FRIDAY, OCTOBER 7, 1905.

This is no year for the Republican scratcher. The Republican administration, national, state and local, deserve hearty indorsement.

It is said that Col. Wm. J. Bryan was told to go back to his regiment by his friends, as nobody would believe the stories of camp cruelties after seeing him on the stump.

SCRATCH a staff officer from civil life who has failed in his duty and you will probably find a man whose appointment was urged on the President by some Democratic or Populist statesman.

HON. WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN is placed in an unpleasant position by the conflicting representations of his friends. Mr. Bryan should decide as to whether he is to be a politician or a soldier.

In his opening campaign speech Mr.
Bailey complimented "my Democratic assistants in congress." It was quite magnanimous in Mr. Bailey. He might have referred to them as his hired hands.

THE Democratic leaders are in favor of annexation to the extent of trying to claim Admiral Dewey as a member of their party. But the Admiral's Vermont relatives are lustily refuting the accusation.

JOE CHAMBERLAIN says there are seventy million of us and that we are able to take care of ourselves. If Joe is not careful he will involve himself in a controversy with the present leaders of the Democratic party.

THOUGH bolting the action of the majority is set down by the Chicago platform Democracy as the one unpardonable sin, they promptly bolted in New York the action of the majority in ignoring Bryan and 16 to 1.

LEADER Joe Bailey cannot understand why his speeches are not indorsed by the respectable Democratic newspapers. This is the same Mr.
Bailey who could not understand why his leadership was so ludicrous.

BLUFF and brave General Boynton has forced one of the carping medical critics to admit that he misrepresented the condition of the troops at Camp Thomas. It seems that these people don't possess the courage of their misrepresentations.

GEN. MERRITT gives both the Filipinos and their climate a certificate of good character, declaring the former are amenable to both reason and example and quick to learn, while he regards the latter as "most admirable—the best you can possibly imagine."

CHAPLAIN MCINTYRE, the talkative sky-pilot of the Oregon, confirms a hitherto odorous suspicion by confessing that "a feeling of falling strength" moved him to brace himself with brandy and quinine prior to that famous Denver lecture. Let the verdict be "Guilty, but drunk."

THE commander-in-chief of the Democratic hosts, Senator Jones, of Arkansas, in advocating the issue of greenbacks in payment of war expenses, said that gold and silver may be fiat money, but greenbacks are not; they are government promises to pay.
Well, senator, to pay what?

THE "money power" would probably make a handsome profit out of the free and unlimited coinage of both gold and silver. It would soon own all the silver and all the silver mines in the world and then let us have just such money and just so much of it, as would best suit its own purposes and most satisfy its greed.

THIS INCLUDES CARSTENSEN.
Wm. E. Curtis in Chicago Record:
"The commission which is investigating the conduct of the war has decided to call down all editors, clergymen and others who are declaiming about the suffering of the soldiers and the mismanagement of the campaign and ask for the evidence upon which they base their assertions. Several sermons have recently been delivered from pulpits in Washington and other cities in which the war department has been severely criticised and in some cases bitterly denounced. The preachers have been asked to prove their charges and a number of editors who have made specific attacks have been politely requested to assist the commission in ascertaining the facts."

tors of the Mammoth clothing store located at Joplin, which is the largest establishment of its kind in the city.

The East Garfield scribe, in company with one of Crawfordsville's well known young ladies, took their annual trip to Chicago Sunday. In view of his age and unassuming qualities we insert this "news item," thereby saving him the embarrassment of personal mention.

harry cemetery.

mond, officiating.

ident and secretary of Council Grove minute men, and John W. McCormick, grand secretary, attended the National Horsethief Detective Association at Alexandria the first of the week.

After a year's silence our old school bell rings and the walls of the house resound with childish voices. George Vanceleave is the teacher. The trustee did not run a hack this year not because last year's experiment was a failure, or did not give satisfaction, but because the enrollment justified employing a teacher this year.

come and make it a success.

A very large crowd attended the funeral of little Mamie Williams here last Monday. She had a host of friends and relatives to mourn her loss.

Jake Wolverton's little boy was returning home from school on Monday evening and Arthur Johnson called him in his house and ate what was left of his dinner, then gave him a piece of bread with Lewis lye on it, which he ate, and which is about to eat up his mouth and tongue. He was brought back to the doctor as quick as possible and is suffering much pain.
There is talk of something being done with Arthur as he is a large boy and knew that he ought not to have given it to the boy.

Last Saturday two gentlemen went out in the garden and one of them picked his wife's cucumber pickles and took them to Russellville and sold them for fifty cents. It is supposed that the juice of the pickles did not agree with them as it made them get mighty curious. It made them so buzzy and topsy that they had to go to bed and lay there until after Monday.
So take warning when you sell your wife's pickles and don't get too much of the juice, for it is sure to fly to your head and make a fool out of you.

IN MEMORIAM.

Again God in His infinite power has seen fit to call from our midst another beloved sister, Miss Mamie Williams, who departed this life Oct. 2, 1898, aged 17 years, 5 months and 11 days.
She died of consumption. The funeral services were conducted at the Baptist church by Revs. Mayhall, Jayne and Oliphant, and the remains were laid to rest in the Indian Creek cemetery.

Her sufferings were great, but she bore them with patience and without a murmur until at last the angel of death came and carried her spirit home to its giver. When her friends gathered around the coffin to take a last look at all that remained of the dear one they could not realize that she had lived and suffered death, but looked as one fresh from the hands of God waiting for the breath of life. It is hard to think that one just in the bloom of youth should be forced so early to lie down by the roadside and rest before half the journey on earth was completed. She was a kind and loving daughter and had a good word for everyone she met. It will teach us the awful lesson that death is sure and that life is uncertain. We will all endeavor to so live that we shall meet her in the great beyond. She was a member of the Missionary Baptist church and a good Christian worker in the church and Sunday school and the organist for a long time. Mamie will be sadly missed. There were six girls for pall bearers and four flower girls and four boys assisted. She leaves a dear father, a sister and two brothers and a large host of friends and relatives to mourn the loss. Mourn not for we know that thou art gone to dwell with our dear Lord and what is your loss is her gain. May she rest in peace and may her pure white soul forever dwell with the good angels who took her by the hand and wandered away in the borders of eternal summer.

We miss thee from our homestead Mamie;
We miss thee from thy place.
Thy fond and earnest care;
We miss the sunshine of thy face.
We miss thy kind and willing hand.
Thy fond and earnest care;
Our home is dark without thee;
We miss thee every where.

Heaven now retains our treasure; Earth her lonely casket keeps.
And the sunbeams love to linger Where our dearest Mamie sleeps.

preaching in the morning at this place Sunday.

visited Misses Belle and Pearl Demoret Sunday.

Charley Wray, thinking it would get warmer after he reached Chicago, took his fan with him.

The families living on the new extension of this route are overjoyed with the service.

Miss Effie Gillis has recovered after a hard fought battle of four weeks with nervous prostration.

Manson Gilliland started to school Monday morning. This makes an enrollment of 29 scholars.

Bert and Ola Snyder have decided to quit the high school at town and try the New Market schools.

An interesting series of meetings are being held at the Dunkard church at Bethel since Tuesday night.

To be sure Mr. Oliphant will teach music in his school as he has taken several lessons in that study.

John and Alonzo LaBar, of Veedsburg, called on their sister, Mrs.
John Snyder, Saturday evening.

Surprises seemed to be very popular last week on Rural Route No. 2. There were three in one neighborhood.

James H. Servies has some fine large grained corn on exhibition at the American clothing store. Yield ninety bushels to the acre.

Thirty-one hundred pieces of mail were mailed on this route last month.
An increase of thirteen hundred over the first month, August.

Ethel and Islene Powell gave a party to their many friends last Friday night.
All report a good time and say that Miss Ethel is a most pleasant entertainer.

The inspector, F. M. Dice, and John R. Bonnell will soon go over the route looking after the condition and proper placement of the boxes for winter delivery of the mail.

James G. Randle is the possessor of a mail box in imitation of aluminum painted by the government mail box painters now in the city. The lettering is a bright carmine.

C. W. Ristine says: "I live at the edge of the city, near enough to miss the city carrier and I find the rural delivery an advantage and get my mail as soon as my neighbor."

Misses Lydia Crowder and Florence Baker, of Kingsley's Chapel, came down to attend the communion services at Bethel Tuesday night and were guests of Miss Tessie Terry.

Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Davidson left Monday for Alexandria where they will visit Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Mahoney and Mr. Davidson will attend the detectives grand annual held at that place.

James Hutchison writes that there has no legislation been framed or passed from which he derives more benefit than from the free mail delivery system. It places us in daily communication with the merchant, banker, stock man and the markets as to rise and fall of prices. The efforts of our congressman, C. B. Landis, in making this system permanent is hailed with joy along the line.

On Monday, October 3, Marion Miller was 40 years old. His good wife invited about forty of his friends and neighbors in on Sunday. At about 11 o'clock the buggies formed a line and marched up on Mr. Miller. He was very much surprised but the crowd did not get to see how he looked as he had gotten over it before he appeared. At the dinner hour all sat down to a dinner that words cannot describe. All left wishing for another surprise to go to. These surprises make a person know he has a few friends.

On Tuesday, Sept. 27, was Mrs.
America White's 36th birthday. The Rathbone Sisters, assisted by her daughters, planned and carried out a very pleasant surprise on her. She was standing at the gate talking with one of her neighbors when about sixty of her relatives and friends drove up and stopped. To say she was surprised is not saying it at all. At noon three large tables were loaded with the good things which her relatives, friends and sisters can prepare. All enjoyed themselves very much and returned to their homes feeling it was a good thing to surprise Sister White.

While Mrs. White's daughter, Ethel was planning a surprise on her, she, with the assistance of Miss Ethel's best friends were preparing a grand surprise for her. On Thursday, Sept. 29, was Ethel's 17th birthday. It happened that her cousins chanced to call on her that evening. While she was entertaining them in the dining room about thirty of her young friends walked in on her. All she could do was to run, but she was soon caught.
After all had been seated and a social time had refreshments consisting of cake, bananas, and choice candies, were served. At a late hour all partook of some excellent melons. The big four capped the climax stealing and eating melons. All left at a very late hour feeling that they had had a very good time. We are sure the big four had as good, if not a better time, than anyone else.

Our carrier's salary is 96 cents a day

Stop! Women,

And Consider the All-Important Fact,

That in addressing Mrs. Pinkham you are confiding your private ills to a woman—a woman whose experience in treating woman's diseases is greater than that of any living physician—male or female.

You can talk freely to a woman when it is revolting to relate your private troubles to a man—besides, a man does not understand—simply because he is a man.

Many women suffer in silence and drift along from bad to worse, knowing full well that they ought to have immediate assistance, but a natural modesty impels them to shrink from exposing themselves to the questions and probably examinations of even their family physician. It is unnecessary. Without money or price you can consult a woman, whose knowledge from actual experience is greater than any local physician in the world. The following invitation is freely offered; accept it in the same spirit:

MRS. PINKHAM'S STANDING INVITATION.

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women only. A woman can freely talk of her private ills to a woman; thus has been established the eternal confidence between Mrs. Pinkham and the women of America which has never been broken.

Out of the vast volume of experience which she has to draw from, it is more than possible that she has gained the very knowledge that will help your case. She asks nothing in return except your good-will, and her advice has relieved thousands.
Surely any woman, rich or poor, is very foolish if she does not take advantage of this generous offer of assistance.—Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

"The present Mrs. Pinkham's experience in treating female ills is unparalleled, for years she worked side by side with Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, and for sometime past has had sole charge of the correspondence department of her great business, treating by letter as many as a hundred thousand ailing women a year." and to show our appreciation of the free mail delivery and the kind, obliging manner of Mr. Daggett who not all of the families along the route throw in a small donation to help defray the expenses of having a more convenient uniform for Mr. Daggett.

It will show how much we esteem his kindness and service. Let us hear from the rest along the route.

IVIA CLOSSIN,
JOE WATKINS,
E. F. WILHITE.
