat, corn, oats, clover seed, and all farm cereals. He will also handle the celebrated Golden Link and Thurston's O. K. flour. Mr. Darter needs no recommendation to the people of New Market. He is a hustler, and can be depended upon to do the right thing at all times.

Sunday School Convention.

THE second quarterly convention of the Montgomery County Sunday School Association will be held at the M. E. church at Darlington, Friday, October 13. A good programme has been prepared, and a large attendance is expected.

Readily Convinced

That we are putting more style and character in our hats for the money than other millinery establishment in the city. This season's display is superb. Miss Cade, Milliner.

Tom Murry had his hand badly mashed while moving an organ Tuesday.

Divorce proceedings have been brought against Robt. C. Snyder by his wife, Manie C. Snyder.

There will be Chinese Sunshine Social at Beech Grove school house on the evening of Oct. 13. It is a school social. Everybody invited.
